Early bearers: Hugh de Camme, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Gloucs); William de Camme, 1214 in Curia Regis Rolls (Somerset); Johanne Cam, 1379 in Poll Tax (Lyonsshall, Herefs); Alys Cam, 1541, William Came, 1544, Thomas Camm, 1546 in IGI (Dymock, Gloucs); John Jr. Came, 1544 in IGI (Dodington, Somerset); Katheryne Came, 1563 in IGI (Ledbury, Herefs); Margaret Cam, 1588 in IGI (Trowbridge, Wilts); Thomas Cam, 1605 in IGI (Coaley, Gloucs).

3 Norman, English: locative name from Caen in Calvados, recorded as Cadum in 1040 and as Cadomum in 1080. See also Cain and Cane. Some of the following early bearers may alternatively belong with (4).

Further information: Winterborne Came (Dorset) belonged to the Abbey of Caen in 1086.

Early bearers: William de Cada, de Cadam, de Cadomo, 1086 in Domesday Book (Suffolk); William de Cadumo, 1148 in Winton Domesday (Hants); Ralph de Caham, de Cadomo, about 1162 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); Fabian de Cam’, 1184 in Pipe Rolls (Hants); Walter de Cam, 1205 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks), identical with Walter de Cadam’, 1205 in Pipe Roll, Chancellor’s Copy; William Cam, 1205 in Pipe Rolls (Hants); Adam de Came, 1379 in Poll Tax (Beighton, Norfolk); Mawdley Cam, 1586 in IGI (Lenton, Lincs); Mawrice Came, 1605, Willm Cam, 1610 in IGI (Ropsley, Lincs).

4 English: nickname from an unrecorded Middle English **cam* (perhaps from Welsh cam) ‘crooked, bent’, also ‘perverse’. Compare Middle English cammed ‘pug-nosed, curved’, probably a derivative of cam. Early bearers without the definite article may alternatively belong with other senses. Compare Games.

Early bearers: Roger Camme, 1258–80 in Thurgarton Cartulary (Thurgarton, Notts); Adam le Camm, Walter le Camm, 1260 in Assize Rolls (Flinton, in Humbleton, ER Yorks); Richard le Kam, 1282 in Oseney Cartulary (Oxon); Alicia relicta Godfr’ Camme, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Thurgarton, Notts); Doretye Camm, 1561 in IGI (Wintringham, ER Yorks); Richard Cam, 1611 in IGI (Walesby, Notts).

1 Norman, English: nickname from Norman French came(i)l 'camel' (Latin camelus, classical Greek kamēlos). In the 1332 example this is clearly a nickname, possibly denoting a clumsy or ill-tempered person, as in 'Achilles? A drayman, a porter, a very camel' (Shakespeare: Troilus and Cressida I ii 249). The other forms could alternatively belong at (2) below.

Early bearers: Walter Camel, 1200 in Pipe Rolls (Devon); Ivo Camel, 1220 in Curia Regis Rolls (Wilts); John le Camule, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Johannes Camel, 1379 in Poll Tax (Westwick, Norfolk); Steven Cammell, 1587 in IGI (Ingoldmells, Lincs); John Camel, 1610 in IGI (Irby in the Marsh, Lincs); Robert Cammell, 1621 in IGI (Southwold, Suffolk).

2 English: locative name from Queen Camel or West Camel (Somerset).

Early bearers: Robert de Camel, 12th cent. in Hatton's Book of Seals (Somerset); Richard de Cammel, 1319 in Feet of Fines (Cambs); Johannes Cammel, 1381 in Poll Tax (Salisbury, Wilts); Ellen Cammell, 1564 in IGI (Great Yarmouth, Norfolk); Robert Cammell, 1592 in IGI (Saint Botolph without Aldgate, London); Robert Cammell, 1597 in IGI (Stepney, Middx); John Cammell, 1614 in IGI (Saint Crux, York).

3 English: nickname; there has also been some confusion with Campbell, sometimes pronounced as Camel.

Early bearers: John Camell, 1667, also recorded as John Cambell, 1697 in York Freeman's Register, was a son of Michael Camell and father of Michael Cambell; Daniel Camell, 1691, is also recorded as Daniel Campbell, 1719 in York Freeman's Register.

Further information: According to Redmonds, Surnames and Genealogy, p. 222, at Cabbage, the medieval lordship of Cambois had links with Yorks; see also Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames. There is no evidence to support Reaney's explanation of the name as a variant of Gamage.

Early bearers: Adam de Camhus, 1256 in Assize Rolls (Northumb); William Cambus, 1379 in Yorks Poll Tax (Kirkby Wharfe, WR Yorks); Robert Cambysshe, 1455, William Camage, 1583, William Cammas, 1620, George Camisse, 1632 in York Freeman's Register (York); George Cammage, 1568 in York Registry Wills (Cawood, WR Yorks); Elizabeth Camys, 1587, Georg Camas, 1613, Mary Cammadge, 1632, Samuel Cammidge, 1720 in IGI (York); Jno. 1 Scottish Gaelic: nickname from Gaelic caimbeul 'wry or crooked mouth'. The surname is also found as Camille (1451), Cammell (1473), Camble (1513). As a result of folk etymology, the surname was often represented in Latin documents as de campo bello 'of the fair field', which led to the name sometimes being 'translated' into Anglo-Norman French as Beauchamp. Medieval references to the spelling of this name with a 'p' are unreliable, as they come from 16th-century copies of those sources. Nevertheless, this has become established as the conventional spelling.

Further information: Clan Campbell is a prolific and historically influential Highland Scottish clan with many branches, claiming descent from Gille Easpaig (Gillespie) Caim beul Ó Duibhne, who lived in the early 13th century. The ancestral seat is at Inveraray on Loch Fyne, a sea loch running parallel to the freshwater Loch Awe, from which one of their titles, Campbell of Lochow, is derived. The clan was for centuries notorious for its bad relations with neighbouring clans. Heads of the clan were successively elevated to the peerage as Earls (1457), Marquesses (1641), and Dukes (1701) of Argyll. The chief of the clan, the Duke of Argyll, is known in Gaelic as MacCailein Mòr, a reference to Cailean Mòr (Colin the Great) of Lochow, who was killed in fighting with Alexander, Lord of Lorne, in 1296. Early bearers: Gillespie Cambel, 1263 in Exchequer Rolls of Scotland (Menstrie, Clackmannans); Donald Cambel, 1296 in Scotland Calendar (Dunbartons); Duncan le Cambell, 1447 in Scottish History Society Miscellany; Anabell Campbell, 1555 in IGI (Errol, Perth); Wm. English: nickname of uncertain origin. The Yorks distribution suggests a relation with the Yorks and N England dialect verb camp 'gossip', of uncertain age. However, Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames suggests that it may be an abbreviated form of the name Campinot (itself a diminutive of Champion), citing the 1671 example of Thomas Campinett alias Campie (Stillingfleet, WR Yorks) among other evidence.

Early bearers: Udie Campie, 1547 in IGI (Saint Columb Major, Cornwall); Elizabeth Campey, 1579 in IGI (Ottringham, ER Yorks); Robert Campie, 1633 in IGI (Cherry Hinton, Cambs); Thomas Campy, 1729 in IGI (Church Fenton, ER Yorks); James Campey, 1767 in IGI (Bolton Percy, WR Yorks).

Further information: The post-medieval name could occasionally be a variant of Campain (2) but more evidence is needed to support this possible explanation.

Early bearers: England: Herbert Campion, 1148 in Winton Domesday (Hants); Roger le Campion, 1197 in Pipe Rolls (Oxon); Johanne Campyon, 1379 in Poll Tax (Walcote, Leics); Thoma Campyon, 1379 in Poll Tax (Louth, Lincs); Thoma Kampiun, 1379 in Poll Tax (Seagrave, Leics); Elias Campion, 1593 in IGI (Marsh Chapel, Lincs); Thomas Campion, 1593 in IGI (Ottringham, ER Yorks); Willmi. ## Camplejohn

- Current frequencies: GB 50, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 32
- Main GB location 1881: Yorks

English: nickname; altered form of Campion, a variant of Camplin. Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames suggests that this Norfolk family name migrated by the east coast sea trade to York. There, an excrescent /s/ was sometimes inserted before the /i/ (i.e. **Camplesion*), giving rise to pronunciations spelled Campleshon, Camplechon, and Camplegeon. From York the name spread into nearby villages in ER Yorks, where it came to be spelled as though it ended in the given name John.

Further information: Wilson's explanation, 'fighting John', is unconvincing.

Early bearers: E Anglia: Thomas Campilion', 1379 in Poll Tax (Buckenham with Hassingham, Norfolk); Ricardus Caumplion, 1379 in Poll Tax (Griston, Norfolk); Johannes Caumplion, 1379 in Poll Tax (Yaxham, Norfolk); Robertus Caumplion, 1379 in Poll Tax (Great Dunham, Norfolk); Simon Caumplion', 1379, Marg' Camplyoun, 1381 in Poll Tax (East Bradenham, Norfolk); Thomas Caumplion', 1379 in Poll Tax (Caston, Norfolk); Robert Caumplion, 1454 in Paston Letters (Norfolk); Robert Camplion alias Wright, 1592 in Norfolk Record Office (Old Newton, Suffolk).

N England: Thomas Camplechon, 1589, Campleion, 1611 in York Freemen's Register; Richerd Camplyon, 1604, John Camplyne, 1610 in IGI (Morland, Westm); Eliz. - Main GB location 1881: Yorks

English: according to Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames, an altered form of Cappleman, perhaps influenced by Camplin and its variant Camplejohn. Compare John Campline, 1628, Richard Cappleman, 1721 in IGI (Lythe, NR Yorks); Robert Cappleman, William Campleman, 1672 in Hearth Tax (Newbegin ward, Hull).

Early bearers: Roger Campleman, 1599 in Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames (Kirby Underdale, ER Yorks); Elisabeth Campelman, 1654 in IGI (Terrington, NR Yorks); Mary Campleman, 1655 in IGI (Flamborough, ER Yorks); John Campleman, 1680 in Yorks Wills.

Camplin

Variants: Champlin, Campling, Camplejohn

- Current frequencies: GB 371, Ireland 3
- GB frequency 1881: 297
- Main GB location 1881: Lincs, Yorks, and Westm; also Middx

Norman: (i) locative name from Anglo-Norman French **Campelin*, **Champelin*, occasionally **C(h)ample(i)n* and **C(h)ampel(i)on*, perhaps denoting a man from one of the places in Normandy and Picardy named with Latin campelli 'little fields', such as Campeaux (Calvados, Oise) or (Les) Champeaux (Manche, Orne). In Yorks, Camplin was confused with Campion; see Redmonds, King, and Hey, pp. 142–3. (ii) locative name; alternatively the 1379 examples Chaumplen (Leics) and Campleyn (Norfolk) could derive from one of the numerous hamlets in France called Champlain, or else Champlan (Seine-et-Oise, near Paris).

Further information: Reaney derives the name from Middle English cam(e)lin (Old French chamelin) 'cameline', a cloth supposedly made of camel hair but actually a fabric of wool mixed with silk, angora, or other fibres. This does not explain the unexpected and persistent medial -p-, nor the variation with -ion in Ca(u)mplion (see CampeJohn). Reaney's only example without -p-, Stephen Camelyn, 1230 in Close Rolls, may be a locative name from Camelin-et-le-Fresne, in Aisne (Picardy). Devon examples of Champelloun (in Down Thomas) and Champlin (in Berry Pomeroy) may be compared with the family called de Campellis, de Champeux, and de Champell, who held fees of the honour of Berry (Pomeroy) and gave their name to Champson in Molland (Devon), recorded as Mollaund Chaampeus and Champell(l)eston in 1281. Also compare Robert de Campellis, 1242–3 in Book of Fees (West Stoodleigh, Devon), and William Champeaux, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Stoodleigh, Devon).

The 1379 Leics bearers may have been ancestors of William Chamblin, 1617 in IGI (Humberstone, Leics). Chamblin and Chamblain are now rare or extinct and may have been absorbed by

Chamberlain; compare John Chamberlain, 1782 in IGI (Humberstone, Leics). Chamb(l)ain may alternatively be a reduced form of Chamberlain.

Early bearers: E Midlands and E Anglia: William Campelin', 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Norfolk); Johanne, Willelmo Chaumplen, 1379 in Poll Tax (Castle Donington, Leics); Simon Campleyn, 1379 in Poll Tax (Feltwell, Norfolk); Edmundus Camplyn', 1379 in Poll Tax (Strumpshaw with Braydeston, Norfolk); Luce Chamblyn, 1539 in IGI (Caston, Norfolk); Robertus Campling, 1570, Richardus Camplin, 1592 in IGI (Edingthorpe, Norfolk); Ric Campline, 1591 in IGI (Great Steeping, Lincs); Richi. ## Cannon

Variants: Canon, Cannan, Canaan, Cannons, Canning, Conning, Channon

- Current frequencies: GB 9300, Ireland 1470
- GB frequency 1881: 5371
- Main GB location 1881: widespread in England and Scotland: esp. London; Lancs
- Main Irish location 1847–64: widespread: esp. Donegal

1 English: nickname from Middle English can(o)un, chanon ‘clergyman living under canon rule or serving in a church or cathedral’ (Norman and Picard Old French can(o)un, Parisian Old French chanoine). The sense of the 1177 example may be literal and occupational, but the widespread hereditary surname must derive from laymen who were given the name because of a perceived resemblance to a canon’s behaviour or looks. Early bearers: England: Reginald Canun, 1177 in Pipe Rolls (Cambs); Will. Kanon, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Yorks); Rog. le Canon, 1319 in Subsidy Rolls (Essex); Robert Chanon, John Canon, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Lincs); Rob. Canon, sherman, 1399 in York Freemen’s Register

(Yorks); Robert Canon, 1501 in PROB 11 (East Hanningfield, Essex); John Cannon, 1553 in PROB 11 (Great Yarmouth, Norfolk); Robert Cannon, 1616 in PROB 11 (London).

2 Irish, Manx: relationship name from Ó Canann or Ó Canáin ‘descendant of Cano or Canán’, and occasionally, or in the Isle of Man, from Mac Canann ‘son of Cano or Canán’, which in Ireland was anglicized McCann or McConnon. See also Connon. The personal name is from Gaelic cano ‘wolf cub’, of which Canán is a diminutive. In Ulster Cannon may also be shortened from Ó Canannáin ‘descendant of Canannán’, a double diminutive of the personal name. This was a chieftain family in Donegal.

Cao

Variants: Cho, Chu, Chou, Chow, Chaw, Tso

- Current frequencies: GB 629, Ireland 14
- GB frequency 1881: 6

1 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 曹 (Tsao in Mandarin romanization, Cho or Tso or Chou in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘generation’ or ‘government department’ in ancient Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal name of Cao An (曹安), the founder of the state of Zhu (located in Zouxian in Shandong province). After the state was annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), Cao (曹) was adopted as a surname. (ii) from Cao (曹), the name of a state (located in Dingtao in Shandong province) granted to Zhenduo, the thirteenth son of the virtuous Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC; see Zhou (1)). After the state was annexed by the state of Song, Cao (曹) was adopted as a surname. (iii) from one of the ‘Nine Sogdian Surnames’, also known as ‘nine surnames of Zhaowu’, because their ancestors came from Zhaowu, an ancient city in present-day Gansu province in NW China. During the Sui and Tang dynasties (AD 581–987) there were nine Sogdian states in Central Asia, one of which was called Cao (曹) in Chinese. Between AD 649 and 655, these states submitted to the emperor Tang Gao Zong of the Tang Dynasty. At this time, descendants of people from the state of Cao (曹) acquired the surname Cao (曹).

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 操, meaning ‘conduct, behaviour’ in ancient Chinese. The origin of the surname is unexplained.

3 Portuguese: nickname from cao ‘white-haired, venerable’. Compare Cano.

Card

Variants: Carde

- Current frequencies: GB 2138, Ireland 6
- GB frequency 1881: 1749
- Main GB location 1881: Kent and Sussex
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Cork; Down

English: (i) nickname, occupational name perhaps from Middle English carde 'card', an implement for teasing wool for spinning (from Medieval Latin cardus), and therefore short for Carder or for a maker of wool carders; compare Richard Cardemakere, 1346 in Norwich Freemen. (ii) nickname from Middle English carde 'playing card' (Old French carte), also 'a kind of fabric' (Medieval Latin carda), which could have been given to a card player or a maker and seller of the fabric.

Early bearers: Arnald Carde, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Shrops); Laurence Carde, 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts; Martino Carde, 1381 in Poll Tax (Sparsholt, Berks); Ales Card, 1569 in IGI (Fletching, Sussex); Peter Card or Carde, 1589 in IGI (Ufford, Suffolk); Edward Card, 1632 in PROB 11 (Hertford, Herts).

Cardall

Variants: Cardale, Cardell, Cardle, Cardwell

- Current frequencies: GB 267, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 95
- Main GB location 1881: Staffs and Warwicks; Lancs

1 English: locative name perhaps a variant of Caldwell via Cardwell (1). Some of the Staffs and Warwicks examples may derive from (2).

Early bearers: Edwin Cardell, 1539 in IGI (Croston, Lancs); John Cardell, 1540 in IGI (Chalgrave, Beds); Thomas Cardall, 1590 in IGI (Penkriddle, Staffs); Ellis Cardell, 1600 in IGI (Bolton le Moors, Lancs); Francis Cardall, 1618 in IGI (Stafford, Staffs); Thomas Cardell, 1656 in IGI (Goosnargh, Lancs); Joseph Cardale, 1713 in IGI (Bulkington, Warwicks); Thos. Cardall, 1746, Mary Cardale, 1764 Joseph Cardall, 1804 in IGI (Kingswinford, Staffs); Thomas Cardall, 1746 in IGI (Bilston, Staffs); Joseph Cardale, 1785, John Cardell, 1799, John Cardall, 1815 in IGI (Birmingham, Warwicks); John Cardall, 1850 in IGI (Liverpool, Lancs).

2 English: alternatively Cardall in Staffs, Warwicks, and Gloucs may be a variant of the now extinct Kyrdall (-ell, -oll) and Kerdall (-oll), later spelled Curdle. Compare the spelling variation in the Gloucs examples, and compare Thomas Cardall, 1746, with William Curdall, 1808 in IGI (Bilston, Staffs), and John Cardall, 1815, with William Curdle, 1847 in IGI (Saint Philip's, Birmingham). The etymology of this name is unknown, but the variation in spelling points to an original Middle English word or name beginning in Kird- or Kerd-, the latter giving rise to Card- (as in Clerk and Clark). Formally it could be a variant of the Somerset name Criddle, with metathesis of -r-, but there is insufficient evidence to test the hypothesis.

Early bearers: Christoferus Kyrddall, 1547, Daniel Kerdoll, 1553, Grandolus Kyrddoll, 1597, Foulk Kerdall, 1613 in IGI (Wootton Wawen, Warwicks); Thomas Kyrddall, 1574, Franc. Kyrddall, 1581 in IGI (Gnosall, Staffs); Jone Kirdol, 1576, Prissila Kyrddal, 1607 in IGI (Stratford upon Avon, Warwicks); Francys Kerdall, 1578 in IGI (Tamworth, Staffs); Cathrin Cardell, 1623 in IGI (Charlton Kings, Gloucs); Phillip Cirdall, 1696, Richard Kirdall, 1751 in IGI (Brailes, Warwicks); Richard Cardale, 1728 in IGI (Winchcomb, Gloucs); Sarah Cardol, 1758, Thomas Kerdal, 1759, William Cardel, 1785 in IGI (Tewkesbury, Gloucs); Peter Kerdall, 1770 in IGI (Gloucester, Gloucs); William Curdall, 1808 in IGI (Bilston, Staffs); William Curdle, 1847 in IGI (Birmingham, Warwicks).

3 English: (i) locative name in Devon and Cornwall, perhaps from Cardwell in Milton Abbot (Devon). With loss of -w-, Middle English Kerdewell would have developed to Kerdell and Cardell, the former pronunciation giving rise to a pronunciation rhyming with the word curdle, probably during the 17th century. (ii) the name is nevertheless difficult to disentangle from possible variants of other names, such as those in (1) and (2) above, which may have migrated to SW England from the W Midlands or further north. There is also potential for confusion between names that sound only partly alike.

According to the IGI, in 18th- and 19th-century Stoke Damerel, Devon, Cardell co-existed with Cadwell, Colwell, and Caudle, and in 18th-century Camborne, Cornwall, it coincided with Cadwell and Cordwell.

Early bearers: [ . . . de] Kerdewell, 1238 in Place-Names of Devon, p. 215; [ . . . de] Kerdauuyll, 1275 in Place-Names of Devon, p. 215; John Cardell, 1543 in Subsidy Rolls (Perranzabuloe, Cornwall); Peiran Cardall, 1641 in Protestation Returns (Saint Agnes, Cornwall); Sarah Cardell, 1688 in IGI (Withycombe Raleigh, Devon); Samuel Cardall, 1710, Jane Elizabeth Kerdle, 1854 in IGI (Perranzabuloe, Cornwall); Mary Cardwell, 1715 in IGI (Kingsbridge, Devon); Ann Curdell, 1738 in IGI (Perranuthnoe, Cornwall); John Cardwell, 1791 in IGI (Exeter, Devon); John Cardell, 1798 in IGI (Stoke Damerel, Devon).

1 Scottish: locative name from the province of Carrick (Ayr).

Further information: The earliest bearers of the Carrick surname were descendants of the 12th-century lords of Galloway who became earls of Carrick in the early 13th century. The earldom passed by marriage to the Bruce family later in the 13th century and then to the crown with the succession of Robert Bruce, earl of Carrick, to the throne in 1306. Illegitimate descendants of the earliest earls, themselves noblemen, continued to use the Carrick surname.

Early bearers: Scotland: Duncan de Carric, 1225 in Glasgow Register (Glasgow, Lanarks); Rolland de Karryk, 1260 in Acts of Parliaments of Scotland (Girvan, Ayr); Gilbert de Carryk, 1308–9 in Great Seal of Scotland; John de Carrick, 1372 in Irvine Muniments (Glasgow, Lanarks); Jannet Carrick, 1610 in IGI (Leith, Midlothian); Jonet Carrick, 1666 in IGI (Hamilton, Lanarks).

1 Irish: from Ó Cearbhaill or Mac Cearbhaill 'descendant (or son) of Cearbhall', a personal name of uncertain origin, perhaps based on cearbh 'hacking' and hence originally a byname for a brutal but effective warrior. Woulfe keeps the Mac and O surnames separate, listing 'several distinct families' called Ó Cearbhaill. He describes Mac Cearbhaill as 'a celebrated family of musicians in Ulster'.

Early bearers: Ireland: Maelsuthain Ua Cerbhaill, king of Eoghanacht of Loch-Lein, 1010 in AU; Amhergin Ua Cerbhaill, king of Eli, 1033 in AU; Gallbrat Ua Cerbaill, royal heir of Tara, 1058 in AU; Maelruananaigh Mac Cerbaill, 1328 in AU; Donnsléibhe Mac Cerbaill, 1357 in AU; William owre O'Carroll alias O'Carwell, captain of his nation, 1560 in Fiants Elizabeth §274 (Ely O'Carwell); William O'Carrowill, 1570 in Fiants Elizabeth §1617 (Kilkenny); Johanna Carvill alias Carrwill alias Bourke, alias Johanna O Kearoll, wife of John Bourke baron of Letrym, 1584 in Fiants Elizabeth §4479.

England: Thomas Carron, 1640, Steuen Carrone, 1661 in IGI (Newcastle upon Tyne); Ann Carron, 1755, Frances Carron, 1843 in IGI (Liverpool).

2 Huguenot: occupational name from French Caron, a Norman-Picard form of Old French charron 'carter' or 'cartwright'. From the 16th century onwards, a significant number of Huguenots with this name settled in S England.

Further information: There is no evidence to support Reaney's derivation from a hypothetical Old French word **carun* 'carter, cartwright', nor that the modern name derives from the Anglo-Norman surname de Carun, from Cairon (Calvados).

Early bearers: Huguenot: Israel Caron, 1596 in IGI (Walloonor Strangers church, Canterbury); Asa Caron, 1603 in IGI (Threadneedle Street London).

- Main GB location 1881: London

English: relationship name from the personal name Casper.

Further information: This name, usually in England in the form Caspar, was ascribed by popular tradition in Europe to one of the three Magi (astrologers), who according to the Bible (in which they are not named) brought gifts to the newborn Christ. Their supposed remains were taken to Cologne from Constantinople in the 12th century, where they were the subject of a popular cult. According to tradition, the names of the other Magi were Balthasar and Melchior. There is so much textual uncertainty in the various sources of the Christmas story that no firm conclusion about their origin can be reached, though they are commonly said to be Persian, Arabian, and in the case of Caspar, Indian.

Catcher

Variants: Ketcher, Kitcher

- GB frequency 1881: 21
- Main GB location 1881: Gloucs

English: (i) occupational name from Middle English cacchere 'huntsman' or 'driver of animals'. (ii) occupational name probably also used in the same sense as the diminutive cacherel 'bailiff of a hundred', which was common both as a name of office and as a surname. For example, the Norfolk Hundred Rolls (1275) have Alexander le Cacherel, Hugh le Chacherel, Adam Kacherel, and Richard Wyche, cacherel. The cacherels had an unpleasant reputation for extortion and oppression.

Early bearers: Richard Kaccher, 1200 in Pipe Rolls (Lincs); Jordan Cachere, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks); Alan le Cacher, 1327 in Thuresson; Margeria Catchere, 1379 in Poll Tax (Warwicks); William Catchar, 1577 in PROB 11 (London); John Catcher, 1602 in PROB 11 (London).

English, Scottish: relationship name from the female personal name, Latin Katerina, Greek Katerina, Aikaterinē.

Further information: The given name was extremely popular in the Middle Ages due to Saint Katherine of Alexandria, a legendary Christian figure of doubtful historicity, who was supposedly martyred under the Emperor Maxentius in 307. In the 1308 form, the -th- in Katherin is a conventional medieval spelling of the sound /t/, but the modern spelling and pronunciation of the name with -th- is a 16th-century learned introduction by clerics and other educated people, who believed that it derived from Greek καθαρός 'pure'.

Early bearers: given names: Katerina filia Johannis, 1208 in Curia Regis Rolls (Lincs); Cateina, 1214 in Curia Regis Rolls (Hunts).

- Main GB location 1881: Sussex and Kent

1 English: nickname from Middle English c(h)at 'cat' (Old English catt, Norman and Picard Old French cat, Parisian Old French chat). This is certain in medieval examples that have the definite article (Anglo-Norman French le), but examples below without the article could belong with (2) or (3).

Early bearers: Lufmancat, 1086 in Domesday Book (Hants); Robert le Cat, 1167 in Pipe Rolls (Norfolk); Geoffrey Chat, 1190–1200 in Hatton's Book of Seals (Suffolk); Margaret Kat, 1202 in Assize Rolls (Lincs); Adam le Chat, 1203 in Pipe Rolls (Wilts); William le Cat, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Rotherfield, Sussex); John le Cat, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Wadworth and Mayfield, Sussex); John Catt, 1538 in IGI (Hasketon, Suffolk); Nycolas Catt, 1539 in IGI (Rotherfield, Sussex); Steven Catt, 1566 in IGI (Brenchley, Kent); Elizabeth Kat, 1605, Thomas Catt, 1609 in IGI (Heathfield, Sussex); Edward Katte, 1780 in IGI (Biddenden, Kent); Mary-Harriett Katte, 1802 in IGI (Patcham, Sussex).

2 English: relationship name occasionally perhaps from an unrecorded Middle English female personal name **Cat*, a pet form of Catelin (Catherine). See Catlin, and compare Katin.

3 English: relationship name perhaps from an unrecorded Middle English personal name **Cat(te)* or **Chat(te)*, a survival of Old C(e)atta, which is well evidenced in place-names.

Scottish, Irish: locative name from Caulfield near Langholm (Dumfriess).

Further information: This name is also common in Ireland. Sir Toby Caulfield (born 1565 in Milton, Oxon) was granted most of the church lands of Ulster about 1610. The townland of Castlecaulfield (Tyrone) was renamed after the castle he built there between 1611 and 1619. Some families with this surname in Ireland descend directly from him, while others adopted Caulfield as an anglicization of at least four Irish surnames: Mac Cathmhaoil (McCawell), an important family in E Tyrone (who also adopted Campbell, but see Cowell), Mac Eoghain or Mac Eoin (see McKeown), Ó Gamhna (see Gaffney), and Ó Gamhnáin (see Goonan).

1 English: locative name from Cavendish (Suffolk), a place-name of Old English origin denoting the edisc or enclosed pasture belonging to a man called Cāfa or **Cāfna*. Locally the place-name and surname have been pronounced Candish since the 15th century.

Further information: Cavendish is the family name of the Dukes of Devonshire. They are descended from Sir John Cavendish, who served as Chief Justice of the King's Bench (1372–81). Under the Tudors and Stuarts, a succession of shrewd and powerful heads of the family achieved political prominence and became extremely wealthy. William Cavendish, 2nd Earl of Devonshire, was a strong supporter of the Glorious Revolution of 1688 and of William of Orange (William III) against James II. In 1694 he was created Duke of Devonshire. The Latin family motto, Cavendo tutus, 'safe through taking care', is a pun on the surname.

Early bearers: Simon de Cauendis, 1201 in Pleas (Suffolk); Richard de Cavendish, 1344 in Feet of Fines (Essex); William Caundyssh, 1416 in Feet of Fines (Essex); Mary Cavendish, 1538, Crystian Candish, 1547 in IGI (London); Thomas Candiche, 1590, Nathaniel Cavendish, 1718 in IGI (Plymouth, Devon); William Cavendish, 1612 in IGI (Cavendish, Suffolk); Margaret Cavendish, 1613 in IGI (Little Easton, Essex); Sophia Cavendish, 1630 in IGI (Hague Hall, Haigh, Lancs); Jona Candich, 1634, James Kavendish, 1641 in IGI (Ugborough, Devon); Richard Cavendish, 1765, Mary Candish, 1824, James Kandich, 1860 in IGI (Manchester, Lancs); Georgiana Cavendish, 1783 in IGI (Hardwick, Suffolk).

References: Watts (2004), at Cavendish; Forster (1981), at Cavendish.

2 Manx: relationship name, anglicization of Manx Corjeag, a reduced form of Mac Quartag 'son of Svarteygr' (from Old Scandinavian, meaning 'black-eyed'). Folk etymology interpreted Corjeag incorrectly as Manx curjeig 'alms-dish' and equally incorrectly supposed that the surname Cavendish was a synonym meaning 'giving-dish'. Manxmen's familiarity with Lancs examples of the English surname in (1) presumably led to the substitution, but some of the later Lancs examples may represent the altered Manx name.

Early bearers: IoM: Mac Quartag, 1511, Gudyacke, 1580, Quidiacke, 1587, Corjeage, 1611, Corteige, 1616, Corjeag, 1626, Quiejage, 1645, Cordeige, 1652, Quidage, 1654, Corjage, 1658, Cordeage, 1678, Corjeage, 1703, Corjague, 1736, Corjaig, 1783, Corjegge, 1796, Curjeig, 1815, Cavendish, 1821 in Kneen.

1 English: variant of Colston (2), via Caulston, a form of Co(u)lston with partial unrounding of the diphthong. Caulston has died out but is attested in Frances Caulston, 1709 in IGI (Hesket in the Forest, Cumb), and Wm. Caulston, 1747 in IGI (Askham, Westm). For the -ou/-au- variation compare Gabriel Coulston, 1684, Ann Cowlston, 1798, Molly Caulston, 1802 in IGI (Melling near Lancaster,

Cawston

Lancs). Just as Co(u)lston often developed to Coulson, Colson, and Cowson, so Caulston became Ca(u)lson and Cawson. Compare John Cowson, 1713, Hanah Coulson, 1769 in IGI (Penrith, Cumb), and John Caulson, 1770, Henry Calson, 1793 in IGI (Haslingden, Lancs). The name in WR Yorks may be the result of migration from SE Lancs or it may have arisen from a separate development of Colston there. Further information: The Lancs name is unlikely on phonetic grounds to be a variant of Casson, as McKinley suggests in Surnames of Lancs, p. 332. Early bearers: Christopher Cawson, 1581, Ellen Cawson, 1771 in IGI (Garstang, Lancs); Elizabeth Colson, 1582, John Cowson, 1593, Thomas Cawson, 1747 in IGI (Ormskirk, Lancs); Christopher Cawson, 1596, Edward Cowson, 1602, George Cawson, 1789 in IGI (Cockerham, Lancs); Margret Causon, 1608, Benjamin Cawson, 1795 in IGI (Lancaster, Lancs); Jenett Cawson, 1646 in IGI (Waddington, WR Yorks); Nicholas Cowson, 1656 in IGI (Colne, Lancs); Mary Coulston, 1679, Daniel Cawson, 1714, Margaret Cowson, 1719 in IGI (Caton, Lancs); Robt Cowson, 1718, Margt Cawson, 1742, Mgt Coulson, 1773 in IGI (Kendal, Westm).

Korean: (채); Chinese character 諸, meaning 'all') ancestors of this family were originally named Chaegal (諸葛). According to the Chaegal clan genealogy, the founding ancestor was a twentieth-generation descendant of a Chinese government official, Chae Kal-lyang (諸葛亮), a character who plays an important role in the epic tale of the Three Kingdoms. This descendant migrated to the Shilla Kingdom some time in the early 9th century. He and his descendants lived in the southern tip of the Korean peninsula for four centuries. It is said that during the reign of the Koryŏ king Kojong (1213–59) two brothers split the Chaegal surname: the younger brother, Yŏng (瑩), took the surname Kal (葛) and the elder brother, Hong (泓), took the surname Chae (諸). There are now two Chae clans.

Chai

Variants: Chay, Chia, Chi, Chak, Tsai, Zhai

- Current frequencies: GB 332, Ireland 4
  - GB frequency 1881: 1
- 1 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 柴 (more usually Tsai in Cantonese romanization): from the personal name Chai (柴), a word meaning 'firewood' in Chinese, the given name of Gao Chai (高柴), a student of Confucius (Spring and Autumn period). His grandson Ju (举) and Ju's descendants inherited his given name, 柴, as their surname.
- 2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 齊 (Qi or Chi in Mandarin romanization), meaning 'neat' or 'identical' in Chinese: (i) from Qi (齊), the name of a state (originally located mainly in Shandong province) that was granted to Jiang Zi Ya (also known as Jiang Tai Gong; 11th century BC), during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). (ii) from the first element of the personal name Qi Zi (齊子), the style name of an official in the state of Wei during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) traced back to the Qi (齊) family from the Di ethnic group in Wudu (located in present-day Gansu province) in ancient China.
- 3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 翟 (Zhai in Mandarin pinyin, Chak in Cantonese), originally denoting 'pheasants'; also used to refer to certain minority ethnic groups in N China. The surname can be traced back to the place-name Zhai (翟, pronounced Di in ancient Chinese): (i) an ancient state located in Shanxi province. After it was annexed by the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), the name of the state was adopted as a surname. (ii) a fief (located in Henan province), granted to the second son of Zhou Cheng Wang (reigned 1042–1021 BC).

1 English, Scottish: (i) locative name, occupational name from Middle English chaumbre ‘room (in a house); reception room in a palace or official building’ (Old French chambre). It is identical in implied function with the Chamberlain, which denoted an official: to pay in cameram was to pay into the exchequer, of which the camerarius or chamberer (compare Roberto Chamberer', 1379 in Poll Tax (Cricklade borough, Wilts)) was in charge. The surname also applied to those employed there (compare Nicholas atte Chambre dictus Clerk, 1351 in Assize Rolls (Essex)). (ii) from the same word, later used to denote a chamber attendant (servant in private quarters), male or female.

Early bearers: Nicholas de Chambres, 1219 in Curia Regis Rolls (Derbys); Stephen de la Chambre, 1240 in Feet of Fines (Essex); William de la Chaumbre, 1329 in Feet of Fines (Lincs); Thomas de Chambr', 1379 in Poll Tax (Skipton, WR Yorks); Johanne othe Chaumbr', 1379 in Poll Tax (Peckleton, Leics); Johanne Chamber, 1379 in Poll Tax (Weston Turville, Bucks); Johannes Chambre, 1381 in Poll Tax (Gosfield, Essex); Margaret Chambers, 1539 in IGI (Saint Peter Westcheap, London).

  - GB frequency 1881: 3115
  - Main GB location 1881: S England: esp. London; Cornwall; Somerset; Kent
  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Dublin; Waterford
- 1 English: occupational name from Middle English, Old French campion, champion, champion 'athlete' such as a wrestler or boxer; also 'warrior hired to do battle in single combat on behalf of others'. The first sense is probably the more usual source of the surname.

Further information: In the ordeal by battle, in criminal cases, the accuser and the accused took the field themselves, but in disputes about the ownership of land the actual parties to the suit were normally represented by 'champions', in theory their free tenants but in practice hired men, professional champions, who were very well paid. In 1294 the Dean and Chapter of Southwell incurred a huge prospective liability in hiring a champion to fight a duel to settle a lawsuit about the advowson of a church. A pugil or champion was a regular member of the household of more than one medieval bishop: Thomas Cantilupe, Bishop of Hereford (1275–82), paid his champion, Thomas de Bruges, a salary of half a mark a year.

Early bearers: England: Geoffrey Champiun, 1154–69 in Northants Charters; William le Champiun, 1220 in Curia Regis Rolls (Suffolk); John le Champion, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Box and Stockbridge hundred, Sussex); Philip Champion, 1327, Philip Campion, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Berwick, Sussex); Robertus Champyon, 1379 in Poll Tax (Aldingbourne, Sussex);

Robertus Campyon, 1381 in Poll Tax (Middleton on the Wolds, ER Yorks); Johannes Campyon, 1381 in Poll Tax (Radbrook with Quinton, Gloucs); Adam Campyon, 1381 in Poll Tax (Shere, Surrey); Christopher Champion, 1539 in IGI (Saint Mary le Bow, London); Christopher Champion, 1539, Elizabeth Campion, 1543 in IGI (Saint Mary le Bow, London); Arnold Champion, 1540 in IGI (Guildford, Surrey); Marye Champion, 1555 in IGI (Horsham, Sussex); John Champion, 1562 in IGI (Meare, Somerset); Humfrey Champion, 1566 in IGI (Reading, Berks); Raph Champion, 1584 in IGI (Madron, Cornwall).

2 Norman, English: locative name either from Old French Champoigne, Champagne, the name of the French province, or from the derived ethnic term champaignon 'person from Champagne'. Either of these could develop to Champion in Middle English. The names were synonymous with Champain and Champness and were freely interchangeable with them. Some of the bearers in (1) may belong here. Further information: Champion Wood in Kent owes its name to a family variously called de Chaumpayne or Champeyneys (1278) and de Campayne (1332). Early bearers: Henry Champaignon, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Paignton, Devon); Alicia de Champyon', 1377 in Poll Tax (Kingston upon Hull, ER Yorks); Thomas Champion, 1539 in IGI (Staverton, Gloucs). References: Kest Place-Names, p. 287.

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 陳 (Chen in Mandarin pinyin, Tan or Dan in Hokkien and Taiwanese romanization, Tang or Dang in Teochew romanization), meaning 'to explain' and 'old' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Chen (陳), the name of a state (located mainly in present-day Henan and Anhui provinces) granted to Hu Gong Man (reigned 1045–986 BC). His descendants acquired 陳, the name of the state, as their surname. (ii) from the surname Hou Mo Chen (侯莫陳), borne by people from Xianbei ethnic group in N China. They adopted the surname 陳 after they moved to Luoyang (in present-day Henan province) during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 詹 (Zhan in Mandarin pinyin, Chim in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'practising divination' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the title of officials in charge of practising divination in ancient China. (ii) from Zhan (詹), name of a fiefdom (probably located in Zhandian in present-day Henan province) granted to descendants of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC), by Shun Di, the Shun Emperor (traditional dates: 2162–2110 BC). (iii) from the title Zhan Hou (詹侯), meaning 'Marquis Zhan', which was granted to one of the sons of Zhou Xuan Wang (reigned 827–782 BC). (iv) from the names of Zhan Jia (詹嘉) (an official in the state of Jin) and Zhan Bo (詹伯) (an official in the state of Zheng), who were granted a fief called 詹 during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 占 (Zhan in Mandarin pinyin, Chim in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'practising divination' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Zi Zhan (子占), style name of Sun Shu, a noble in the state of Chen (located mainly in present-day Henan and Anhui province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (2) simplified form of the Chinese surname 詹 (see sense 2).

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 湛 (Zhan in Mandarin pinyin, Cham in Cantonese romanization), a word meaning 'limpid' or 'profound' in ancient Chinese: from the place-name Zhan (湛), the name of a small fief (located in Henan province) in the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

5 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 展 (Zhan in Mandarin pinyin, Chin in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'unfolding' or 'honesty' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Zhan (展), the name of an ancient state (located in Xuchang in Henan province). Descendants from the state acquired 展 as the surname. (ii) for some families, the surname can be traced back to Wu Hai (died in 715 BC), the grandson of the prince Zhan (展, his style name) of the state of Lu. Wu Hai and his descendants inherited 展, the style name of his grandfather as the surname. (iii) From the Zhan Chi (辗迟) family from Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surname to 展 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

6 Chinese: Mandarin pronunciation of the Chinese surname 戰 (Zhan in Mandarin pinyin, Chin in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'fighting' or 'wars' in Chinese: (i) from Bi Zhan (畢戰), an official in the state of Teng (located in Tengxian in Shandong province). His descendants inherited 戰 as the surname. (ii) for some families, the surname is also borne by descendants of certain military commanders in ancient China.

7 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 粘 (Zhan in Mandarin pinyin, Chim in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'paste' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the compound surname Zhan Ge (粘合, also written as 粘哥, 粘割 or 粘葛), a surname from Jurchens, ancestors of Manchu ethnic group during the Jin dynasty (AD 1115–1234). (ii) from the first element of the compound surname Zhan Han (粘罕), an official during the Yuan dynasty (AD 1271–1368).

Chang

- Variants: Cheung, Jang, Song, Seong, Sheung
- Current frequencies: GB 1691, Ireland 32
  - GB frequency 1881: 8
- 1 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 常 (Sheung or Seung in Cantonese romanization), which means 'lasting forever': (i) said to be borne by descendants of Chang Yi (常儀) and Chang Xian (常先), officials during the reign of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates: 2697–2599 BC). (ii) from Chang (常), a fief (located in present-day Tengxian in Shandong province) that was granted to the grandson of Kang Shu, the younger brother of King Zhou Wu Wang (c. 1087–1043 BC) and founder of the state of Wei (located around present-day Hebei and Xinxiang in Henan province). (iii) said to be borne also by descendants of Heng Hui Gong, an official in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) from Chang (常), a fief (located in present-day Changzhou in Jiangsu province) that was granted to descendants of the king of the state of Wu (located mainly in present-day Jiangsu and Anhui provinces) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (v) replacement name for another Chinese surname, 恒 (Heng in Mandarin pinyin), which means 'lasting, permanent'. People with this surname changed it to Chang (常) during the reign of Zhao Heng (趙恒) (AD 968–1022) in the Song dynasty, because their surname 恒 happened to coincide with the given name of the emperor, which was taboo in ancient China.
- 2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 暢 (Cheung in Cantonese romanization), which means 'to one's heart's content'. The surname is borne by descendants of a noble family who lived in the state of Qi (located mainly in Shandong

- Main GB location 1881: S Lancs; Shetland; Caithness

Scottish: relationship name denoting ‘Charles’ son’ (see Charles, Cherrill). The personal name was very rare in England and Scotland until the 16th century and even then uncommon, so the surname may be of late formation (15th–16th centuries), mostly in Lancs and Caithness. The 1439 form has been influenced by the Gaelic form of the personal name (Teàrlach).

Early bearers: Scotland: Aychin Carlchsoun, 1439 in Cawdor Book; Duncan Charlissoun, 1494 in Taymouth Black Book; John Charlesone, 1681 in IGI (Thurso, Caithness); Donald Charleson, 1740 in IGI (Thurso, Caithness); Peter Charleson, 1782 in IGI (Walls, Shetland); Mowat Charleson, 1800 in IGI (Unst, Shetland).

England: Alexander Charlesone, 1576 in IGI (Flixton, Lancs); Thomas Charlston, 1583 in IGI (London); Edward Charleston, 1588 in IGI (Birstall, WR Yorks); Ann Charleson, 1610 in IGI (Kenyon, Lancs); Abram Charleson, 1793 in IGI (Leigh, Lancs).

- Main Irish location 1847–64: Antrim

English: locative name from Charley in Leics, or Charley Farm in Stanstead Saint Margaret’s in Herts.

Early bearers: Walter de Cherlelai, 1202 in Pipe Rolls (Bucks); Dobyn de Charlag, 1276 in Assize Rolls (Lancs); Henry Charley, 1524 in Subsidy Rolls (Devon); George Charley, 1547 in IGI (London); Anne Charley, 1558 in IGI (South Littleton, Worcs); Edward Charley, 1671 in IGI (Coventry, Warwicks).

Charlick

- Current frequencies: GB 227, Ireland 2
- GB frequency 1881: 184
- Main GB location 1881: Devon; Middx

English: nickname from Middle English carlok, charlok ‘wild mustard (Sinapis arvensis)’ (Old English cerlic, cyrlic), perhaps denoting someone who favoured yellow clothes.

Further information: Reaney’s suggestion that the name denoted a seller or grower of the plant seems unlikely, since, although the leaves are edible, the seeds are poisonous. In modern times it has been a prolific weed of arable land.

Early bearers: Richard Carloc, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cambs); Peter Charloc, 1317 in Assize Rolls (Kent); Roger Charleloke, 1497 in Archaeologia Cantiana 42.

Early bearers: Anthony Charlier, 1760 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Louis Charlier, 1765 in IGI (Threadneedle Street French Huguenot Church, London).

Charlish

- Current frequencies: GB 127, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 150
- Main GB location 1881: Norfolk and Suffolk

English: (i) nickname from Middle English chershish ‘servile, boorish, simple-minded’, influenced by its Scandinavian-derived counterpart carlish; but the long gap in the evidence is a problem. (ii) perhaps a variant of Charles, which originated in Suffolk, or at least sometimes confused with this.

Further information: The persistent association with E Anglia appears to rule out a general connection with Charles in Devon (see Charles 4), though that may account for names like Thomas Charlis, 1573 in IGI (Saint Just in Roseland, Cornwall).

Early bearers: Johannes Charlis, 1379 in Poll Tax (Sharrington, Norfolk); Robt Churlish, 1747 in IGI (Great Ellingham, Norfolk); Wiliam Charlish, 1773, Robert Churlish, 1814 in IGI (Earsham, Norfolk).

Charlot

- Current frequencies: GB 17, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 6

Norman, Huguenot, French: patronymic from the French personal name Charlot, a diminutive of Charles. Compare Charlett.

1 Chinese: Cantonese romanization of the Chinese surname 鄒 (Zou or Tsou in Mandarin pinyin, Chow in Cantonese romanization): (i) from Zou (鄒), the name of a state (located in Zouxian in Shandong province), originally also called Zhu or Zhu Lou. After it was annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), the name of the state was adopted as a surname. (ii) from the place-name Zou (鄒), the name of a fief (thought to be located in Shanqiu in Henan province) granted to Zheng Kao Fu, an official in the state of Song during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) shortened form of the compound Chinese surname Zou-Tu (鄒屠), the name of an ancient place (possibly located in Shandong province).

2 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 巢 (Chao in Mandarin pinyin, Chow in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'nest' in Chinese: (i) said to be borne by descendants of You Chao Shi (有巢氏), an ancient legendary king. (ii) from Chao (巢), the name of an ancient state (located in Anhui province), which existed from the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC) to the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). After it was annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), the name of the state was adopted as a surname.

Chaucer

Variants: Causer

- GB frequency 1881: 1

Norman, English: occupational name from Old French chaucier 'maker of chausses', an agent derivative of Old French chauces 'breeches, pantaloons, hose'. In 1484 these were 'chaucos of yron or legge harneys' (OED). Middle English chauce was a general term for anything worn on the feet: boots, shoes, hose, or leggings. As Baldwin le Chaucer (1307 London Letter Books B) was of Cordwanerstrete, the early chaucer was probably a worker in leather, a maker of leather breeches, boots, etc.

Further information: The poet Geoffrey Chaucer (c. 1343–1400) was born in London, the son of a vintner and descendant of a line of Ipswich vintners. His son, Thomas Chaucer (c. 1367–1434), rose to be Chief Butler of England and speaker of the House of Commons; his granddaughter Alice married William de la Pole, Duke of Suffolk. However, subsequently the Chaucer direct line died out. The surname is now very rare.

Early bearers: Ralph le Chaucer, 1220 in Curia Regis Rolls (London); Robert le Chauser, 1256 in Assize Rolls (Northumb); Thomas Chaucer, 1722 in IGI (Pontefract, WR Yorks); Margaret Chaucer, 1766 in IGI (Forgue, Aberdeens); Jeffery Chaucer, 1779 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks); Nancy Chaucer, 1788 in IGI (Stockport, Cheshire).

Indian (northern states): Hindu (Rajput) and Sikh name of great and ancient prestige but unknown meaning. There is a legend that the ancestor of this Rajput clan emerged from a sacrificial fire with four arms, and so it was associated with the Sanskrit word chatur- meaning ‘four’, but this is no more than folk etymology.

Further information: Chauhan kings ruled in Rajasthan and neighbouring states, and conquered Delhi and its neighbourhood in the 12th century. The Chauhans, along with the Solankis, the Paramaras, and the Pariharas, call themselves Agnikulas ‘Fire Tribes’. According to the Agnikula legend, after the original Kshatriyas had been exterminated by Parashurama (see Arora), the Brahmins found themselves in need of protection from the demons that were harassing them, and so they prayed and made a special sacrifice to the god Shiva for assistance. Then, through divine intercession, there emerged from the sacrificial fire the ancestors of the four Rajput clans known as the Fire Tribes, and they vanquished the demons. Historians believe that these tribes were in reality foreign tribes that entered India and defeated the original Kshatriyas. As they became the staunch defenders of the Hindu ideals, they were admitted into the prestigious Kshatriya rank by the Brahmins. A clan of the Porwal Baniyas have also adopted this name, and, because of the prestige associated with it, it has been adopted in many other communities as well.

Chell

Variants: Cheal, Chill

- Current frequencies: GB 1078, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 666
- Main GB location 1881: Staffs

English: (i) relationship name from an unrecorded Middle English male or female personal name **Chell* (e) or Chele, Old English Cēolla, Cēol, or Cēola, short forms of names beginning in Cēol- such as Cēolbeorht (male) and Cēolflæd (female). (ii) nickname perhaps alternatively from Middle English chele, chile (Old English ciele, cele, cyle) 'cold, lacking sympathy'. Compare Frost.

Further information: It is possible that the two suggested sources give rise to the two distinct sets of bearers, in which case (i) would probably be the source of the Midland names with a short vowel and (ii) the source of the SE names with a long vowel. The names in (ii) could also be from Old English cēol 'ship' if it survived into Middle English, or the personal name Cēola derived from it.

Early bearers: William Chele, 1275 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs); Johannes Chelle, 1379 in Poll Tax (Felthorpe, Norfolk); Alexander Chele, 1379 in Poll Tax (Reedham, Norfolk); Johannes Chelle, 1379 in Poll Tax (Westonzoyland, Somerset); Edward Chell, 1565 in IGI (Albrighton, Shrops); Edrus Chell, 1572 in IGI (Newcastle under Lyme, Staffs); Thomas Chell, 1585 in IGI (Shusoke, Warwicks).

- GB frequency 1881: 3

1 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 成 (Sing or Shing in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'accomplish' or 'become' in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Cheng (郟), the name of a fief (located in present-day Henan province) granted to Shu Wu, son of the virtuous Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC; see Zhou (1)). His descendants adopted the name of the fiefdom as their surname, and simplified it to 成 by dropping the second component of the Chinese character 郟. (ii) from the place-name Cheng (郟), the name of a fief (located in present-day Shandong province) granted to Ji Zai by Zhou Wu Wang (c. 1087–1043 BC; see Zhou (1)). His descendants simplified the name of the fiefdom 郟 to 成 and adopted it as their surname. (iii) from the place-name Cheng (成), the name of a fief (located in present-day Shandong province) in the state of Lu (located mainly in present-day Shandong province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) from Cheng Hu (成虎), the style name of the son of Ruo Ao, who was a high official in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). His descendants inherited 成, part of his name, as their surname. (v) for some families, the surname also originated from the Tu Ge tribe of the Huns resided in NW China. (vi) for other families, the surname also originated from the indigenous tribes in ancient South China.

2 Chinese: Mandarin or Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 程 (Ching in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'measurement' or referring to 'a kind of beast or insect' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Cheng (程), the name of a state (probably located in Henan province) granted to Xiu Fu by Zhou Xuan Wang (reigned 827–782 BC). (ii) from the place-name Cheng (程), the name of a fief (located in Shaanxi province) granted to descendants of the Xun (荀) family in the state of Jin (located mainly in present-day Shanxi province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Chinese: Cantonese and Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 鄭: from Zheng (鄭), the name of a state (located in part of present-day Shaanxi and Henan provinces) granted to You, the younger brother of Zhou Xuan Wang (reigned 827–782 BC). The state of Zheng was annexed by the state of Han (located in present-day Shaanxi and Henan provinces) during the Warring States period (475–221 BC).

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 井 (Jing in Mandarin pinyin), referring to 'a well' in Chinese: from the personal name Jing Bo (井伯), the name of an official in the state of Yu (located in Shanxi province) during the Warring States period (475–221 BC).

5 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 岑, see Sam (2).

6 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 鐘, probably based on its Teochew,

Hokkien, and Taiwanese pronunciation. See

Chung (1).

7 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 莊, probably based on its Teochew, Hokkien, and Taiwanese pronunciation. See Chong (1).

Cherriman

Variants: Cherryman

- Current frequencies: GB 163, Ireland o
- GB frequency 1881: 82
- Main GB location 1881: Sussex

English: of uncertain origin. It looks like a compound of Cherry + man ‘servant of a man surnamed Cherry,’ or perhaps ‘one who lived by a cherry tree’ (see Cherry), but Cherry has not been found in medieval Sussex or neighbouring counties. An alternative possibility is that Cherriman is a variant of Chereman or Char(e)man, a surname particularly found in Sussex since the late 14th century (see Charman). However, McKinley notes that in late 16th-century Horsham, Cheryman appears as the surname of a man otherwise called Chyryam or Chyriam, and that Cherian appears in late 16th-century Pullborough, where Cherryman is recorded in the following century. He proposes that Cherriman is an attempt to make sense of an otherwise unintelligible name, which Redmonds suggests may be the WR Yorks family name Cherryholme, which could have migrated to Sussex. Early bearers: Thomas Cheriman, 1578 in PROB 11 (Pulborough, Sussex); Thomas Cherriman, 1687 in IGI (Frensham, Surrey); Wil. Cherriman, 1709 in IGI (Henfield, Sussex); Mary Cherryman, 1711 in IGI (Pulborough, Sussex).

- Main GB location 1881: Shrops

English: locative name from Chetwode in Bucks, or from Cheetwood in Cheetham, Manchester (Lancs). Further information: The place-name consists of the British Celtic place-name element **cēto-* 'wood', with an explanatory Old English wudu 'wood'. It is not impossible that there were other unidentified places with such a name. The modern association with Shropshire suggests that it may sometimes be a local variant of Chatwin, from the Shropshire place-name Chetwynud.

Early bearers: Robert de Chetewod', 1206 in Curia Regis Rolls (Warwicks); Ralph de Chetwode, 1262 in Feet of Fines (Kent); John de Chetwode, 1346–7 in Feet of Fines (Surrey); Johne Chetwood, 1556 in IGI (Mucklestone, Staffs); Richard Chitwood, 1615 in IGI (Chetwode, Bucks); Bridget Chetwood, 1624 in IGI (Church Minshull, Cheshire); Robert Chatwood, 1679 in IGI (Chester, Cheshire).

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 張 (Zhang or Chang in Mandarin romanization), meaning 'to draw a bow' in ancient Chinese: (i) for some families, it is traced back to Xie Zhang (解張), whose style name was Zhang Hou (張侯) ('Marquis Zhang'), a noble in the state of Jin (located in present-day Shanxi province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) this surname is also borne by descendants of Hui, grandson of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC). Hui was given the title Gong Zheng, denoting an official in charge of making bows (張 Zhang means 'to draw a bow' in ancient Chinese). (iii) from the name of Zhang Liao (張遼), an official in the state of Wei in northern China during the Three Kingdoms period (AD 220–280). (iv) the surname is also traced back to Long Youna, chief of one of the minority ethnic groups (located mainly in present-day Sichuan, Guizhou, and Yunnan provinces) during the Three Kingdoms period (AD 220–280), who was given the Chinese surname Zhang (張) by Zhuge Liang, the prime minister of the state of Shu.

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 章 (Zhang or Chang in Mandarin romanization), meaning 'stamp, seal' in Chinese: from Zhang (鄒), the name of an ancient fiefdom (located in present-day Shandong province), which was annexed by the state of Qi in 664 BC. When the name of the fiefdom was adopted as a surname, the written form of the Chinese character 鄒 was simplified to 章.

3 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 昌 (Chang in Mandarin pinyin), which means 'prosperity': it is said to be from the name of Chang Yi (昌意), son of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC).

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 蔣, see Jiang (1).

Chevalier

- Current frequencies: GB 237, Ireland 17
- GB frequency 1881: 179

• Main GB location 1881: Jersey; also Middx

Norman, French (Huguenot): occupational name from Anglo-Norman French chevalier, chivaler, Old French chevalier 'horseman, mounted soldier'. It seems likely that the Norman name did not survive the medieval period but was reintroduced by Huguenot refugees.

Further information: Antoine-Rodolphe Chevalier, born at Monchamps in 1507 and Professor of Hebrew at Cambridge, returned to France but fled after the Massacre of Saint Bartholomew and died in Guernsey in 1572. His son, Samuel Chevalier, came to England from Geneva. In 1591 he was minister of a French church in London, and later of the Walloon church at Canterbury (Smiles, pp. 376–7).

Early bearers: England: Robert le Chevalier, 1205 in Curia Regis Rolls; Nicholas Chivaler, 1221 in (Suffolk); William Cheualer, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); William Chevalier of Chilham, 1425, William Chiualer, 1441 in Feet of Fines (Kent); Jean Chevalier, 1605 in IGI (Southampton, Hants); Elizabeth Chevalier, 1688 in IGI (Soho, Middx); John Chevalier, 1737 in IGI (Aspall, Suffolk); Paul Chevalier, 1777 in IGI (Boxgrove, Sussex).

1 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 池, meaning 'moat' in ancient Chinese: (i) acquired as a surname by people who lived beside a moat. (ii) from Chi (池), said to be the name of an ancient state (unknown location and period). (iii) from the personal name Chi (池), the given name of a son of an official in the state of Qin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

2 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 遲, meaning 'late' in Chinese: (i) borne by descendants of Chi Ren (遲任), a person who lived at some time during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). (ii) shortened form of the Chinese compound surname Yu-Chi (尉遲), originally the name of a tribe from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China. (iii) from the second element of the personal name Zi Chi (子遲), the style name of Fan Xu, a student of Confucius.

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 季 (Ji in Mandarin pinyin, Kwai or Kuai in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'youngest brother' in ancient Chinese: (i) said to be borne by descendants of Ji Lian (季連), the youngest son of Lu Zhong, grandson of the legendary king Zhuang Xu (traditional dates: 2514–2437 BC). (ii) said to be borne by descendants of Ji You (季友), the youngest son of the king Lu Huan Gong (died 694 BC) in the state of Lu.

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 吉 (Ji in Mandarin pinyin, Kut or Kat in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'lucky' in Chinese: (i) simplified form of the Chinese surname Ji (姁), originally the surname conferred on Bo Shu, who was said to be a descendant of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates: 2697–2599 BC) and granted with the fief Southern Yan (located in Henan province). (ii) from part of the personal name of Yin Ji Fu (尹吉甫), an official during the reign of the king Zhou Xuan Wang (reigned 827–782 BC).

5 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 計 (Ji in Mandarin pinyin, Kai in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'calculate' in Chinese: (i) possibly from Ji (計), the name of an ancient state (located in Shandong province) during the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (ii) possibly from the place-name Ji Jin (計斤), the original capital (located in Shandong province) of the state of Ju during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC).

1 English: status name, nickname from Middle English child, cild, chil ‘child’. In the earliest examples it probably denotes someone comparable in status to the dregs of the northern Danelaw, the sergeants of Norman times. Ekwall has shown that Robert Child (1202 Ekwall, ELPN) may have been called by the pet name of Child because he was the youngest child or a minor at the time of his parents’ death, as suggested by puer and Infans below. In the 13th and 14th centuries child appears to have been applied to a young noble awaiting knighthood (MED), as well as denoting a page, attendant, or apprentice (1382, in MED). It could also mean a childish or immature person (about 1200, in MED). Compare Littlechild.

English: (i) occupational name, status name; possibly from childesman, denoting the servant or attendant of a young noble. Childman may have the same meaning. (ii) relationship name; alternatively, perhaps, from an unrecorded Middle English personal name Childman (Old English **Cildmann*), one of the late Old English personal names compounded with -mann. Nicholas Childman was the son of Childman, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cambs). Early bearers: given names: Chilman Alwyn, 1312 in Patent Rolls (Baldock, Herts); Chilmannus Lenner, Chilleman Dilly, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Cambs). surnames: Nicholas Childman, 1239 in Feet of Fines (Cambs); William Childeman, 1253 in Assize Rolls (Staffs); Nicholas Chyldeman, 1260 in Patent Rolls (Nuneham Courtenay, Oxon); William le Childesman, 1276 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Walter Chileman, 1311 in Colchester Court Rolls; William Chilman of Stratton, 1331 in Feet of Fines (Beds); Wilyam Chilman, 1558 in IGI (Throwley, Kent); Richard Chilman, 1588 in IGI (Crowhurst, Surrey); Robert Chilman, 1633 in IGI (Saint Martin in the Fields, Middx); Joane Chilman, 1639 in IGI (Cuckfield, Sussex); Mary Chilman, 1698 in IGI (Saint Botolph without Aldgate, London).

2 English: relationship name from the Old English personal name Ceolmund (based on words meaning ‘ship’ + ‘guardian’), which was common in the 8th and 9th centuries and recorded once later, about 1050 in Herts. It must have continued in use after the Conquest, at least in Somerset. For -man from -mund, compare Osman.

Early bearers: William, Henry Chilemound(e), 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset); John Chylemonde in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset); Agnes Chilmon, 1580 in Bardsley.

1 English: see Chinn.

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 金 (Jin in Mandarin pinyin, Kam in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'gold' in Chinese: (i) from Jin Tian (金天), title of the legendary king Shao Hao (2598–2525 BC), the son of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates: 2697–2599 BC). Some of his descendants inherited 金, part of his title, as their surname. (ii) from Jin Midi (金日磾) (134–86 BC), a prince of the Hun clan Xiu Tu of N China, who was captured as a child and brought up at the Han imperial court. He became an official highly regarded by the emperor Han Wu Di (156–87 BC) and was appointed master of the imperial stables. He made golden statues of horses to worship Heaven and because of this was given the surname Chin, 金 (meaning 'gold') by the emperor. (iii) for some families, the surname is traced back to the Liu (劉, see Lau) family living in the state of Wu Yue (AD 907–978, located in present-day Zhejiang, Jiangsu, and Fujian provinces), who changed their original surname 劉 to 金, because the former was pronounced the same as the given name of the emperor Qian Liu (AD 852–932), and it was taboo in ancient China to bear a name that was borne by the emperor. (iv) for some families, the surname is traced back to the minority ethnic groups of Qiangzu and Xinluo in N China during the Southern and Northern dynasties (AD 420–589).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 靳 (Jin in Mandarin pinyin, Kan or Kun in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'stingy' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the place-name Jin (靳), the name of a fief (located in Ningxiang in Hunan province) granted to Jin Shang (靳尚) (died 311 BC), a noble official in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) for some families, the surname can be traced back to the Huns in N China, recorded in ancient Chinese history books.

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 晉 (Jin in Mandarin pinyin, Chun in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'enter' or 'promote' in ancient Chinese: from Jin (晉), the name of a state (located mainly in present-day Shanxi province) originally granted to Tang Shu Yu, the third son of Zhou Wu Wang (about 1087–1043 BC). In 403 BC, the state was partitioned into three new states by Wei Wen Hou (died 396 BC), Han Jing Hou (died 400 BC), and Zhao Lie Hou (died 400 BC). Descendants of Jin Jing Gong (died about 349 BC), the last king of the state of Jin, inherited 晉, the name of the original state, as their surname.

5 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 秦 (Qin in Mandarin pinyin, Chun in Cantonese romanization): (i) from Qin (秦), the name of a state (located in present-day Gansu province) originally granted to Fei Zi by Zhou Xiao Wang (died 886 BC). The state of Qin eventually unified all of China under one rule for the first time in history. In 221 BC, Ying Zheng (259–210 BC), known as 'Qin Shi Huang' or 'Emperor Qin', established the Qin dynasty, and became the first Emperor. During his reign, he built the Great Wall, and regularized the writing of Chinese characters and units of measures. After the Qin dynasty was overthrown in 206 BC, people kept 秦, the name of the state, as their surname. (ii) from the place-name Qin (秦), the name of a fief (located in Fanxian in Henan province) granted to nobles of the state of Lu (located mainly in present-day Shandong province), who were descendants of Bo Qin, the grandson of Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC).

6 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 琴 (Qin in Mandarin pinyin, Kam in Cantonese romanization), denoting a type of ancient Chinese musical instrument: (i) from the first element of Qin Lao (琴牢), given name of an official who lived in the state of Wei during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC) and was reputed as a student of Confucius. (ii) possibly borne by descendants of the ancient musicians who played musical instruments for public entertainment.

7 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 覃: a surname that originated among minority ethnic groups in ancient southern China.

Further information: The character 覃 also has another Mandarin pronunciation, Tan, which has a different origin; see Tan (3).

8 Chinese: Cantonese romanization of the Chinese surname 錢 (Qian or Chien in Mandarin romanization), meaning 'money' in Chinese: from Qian (錢), the name of a post held by officials in charge of the national treasury during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC).

9 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 千 (Qian or Chien in Mandarin romanization), meaning 'thousand' in Chinese: borne by descendants of Yang Qian Li (楊千里), also known as King of Bai Qing, during the Three Kingdoms period (AD 220–280), who changed his original surname Yang (楊) to Qian (千).

10 Chinese: Hokkien or Taiwanese romanization of the Chinese surname 甄, see Chen (1).

11 Chinese: Hakka romanization of the Chinese surname 陳, see Chan (1).

Further information: Hakka Chinese is spoken in South China and other parts of Southeast Asia.

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 荆 (Jing in Mandarin pinyin, King in Cantonese romanization), a word meaning ‘brambles’: from Jing (荆), the original name of the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 景 (Jing in Mandarin pinyin, King in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘scenery’ or ‘revere’ in Chinese: (i) in some families, the surname is borne by descendants of nobles in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) from Jing (景), posthumous title of Qi Jing Gong (died 490 BC), king of the state of Qi (located mainly in Shandong province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) from Jing Qing (景清), an official in the Ming dynasty (AD 1368–1644), who changed his original surname 耿 (Geng) to 景.

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 敬 (Jing in Mandarin pinyin, King in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘respect’ in Chinese: (i) from Jing (敬), the posthumous title of a son of king Chen Li Gong (died 700 BC). (ii) said to be borne by descendants of Jing Kang (敬康), grandson of the legendary emperor Huang Di, or ‘the Yellow Emperor’ (traditional dates: 2697–2599 BC). (iii) borne by descendants of Gou Hua Nan, an official during the Qing dynasty (AD 1636–1911), who was granted the surname Jing (敬).

5 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 靖 (Jing in Mandarin pinyin), meaning ‘peaceful’ in ancient Chinese: (i) from Jing Guo (靖郭), the conferred title of Tian Ying, known as Jing Guo Jun (靖郭君), son of king Qi Wei Wang (died 320 BC) in the state of Qi. (ii) from Jing (靖), the posthumous title of king Shan Jing Gong (单靖公) in the state of Shan during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

1 Chinese: Cantonese romanization of the Chinese surname 焦 (Jiao or Chiao in Mandarin romanization), meaning 'scorched' or 'anxious' in Chinese: (i) from Jiao (焦), the name of a state (originally located in Shanxian in Henan province, then moved to Anhui province, and finally to Shandong province) granted by Zhou Wu Wang (about 1087–1043 BC) to descendants of Shennong, a legendary ruler of China prior to the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (ii) from Jiao (焦), the name of another state (located in Shanxian in Henan province) annexed by the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) surname from one of the minority ethnic groups in ancient S China.

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 仇 (Qiu in Mandarin pinyin, Sau or Sao in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'companion' or 'spouse' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal name Chiu Mu (仇牧), the given name of an official in the state of Song during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) adopted in place of the Chinese surname 侯 by Chiu Luo Qi (仇洛奇) during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 裘 (Qiu in Mandarin pinyin, Kau or Kao in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'clothes made of fur' in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Chiu (裘), the name of a fief (thought to be located in Hennan or Hebei province) granted to an official in the state of Wei during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) from Chiu (裘), the title of an official in charge of making furs during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). (iii) in some cases, 裘 was adopted in place of the Chinese surname 仇 (see 3 above), in order to escape from persecution.

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 秋 (Chau or Chao in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'autumn' in Chinese: (i) from Si Qiu (司徒秋), who according to legend was a descendant of the legendary king Shao Hao (2598–2525 BC). (ii) from Qiu Hu (秋胡), a person originating in the state of Lu, who simplified the Chinese character 湫, part of his grandfather's given name, to Qiu (秋) and adopted it as a surname. (iii) possibly from Qiu (秋), the title of an official during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC), also called Si Kou.

Variants: Chu, Cao, Zuo, Zhuo, Do, To, Tso, Toh, Tok, Chuck, Cheuk, Chok

- Current frequencies: GB 488, Ireland 2
- GB frequency 1881: o

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 祖 (Zu or Tsu in Mandarin romanization, Chou in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'ancestors' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal names Zu Jia (祖甲), Zu Yi (祖乙), Zu Xin (祖辛), Zu Ding (祖丁), and Zu Geng (祖庚), the given names of several kings during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). (ii) from the first element of the personal names of Zu Ji (祖己) and Zu Yin (祖尹), who were descendants of an official called Zhong Hui who lived some time during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC).

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 左 (Zuo or Tso in Mandarin romanization, Chor or Jor in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'left-hand side': (i) borne by descendants of Zuo Che (左徹), an official who lived during the reign of the legendary Huang Di, the ‘Yellow Emperor’ (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC). His name is said to date back to an ancient state called Zuo (左). (ii) from Zuo Shi (左史), meaning ‘left-hand official scribe’, the name of an official post during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC) and the Eastern Zhou dynasty (770–256 BC). There were two official scribes during the Western Zhou dynasty. One was called Zuo Shi (左史), ‘left-hand scribe’; he was responsible for recording words. The other was called You Shi ‘right-hand scribe’, who was responsible for recording events. (iii) borne by descendants of Zuo Gong Zi, the ‘left-hand prince’, a noble in the state of Qi, where there were two princes, called Zuo Gong Zi (‘left-hand prince’) and You Gong Zi (‘right-hand prince’) respectively. (iv) possibly a shortened form of the compound Chinese surname Zuo-Qiu (左丘), which was originally the name of a place (located in Linzi in Shandong province).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 卓 (Zhuo in Mandarin pinyin, Cheuk or Cheok in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘eminent, outstanding’ in Chinese: (i) borne by descendants of Zhuo Hua (卓滑), an official who lived in the state of Chu during the Warring States period (475–221 BC). (ii) borne by descendants of a man called Zhuo (卓), originally from the state of Zhao, who migrated to Linqiong (in present-day Qiongxia in Sichuan province) after the annihilation of the state of Zhao in 222 BC, and became rich as a smelter of iron.

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 曹, see Cao (1).

5 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 楚, see Chu (5).

6 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surnames 鄒 and 巢, see Chau (1) and (2).

7 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 周, see Zhou (1).

8 Korean: (조; Chinese character: 趙) although traditional sources suggest hundreds of clan seats for this family, only fifteen can be documented with confidence. Each of these fifteen clans claims a different founding ancestor and many appear to be unrelated, in spite of bearing a common surname. Most of them trace their origins to the beginning of the Koryŏ kingdom (early 10th century). From the 11th century onward, the Cho family was one of the most powerful in Korea.

9 Korean: (조; Chinese character: 曹) borne by descendants of Cho Kye-ryong (曹繼龍). According to legend, a scholar named Yi Kwang-ok had a daughter who very much wanted to marry. In the 48th year of the reign of the Shilla king Chinpyŏng, she went to Hwawang Mountain to pray at the dragon pond, and on her return found herself to be pregnant. In a dream, a young man with a crown and a jade belt appeared to her. A few months later she gave birth to a boy, under whose arm was a red birthmark resembling the Chinese character for Cho. The king, understanding the boy to be special, bestowed upon him the surname Cho, named him Kyeryong (which means ‘descended from a dragon’), and married him to his daughter, the princess. The clan seat for the Cho family is in Ch’angnyŏn, South Kyŏngsang province.

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 蔡 (Cai or Tsai in Mandarin romanization, Choy or Tsoi in Cantonese romanization), originally referring to ‘the tortoise used in ancient rituals of divination’ in Chinese: from the place-name Cai (蔡), a fief (originally located in Shangcai in Henan province) which was granted to Du, also known as Cai Shu (蔡叔), son of the virtuous Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC; see Zhou (1)). Later Cai Shu plotted rebellions and was eventually sent into exile. But his son, Hu, also known as Cai Zhong (蔡仲), was a revered man and was granted the fief of Cai (蔡), which later became a state during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). After it was annexed by the state of Chu in 447 BC, the name of the state was adopted as a surname.

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 宰 (Zai or Tsai in Mandarin romanization, Tsoi in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘control’ or ‘in charge of’ in ancient Chinese: from the second element of Tai Zai (太宰), the name of an official post in the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC) in charge of royal affairs.

3 Chinese: Chinese form of the Chinese surname 徐, see Xu (1).

7 Korean: (최; Chinese character: 崔, meaning ‘high’ or ‘precipitous’). According to legend, the founder of the Choi clan was Sobŏldori, one of the six elders of pre-Shilla Korea who helped establish the Shilla kingdom. He was given the Choi surname by Shilla King Yuri Isagŭm in AD 32. The oldest Choi clan, the Kyŏngju Choi, was established some 800 years later by Choi Chi-wŏn (崔致遠), a famous 10th century Korean official. There are 43 Choi clans in Korea, but all are descended from the Kyŏngju clan.

7 Korean: (정 Chông; Chinese character: 鄭) this is one of the most frequent Korean surnames, dating back to the 1st century AD. Like many Korean surnames, it is probably of Chinese origin. Some sources say that there are 215 Chông clans, but only 32 of them can be distinctly documented. The earliest and largest Chông clan began in AD 32, when Chibaekho (智; 伯虎), one of the six ruling elders of pre-Shilla Korea, was given this surname by the Shilla king Yuri Isagum.

Chose

- GB frequency 1881: 1

English, French: (i) relationship name possibly a variant of Jose (see Joyce) with unvoicing of the initial consonant. (ii) nickname perhaps from Middle English chos, a variant of Middle English, Old French chois 'noble, handsome' (see Choyce). However, this form of the word is recorded only in northern Middle English, and the historical distribution of this surname is quite different from that of Choyce. (iii) alternatively from Old French chose 'thing', alluding to an expression such as Old French faire la chose 'have sexual intercourse' or Old French and Middle English bele chose 'female private parts'.

Muslim, Indian (northern states), Bangladeshi:

status name, Muslim and Hindu, denoting the head of a community or caste, from Sanskrit çatus- ‘four-way, all-round’ + dhuriya ‘undertaking a burden (of responsibility)’ (from Sanskrit dhura ‘burden’). The Khatri have a clan called Chowdhury.

Further information: The title was originally awarded to persons of eminence, both Muslims and Hindus, by the Mughal emperors. In some traditions the name is said to derive from a title for a military commander controlling four different fighting forces, namely navy, cavalry, infantry, and elephant corps, but this is probably no more than folk etymology.

English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Chun(ne) (male) or Chune (female, latinized as Chuna). This could represent Old English **Cēon(n)a*, an unrecorded pet form of Old English Cēolnōð, usually a male personal name but possibly also female. Compare Johannes Chounson, 1379 in Poll Tax (Lilford with Wigthorpe, Northants). A Sussex family with this name is commemorated in the farm name Chownes in Cuckfield.

Further information: Wilson’s suggestion in Reaney and Wilson, that Chown is from a Cornish form of John, has no foundation.

Early bearers: given names: Chuna (female), 1248 in Assize Rolls (Berks); Chun Pimme, Chunne Mervyn, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cambs).

English: (i) probably in some instances a variant of Joyce, well evidenced in Staffs and Suffolk in the medieval period. The name in Cumb might go back to the family of John Joyce, 1772 in IGI (Saint Bees, Cumb). (ii) nickname; the earliest example (1379) is in Leics, where Joyce is not recorded until 1606, so here perhaps it might alternatively be derived from Middle English (Old French) chois 'handsome (person)'.

2 Norman, English: relationship name from the interchangeable Middle English personal names Cristian and Cristin, used for both men and women. Cristian is from Latin Christianus (literally 'the Christian') and its female equivalent Christiana. Cristin is from Latin Christinus and Christina, male and female diminutives of Christus 'Christ'. They were introduced to England and Scotland by the Normans in their Old French forms, male Crestien (or the learned form Cristian) and Cristin, female Cristiane and Cristine. Cristin(e) was naturally associated with the Middle English word cristen, cristin, or criston 'Christian' (Old English cristen), reinforcing the tendency to use Cristin and Cristian as alternative name forms. The male name was never common in medieval England, but the female name, recorded as Krystyan and Kyrstyan in the Norfolk glossary, Promptorium Parvulorum (1440), became increasingly popular in the 14th and 15th centuries. Early bearers: given names (male): Cristien, 1170–1200 in Durham Liber Vitae; Cristianus, 1201 in Curia Regis Rolls (Berks).

given names (female): Cristiana, 1170–1200, 1215–45, 1300–30, 1355–85 in Durham Liber Vitae; Christiana, 1154 in Bury Saint Edmunds Documents (Suffolk), 12th cent. in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); Christiana Oxhird, Christiana Warde, Cristiana Hanson, 1379 in Yorks Poll Tax (WR Yorks); Cristina, 1100–30, 1170–1200, 1470–1500 in Durham Liber Vitae, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); Cristina de Burlingeham, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Gloucs); Crystyne, 1470–1530 in Durham Liber Vitae. surnames: Robert Crestien, 1163–9 in Miller, Ely (Cams); Philip Cristian, 1199–1216 in Hornchurch Priory Kalendar (Essex); Thomas filius Cristian, 1228 in Feet of Fines (Essex); Peter Crystyn, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Thomas Crystyn, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Staffs); Tomisen Cristian, 1544 in IGI (Stanford Rivers, Essex); Elsabeth Crystyns, 1544, Sarah Cristian, 1697, *Thos. 1 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 朱 (Zhu in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'vermilion' in Chinese: (i) from Zhu (邾), the name of an ancient state (located in Zouxian in Shandong province) granted to a noble called An by Zhou Wu Wang (c. 1087–1043 BC). After this state was annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), the Chinese character Zhu (邾) was simplified to Zhu (朱) and adopted as a surname. (ii) said to be borne by descendants of Zhu Hu (朱虎) or Zhu Biao (朱彪), officials who lived during the reign of the legendary Shun Di, the Shun Emperor (reigned 2162–2110 BC). (iii) said to be from the second element of the personal name of Dan Zhu (丹朱), the style name of a son of the legendary king Yao (2367–2258 BC). (iv) said to be borne by descendants of Song Wei Zi, founder of the state of Song, established in around 11th century BC. (v) shortened form of the Chinese compound surname Er-Zhu (爾朱), the ancient name of a river (currently called Zhu Jia Chuan, located in NW Shanxi province). (vi) adopted as a surname by the Ke Zhuo Hun (濁渾) and Ke Zhu Hun (可朱渾) families from Xianbei ethnic group in N China during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

2 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 諸 (Zhu in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'various' in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Zhu (諸), the name of a fief (located in Zhucheng in Shandong province) in the state of Lu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) possibly from the second element of the personal name Wu Zhu (無諸), the style name of the founder of Min Yue Kingdom (202–110 BC). (iii) adopted in place of the compound surname Zhu-Ge (諸葛) by Zhu-Ge Shipeng, who hid in the Kuaiji Hills after the Chen Qiao Mutiny during the Five Dynasties and Ten Kingdoms (AD 907–960).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 祝 (Chuk or Chok in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'wizard', 'prayers', or 'to pray' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Zhu (祝), the name of an official post in ancient China in charge of chanting prayers during religious worship. (ii) from the place-name Zhu (祝), the name of a fief (located in Shandong province) during the reign of Zhou Wu Wang (c. 1087–1043 BC).

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 竺 (Chuk or Chok in Cantonese romanization): (i) from the second element of Tian Zhu (天竺), the Chinese name of the ancient Indian Empire, whose immigrants in China acquired Zhu (竺) as their surname. (ii) adopted in place of another homophonous Chinese surname, Zhu (竹, Chuk or Chok in Cantonese romanization), by Zhu Yan (竹晏) during the Eastern Han dynasty (AD 25–220). The original surname 竹 can be traced back to the state of Gu Zhu (孤竹), a small state (located in Hebei province) during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC).

5 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 楚 (Cho in Cantonese romanization), meaning

'pain' or 'clear' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Chu (楚), the name of a state (covering Hubei, Hunan, Anhui, Jiangsu, and Jiangxi provinces), originally granted to Xiong Yi and finally annexed by the state of Qin in 223 BC. (ii) from the personal name Chu (楚), the given name of Lin Chu (林楚), an official in the state of Lu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) borne by descendants of Chu Long (楚隆), an official in the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

6 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 褚, meaning 'padding in garment': (i) from Chu (褚), the name of a fief (located in Luoyang in Henan province) granted to Duan, prince of the state of Song, who was revered for his virtue and known as Chu Shi (褚師). (ii) possibly from Chu (褚), the name of a pavilion or a canal (located in Luoyang in Henan province).

7 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 儲, meaning 'store' in Chinese: from the first element of the personal name Chu Zi (儲子), style name of an official in the state of Qi during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

8 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 曲 (Qu in Mandarin pinyin, Kuk or Kok in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'tune' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of Qu Wo (曲沃), the name of a fief (located in Shanxi province) granted to Cheng Shi, also known as Qu Wo Huan Shu (802–731 BC), younger brother of the king Jin Wen Hou (805–746 BC) in the state of Jin. (ii) possibly from the personal name Qu Ni (曲逆), an official who lived during the reign of the emperor Xia Jie (died 1600 BC), the last king of the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC).

9 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 屈 (Qu in Mandarin pinyin, Wat in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'bent' or 'being wronged' in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Qu (屈), the name of a fief (located in Zigui in Hubei province) granted to Xia, son of the king Chu Zhuang Wang (died 690 BC) in the state of Chu. (ii) adopted as a surname by the Qu Tu (屈突) family from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

10 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 瞿 (Qu in Mandarin pinyin, Kui or Koi in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'halberd' or 'thoroughfare' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the place-name Qu Shang (瞿上) (located in Chengdu in Sichuan province), said to be the location of an ancient state called Qu (瞿). (ii) possibly from Qu (瞿), the name of a fief (location unknown) during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC).

11 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 鞠 (Ju in Mandarin pinyin, Kui or Koi in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'a ball made of leather' or 'enormous' in ancient Chinese: from the personal name Ju (鞠), the given name of a grandson of Hou Ji, who was an official during the reign of king Yao (2367–2258 BC).

12 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 居 (Ju in Mandarin pinyin, Kui or Koi in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'dwell, reside' in Chinese: from the personal name Ju (居), the style name of Xian Qie Ju (先且居), an official in the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

- 1 Chinese: Cantonese and variant Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 鐘 (Zhong in Mandarin pinyin): from the place-name Zhong Li (鐘離), a fief (located in Fengyang in Anhui province or in Hanchuan in Hubei province) in the state of Chu, which was granted to Zhou Li, who fled to the state of Chu from the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).
- 2 Chinese: Mandarin or Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 仲 (Zhong in Mandarin pinyin), meaning ‘second in order of birth’ in ancient Chinese: (i) from the personal names of Zhong Kan (仲堪) and Zhong Xiong (仲熊), two famous educators during the reign of the legendary Shun Di, the Shun Emperor (reigned 2162–2110 BC). (ii) from Gong Zhong (共仲), the style name of Qing Fu, a prince of the state of Lu (located mainly in present-day Shandong province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) from the personal name of Zhong Hui (仲虺), an official during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). (iv) from Zhong Shan Fu (仲山甫), the style name of a famous official during the reign of Zhou Xuan Wang (reigned 827–791 BC). (v) from the personal name of Zhong Ji (仲幾), a noble in the state of Song (located in present-day Shangqiu in Henan province).
- 3 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 宗 (Zong or Tsung in Mandarin romanization), meaning ‘ancestors, forebears’ in Chinese: (i) from Zong Bo (宗伯), the name of an official post during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC), which took charge of the management of the rituals and ceremonies of the royal families. (ii) from the personal name of Bo Zong (伯宗), the style name of an official in the state of Jin (located mainly in present-day Shanxi province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). He was later persecuted to death and his eldest son Zhou Li fled towards the state of Chu and was given the fief Zhong Li (鐘離), which was the origin of the surname 鐘 (see 1 above). But Bo Zong’s youngest son Lian Jia stayed in the state of Jin and adopted Zong, part of his father’s style name, as his surname.

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 叢 (Cong or Tsung in Mandarin romanization): (i) from the personal name of Cong Zhi (叢枝), said to be head of an ancient state called Zhi, which was annexed by the legendary king Yao (2367–2258 BC). (ii) from the place-name Cong Jia Yan (叢家峴) (located in present-day Wendeng in Shandong province), where descendants of Jin Midi (金日磾) (134–86 BC) lived. Jin Midi was a prince of the King of Xiu Tu of the Huns. ### Chuter

Variants: Chewter

- Current frequencies: GB 651, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 382
- Main GB location 1881: Surrey

English: of uncertain origin; perhaps an -er derivative of a word reflecting the pre-English forest name seen in Chute. If this is so, it would be a locative name for a person who lived at a place denoted by that word. The place may be the one indicated in the name of Thomas Chote, 1381 in Poll Tax (Godalming, Surrey), if this is not a variant of Choat. It could refer to Chute Forest on the border of Hants and Wilts.

Early bearers: Annis Chewter, 1561 in IGI (Ash, Surrey); William Chowter, 1563 in IGI (Wanborough, Surrey); Robert Choter, 1564 in IGI (Puttenham, Surrey); Scisselia Chuter, 1591 in IGI (Albury, Surrey); John Chuter, 1709 in IGI (Farnham, Surrey); Nic Chewter Or Chutter, 1709 in IGI (Ash, Surrey).

- Cornish: variant spelling of Chenoweth.
Early bearers: ; William Chynoweth, 1663 in IGI (Mawgan in Meneage, Cornwall); John Chynoweth, 1665 in IGI (Saint Martin in Meneage, Cornwall).

Ciardi

- GB frequency 1881: 0

Italian: Southern Italian, from the medieval personal name Ciardo, a pet form of names such as Acciardo, Guicciardo, or Ricciardo.

Further information: This name is rare in Britain but is thriving in the USA.

Cilia

- Current frequencies: GB 146, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 0

1 S Italian, Maltese: nickname from an Italian dialect word, cilia, derived from Greek koilia ‘stomach’, denoting a man with a fat stomach.

2 Spanish: perhaps from a reduced form of the female personal name Cecilia.

Cini

- Current frequencies: GB 155, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 0

Italian: relationship name patronymic or plural form of Cino, from the personal name, a short form of any of the personal names ending with the hypocoristic suffix -cino, such as Baroncino, Leoncino, Pacino, and Simoncino.

Cinnamon

- GB frequency 1881: 10
- Main GB location 1881: Cumb

English: locative name variant of Cinnamond.

Cinnamond

Variants: Cinnamon, Sinnamon

- Current frequencies: GB 114, Ireland 84
- GB frequency 1881: 15
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Antrim, Armagh, and Down

English: as Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames shows, this is an altered form of Seliman (see Selman) through /n substitution and false association with the word cinnamon. Redmonds draws his evidence from the parish registers of Beverley (ER Yorks), John Synamon alias Silliman, 1622; and from the parish registers of Leeds (WR Yorks), Bryan Selyman (1539), John Siliman (1615), and Francis Silleman (1684), the last of whom is also named Sinemond on his tombstone and Cinamon when his will was registered in 1684. Redmonds also notes that in the parish registers of Mirfield (WR Yorks) it was confused with Simonet (see Simmonite): Joshua Synamond, Simonet or Simolet (1649–82).

Further information: There is no evidence to support Wilson’s claim that this name derives from a place in Normandy named Saint Amand. The surname de Sancto Amando is attested in 13th-century Norfolk, Devon, and Somerset, but no connection with Cinnamond can be shown and it may not have survived in any form in modern England.

Early bearers: England: Frances Sinamon, 1690 in IGI (Leeds, WR Yorks); Jane Cinamon, 1733 in IGI (Swalwell, Durham); James Cinnamon, 1870 in IGI (Saint Marylebone, Middx); Francis Robert Cinnamon, 1875 in IGI (Everton, Lancs).

Scotland: Martha Cinnamon, 1863 in IGI (Glasgow, Lanarks).

References: For a fuller discussion of the history of this name see Redmonds, King, and Hey, pp. 133–5.

Cioffi

- Current frequencies: GB 143, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 0

Italian: (i) nickname probably from Sicilian cioffu 'lock of hair', Italian ciuffo from Joff, a French personal name of Germanic origin.

Early bearers: Clementina Louisa Cioffi, 1850 in IGI (Westminster, Middx); Francisco Cioffi, born in Naples, in Census 1881 (Royal Navy).

Circuit

Citrine

- Current frequencies: GB 109, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 14

- Main GB location 1881: Lancs

Jewish: from citrine, a semi-precious yellow variety of quartz, or from a related word or name. A possible source is the surname Tsitrin, from Yiddish tsitrin 'lemon', used either literally or in allusion to the gem, perhaps filtered through a Romance language. Further information: The trade unionist Sir Walter (later Baron) Citrine (1887–1983) was born in Liverpool. His biographies state that his father may have been an Italian immigrant.

Early bearers: Antonio Citrine, 1840 in IGI (Whitechapel, Middx); John Francis Citrine, 1872 in IGI (Liverpool, Lancs); Richard Citrine, 1894 in IGI (Liverpool, Lancs); Emily Catherine Citrine, 1903 in IGI (Liscard, Cheshire); Alfred Citrine, ships rigger, born in Liverpool, in Census 1911 (Birkenhead, Cheshire).

Clapp

- Current frequencies: GB 1252, Ireland 6
- GB frequency 1881: 1111
- Main GB location 1881: Devon and Somerset

English: nickname either from Middle English **clap* (pe), **clap*(pe) 'lump', perhaps denoting a stocky person, or Middle English clap(pe) 'loud noise; noisy, idle chatter'. Compare Clapper. The medieval surname (le) Clop may be in some instances identical with Clappe, as in the 1206 example, or it may derive from Old French clap 'cripple, lame (one)'.

Further information: The modern surname, concentrated in Devon and Somerset, may go back to Roger Clappe, 1333 in Subsidy Rolls (Devon); compare Clapps Hill in Sidbury, Place-Names of Devon, p. 597.

Early bearers: Simon Clapp', Clappe, 1206 in Curia Regis Rolls (Oxon); Adam le Clop, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); Godard le Clop, 1222 in Curia Regis Rolls (Cambs); William le Clop, 1227 in Assize Rolls (Beds); Laurence Clappe, 1230 in Pipe Rolls (Oxon); John le Clop, 1274 in Close Rolls (Hants); John Clap, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Essex); Will' Clop, Clappe, 1327, 1332 Subsidy Rolls (Lanham, Notts); Roger Clappe, 1333 in Subsidy Rolls (Devon); John Clapp, 1541 in IGI (Branscombe, Devon); John Clapp, 1544 in IGI (Branscombe, Devon); James Clapp, 1596 in IGI (Meare, Somerset); Elnor Clapp, 1603 in IGI (Saint Ewe, Cornwall); Richard Clapp, 1613 in IGI (Saint Botolph without Aldgate, London).

Clapper

- Current frequencies: GB 17, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 2
- Main GB location 1881: WR Yorks

1 English: locative name from Middle English claper, generally denoting a rabbit warren. In southern counties, however, it often denoted a clapper bridge, a rough or natural bridge across a stream. The Devon clapper bridge, common on Dartmoor, was made of flat stones laid across stone pillars.

Early bearers: Matilda de la Claper', 1330 in Place-Names of Devon, p. 359 (Clapper Bridge in High Bickington); John atte Clapere, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Heaster Clapper, 1629 in IGI (Saint Mary Colechurch, London); Susanna Clapper, 1635 in IGI (Dry Drayton, Cambs); Peter Clapper, 1667 in IGI (Maidstone, Kent); Magdalen Clapper, 1698 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Sarah Clapper, 1742 in IGI (Burford, Oxon).

2 English: locative name, nickname, either the topographic name with loss of the preposition, or a name for a chatterer, from Middle English claper 'the tongue of a bell or of a noisy person'. Compare Middle English clappe 'chatter' (about 1230 in MED) and Clapp. Early bearers: Ingram Clapere, 1267 in Patent Rolls; John Clapper, 1617 in IGI (Durham); Jeremy Clapper, 1637 in IGI (Norwich); Mary Clapper, 1777 in IGI (Filey, ER Yorks).

Clappison

Variants: Clapson

- Current frequencies: GB 259, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 126
- Main GB location 1881: ER Yorks

English: relationship name, 'son of someone surnamed Clapham'. This type of name, composed of a locative name surname + son, is uncommon and mostly confined to northern counties, especially Lancs and adjacent parts of WR Yorks. The surname Clapham is especially frequent in WR Yorks, and derives from Clapham (spelled Claypham, 1421 in Place-Names of WR Yorks, VI, p. 232), near the border with Lancs. The village is five miles west of Giggleswick, where Claphamson had already proliferated by the mid-16th century. Pronunciation of Claphamson frequently weakened to Clappinson, Clappison, and Clapson. Bearers of the name apparently migrated to Lancs, ER Yorks, Lincs, Northants, London, and possibly Kent. See also Clapson. Claphamson has not survived.

Early bearers: Rogerus Claphamson, 1561 in IGI (Giggleswick, WR Yorks); Elizabeth Clapinson, 1590 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Samuel Claphamson, 1591 in IGI (South Walsham, Norfolk), 1635 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Marye Clappison, 1600 in IGI (Leeds, WR Yorks); Robert Clayphamson, 1614 in IGI (York); Helena Clapison, 1640 in IGI (York); William Clappison, 1647 in IGI (Paston, Northants); Peter Clappison, 1650 in IGI (Roos, ER Yorks), probably identical with Peter Claphamson, 1670 in IGI (Roos, ER Yorks); John Claphanson, 1675 in IGI (Saint Giles Cripplegate, London); John Clapamson, 1678 in IGI (Stepney, Middx); Elizabeth Clapinson, 1738 in IGI (Roos, ER Yorks); John and Anne Clapison, 1760 in IGI (Frindsbury, Kent), possibly identical with John and Ann Clapinson, 1767 (Chatham).

Clapson

- Current frequencies: GB 408, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 348
- Main GB location 1881: Sussex and Kent; also Lincs, Berks

English: (i) relationship name; the examples in Lincs and Norfolk are probably variants of Clappison, a Yorks surname that had begun to move south before the end of the 16th century. (ii) the Kent and Sussex surname is found too early for it to be the same name, so it probably has a different, so far unexplained, origin. Patronymics in -son are uncommon in southern counties, unless brought in by northern migrants.

Early bearers: N and E England: G[e]orge Clapson, 1588 in IGI (Toynton Saint Peter, Lincs); Rich. Clapsonn, 1596 in IGI (Bradley, Lincs); John Clappson, 1654 in IGI (North Walsham, Norfolk).

SE England: Thomas Clapson, 1540 in IGI (Rodmersham, Kent); Robte Clapson, 1586 in IGI (Rye, Sussex); Martha Clapson, 1603 in IGI (Bearsted, Kent); Jonas Clepson, 1627 in IGI (Bearsted, Kent).

Clapton

- Main GB location 1881: Lancs and Cheshire; Surrey, Middx, and Bucks; Norfolk; Somerset
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Clare: Wicklow and Wexford

1 Irish: from Clare in Suffolk (not the Irish county). Further information: One of the first Norman barons in Ireland (1170–72) was Richard de Clare, Earl of Pembroke, known as 'Strongbow'. He founded a major Irish dynasty. Another Norman surname in the south-east of Ireland was de Clere, named from 'some spot perhaps in Normandy' (Woulfe), presumably meaning Clères (Seine-Maritime), named from the local river. Both Clare and Clear may now represent both names.

Early bearers: England: Richard de Clara, 1086 in Domesday Book (Suffolk); Richard de Clare, 1327 in Feet of Fines (Shenley, Bucks); Anthony Clare, 1565 in IGI (Hadleigh, Suffolk).

Ireland: Thomas Clere, 1550 in Fiant Edward §651 (Gawerane, Kilkenny); Richard and Edward Clere, yeomen, 1564 in Fiant Elizabeth §618 (Kilkenny); Rich., Tho., and James Clere, gents., 1581 in Fiant Elizabeth §3828 (Wexford); James Clere, yeoman, 1602 in Fiant Elizabeth §6706 (Buylekele, Kilkenny).

2 English: relationship name from the Middle English, Old French female personal name Clai(re) (Latin Clara, from clarus 'bright, famous'), noted as the name of Saint Clare of Assisi.

Early bearers: given names: Clara, 1210 in Curia Regis Rolls (Hunts).

surnames: Robertus filius Clarae, 1240, 1255 in Ramsey Cartulary (Norfolk, Hunts); Goditha Clare, 1317 in Assize Rolls (Kent); Richard Clare, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset); Simon Clare, 1459 in Feet of Fines (Kidderminster, Worcs); John Clare, 1539 in IGI (Worcester, Worcs); Ursula Clare, 1540 in IGI (Croydon, Surrey); Ellen Clare, 1542 in IGI (Nantwich, Cheshire); James Clare, 1542 in IGI (Saint James Garlickhithe, London); Mathew Clare, 1544 in IGI (Hartford, Hunts).

3 English: occupational name from an agent derivative of Middle English clay 'clay'. The work of the clayer involved plastering a framework of interwoven twigs with mud to produce wattle-and-daub work, a process variously recorded as torching, 1278, plastering, 1368, and claying, 1486 (Salzman, Building, p. 189).

Early bearers: Simon le Clayere, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cambs); Richard le Cleyere, 1305 in Pinchbeck Register (Suffolk); Johannes Cleyer, 1377 in Poll Tax (Cuxham, Oxon).

Claremont

Variants: Clermont, Clairmont

- Current frequencies: GB 46, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 19
- Main GB location 1881: Middx

1 Norman, English, Huguenot: relationship name from the Old French personal name Claremonde, Continental Germanic Clarmunt, Claremunda. Some examples may belong at (2).

Further information: The lack of continuous evidence in Britain suggests the name (of either origin) may have been reintroduced since the 16th century by Huguenot refugees.

Early bearers: given names: Cleremundus, 12th cent. Gilbertine Charters (Lincs); Claramunda, Cleremunda (f), 1249 in Assize Rolls (Wilts).

surnames, England: Hugh Clermond, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); Margeria Clermond, 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts (Oxon); Elizabeth Clairmont, 1562 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Jane Clermont, 1734 in IGI (Saint Dunstan in the East, London); Flora Claremont, 1871 in IGI (Southwark, Surrey); Marie Louise Claremont, 1885 in IGI (West Tofts, Norfolk). surnames, Huguenot: Zacarie Clermont, 1737 in IGI (Wheeler Street, Spitalfields, Middx); Catherine Clermont, 1746 in IGI (La Patente, Berwick Street, Spitalfields, Middx); Catherine Clermont, 1768 in IGI (Threadneedle Street, London).

2 Norman, English: locative name from Clermont in Calvados or Clairmont in Auvergne.

Early bearers: Bernard de Claromonte, 1148 in Eynsham Cartulary (Oxon); Aelicie de Clermunt, 1185 in Templars Records (Beds); William de Clermund, 1269 in Patent Rolls (Lincs); Hugh de Clermund, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon).

Clarence

- Current frequencies: GB 201, Ireland 19
- GB frequency 1881: 116
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs; Warwick; Middx and Surrey
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Tyrone and Derry

English, French: locative name, nickname apparently from the name of the royal dukedom created in 1362 for Lionel, the third son of Edward III, who had married the heiress of the estate of Clare in Suffolk. It is a conventional rendering in French of the place-name, used in parallel with its conventional name in Latin, Clarentia. These names are originally those of a similarly named city founded in the 13th century by the Norman Villehardouin dynasty in the Peloponnese, Greece, whose site is now called Glarentza, and its application to Clare in Suffolk is a kind of toponymic pun. Formally the name is a parallel, based on clarus 'brilliant, illustrious', for other auspicious Latin names like Florentia as if 'flourishing (place)' and Valentia as if 'strong, healthy (place)'. The surname may simply have originated as a French locative name for a man from Clare, but playing on the dual title, or possibly for a man in one of the early dukes' service.

Further information: The ducal title has been created five times, in 1362, 1412, 1461, 1789, and 1890. The first two dukes died without issue; the third forfeited his title before his son was of age, and the title was not inherited. The last two creations were in the modern era. The surname therefore has no direct connection with the male line of any instantiation of the dukedom. Clarence did not come into regular use as a given name until the end of the 19th century, presumably following the creation of the dukedom for Prince Albert Victor in 1890. Bearers of the rare surname Fitzclarence were descended from bastard sons of the fourth duke, the future William IV, but the surname became extinct in the male succession in 2000 on the death without male issue of Anthony FitzClarence, seventh earl of Munster.

Early bearers: William Clarence, groom of the chamber, 1430 in Patent Rolls; Richard Clarence, citizen and baker of London, 1439 in Patent Rolls; Richard Clarence, 1453 in London Letter Books Kent; George Clarence, 1617 in IGI (Gloucester, Gloucs); William Clarence, 1750 in IGI (Great Yeldham, Essex).

Claret

English, Huguenot: relationship name from the female personal name Clarice, which has been regarded as a derivative of Clara, but the formation is difficult. It may be from an abstract noun claritia, based on Latin clarus 'bright, shining', used as a personal name on the analogy of Lettice, from laetitia 'joy, gladness'.

Further information: The name was reintroduced or augmented in Britain since the 16th century by Huguenot bearers fleeing religious persecution in France and the Low Countries.

Early bearers: given names: Claricia, 1150–60 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); Clericia, 1175–86 in Saint Benet of Holme Register (Norfolk); Clarice (nom.), 1191 in Pipe Rolls (Middx).

Clephane

- Current frequencies: GB 130, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 69
- Main GB location 1881: Midlothian

Scottish: Scottish variant of Clapham, from Clapham in WR Yorks. The place-name is regularly recorded as Clap(e)ham in the medieval period, also as Claphaim, 1165–77, Claypham, 1421 in Place-Names of WR Yorks 6.

Further information: There is no basis for the statement in Black that the name derives from Clapham (Sussex), whose regular form was Clop(e)ham until the 17th century, when the change in pronunciation to Clapham is first recorded in Place-Names of Sussex. The link with Clapham in Yorks has been demonstrated by Grant Simpson and accepted by G. W.S. Barrow. (Barrow, Kingdom of the Scots).

Early bearers: Scotland: Alan de Clapham, about 1200 in Kelso Register (Kelso, Roxburghs); Walter Clapham, about 1230 in Newbattle Register (Newbattle, Midlothian); Marc de Clapham, 1296 in Scotland Calendar (Fife); Alan de Clappam, 1316 in Dunfermline Register (Dunfermline, Fife); John Clephane, 1410 in Perth Blackfriars (Carslogie, Fife); Margaret Clapane, 1529 in Maitland Miscellany (Edinburgh, Midlothian); James Clephane, 1557 in IGI (Kinnaird, Perths); Jonnet Clephane, 1652 in IGI (Anstruther Wester, Fife); Agnes Clephane, 1809 in IGI (Cramond, Midlothian).

Clerkin

Variants: Clarkin, McClurken

- Current frequencies: GB 335, Ireland 838
- GB frequency 1881: 2
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Monaghan

Irish: from an Irish pet form of English clerk ‘cleric’ (Irish cléireach). MacLysaght describes the surname as an anglicized form of Ó Cléireacháin, ‘descendant of little cleric’, an Irish diminutive of the word. De Bhulbh notes McClurkin in Antrim from Mac Cléirchín ‘son of little cleric’.

Early bearers: Ireland: Ferrall O Clearckane, cleric, 1586 in Fiants Elizabeth §4892 (Lourgan, Cavan); Wm. O

Clercan, 1590 in Fiants Elizabeth §5466 (Cavan); Hugh O’Klerkane, 1591 in Fiants Elizabeth §5603 (Ffranstowne, Monaghan); Tole Clerkin, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Kilmore, Monaghan); Loughlin Clerkin, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Tullycorbet, Monaghan); Patrick Klarkin, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Kinawley, Fermanagh).

- Current frequencies: GB 1058, Ireland 2
- GB frequency 1881: 351
- Main GB location 1881: Wilts; also Surrey and Middx; Warwicks

English: (i) locative name from Claverley (Shrops). (ii) locative name in S England, perhaps an irregular development of Cleveley (Oxon), or from a lost place, perhaps in Hants, named from Old English clæfre ‘clover’ + lēah ‘wood, clearing’, like Claverley in (i); occasionally perhaps also from Cleveley (Lancs). Further information: The overall pattern suggests that the southern origin is the dominant one, and that the variant Claverley has been reinforced by local place-name knowledge as the name progressed into the Midlands. Explanation (i) is therefore questionable. Early bearers: Philippus Claverle, 1379 in Poll Tax (Corhampton, Hants); Tomas Cleverly, 1557 in IGI (Kilmeston, Hants); John Cleuerley, 1560 in IGI (Charlton Kings, Gloucs); John Claverley, 1588 in IGI (Colne, Lancs); William Cleverley, 1589 in IGI (Wantage, Berks); Amy Cleverley, 1599 in IGI (Salisbury, Wilts); Ducebell Cleverlye, 1600 in IGI (Romsey, Hants); Margaret Cleverle, 1607 in IGI (Hambleton, Hants); William Claverly, 1627 in IGI (Chertsey, Surrey); Robert Claverly, 1698, Thomas Claverley, 1739 in IGI (Edgmond, Shrops).

English, Scottish: nickname for a maker or user of clubs, from Middle English clubbe, clubbe 'club'; compare Richard clobbere, 1222 in Saint Paul's Domesday; Walter le Clubbere, 1260 in Assize Rolls (Cambs).

Further information: In 1198–1212, Robert clobbere is also recorded as Robert clobbe (in History of Saint Barts Hospital 1, p. 267). By the Assize of Arms, every adult man had to be provided with at least a knife and a staff or club.

Early bearers: England: William Clobbe, 1166 in Pipe Rolls (Cambs); Gilbert Clobbe, 1202 in Curia Regis Rolls (Suffolk); Stephen Clubbe, 1204 in Pipe Rolls (Cambs); Walter Clubbe, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Hunts); Thomas Clobbe, 1334 in Patent Rolls (Chipping Barnet, Herts); John Clubbe, 1396 in Patent Rolls (Liverpool, Lancs); John Clubbe, 1539 in PROB 11 (Wells next the Sea, Norfolk); Robte Clubb, 1567 in IGI (Ipswich, Suffolk); John Clubb, 1572 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Alice Clubb, 1588 in IGI (Deeping Saint James, Lincs); Marjerie Clubb, 1594 in IGI (Middleton by Oldham, Lancs); Geo Clubb, 1612 in IGI (Tonbridge, Kent).

Dutch: nickname from kloterboek, a lexical variant of Early Modern Dutch kladdeboek (Modern kladboek) 'merchant's rough account book' first recorded in 1588 in the Etymologicum Teutonicæ Linguae by Kilian (C. van Kiel); but the variant word is older, for the surname is recorded in England 164 years previously.

Further information: 'The Clutterbucks . . . originally of Dutch origin, had fled from Holland in the sixteenth century', according to H. P. R. Finberg (1957), Gloucestershire Studies, Leicester: Leicester University Press. They evidently arrived earlier, and were well-known cloth merchants in the Stroud area. Early bearers: Thomas Cloterbuk, 1423–4 in Gloucs Ministers' Accounts (Berkeley, Gloucs); Robert Cloterboke, prior of Saint Margaret's Hospital, Gloucester, 1485 in Clutterbuck Collections; Michael Cloterbuck, 1560 in Patent Rolls (Cheshire); Annes

- Main GB location 1881: Somerset

English: locative name from any of several places named from Old or Middle English cot(e) ‘cottage’, such as Coat (Somerset), Coate (Wilts), or Cote (Oxon).

Further information: The place-names literally meant ‘the cottage(s) or hut(s)’, hence the medieval surname forms de la Cote, atte Cote. It is possible that some of the medieval surnames denoted someone who lived at a particular cottage, known as such, within a village or one who worked from a hut, but a toponymic origin is most likely for the modern hereditary surname. Medieval and post-medieval forms of the place-name often vacillate between singular and plural versions. See Coates, which is commoner than Coate.

Early bearers: Walter de la Cote, 1210 in Curia Regis Rolls (Oxon); Godfrey Cote, 1214 in Curia Regis Rolls (Kent); Roger atte Kote, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Ralph atte Cote, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset); Geoffrey Attecot, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Yorks); Ricardus Coate, 1377 in Poll Tax (Helmsley with Carlton, NR Yorks); John Coate, 1580 in IGI (Saint Columb Minor, Cornwall); Elizabeth Cote, 1624, Will. Coate, 1605, Coat, 1635 in IGI (North Petherton, Somerset); Richard Coate, 1615 in PROB 11 (West Thorney, Sussex).

English: locative name from one of the numerous places called Coates, for example in Cambs, Gloucs, Lincs, Notts, Shrops, Sussex, or Wilts; Cotes in Leics or Staffs; or possibly from Coat in Somerset, Cote in Oxon or WR Yorks, with excrescent -s; or possibly from one of the numerous other places similarly named from the new Middle English plural form cotes of Old English cot (plural cotu) ‘cottage’, also ‘shelter’, and sometimes ‘woodman’s hut’. It is possible that some bearers may be from a place whose current name is from the dative plural form of this word, cotum, for example Coatham (Durham) or Cottam, Cotham (Notts), or from the plural of the related weak noun cote, plural coten. Cotham (Notts) is recorded as Cotes in the 13th century, and Coton (Cambs, Derbys, Northants) have many similar spellings.

Further information: There are very small places in Midlothian, E Lothian, and Fife called Coates, but the surname seems rarely if ever to be Scottish in origin. Jonet Coates appears in 1663 in IGI (Cambuslang, Lanarks).

Early bearers: William de Cotes, 1190 in Pipe Rolls (Lincs); Walter de Cotes, 1234 in Fine Rolls (Hants); Thomas de Cotes, 1329 in Feet of Fines (Hants); William de Cotes of Prestwold, 1351 in Feet of Fines (Leics), i.e. from Cotes; Robert de Parua Cotes, 1375 in Feet of Fines (Lincs), i.e. from Little Coates; Robert de Cotes alias Robert, son of John de Cotes, 1395 in Patent Rolls; William Coates, 1539 in IGI (Conington, Cambs); Robert Cotes, 1540 in IGI (Fiskerton, Lincs); Robertus Cotes, 1542, Thomas Coates, 1579 in IGI (Leigh, Staffs); Nicholas Coates, 1562 in IGI (West Tarring, Sussex); Richard Coats, 1565 in IGI (Bromfield, Shrops); Robert Coates, 1577 in IGI (Egglescliffe, Durham); Vrsely Cotts, 1582 in IGI (Toynton All Saints, Lincs); Wilhelmi Coattes, 1596 in IGI (Stratford upon Avon, Warwick); Richard Coates, 1598 in IGI (Kirkby Underwood, Lincs).

- GB frequency 1881: 3286
- Main GB location 1881: widespread in England: esp. Cornwall

1 English: (i) occupational name from Middle English cock ‘cook’, a possible variant of Cook if shortening of the vowel of Old English cōc ‘cook’ occurred before it developed to Middle English coke, couk, cook. In examples of Coc and Cok below, the vowel may be short or long, so they could alternatively be cited under Cook. (ii) nickname from Middle English cock (Old English and Old French coc) ‘male bird, cock’ (especially the male of the domestic fowl), perhaps used humorously of a leader or chief man in a social group, though this sense is not recorded before the 16th century in OED. Some of the following early bearers may alternatively belong under other senses below.

Further information: There is no evidence for Reaney’s belief that Middle English cock ‘cock’ became ‘a common term for a pert boy, and was used of scullions, servants, etc., and came to be attached to Christian names as a pet diminutive’. The suffix -cock was probably an extended form of Old English -oc; see McClure, Jack II, pp. 19–22. Derivation of the surname from Welsh coch or Cornish cogh ‘red’ (of hair or complexion) is impossible, since the required sound change is not otherwise evidenced either in Welsh or Cornish or in the relevant dialects of English.

Early bearers: England: Ælfsige ðene Coc about 950 in Anglo-Saxon Wills; Osbern Cocc, 1175–95 in Ancient Scottish Seals (Derbys); Aki Coc, 1177 in Pipe Rolls (Norfolk); William le Cock, 1271 in Staffs Forest Pleas; Thomas le Cok, 1285 in Assize Rolls (Essex); Godard le Cock, 1281 in London Letter Books A; Nicholas Cock, 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts; Willelmus le Cok, 1381 in Poll Tax (Cronton, Lancs); John Cok, 1424 in Feet of Fines (Lincs); John Cock, 1538 in IGI (Braunton, Devon); John Cock, 1540 in IGI (Saint Just in Roseland, Cornwall); Jhon Cock, 1554 in IGI (Horsham, Sussex); Wilelmi Cock, 1542 in IGI (South Weald, Essex); John Cock, 1542 in IGI (Oxborough, Norfolk); Michael Cock, 1561 in IGI (Saint Andrew by the Wardrobe, London); Anne Cock, 1562 in IGI (Chester, Cheshire); Elizabetha Cock, 1562 in IGI (Arley, Warwicks); Thomas Cock, 1559 in IGI (Bodmin, Cornwall); John Cock, 1572 in IGI (Eastry, Kent); Margret Cock, 1575 in IGI (Manchester, Lancs); Samuell Kok, 1683 in IGI (Walton le Dale, Lancs).

Scotland: Margarit Cock, 1562 in IGI (Errol, Perth); Robert Cock, 1611 in IGI (Alloa, Clackmannans); John Cock, 1611 in IGI (Edinburgh, Midlothian); Jhone Kok, 1617 in IGI (Dysart, Fife); Hew Cock, 1633 in IGI (Glasgow, Lanarks); Francis Cock, 1721 in IGI (Wick, Caithness); James Cock, 1733 in IGI (Fintray, Aberdeens).

2 English: relationship name occasionally perhaps from the Middle English personal name Cok, of uncertain origin. For possible early bearers of the surname see examples without the definite article in (1) above.

Early bearers: given names: Koc filius Pertuin, 1230 in Pipe Rolls (Lincs); Cock le Bottiller, 1281 in London Letter Books C; Koc Forester, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Charlston and Eastdean, Sussex); Kok de mari, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Upperton in Eastbourne, Sussex); Cok mon garcon, a groom of John de Langford, 1293–7 in Abbot of Westminster Documents; Cok gardinarius, identical with Ralph le Gardiner, 1341, and Cok de Hencoit, identical with Henry de Hencoit, 1342 in Dyffryn Clwyd Court Rolls; Cokk’ Pynder, 1377 in Poll Tax (Myton Gate, ER Yorks). References: McClure, Jack II, pp. 19–22.

3 English: (i) locative name from Middle English cock (Old English cocc) ‘hillock, haycock, heap’, denoting someone who lived by a hillock or mound. (ii) occupational name from Middle English cock(k) ‘ship’s boat’, and used for a boatman. Compare Barge. (iii) locative name, occupational name for someone who lived or worked or at a house or inn distinguished by a sign depicting a haycock or mound, a boat, or a cock bird (see the senses above). Early bearers: Hugh ate Cocke, 1319 in Subsidy Rolls (London); Hugh ate Coke, 1320 in London Letter Books E; William dil Cok, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Thomas atte Cok, 1380 in Feet of Fines (Suffolk); Robertus Cock, 1541 in IGI (South Weald, Essex); Tymothy Cock, 1548 in IGI (Hunsdon, Herts).

- Current frequencies: GB 1350, Ireland 1

- GB frequency 1881: 900
- Main GB location 1881: Derbys, Staffs, Notts, and WR Yorks

1 English: nickname, locative name; for an idle dreamer or glutton, or for someone who lived at a place jokingly known as Cockayne. Middle English Cokaygne (Old French Coquaigne) was the name of an imaginary country and a place of luxury and idleness. Two of the early bearers below may have given their names to the land called Cocken in Dalton (Lancs) and to Cocking Lane in Clayton, near Bradford, recorded from 1550 as Cokan in Place-Names of WR Yorks, 3, p. 255. Alternatively Cokayne may have been an ironic name for the lands themselves, in which case the surnames may have been derived from tenancy of the land. Some of the following bearers may alternatively belong with (2) or (3).

Further information: Cockayne Hatley (Beds), recorded as Cocking Hatley in 1576 and in recent times pronounced /kɒkɪn ætli/, was named after the Cokayne family who came into its possession in 1417 (Place-Names of Beds and Hunts, pp. 105–6).

Early bearers: William Cokein, 1193 in Pipe Rolls (Warwicks); Hawisa de Cokaingne, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); William Cocaine, 1221 in Curia Regis Rolls (Bucks); Geoffrey de Cokaygne, 1228 in Feet of Fines (Essex); John de Cokayne, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Epping, Essex); [ . . . ] de Cokayn, 14th century in Furness Cartulary (Dalton, Lancs); Adam de Cokayne, 1330 in Yorks Deeds (Clayton, WR Yorks); John Cokkayn, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Cumb); Rogerus Cokan, 1379 in Poll Tax (Chapel Allerton, WR Yorks); John Cokayn, escheator for Notts, 1406 in Inquisitions post Mortem (Notts); Rogeri Cockin, 1543, Elizabetha Cocken, 1544 in IGI (Beeley, Derbys); Robertus Coken, 1554, Rychard Cockin, 1578, Joa Cokin, 1824 in IGI (Kirkburton, WR Yorks); Rob. Cockbain

- Variants: Cobain, Cockbaine
- Current frequencies: GB 218, Ireland 0
  - GB frequency 1881: 229
  - Main GB location 1881: Cumb
- English: nickname from Middle English cock ‘cock’ + northern Middle English bein (Old Scandinavian bein ‘leg, legs’) ‘cock’s leg(s)’, probably for someone with spindly legs. Bein means ‘bone’, but also ‘leg(s)’, and the second sense is the more natural in surnames. The second element may sometimes instead be the adjective beinn ‘legged’, as in Old Scandinavian diðrbeinn ‘thick-legged’.

Further information: The 'bone' or 'leg' word is not uncommon in medieval nicknames, especially in this northern form: compare Walter Coltbayn, 1256 in Assize Rolls (Northumb) 'colt's leg(s)'; Richard Schortbayn, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Yorks) 'short leg(s)'; William Longerbayne, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Northumb) 'longer leg(s)'. In recent centuries it has gained the possibly euphemistic variant Cobain.

Robert Ford, in 1998, reports his father pronouncing Cumberland Cockbaine as Cobain; <http://archiver.rootsweb.ancestry.com/th/read/CUMBERLAND/1998-11/0911398832>.

Early bearers: William Cokben, 1545 in York Freemen's Register; Gawine Cocbane, 1699 in IGI (Crosthwaite, Cumb); Rich Cockbain, 1702 in IGI (Threlkeld, Cumb).

Cockfield

minor place-names may have occurred in other counties and given rise to the surname there. Compare, for example, Johannes Kockehened (for Kockeheued), 1377 in Poll Tax (Kirmington, Lincs). Early bearers: Willelmus Kokheued', 1379 in Poll Tax (Rathmell, WR Yorks); John Cockett, 1560 in Parish Registers (Giggleswick); Thomas Cockit, 1627 in IGI (Rylstone, WR Yorks); James Cockitt, 1690 in IGI (Ormskirk, Lancs).

References: Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames. 2 English: locative name sometimes, in SE England, a variant of Cackett.

Early bearers: Clemens Cocket, 1572 in IGI (Bexley, Kent); Sarah Cockett, 1799, Amey Cackett, 1821 in IGI (Knockholt, Kent).

3 English: (i) relationship name, possibly from a pet form of the Middle English personal name Cok (see Cock) + the diminutive suffix -et. Compare Cocklin. (ii) nickname, occupational name for someone who carried a seal, such as a customs house officer, from Middle English coket, Old French coquette 'seal'. (iii) nickname, occupational name perhaps for someone who liked eating bread made of fine flour or who baked and sold it, from Middle English coket, so named (it is doubtfully supposed in OED) because the bread was stamped with an authenticating seal; see (ii).

Early bearers: Richard Cochet, 1170 in Pipe Rolls (Essex); John Coket, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks); Thomas Cokat', 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Great Bardfield, Essex); Anne Cockett, 1558 in PROB 11 (Appleton, Norfolk); Jeremiah Cockitt, 1654 in IGI (Sudbury, Suffolk).

- Current frequencies: GB 258, Ireland 6
- GB frequency 1881: 548
- Main GB location 1881: WR Yorks and Lancs

English: locative name from Middle English cokshote, cokshete, cokshute 'place where woodcocks dart'. Nets were stretched in such places to catch the birds for the food table, so the surname may have belonged to someone who trapped woodcocks for the lord of the manor. Cockshutt, Cockshoot, etc. appear as minor place-names and field names in many counties, but the modern surname is primarily from Lancs.

According to McKinley, an early bearer of the surname is recorded at Ightenhill, near Padiham (Lancs) in the 14th century. The Lancs surname probably migrated to the Skipton area of WR Yorks by the 16th century (Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames). It is sometimes pronounced Coeshot.

Further information: McKinley, Surnames of Lancs, pp. 200–1, cites evidence suggesting that in late medieval Lancs a cockshoot denoted 'some particular type of agricultural land, possibly for the headlands at the ends of arable land'. Nevertheless the original sense of the term in Lancs, and the one that is relevant to the surname, was almost certainly 'place where woodcocks were snared'; see Vocabulary of English Place-Names, at **cocc-scyte*.

Early bearers: Symon de Cokshute, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Trotton, Sussex); John Cokschote, 1312 in Colchester Court Rolls (Essex); Alice atte Cocshete, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Street, in Wyndham Hundred, Sussex); Willelmus Cokschute, 1379 in Poll Tax (Trotton, Sussex); Walterus Cokeshute, 1379 in Poll Tax (Wyndham, Sussex); Margret Cockshot, 1518 in IGI (Altham, Lancs); John Cocke Shoute, 1562 in Ancient Deeds vi (Berks); John Cockeshott, 1574 in IGI (Upton upon Severn, Worcs); Willmi Cockshut, 1577, Johnis. 1 English: (i) nickname possibly from Old English cod(d) ‘bag, scrip’, used before 1250 of the belly or stomach, hence, perhaps, denoting someone with a bag-like belly; or alternatively from Middle English codd(e) ‘cod’: compare John le Codherthe (‘cod heart’), 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts, Robert Codboddy, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex), with a body either like a cod or like a well-filled bag, and Robert Codhorn, 1202 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks), where the meaning is not clear. Compare also cod’s head ‘a stupid fellow’, 1566 in OED. (ii) nickname for a maker of leather bags or a saddler, perhaps: in the 16th century codder denoted a worker in leather, a saddler, or a peltmonger. (iii) relationship name; Chod may be an example of the Old English personal name **Codda*, unrecorded, but found in place-names.

Early bearers: Alanus filius Chod, 1150–5 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); Osbert cod, 1148 in Winton Domesday (Hants); John Lecod, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); Mary Codd, 1556 in IGI (Lincoln, Lincs); Johannis Codd, 1558 in IGI (Burwash, Sussex); Robarte Codd, 1575 in IGI (Biddenden, Kent); Margerie Codd, 1607 in IGI (Wells, Somerset); Samuell Codd, 1608 in IGI (Saint Lawrence Jewry and Saint Mary Magdalene Milk Street, London).

2 Irish: possibly an alternative anglicized form of the surname Cody from Mac Óda.

Further information: In County Wexford this is said to be from the English personal name rather than an anglicization of Mac Óda.

Early bearers: Ireland: Elicia ni Codie, 1566 in Fiants Elizabeth §905 (Bawnvallenloghe, Kilkenny); Peter fitz William McCody and James Cody fitz William, 1571 in Fiants Elizabeth §1915 (Kilcoponagh); Laurence Codde, yeoman, 1573 in Fiants Elizabeth §2278 (Waterford); William fitz Rich. - Main GB location 1881: E England: esp. Norfolk; Lincs

1 English: nickname from Middle English codling ‘young or small cod’, perhaps given to a fishmonger or fisherman, or alternatively as a term of affection. The pronunciation Quadling may have been influenced by the word in (3), but this and some examples of Codling below may alternatively belong under (2) or (3).

Early bearers: E Anglia and Lincs: Robert Codling, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Lincs); Rande Codelyng’, 1377 in Poll Tax (Ingthorpe, Rutland); Johannes Codlyng, 1379 in Poll Tax (Cockley Cley, Norfolk); Christiana Codlyng, 1381 in Poll Tax (Whaplode, Lincs); John Kodlyng, George Codlyng, 1524 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Alyce Codling, 1569, Eliz Codlin, 1666 in IGI (Ruskington, Lincs); Ellena Codline, 1625 in IGI (Billinghay, Lincs); Edmund Codling, 1677 in IGI (Congham, Norfolk); Francis Codlin, 1755 in IGI (Long Melford, Suffolk).

N England: John Kodling, 1208 in Curia Regis Rolls (Yorks); Emma Codelingg’, 1297 in Subsidy Rolls (Wintringham, ER Yorks); Robert Codelingge, 1297 in Subsidy Rolls (Cowlam, ER Yorks); Adam Codelyng’, 1379 in Poll Tax (Houghton, WR Yorks); Robertus Codelyng’, 1379 in Poll Tax (North Stainley, WR Yorks); Daue Codelyng’, 1379 in Poll Tax (Keighley, WR Yorks); Vaughn Codlin, 1620 in IGI (Ryton, Durham); Isabella Codling, 1673, Peter Codlin, 1678 in IGI (Long Benton, Northumb); Joseph Codling, 1773, Sarah Codlin, 1802 in IGI (Liverpool, Lancs); Ann Codling, 1785, Ann Elizth

2 Norman, English: nickname from Old French cœur-de-lion, Anglo-Norman French Querdelion 'lion heart', Middle English Girdelion. If the medieval name has survived into the modern era, it has been absorbed by (1).

Early bearers: Richard Querdeleon, 1247 in Assize Rolls (Beds); Adam Girdelyon, Girdelion (attached for theft), 1296–7 in Wakefield Court Rolls (WR Yorks); William Querdelion, 1304 in London Letter Books C; Alyce Codling, 1569 in IGI (Ruskington, Lincs); Isabella Codling, 1673 in IGI (Long Benton, Northumb); Alice Codling, 1715 in IGI (Stepney, Middx); Christopher Codling, 1721 in IGI (Chester le Street, Durham).

3 English: nickname from Middle English querdling 'a variety of hard apple' (good for stewing), perhaps for a seller of such or for a hard-hearted person. OED records the following phonological development, perhaps influenced by the verb coddle 'to stew': querdlyng (about 1400), codlyng (1530), quodlinge (1586), and quadlin (1625 in OED). The following bearers may alternatively belong under (2) but not under (1). See also Quadling.

Further information: The word for the apple is supposed by MED to derive from the surname in (2), but more likely it would be from the term cœur-de-lion, if indeed there is any connection at all, which is uncertain.

Early bearers: John Qwerdeling, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Thomas Querdeling, 1365 in London Pleas.

Norman English: nickname from Old French, Middle English cofin, coffin ‘container, basket; coffer, chest (for keeping treasures, documents, armour, etc.)’. Reaney supposes that it was given to a basket-maker, but this is most unlikely, since the early bearers of this as a hereditary surname were of knightly rank. Old French cofin was synonymous with coffer, and it may be that Coffin was used to denote a keeper of the (royal) coffer, attested in Anglo-Latin cofferarius. Compare Coffer.
Further information: Sir Elias Coffin (perhaps also see the 1166 early bearer Helias Coffin) held land in Devon during the reign of King John (1199–1216).

His direct family line became extinct in 1766 when the estates of a Richard Coffin where inherited by his nephews, who later adopted the name Coffin in 1797. Tristram Coffin (of Brixton) migrated from Brixham, Devon, to Haverhill, Massachusetts before 1647.

An important line of his American descendants is associated with Nantucket and Martha’s Vineyard.

Early bearers: Pagan Coffin, about 1140–50 in Monasticon Anglicanum (Keysoe, Beds); Serlo Coffin, 1166 in Red Book of the Exchequer (Beds); Helias Coffin, Ricardus Coffin, 1166 in Red Book of the Exchequer (Devon); Ricardus Coffin, 1169 in Pipe Rolls (Gloucs); Hugo Coffin, late 12th cent. in Angevin Canterbury (Canterbury, Kent); Geoffrey Coffin, 1242–3 in Book of Fees (Devon); John Coffyn, 1270 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Richard Coffyn, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Guy Coffyn, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Bigbury, Devon); Joseph Coffine, 1583, Joseph Coffin, 1700, in IGI (Ringwood, Hants); Thomazin Coffyn, 1591 in IGI (Bere Regis, Dorset); Tristram Coffin, 1610 in IGI (Brixton, Devon); Thomas Coffen, 1682, William Styles Coffine, 1795 in IGI (Swanage, Dorset); John Pine Coffin, 1778 in IGI (Alwington, Devon).

1 Norman, Welsh, Irish: locative name from Cogan near Cardiff (Glamorgan).

Further information: In 1166 Milo de Cogan held two fees near Penarth (Glamorgan) of William earl of Gloucester. Members of this Norman family probably account for the name’s appearance in 13th-century Berwickshire. By this time the family was also present in Ireland, associated with counties Limerick and Cork. It may have been the Irish branch that later brought the name to SW Scotland.

1 English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Colborn, an anglicized form of Old Scandinavian Kolbiörn, Kolbiörn, as found for example in Robert filius Colbern, 1185 in Pipe Rolls (Devon). The name could subsequently be reinterpreted as a name in Middle English -b(o)urn(e) ‘spring, stream’, so some examples may belong under (2).

Early bearers: Johannes Coleborne, 1377 in Poll Tax (Chilhampton, Wilts); John Coleborne, 1561 in IGI (Martock, Somerset); Richard Coleburne, 1568 in IGI (Colchester, Essex); Thomas Colborne, 1590 in PROB 11 (East Pennard, Somerset); Rowland Colburne, 1624 in PROB 11 (Chetton, Shrops); George Coleburne or Coleborne, 1626 in PROB 11 (Rugby, Warwicks); Raphe Colborne, 1632 in PROB 11 (Saint Olave Southwark, Surrey); John Colborne, 1642 in Protestation Returns (Devon).

2 English: locative name usually from Colburn in Catterick (NR Yorks), named from Old English cōl ‘cool’ or col ‘coal’ + burna ‘stream’ (often confused with Old Scandinavian brunnr ‘spring, stream’), but sometimes perhaps from a minor place so named, such as Coalburn in South Wingfield (Derbys) or Coldbourne in Bramley (Surrey). Some of the early bearers may alternatively belong under (3).

Early bearers: Geoffrey de Colebrunn, 1208 in Pleas (Yorks); Henry de Coleburn, 1262 in Patent Rolls (Windsor, Berks); Johannes Colburn, 1381 in Poll Tax

1 English: (i) relationship name usually from the Middle English and Old French personal name Col(e), Coll(e), Coul(e), a pet form of Nicol (Nicholas), a common given name from the mid-13th century onwards. English families with this name migrated to Scotland and to Ulster (especially Fermanagh). (ii) relationship name occasionally perhaps from a different (early) Middle English personal name Col, of native English or Scandinavian origin. Old English Cola was originally a nickname from Old English col 'coal' in the sense 'coal-black (of hair), swarthy' and is the probable source of most of the examples in Domesday Book. In the northern and eastern counties of England settled by Vikings in the 10th and 11th centuries, alternative sources are Old Scandinavian Kolr and Koli (either from a nickname 'the swarthy one' or a short form of names in Kol-), and Old Scandinavian Kollr (from a nickname, perhaps 'the bald one'). The earliest examples of the given names Cole, Cola, Col, and perhaps Colle, from 1086 to around 1200, are to be explained in this way but since all of them had probably gone out of use by the mid-13th century it is uncertain if any of them gave rise to modern surnames.

Early bearers: given names: Cola, 1086 in Domesday Book (Sussex, Surrey, Gloucs, Yorks); Cole, 1086 in Domesday Book (Sussex, Wilts, Devon, Derbys); Col, 1086 in Domesday Book (Lincs); Colle, 1086 in Domesday Book (Derbys); Cole, Cola filius Lanterii, about 1145 in Stenton, Feudalism (Kent); Colle serviens Henrici, 1204 in Curia Regis Rolls (Yorks); Colle Rikmai, 1247 in Assize Rolls (Beds). surnames, N England: Robert Coule, 1341 in York Freemen's Register (York); Willelmus Coll', 1377 in Poll Tax (Burdale, ER Yorks); Johannes Cole, 1377 in Poll Tax (Kirkharle, Northumb); Johannes Cole, 1379 in Poll Tax (Hemsworth, WR Yorks); Thomas Coll',

1 Irish, English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Col(e)man. The main source is Old Irish Colmán, earlier Columbán, adopted as Old Scandinavian Kalman. It was introduced into Cumb, Westm, and Yorks by Norwegians from Ireland (compare 2 below) and probably spread widely across England. A less common source is an Old French form of Continental Germanic Col(e)man, as is likely in the case of the Domesday Book examples.

Further information: Ó Colmáin ('descendant of Colmán') was the name of an Irish missionary to Europe, also known as Saint Columban (c.540–615), who founded the monastery of Bobbio in northern Italy in 614. With his companion Saint Gall, he enjoyed a considerable cult throughout central Europe, so that forms of his name were adopted as personal names in Italian (Columbano), French (Colombain), Czech (Kollman), and Hungarian (Kálmán), all of which gave rise to surnames. In Irish and English, the name of this saint is identical with diminutives of the name of the 6th-century missionary known in English as Saint Columba (521–97), who converted the Picts to Christianity, and who was known in Scandinavian languages as Kalman.

There is no evidence to support Reaney's view that in Sussex the surname was occupational for a charcoal burner; see Surnames of Sussex, p. 345.

Early bearers: given names: Coleman, 1086 in Domesday Book; Colemanus de Eston, 1176 in Pipe Rolls (Bucks).

1 English: relationship name from a diminutive of the personal name Col(l), a pet form of Nicholas.

There was also a feminine form, Collette, which may also have given rise to a surname.

Further information: Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames, notes that the name could also mean 'Coll the younger', citing 'William Coll, [and] Colet his son', 1381 in Yorkshire Archaeological Journal 20, p. 336 (Broomfleet, ER Yorks).

Early bearers: given names: Colet, 1202 in Assize Rolls (Northants); Collette (f.), 1379 in Yorks Poll Tax.

surnames: Richard Colet, 1213 in Lewes Chartulary (Norfolk); Robert Colet, 1243 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Adam Collette, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Staffs); Tomas Colet, 1379 in Poll Tax (Wolston, Warwicks); Matthew Collet, 1420 in Feet of Fines (Bucks); Henry Colet, 1487 in Feet of Fines (Leics); John Collett, 1540 in IGI (Saint Lawrence Jewry and Saint Mary Magdalene Milk Street, London); William Collett, 1541 in IGI (Kidderminster, Worcs); Vrsula Collett, 1543 in IGI (Wantage, Berks); Roberti Collett, 1548 in IGI (Highworth, Wilts); John Collett, 1554 in IGI (Broadwell, Gloucs); Humphrey Collet or Colett, 1567 in PROB 11 (London); Anthony Collett, 1627 in PROB 11 (Slaughter, Gloucs).

2 English: nickname from a short form of acolyte.

Early bearers: Simon Colyte, 1294 in Ramsey Abbey Court Rolls (Beds).

1 English: nickname from Middle English coly 'coaly, coal-black'. The original short vowel is retained in the 16th-century colly 'dirtied with coal and soot'. Compare 'a colie colour' (1565), colley sheep (with black faces and legs), 1793, and colley the Somerset dialect name for a blackbird.

Early bearers: England: Hugh Coly, 1212 in Curia Regis Rolls (Yorks); Dande Colly, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); Philip Coli, 1275 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs); Willelmus Colley, 1379 in Poll Tax (Wath upon Dearn, WR Yorks); Thomas Colley, 1562 in IGI (Halesowen, Worcs).

Scotland: William Coly, burgess, 1436 in New Spalding Miscellany (Aberdeen); Alexander Colly, 1464 in Cupar-Angus Rental Book (Perths); William Colie, 1631 in Retours, Scotland.

2 English: locative name, see Cowley.

3 Irish, Scottish: relationship name possibly a reduced and altered form of McCullough or McCulloch.

Early bearers: Ireland: Patrick Colley, soldier, 1537 in Fiant Henry §64; Henry Colley, 1578 in Fiant Elizabeth §3341.

1 English: locative name in the Midlands, either an altered form of Colledge, from Colwick (Staffs), or a reduced form of Colwick, from Colwick (Notts), though it is not known if the Notts surname survived beyond the medieval period (see Culwick).

Early bearers: Reginald de Colewic, 1202 in Pipe Rolls (Notts); Brian de Colewich, 1210 in Curia Regis Rolls (Notts); Richard de Colwyk of Stoke Bardolph, 1336 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Notts); William Colyk, 1377 in Poll Tax (Rothbury, Northumb); Willelmus de Colewyk, 1377 in Poll Tax (Bobbington, Staffs); Johannes Colwyk, 1381 in Poll Tax (Hanging Grimston, ER Yorks); Audethe Collicke, 1623 in IGI (Worcester, Worcs); Johan Collick, 1677 in IGI (Dilhorne, Staffs).

2 English: (i) in S England it might be identical with (i) by migration. However, the example of Robert Colwike or Colwyke, 1564 in PROB 11 (Lynton, Devon) may only be a hypercorrect spelling of Collick, which may have a different but uncertain origin. There is a man called Richard Collock, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Brightston (lost) in Clyst Honiton, Devon), who might have been nicknamed from Middle English collok 'tankard, bowl, pail', but whether he is the progenitor of the later families named Collick is impossible to say. (ii) alternatively the Devon and Cornwall name may have migrated from Sussex, where Collick is well evidenced from the 16th century. Possibly a man called Alan' ater Coloche, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Danehill, Sussex), is a progenitor, but the sense of this name is unknown. He might be an ancestor of James Colledge, 1566 in IGI (Crowhurst, Sussex), but see Colledge for another explanation. There is also a place called Colhook (Common) near Petworth, which gave rise to a surname (Kolhok 1288 in Place-Names of Sussex, p. 114), but there is insufficient evidence to connect this confidently with the modern name.

Early bearers: John Collicke, 1573; John Collick, 1696 in IGI (Chichester, Sussex); John Collycke, 1582; John Collick, 1673 in IGI (North Petherton, Somerset); Jhon Collick, 1584; William Collicke, 1663 in IGI (Mid Lavant, Sussex); James Collick, 1692 in IGI (Helston, Cornwall); Anne Collick, 1724 in IGI (Saltwood, Kent); Mary Collick, 1732 in IGI (Saint Gerrans, Cornwall).

References: Surnames of Lancs, pp. 280–1; MacLysaght. 2 English: occupational name from Middle English coilour, coliou, culliou, Old French coileor, coillour 'tax collector'.

Further information: The name appears in the 1881 Census as Cullier and Cullyer in Norfolk and NR Yorks, but appears to have since died out or been absorbed into sense (1).

Early bearers: Hugone le Coyllour, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Nawton and Wombleton, NR Yorks) Alanus Coyllour, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Burton in Bishopdale, NR Yorks); Roberto, Willelmo Coyllour, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Thorlby, NR Yorks); Joh. - Current frequencies: GB 2229, Ireland 6
- GB frequency 1881: 1648
- Main GB location 1881: Durham, Yorks, and Lincs; London

1 English: locative name probably from Coanwood, in Haltwhistle (Northumb), recorded as Collanwode in 1279, Collanwode in 1373 in Place-Names of Northumb and Durham, p. 48, where it is suggested that the wood may have been named after a pre-Conquest provost of Hexhamshire named Collanus. Further information: The 1377–8 bearer was a stockman for the Abbots of Durham in Weardale Forest. The 1472 citation mentions a place called Colynwod in Durham county, but no settlement of this name is on record in the county. Perhaps it refers to a lost house or hall, named after the owner, not vice versa.

Early bearers: Thomas de Collanwode, 1279 in Scotland Calendar (Haltwhistle, Northumb); John Collanwode, stirkettar (keeper of stirks or young cattle), 1387–8 in Durham Abbey Account Rolls (Burnhope, in Lanchester, Durham); Peter Colynwod, accused of an offence ‘apud Colynwod in comitatu Dunelmensi’, 1472 in Durham Quarter Sessions Rolls; William Colyngwode, 1510 in York Freeman’s Register, perhaps identical with William Colynwod, 1512 in York Guild Register (York); Nicholas Collingwood, 1577 in IGI (Whickham,

Colven

• GB frequency 1881: 83
• Main GB location 1881: WR Yorks and Notts
English: (i) nickname probably a variant of Collumbell, altered by folk etymology through association with the plant name columbine. Compare the Notts and Staffs examples of both names. (ii) nickname alternatively perhaps from Middle English (Old French) columbine ‘dove-like’, or from Middle English columbine, colombine, colibin ‘columbine, aquilegia’, a plant which was thought to be efficacious in the treatment of various ailments including ‘sore throte’, ‘quinsy’, and ‘swellynge in þe throte’ (MED). However, until some medieval surnames with this form have been found, it must remain a doubtful hypothesis.
Early bearers: Isabell Columbine, 1541 in IGI (Solihull, Warwicks); Homfrey Collumbyne or Columbine, 1591 in PROB 11 (Alvechurch, Worcs); Thomas Columbyne, 1593 in IGI (Manchester, Lancs); Richard Cullimbinne, 1611 in IGI (Bromsgrove, Worcs); Godolyne Collumbine, 1613 in IGI (Sevington, Kent); John Colambyne or Colambine, 1619 in PROB 11 (Enville, Staffs); Thomas Cullabine, 1636 in IGI (Ebony, Kent); Benjamin Cullumbine, 1687 in IGI (Enfield, Middx); Thomas Cullabine, 1735 in IGI (Edwinstowe, Notts); Jonathan Columbine, 1747 in IGI (Sutton in Ashfield, Notts); John Cullabine, 1750 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks); Elizabeth Cullobine, 1775 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks); William Columbine, 1823 in IGI (Silkstone, WR Yorks); William Cullumbine, 1839 in IGI (Worsborough, WR Yorks).

2 Huguenot: (i) nickname, French Colombin, from Old French colombin ‘dove-like’. (ii) relationship name, French Colombin, from the Old French personal name Colomban (altered to Colombin), from Latin Colombanus, a derivative of colombus ‘dove’.

Further information: The personal name Colomban has not been found in medieval England except as the name of a foreigner, such as the (Italian?) Columbanus Lercarius, master or patron of The Ship of St. John, apparently of Genoa, 1345 in Patent Rolls. Early bearers: Pierre Colombine, 1721, Francois Colombine, 1723 IGI (Walloon church, Norwich, Norfolk).

Comper

Variants: Cumper

- Current frequencies: GB 125, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 111
- Main GB location 1881: Sussex

English: (i) nickname from Middle English compair ‘companion, associate, comrade’ (from Old French compere ‘godfather, associate, friend’). (ii) locative name in Sussex, it appears also to be a derivative in -er of the place-name element comp ‘field’, associated with traces of Roman activity; note John Comper of Wartling (undated), who appears to have been of the same family as Richard atte Comp, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex), of the same parish, and a similar pairing occurs at Findon.

Early bearers: Elyas Cumper, 1224 in Curia Regis Rolls (Somerset); Walter Compere, le Compeyre, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Walterus Compere, 1379 in Poll Tax (Findon, Sussex); Recardus Comper, 1381 in Poll Tax (Lambourne, Essex); John Comper, 1540 in IGI (Wartling, Sussex); John Comper, 1561 in PROB 11 (Ablington, Wilts).

References: Place-Names of Sussex, p. 483; Surnames of Sussex, pp. 172–3.

Comport

- Current frequencies: GB 46, Ireland 0
  - GB frequency 1881: 51
  - Main GB location 1881: Kent and Sussex
- English: variant of Comfort with an intrusive -p-, as in John Compforte, 1627 in PROB 11 (East Grinstead, Sussex), and with subsequent loss of -f-, as illustrated by Richard Comfort alias Comport, 1628 in PROB 11 (Whitechapel, Middx).
- Further information: Bardsley notes Edward Comport alias Comfort of Chislehurst, which is undated. Compare Michael Comport, 1651, and Mary Comfort, 1735 in IGI (Chislehurst, Kent).
- Early bearers: Thomas Comport, 1548 in IGI (Croydon, Surrey); Thomas Comport, 1575 in IGI (Romford, Essex); John Comport, 1578 in IGI (Saint Albans, Herts); Thomas Comport, 1607 in IGI (Dartford, Kent); John Comport, 1612 in IGI (Steyning, Sussex).

Compson

- Variants: Cumpson, Camson
- Current frequencies: GB 231, Ireland 1
  - GB frequency 1881: 149
  - Main GB location 1881: Staffs and Warwicks
- English: relationship name 'son of the stranger or newcomer' (Middle English come, Old English cuma 'guest, stranger' + -son). The -p- is intrusive. See Coombe.
- Further information: According to Surnames of Sussex, p. 327, a holding in or near Wiston (near Findon, Sussex), held by persons named Compstone in the 14th century, was then described as the tenement atte Compe. This had been held by John de la Compe in about 1300; compare John de la Compe, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Clapham, by Findon, Sussex), and Radulphus atte Compe, 1379 in Poll Tax (Westmeston, i.e. Wiston, Sussex). The source is Middle English comp (Old English camp) 'field'. McKinley argues that Compstone derives from the name of the holding, but this is problematic. The earliest Middle English form for this Sussex surname (Com(е)stone, with no medial -p-) fits uneasily with this interpretation, and the Middle English addition of patronymic -son to a topographical word or surname would be unusual outside N England. Families often bore more than one surname at this time, and it may be that the phonetic similarity of de la Compe and Com(p)son is pure coincidence.
- Early bearers: S England: William Comsone, 1327, William Comesone, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Findon, Sussex); Johannes Comesone, 1379 in Poll Tax (Lancing, Sussex); Willelmus Comsone, 1379 in Poll Tax (Washington, Sussex); Annis Comson, 1546 in IGI (Shorne, Kent); Faith Compson, 1635 in IGI (Canterbury, Kent).
- W Midlands: Thoms. Comson, 1548 in IGI (Belbroughton, Worcs); Johannes Cumpson, 1562, Johannis Cumson, 1571 in IGI (Wootton Wawen, Warwicks); Johannis Compson, 1574 in IGI (Wootton Wawen, Warwicks); Adolphus Comson, 1583 in IGI (Sherborne, Gloucs); Anne Compson, 1630, Mary Campson, 1737 in IGI (Old Swinford, Worcs); [Eliz]abeth Compson, 1663 in IGI (Kinver, Staffs); Eliz. Cumpson, 1792 in IGI (Sedgley, Staffs).

Norman, English, Scottish: occupational name from Middle English and Older Scots cordewaner, cordener, cordiner, Anglo-Norman French cordewaner (Old French cordoanier) 'worker in Cordovan (Spanish) leather made from goatskin and typically used in making shoes; a shoemaker'.

Compare Corden. The scarcity of the surname in post-medieval England is surprising. Some or all of the modern examples cited below (from N England) may reflect migration of families from Scotland.

Further information: There is no evidence to confirm Reaney's suggestion that some examples of Cordoner and Cordiner might be from an unrecorded Middle English **cordoner* 'maker of cords and ribbons' (compare Old French cordon 'cord, ribbon').

- Main Irish location 1847–64: Galway

English: nickname from Old Scandinavian **korlauss* ‘careless’. Compare Carless.

Further information: McKinley in Surnames of Lancs notes that the surname appears as Corlous in Amounderness in the 13th century and as Corlews at Forton (Lancs) in 1418, and that it could be confused with Carless, as suggested by a comparison of the 1595 bearer with Willelmus Careles, 1379 in Poll Tax (Gisburn, WR Yorks). The inclusion of the preposition de in the name of the earliest bearer is probably a scribal error, since no relevant place is known. Late medieval spellings in -hous(e) are misleading.

Early bearers: Robertus de Corlause, 1381 in Poll Tax (Barton upon Irwell, Lancs); Richard Corleis, 1560 in IGI (Leigh, Lancs); Margreta Corlesse, 1595 in IGI (Gisburn, WR Yorks); James Corless, 1608 in IGI (Cockerham, Lancs); Thomas Corlus, 1647 in Lancs Record Office (Cabus and Garstang); John Corliss, 1702 in IGI (Ormskirk, Lancs).

Coslett

Variants: Cosslett

- Current frequencies: GB 237, Ireland 0
  - GB frequency 1881: 136
  - Main GB location 1881: Glamorgan, Lancs
- German, Welsh: nickname from early Modern German korselett 'corslet, piece of body armour'. The name is said to have arrived in Wales from Westphalia in the person of Corslet Tinkhaus, an expert in the production of malleable iron, who came in 1567 at the behest of an Elizabethan monopoly patent-holder for iron wire, William Humfrey, active in Usk and Tintern (Monmouths) and Machen (Glamorgan). If that is correct, Tinkhaus' given name (or rather nickname) was inherited by his descendants rather than his surname. The English loss of /t/ before /s/ has many parallels, e.g. in cuss for curse.
Further information: The name's distribution abuts that of Cosnett. It is not known whether that may sometimes be a variant of Coslett or vice versa, but it is recorded before 1567. It is possible that the present form of Coslett was influenced by it.
Early bearers: John Coslett, 1592 in PROB 11 (Colerne, Wilts); Matilda Costlet, 1600 in IGI (English Bicknor, Gloucs); Rowland Cosled, Thomas Goslett, 1670 in

Covert

- GB frequency 1881: 7
- Main GB location 1881: Surrey

Norman, English: locative name from the Norman hamlet of Covert in Calvados or from some other locality similarly named from Old French (le) covert 'the secret corner, refuge, or thicket'. McKinley notes that in the 13th century William de Covert was also called del Covert. This suggests that Sussex surname forms with the definite article and no preposition are not nicknames from Old French covert 'secret(ive)', as suggested in Reaney and Wilson, but are either references to 'Le Covert' as the place of origin or represent the common Norman practice of substituting le for de in surnames.

Covey

Further information: This name has died out in Britain but continues to thrive in the USA.

Early bearers: Richard de Cuvert, 1157 in Documents in France (Devon); Richard le Covert, 1233 in Sussex Archaeological Collections; William de Covert, 1242 in Book of Fees (Sullington and Broadbridge, near Horsham, Sussex); Roger le Couert, 1276 in King's Bench Cases (Sussex); Robert le Couert, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); John Couert', 1348 in Feet of Fines (Bucks); Baldewynus Covert, 1379 in Poll Tax (Sullington, Sussex); Isabel Covert, 1402 in PROB 11 (Chalnedon, Surrey); Thomas Covert, 1473–5 in Chancery Proceedings (Ewhurst, Surrey); Richard Covert, 1623 in IGI (Horsham, Sussex); Anthony Covert, 1631 in PROB 11 (Hascomb, Surrey).

- Main Irish location 1847–64: E Ulster: esp. Down; also Galway

Scottish, Manx: (i) relationship name reduced form of McOwen and McKeown, see McEwan. (ii) relationship name Manx, and Scottish, from a reduced form of Irish Ó Comhdhain and Mac Comhdhain 'descendant or son of Comhdan' or Gaelic Mac Comhghain 'son of Comhghan ('the twin')'. Pronounced to rhyme with Owen, the name sometimes appears as Coan and Cohen in Down, and has been used interchangeably with Irish Coyne in Connacht and Mellhone in Tyrone. In IoM the name is pronounced /'kauən/ (with Cow- as in English cow). (iii) locative name sometimes a variant of Colquhoun, pronounced Cohoon in Scotland and Cahoon in Ulster.

Early bearers: IoM: Mac Cowyn, 1408, Mac Owen, 1422, Mac Cowen, 1429, Mac Cowne, 1511, Cawne, 1603, Cowin, 1611, Cown, 1651, Cowen, 1685, Coune, 1703, 1721, Couin, 1781 in Kneen; Patrick Cowne, 1575 in Kneen (Castle Rushen).

Variants: Cowban, Colbourne, Colburn

- Current frequencies: GB 956, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 1090
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs and WR Yorks

English: (i) locative name from Cowburn in Kirkham (Lancs), as the earliest bearers below suggest. The -r- is sometimes lost or metathesized. Colborne is probably a hypercorrect form, restoring an unhistorical -l- (see Colbourne). (ii) in WR Yorks it is possibly a variant of Colbran, as Redmonds argues, with vocalization of the -l- and metathesis of -r-, or a variant of Colbourne.

Early bearers: Lawrenc Cowbron, 1542, Katherin Colborne, 1594, William Cowband, 1645 in IGI (Kirkham, Lancs); William Cowban, 1585 in Lancs Wills; George Cowbronde, 1591 in IGI (Brindle, Lancs); Jone Cowbine, 1594, Tho. 1 English: locative name from one of the places called Cowley (in various counties) or possibly Coaley (Gloucs).

Further information: The surname is pronounced in different ways, reflecting differences in the etymologies of the source place-names and the influence of folk etymology. The first syllable rhymes with now for Cowley in Gloucs and Worcs ('clearing where cows were pastured'). It rhymes with know not only for Coaley (Gloucs) 'clearing with a hut or cave or a shelter' (Old English cofa), but also for Cowley in Derbys and Lancs, 'clearing where charcoal was burnt' (Old English col; so also Colley in Reigate, Surrey), and for Cowley in Bucks, Devon, Middx, Oxon, and Staffs, where the original sense may have been '*Cofa's wood or clearing' (with a hypothetical Old English male given name) or 'clearing with a hut or cave or a shelter'. This group of names with Old English cofa or col may also appear as the modern surnames Cawley or Colley. Association of the spelling Cow- with the vocabulary word cow has sometimes influenced the modern pronunciation of Cowley, whatever its origin. Some examples of Colley here may belong with sense 1 of Colley.

Early bearers: Osbert de Couela, 1167 in Pipe Rolls (Oxon); Juliana de Kulega, 1199 in Assize Rolls (Staffs); John de Couele, 1230 in Pipe Rolls (Middx); William de Coule, 1314 in London Letter Books E; William de Colley, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Derbys); Thomas Cowley, 1379 in Poll Tax (Astley, Warwicks); Rogero de Colley, 1379 in Poll Tax (Ashton in Makerfield, Lancs); Adam de Couley, 1381 in Poll Tax (Blymhill with Brineton, Staffs); Agnes Cowley, 1541 in IGI (Fillongley, Warwicks); Wm Colley, 1550 in IGI (Ash, Surrey); Roger Couley, 1571 in IGI (Farnworth near Prescott, Lancs).

2 Manx: relationship name, reduced form of Gaelic Mac Amhlaoibh 'son of Amhlaoibh' (a gaelicized form of Old Scandinavian Óláfr). It is pronounced /'kaulə/, as though rhyming with English fowler. Compare Scottish (Hebridean) McAulay, Irish McCauley. For an alternative Manx form of the same patronymic see Callow.

1 Irish: (i) reduced and anglicized form of Ó Cadhain 'descendant of Cadhan', a byname from cadhan 'barnacle goose'. It was sometimes anglicized as Barnacle. (ii) reduced form of Ó Comhgháin, see Cowan. (iii) reduced form of Ó Cuáin 'descendant of Cuáin', a byname from a diminutive of cú 'hound'. Early bearers: Dermot O'Coyn, lackey, 1567 in Fiant Elizabeth §1006 (Browneswood, Carlow); Gylglasses O'Koyn, kern, 1569 in Fiant Elizabeth §1399 (Cloughan in Macoclan's country).

2 English, Norman: (i) locative name, perhaps a variant of Coyney. The name is associated with Weston Coyney (Staffs), whose manorial affix is taken from the family of John Koyn or Coyne (1242), and also with the adjacent village of Caverswall. Coyne might otherwise derive from Coingt (Aisne), recorded as Cuin, 1160 in Dauzat and Rostaing. (ii) nickname possibly from Middle English coyn, coigne, Anglo-Norman French coign, coigne 'wedge', 'die for stamping money', a word which later came to mean 'a piece of money' and may have been used to denote a moneyer; compare Conyer. Further information: In the industrial towns of the W Midlands, especially Staffs, Coyne was augmented in the 19th century by migrants bearing the Irish name. See Tooth, II, p. 9, and compare James Coyne, born about 1811 in Ireland, in Census 1881 (Stafford); Timothy Coyne, born in Ireland, in Census 1881 (Walsall); Philip Coyne, born in Ireland, in Census 1881 (Stoke upon Trent).

Early bearers: Allan Coigne 13th cent. in Ronton Chartulary (Staffs); Philip Coine, 1235–6 in Feet of Fines (Napton, Warwicks); Johannes Koyn, 1242 in Book of Fees (Staffs); John Coyne, 1242 in Feet of Fines (Staffs); John Coyn, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Cambs); Walt. Coyne, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Grandborough, Warwicks); John Coygne, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Wolfhampcote and Nethercote, Warwicks). Margerie Coyne, 1562, Raph Coyne, 1640 in IGI (Caverswall, Staffs); Peggy Coin, 1791 in IGI (Audley, Staffs).

3 Huguenot: locative name from French Coin, perhaps denoting someone who lived on a corner (Old French coing) but see above for alternative etymologies.

Coyney

Variants: Coyne, Conney, Cunney, Quinney, Quinny

- GB frequency 1881: 10
- Main GB location 1881: Derbys

Norman, English: locative name perhaps from Coigny in Manche. Weston Coyney (Staffs) takes its manorial affix from the family of John Koyn (1242). Presumably the final -e of Koyn represents French -é, usually written -y or -ey in English. However, the name may have had an alternative form, Coyne, which is attested in the neighbouring village of Caverswall from the 16th to the 19th centuries. Coyney occurs in Weston until the late 16th century, reappearing in Caverswall in the late 18th century and in Weston in the early 1800s.

Early bearers: Johannes Koyn, 1242 in Book of Fees (Staffs); John Coyne, 1242 in Feet of Fines (Staffs); Thomas Coyney, 1583, Magdaland Coyney, 1773 in IGI (Weston Coyney, Staffs); Bartholomewe Coyney, 1592 in in IGI (Saint Bride, Fleet Street); Georgius Coyne, 1597 in IGI (Newcastle under Lyme, Staffs); Margaret Coyney or Quiny, 1621 in IGI (Wootton Wawen, Warwicks); George Coyney, 1631 in IGI

(Highley, Shrops); Margta Coiney, 1639, John Coiney, 1713 in IGI (Saint Martin in the Fields, Westminster, London and Middx); Catharine Coyney, 1710 in IGI (Pepperhill, Shrops); Anne Coyney, 1731 in IGI (Bakewell, Derbys); Ann Mary Hill Coyney, 1805 in IGI (Caverswall, Staffs).

English, Scottish: nickname from Old English crabba, Middle English crab(be) 'crab', denoting either someone who walked like a crab (compare Crabeleg, 1148 in Winton Domesday) or, as in German and East Frisian, for an awkward, perverse, or fractious person. Later, by association with the tart crab apple (Middle English crab(be)), it was used to denote a sour-tempered person.

Further information: A complaint was made by Edward II of England to the Count of Flanders about the activities of the Flemish engineer John Crab, who assisted the Scots at the siege of Berwick in 1319.

Crabbe

Edward received a reply stating that John Crab had been banished from Flanders for murder.

Early bearers: England: Walter Crabbe, 1188 in Pipe Rolls (Dorset); Steffanus Crabbe, 1217 in Patent Rolls; Emet Crabb, 1551 in IGI (Colyton, Devon).

Scotland: John Crab, Flemish engineer, 1319 in Scotland Calendar (Berwick); John Crabbe, constable, 1331 in History of North Durham (Berwick); Janet Crabb, 1693 in IGI (Brechin, Angus).

1 Scottish: locative name for someone who lived near a steep or precipitous rock, Older Scots crag, craig. Compare the synonymous English Cragg, with which Craig sometimes co-exists in the same parishes in NE England and Lancs, but they seem to be distinct names of different families.

Further information: The name was first introduced to Ulster by Sir James Craig of Edinburgh, one of the Scottish undertakers of the Plantation, who owned extensive lands there, at first in Armagh, and later in Cavan, where many of his kinsmen settled. The new town of Craigavon, Armagh, was named after the family home in County Down of James Craig, the first prime minister of N Ireland (1921–40), whose ancestors had also migrated to Ulster in the 17th century. See Ulster Surnames.

Cramphorn

Variants: Crampin

- Current frequencies: GB 250, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 130
- Main GB location 1881: Essex

English: nickname from Middle English crampe 'curved' + horn 'horn'. Compare Crunkhorn.

Further information: The modern family name originated in Sawbridgeworth, Herts, spreading into Essex and (in the form Crunkhorn) into the E Midlands. Others with this name, some of them clerics, had connections with Hants, Kent, Oxon, and Devon, but whether any were related to the Herts family, or had separate origins, is unknown. The spelling Cramporne in the 17th-century Devon examples could alternatively represent a local pronunciation of the now rare or extinct Cranborne from the place-name in Hants or Dorset.

Early bearers: William Cramphorne, 1324 in London Letter Books Kent; John Cromphorn, 1324 in Close Rolls; John Cramhorne, 1556 in IGI (Eastwick, Herts); Grace Cramphorn, 1561 in IGI (Sawbridgeworth, Herts); Nicholaus Cramphourne, 1572 in IGI (Gilstone, Herts).

Crampin

- Current frequencies: GB 131, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 90
- Main GB location 1881: Essex

1 English: contracted form of Cramphorn.

Further information: There are no medieval forms of the surname to support Wilson's other derivation of Crampon from Middle English crampoun (Old French crampoun) 'grappling iron', which takes the post-medieval surname spelling at face value.

2 English: nickname possibly from Middle English crampoun (Old French crampoun) 'cramping iron, grappling iron', possibly for a maker or user of such an implement.

Early bearers: Elizabeth Crampon, 1559 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Abraham Crampone and Thomas Cramporne, 1642 in Protestation Returns (Devon); Francis Crampion, 1686 in IGI (Willingale Doe, Essex); Josephus Crampin, 1700 in IGI (Almondbury, WR Yorks); Charles Crampin, 1801 in IGI (Little Bentley, Essex).

Crayston

- Current frequencies: GB 163, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 86
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs and Westm

English: (i) locative name probably from Crayston in Shap (Westm), though that name appears later than the first record of the surname. (ii) possibly from the 'grey stone' which gave its name to a ward of Carlisle (Cumb), or from some other conspicuous grey stone. Greystoke, also in Cumb, had original initial C-, and the variation between C- and G- may have inversely affected this name.

Early bearers: George Craston, 1592, Crasten, 1599 in IGI (Shap, Westm); Will. Crayston, 1638 in IGI (Thornton Curtis, Lincs); Luke Crayston, 1691 in IGI (Gateshead, Durham).

  - GB frequency 1881: 419
  - Main GB location 1881: Beds and Hunts; Norfolk; Middx; also E Lothian
  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Leitrim
- English: of uncertain origin. The non-existence of names such as **Cheeser* and **Milker* seems to rule out an agent derivative of cream.
Further information: Merquerd Cremer is mentioned as a merchant of ‘Colbergh within the duchy of Pomeryn’ (Kolberg, now Kołobrzeg, Poland) in 1407 in Patent Rolls, which supports the hypothesis that the Low German byname or surname Kremer ‘merchant’ was found in medieval England and is the source of this surname. Black’s Law Dictionary (1979, 5th edition) defines creamer as ‘a foreign merchant, but generally taken for one who has a stall at a fair or market’, suggesting that the claimed word is in fact a borrowing from the Low German.
Early bearers: Abraham Cremer, 1552 in IGI (Westminster, Middx); Edward Cramer, 1558 in IGI (Markly, Lancs); Edward Cramer, 1562 in IGI (Marks Tey, Essex); Elesabeta Cramer, 1565 in IGI (Withern, Lincs); John Creamer, 1567 in IGI (Pavenham, Beds); James Creamer, 1587 in IGI (Holy Trinity in the Minories, London); Nycholas Creamer, 1595 in IGI (Romford, Essex); Ellen Cremer, 1598 in IGI (Saint Botolph without Aldgate, London); Wm. ## Cridland

• Main GB location 1881: Suffolk and Norfolk
English: locative name possibly from East Creech in Church Knowle or Creech in Steeple (both Dorset), or Creech Saint Michael (Somerset); or from some other place whose name has a similar origin (British Celtic **crouco-* 'hill, barrow'). Compare Crich.

Further information: The phonology of these names is difficult, and the relationship is unclear. The place-names generally have -i- in their earliest forms, but the surname generally has -u-, the difference reflecting common variation in and between place-names of this origin. The place-names preserve final /ɣ/, whilst the surname generally has /dʒ/, perhaps through the influence of the common name-element ridge, rudge.

Early bearers: Johannes Crugge, 1377 in Poll Tax (Pitminster, Somerset); Ricardus Cryche, 1379 in Poll Tax (Easebourne, Sussex); Roger Crogge, 1422 in Feet of Fines (Devon); William Crugge, 1520 in PROB 11 (Exeter, Devon); Agnes Crudge, 1553 in IGI (Uffculme, Devon); Thomas Cridge, 1603, Rychard Crudge, 1607 in IGI (Chichester, Sussex); Humphrie Cridge, 1673 in IGI (Egloskerry, Cornwall); Mary Cridge, 1704 in IGI (Honiton on Otter, Devon); Matthew Crudge, 1703 in IGI (Tiverton, Devon); Florence Crudge, 1726 in IGI (Isles of Scilly, Cornwall); Jn. - Main Irish location 1847–64: Cork

1 English: relationship name from the Middle English (Old French) personal name Crispin, Crespin, and its pet form Crispun. Its origin is Latin Crispinus, a Roman cognomen from Latin crispus 'curly'. Crispian is a variant, as are Crepin and Crepun, which may turn up as Crippin or Crippen.

Further information: Saint Crispin (the patron saint of shoemakers) was martyred at Soissons in about 285. Early bearers: given names: Crespinus, 1207 in Curia Regis Rolls (Lincs); Crispin la Seeler, 1336 in London Letter Books E.

urnames: Stanmer Crispini filius, about 1095 in Bury Saint Edmunds Documents (Suffolk); Turstin' Crispin, 1166 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks); Ralph Crespin, 1169 in Pipe Rolls (Devon); Ralph Crispun, 1208 in Curia Regis Rolls (Yorks); Willelmus filius Crispian, 1273 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); Johannes Crispyn, 1377 in Poll Tax (Muston, Leics); Rogerus Crispyng', 1379 in Poll Tax (Sprowston, Norfolk); Thomas Crispyn, 1413 in Feet of Fines (Devon); Richard Crispyn or Crispyn, 1551 in PROB 11; Elizabeth Crispin, 1593 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Honour Crispin, 1595 in IGI (South Huish, Devon); Thomas Crispin, 1618 in IGI (Westminster, Middx).

2 English: nickname from Middle English crespin 'curly-haired', also found as Crepin; see Crippen. It is difficult to tell this apart from the personal name in (1) unless it appears with the definite article, as in the 1268 example.

Further information: According to Lanfranc, archbishop of Canterbury (1070–89), the Norman Gilbert Crispin was the first man to receive this nickname, and two of his sons adopted it as their surname. His grandson Gilbert Crispin became abbot of Westminster in 1085. Members of the Norman family were said to have inherited a shock of hair that stood up stiffly like a bristly pine, as though the name derived from Latin crispus pinus, but this derivation is a medieval invention.

Early bearers: Milo Crispinus, 1086 in Domesday Book; Jacob Crespin, Moses Crespin, 1250 in Patent Rolls (Saint Mary Magdalen, London); Roger le Crespin, 1268 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Johanne Crespyng, 1379 in Poll Tax (Muston, Leics); Rosa Crispin, 1579 in IGI (Ufford, Suffolk); Robert Crispin, 1608 in IGI (Batcombe, Somerset); Justinian Crispin, 1611 in IGI (Saint Keverne, Cornwall).

- Main Irish location 1847–64: Down, Armagh, and Antrim

1 Norman, Scottish: (i) locative name most probably from Bosc-Benard-Commin in Eure, where Hugh Coumini (1157) and Bernard Comin (1175) held land (Documents in France). This place lies on the edge of the Forêt de Rouvray, near Rouen, in the heart of the district from which came numerous Domesday barons, and so is much more likely to be the source of the name than Comines in Nord. (ii) relationship name possibly also from the personal name Cumin, which is found in Norfolk, Lincs, and Yorks in the 12th and 13th centuries and may be of Breton origin. Compare Old Breton Cunmin (895 in Loth, Bretonne).

Further information: Wilhelmus Comyn, Bishop of Durham, came north to Scotland with King David I in 1124 and was appointed Chancellor of Scotland. He established his nephew Richard in Tynedale and Roxburghs, and Richard also rose to be Chancellor of Scotland. The Comyn or Cumming family gained the earldoms of Buchan and Menteith and rose to be the most powerful noble family in Scotland in the century before the rise of King Robert Bruce.

Early bearers: England: Godwinus filius Cumine, 1173 in Pipe Rolls (Norfolk); Eustachius filius Cumini, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Lincs); Petrus filius Kymine, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Yorks); Hugh Coumini, 1157 in Documents in France; Walter Cumin, 1158 in Pipe Rolls (Warwicks); John Comin, 1175–9 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); William Cumyn, 1230 in Pipe Rolls (Hants); Clement Comyn, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Northam, Devon); Thomas Comyn', 1431 in Feet of Fines (Herts); Isobel Cumming, 1572 in IGI (Dunfermline, Fife); An Cumming, 1580 in IGI (Great Dunham, Norfolk); Jame Cumming, 1599 in IGI (Clackmannan, Clackmannans); Gressild Cumming, 1604 in IGI (Monifieth, Angus); Margaret Cumming, 1608 in IGI (Edinburgh, Midlothian). Scotland: William Cumin, 1131–41 in Glasgow Register (Cadzow, Lanarks); Richard Cumyn, 1165–78 in Morton Register, Scotland (Slipperfield, W Lothian); Johan Comyn, earl of Buchan, 1296 in Ragman Rolls (Montrose, Angus); Archibald Cummings, 1612 in IGI (Dalkeith, Midlothian); John Cummyne, 1637 in IGI (Aberdeen, Aberdeens); Helen Cummin, 1682 in IGI (New Machar, Aberdeens); Duncan Cumming, 1680 in IGI (Inverness, Inverness).

2 Irish: from Mac (or Ó) Cuimín 'son (or descendant) of Cuimin', a personal name based on a diminutive of cam 'crooked'. There was a 7th-century abbot of Iona named Cumin. In Scotland, this Irish surname became confused with the Norman name.

Early bearers: Ireland: Edmund Comyn, clerk, 1547 in Fiants Edward §126 (Carigen); Edmund Comyn, gent., 1549 in Fiants Edward §294 (Kilconyll); Thomas Comyn, merchant, 1550 in Fiants Edward §540 (Limerick); John Comyn, merchant, 1559 in Fiants Elizabeth §191 (Limerick); Jordan Comyn, kern, 1566 in Fiants Elizabeth §872 (Grallagh, Tipperary); Ferdoragh alias John Comyn, horseman, 1569 in Fiants Elizabeth §1298 (Carrignisheagh, Tipperary); Nich. - GB frequency 1881: 127

- Main GB location 1881: Lancs

English: locative name possibly from Cunsey (Hawkshead, Lancs), with an intrusive -t- and labialization of the nasal /n/, although Hawkshead is quite far to the north and the surname has always been concentrated in the Fylde. A more difficult derivation would be from Compley in Poulton-le-Fylde. The addition of final /i/ or /v/ is due to hypercorrection, i.e. inversion of the change which produces Binkley from Bintcliffe.

Early bearers: John Compsty, 1611 in IGI (Poulton le Fylde, Lancs); William Cumpstie, 1621 in IGI (Cockerham, Lancs); James Cumstee, 1688 in IGI (Pilling, Lancs); John Cumstee, 1722 in IGI (Garstang, Lancs); John Cunstiff, 1744, James Cumpstive, 1787 in IGI (Saint Michael on Wyre, Lancs); William Cumstive, 1747, Comstive, 1775 in IGI (Garstang, Lancs); Edward Compstay, 1762 in IGI (Stalmine, Lancs); William Cumpstead, 1791 in IGI (Blackburn, Lancs); Richard Cumpstey, 1792 in IGI (Liverpool, Lancs); Robinson Cumpsty, 1805 in IGI (Lancaster, Lancs).

Norman, English: locative name from any of several places in Normandy and Picardy called Condé.

Further information: Members of the de Condé family held land in Lincs, Kent, Leics, Cambs, and Yorks in the 12th century. The strong presence of the surname in 16th-century Cornwall and Devon is unexpected, but is probably the result of migration from counties further east or north. Derivation from the Cornish language is implausible, and there is no known place in Cornwall which could have given rise to it as a locative surname.

Early bearers: Roger de Cundi, about 1150 in Rievaulx Cartulary (NR Yorks); Roger de Condeio 1154–89 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); Aliz de Condi, 1185 in Templars Records (Lincs); Nicholas Cundy, 1200 in Pipe Rolls (Lincs); Thomas Condy, 1379 in Poll Tax (Bawtry, WR Yorks); Radulpho Cundy, 1381 in Poll Tax (Waltham on the Wold, Leics); Johanne Cundy, 1381 in Poll Tax (Bescaby, Leics); Johannes Cundy, 1381 in Poll Tax (Canterbury, Kent); Walter Counday 1524–5 in Subsidy Rolls (Clawton, Devon); William Cundy, 1524–5, John Condy, 1543 in Subsidy Rolls (Stonehouse, Devon); Richard Condy, 1543 in Cornwall Subsidies (Bodmin, Cornwall); Thomae Cundie, 1567 in IGI (Derby, Derbys); Richard Coundye, 1571 in Cornish Lands (Bodmin, Cornwall); Dennis Cundie, 1573 in IGI (Orwell, Cambs); Davie Condy, 1597 in IGI (Braceby, Lincs); Willm Cundy, 1598 in IGI (Linkinhorne, Cornwall); Thomas Cundy, 1603 in IGI (Breedon on the Hill, Leics); Richard Cundey, 1635 in IGI (Northam, Devon); Mary Cundy, 1711 in IGI (Thornhill, WR Yorks); John Cundey, 1791 in IGI (Rotherham, WR Yorks).

Norman, English: locative name from Courtonne in Calvados. The original name was later reintroduced to England by Huguenot refugees: Jaques Courtonne, 1708 in IGI (Threadneedle Street French Huguenot Church, London).

Further information: Profits from Saunterre and Aquitaine were granted by Edward, Prince of Wales, to Arnald, lord of Curton, 1378 in Patent Rolls (France). Early bearers: William de Curtune, 1119 in Colchester Cartulary (Essex); Gilbert de Curton, 1205 in Curia Regis Rolls (Norfolk); Oger de Curton, 1218 in Feet of Fines (Essex); Humfridi Curton, 1544 in IGI (Myddle, Shrops); Nicholas Curtonn, 1562 in IGI (West Winch, Norfolk); Thome Courton, 1629 in IGI (Burlescombe, Devon); John Curtone, 1630 in IGI (Thurgarton, Norfolk).

Curwen

Variants: Curwin, Currin, Corrin, Curran, Corran, Corren

- Current frequencies: GB 1067, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 628
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs; also Cumb

Scottish: locative name from Culewen, now Colvend, in Kirkcudbrights. The family was early established in Cumb and soon became a predominantly Lancs one. According to McKinley, 'forms such as Kulwennid, Collewen, and Culwen occur in Lancashire in the 13th and 14th centuries, in some cases as the names of early members of the family, later known as Curwen, who were landowners over a long period at Caton, near Lancaster'. The Lancs name was often pronounced without the -w-; see Corrin, Currin for examples.

Early bearers: Scotland: Reginald de Cyrwen, 1245 in Papal Letters; Gilbert de Culewen, 1262 in Holyrood Register; William de Colven (of Dumfriess), 1289, Patrick de Collewen, 1298 in Scotland Calendar; James Kirwin, 1610 in IGI (Inveresk, Midlothian); Margrate Kervan, 1764 in IGI (Portpatrick, Wigtowns).

England: Gilbert de Colwenn, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Cumb); Robert Curwen, 1379 in Yorks Poll Tax; William de Curwen, 1388 in York Freeman's Register; Nicholas Curwen, 1564 in IGI (Aldingham, Lancs); Katherina Curwen, 1596, John Curwen, 1713 in IGI (Bridekirk, Cumb); Ellin Curwen, 1596 in IGI (Garstang, Lancs); Robart Curwen, 1603, Wm. Curwen, 1709, Robert Curwen, 1840 in IGI (Cockerham, Lancs); Thomas Curwen, 1608 in IGI (Tatham, Lancs); George Curwen, 1610, William Curwen, 1789 in IGI (Workington, Cumb).

- Current frequencies: GB 1097, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 585
- Main GB location 1881: Cheshire, Derbys, and Notts

Norman, English: locative name from Notre-Dame-de-Courson in Calvados.

Further information: The substitution of le for de in some of the following examples reflects a common practice in Anglo-Norman surnaming, and although it is linguistically possible that these might represent a nickname from Old French curson, a diminutive of curt 'short', it is almost certain that their bearers are members of the aristocratic de Curçon family that held land in Lincs and E Anglia.

Early bearers: Robert de Curcon, 1086 in Domesday Book (Norfolk); Ralph de Curtesun (Curcun), 1127–34 in Saint Benet of Holme Register (Norfolk); Richard Curson, about 1180 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); William (de) Cursun, 1198 in Curia Regis Rolls (Norfolk); Robert le Curezun, 12th cent. Gilbertine Charters (Lincs); William le Curcun, 1202 in Feet of Fines (Norfolk); Katherine la Curzoun, 1316 in Feet of Fines (Essex); Thomas le Curson, 1332 in Feet of Fines (Suffolk); Hugo Curson, 1377 in Poll Tax (Ardwick upon Dearne, WR Yorks); Willus Curson, 1545 in IGI (Holkham, Norfolk); Barnabas Curson, 1550 in IGI (Burton upon Trent, Staffs); Emme Curson, 1561 in IGI (Somerleyton, Suffolk); Barnabae Curson, 1579 in IGI (Ashbourne, Derbys); Chad Curson, 1579 in IGI (Mancetter, Warwicks); John Curson, 1582 in IGI (Nottingham, Notts); Elenor Curzon, 1597 in IGI (Kedleston, Derbys).

Dadd

Variants: Dad, Dadds

- Current frequencies: GB 526, Ireland o

- GB frequency 1881: 345
- Main GB location 1881: Kent and London; also Devon

English: (i) relationship name in Kent and Devon; a variant of Dodd. The unrounding of o to a was particularly common in SE and SW England, mostly in the post-medieval period but also sometimes in Middle English. (ii) relationship name alternatively from an unrecorded Middle English personal name **Dadd(e)*, a rhyming pet form of Adam. Compare Addy, Daddy, Adey, and Dady.

Early bearers: William Dad, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cambs); John Dade, 1543, William Dod, 1582, Isaac Dadd, 1726 in IGI (Canterbury, Kent); John Dodd, 1553, Margaret Dadd, 1592, John Dod, 1725 in IGI (Exeter, Devon); Anise Dad, 1573, George Dodd, 1580 in IGI (Boughton Aluph, Kent); Thomas Dad, 1634 in IGI (Totnes, Devon).

Daddow

Variants: Dada

- Current frequencies: GB 91, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 66
- Main GB location 1881: Cornwall

English: (i) relationship name, perhaps from a Cornish pet form of the Middle English personal name Dodd(e), unrounded to **Dadd(e)*, + the Cornish suffix -ow. See Dodd and Dadd, and for the Cornish suffix compare Kitto, (ii) relationship name, perhaps a Cornish pet form of Middle English **Dadde* as a rhyming pet form of Adam; See Dadd.

Further information: In Cornwall Dodd was the forename of Dodde de Lismanoch, 1194 in Pipe Rolls (Lesneage in Saint Keverne) and the surname of Stephen Dodde, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Tintagel) and Stephen Dodda, 1385 in Cornish Lands (Rescorla in Saint Ewe). Dodd(a) is well attested in Devon and Cornwall major and minor place-names, including some where a post-medieval change to Dad- is found, such as Dadland and Dadworthy (Devon), and Dad Wood in Ladock (Cornwall). Reaney's suggestion that Daddow is a variant of Dando is not borne out by any evidence.

Early bearers: John Dadowe, Luke Dadowe, 1525, John Dadow, Ralph Dadowe, Jenkyn Dadow 1543 in Subsidy Rolls (Saint Austell, Cornwall); William Daddo, 1563 in Cornish Lands (Saint Austell, Cornwall); Matthew Dada, 1655 in IGI (Kea, Cornwall); Charells Dada, 1666 in IGI (Tywardreath, Cornwall); Tho. ### Daft

- Current frequencies: GB 265, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 729
- Main GB location 1881: Notts; also Lincs, Leics, and Derbys

English: nickname from Middle English dafte (Old English dæfte) 'gentle, meek, modest, well-mannered'. By about 1300 the word was occasionally used to mean 'dull, uncouth, boorish, awkward, ignorant', perhaps by false association with Middle English daffe 'fool, simpleton', but it is more likely that the surname derives from its original, complimentary range of senses.

Early bearers: John and Robert Daft, about 1230 in Nottingham Borough Records (Notts); Robert Daft, 1242 in Book of Fees (holds a quarter of a knight's fee in Algathorpe, Basford, Notts); Robert Daft (once held a tenement in Nottingham), 1263–78 in Thurgarton Cartulary (Notts); Robert Daft, 1302–3 in Book of Fees (holds a quarter of a knight's fee in Beeston, Notts); Adam Daft de Nottingham, 1302–3 in Feudal Aids (holds half a knight's fee in Bilborough, Notts); Adam Daft, draper of Nottingham, 1308–9 in Nottingham Borough Court Rolls; Will'mo Daft, 1327, Joh'e Daft, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Broughton, Notts); Rog'o Daft, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Cotgrave, Notts); Willelmus Dafte, 1377 in Poll Tax (Upper Broughton, Notts); William Daft of Nottingham, smith, 1429–30 in Nottingham Borough Court Rolls; John Dafte de Broughton, 1450 in Subsidy Rolls (Notts); Henry Dafte, 1506 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Notts); Henrye Dafte, 1566 in IGI (Coningsby, Lincs); Margaret Daft, 1588 in IGI (Garthorpe, Leics); Thomas Dafte, 1635, John Dafft, 1716 in IGI (Nottingham, Notts); George Daft, 1669 in IGI (Hickling, Notts); Ellin Daft, 1673 in IGI (Derby, Derbys).

Dafter

Variants: Dafters

- Current frequencies: GB 78, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 103
- Main GB location 1881: Wilts

English: (i) relationship name apparently from Middle English doughter, dohtor, douter (Old English dohtor) 'daughter', often pronounced in early Modern English as dafter. For the name to be borne by a man, such that it became a hereditary surname, is surprising, though there are occasional instances of men being named in this way (unless they are clerical errors). Compare Robertus ffelisdoghter, 1379 in Poll Tax (Wentworth, WR Yorks); Johannes Wendoghter, 1379 in Poll Tax (Clotherholme with Bishopton, WR Yorks); and Ric' daughter Wryght, 1379 in Poll Tax (South Elmsall, WR Yorks). (ii) alternatively Daughter might be a simplified pronunciation of Dawtre (also spelled Daughtrey), a surname well evidenced in WR Yorks and Sussex, where Doughter and Daughter also occur, in which case the change to Dafter will have arisen through misinterpretation. Compare Johna Dautre, 1541 in IGI (Calne, Wilts), Robert Daughtre, 1585 in IGI (Edensor, Derbys), and George Doughtre, 1647 in IGI (Shrewsbury, Shrops), any of which might be examples of either name.

Early bearers: Synkyn dogter, 1379 in Poll Tax (Sharlston, WR Yorks); Edward Doughter, 1564 in IGI (Fishlake, Yorks); Katheryn Doctor, 1570 in Bedwardine Churchwardens' Accounts (Worcs); Susannah Daughter, 1677 in IGI (Angmering, Sussex); Richard Dafter, 1688 in IGI (Lambourn, Berks); Edward Dawter, 1692 in IGI (Littlehampton, Sussex); John Dafter, 1711 in IGI (Bristol, Gloucs); Thomas Daffter, 1749 in IGI (Purton, Wilts); Edward Daughter, 1771 in IGI (Castle Eaton, Wilts); Robert Dafter, 1798 in IGI (Norton Coleparle, Wilts).

English: (i) nickname perhaps from Old French dague 'dagger' or from Middle English dagge (a borrowing of dague), though the latter is recorded only with the senses 'ornamental points or incisions on the edges of a garment' and 'a shred, tag, or strip (as of cloth or leather)'. The name may have been given to one who wore dagged, jagged garments, or (if the name is of Anglo-Norman origin) to one who wore a dagger. Compare Daggett, Dagger. (ii) relationship name from an Old French personal name **Dague* (Continental Germanic Dago) or an Anglo-Norman French personal name **Dag(g)* (a pet form of names in Dag-). Compare Tagg.

Early bearers: England: Robert Dag, 1275 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs); Ralph Dagg, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Essex); John Dagg, 1567 in IGI (Long Ashton, Somerset); Thomasina Dagg, 1570 in IGI (Saint Teath, Cornwall); William Dagg, 1664 in IGI (Gateshead, Durham); Anne Dagg, 1688 in IGI (Newcastle upon Tyne, Northumb).

Scotland: Wille Dag, 1527 in Chiefs of Grant (Strathdee); John Dagg, 1827 in IGI (Oxnam, Roxburghs).

English: (i) nickname from Middle English daggere, daggard, daggard 'dagger'. Compare Dagg, Daggett. (ii) relationship name from a pet form of Old French **Dague* (Continental Germanic Dago) + the suffix -ard, later reduced to Dagger. See Dagg.

Further information: The ultimate origin of dagger is uncertain. It occurs as daggere before 1375, as daggardus in the 15th century, as daggard in 1406 and 1447 (both in Patent Rolls, in Lancs and Essex respectively), and as dagard in 1535. The surname forms agree with the majority of these spellings in suggesting that the word derives from Old French dague + -ard (See OED).

Early bearers: Peter Dagar, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cams); Thomas Daggard, 1379 in Poll Tax (East Dereham, Norfolk); John Dagar, 1549 in PROB 11 (Conover, Shrops); James Dagger, 1566 in IGI (Dalton in Furness, Lancs); Thomas Dager, 1568 in PROB 11 (Smethcott, Shrops); Richard Dagger, 1582 in IGI (Arundel, Sussex); John Dagger, 1591 in IGI (Bere Regis, Dorset); John Dagger, 1599 in IGI (Wellow, Somerset); Thomas Daggar, 1602 in IGI (Bispham with Norbreck, Lancs).

English: (i) relationship name, perhaps from an Old French personal name **Daguet*, a pet form of Continental Germanic Dago. Other pet forms may be attested in John Dagenet, 1185 in Templars Records (Herts); Richard Dagun, 1203 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks); William Dagenet, Dagunet, 1210 in Curia Regis Rolls; and William Dagenet, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks). (ii) nickname from Old French **daguet*, a diminutive of dague 'dagger', for one who wore or threatened to use a dagger. Compare Dagg and Dagger.

Further information: Dauzat, Noms de Personnes, and Morlet, Dictionnaire, explain the French surnames Daguet, Dagon, and Dagonet as diminutives of dague

'dagger' or as derivatives of dagonner 'to strike with a dagger', hence nicknames for a quarreller.

- Current frequencies: GB 14, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 8
- Main GB location 1881: Middx

Norman: locative name from Daumeray (Maine-et-Loire), France. The initial D- was often regarded as a preposition and the name wrongly divided as De Aumari. The preposition was later lost, hence Amori, Amory. The name was probably then confused with Amery.

Early bearers: William de Dalmari, de Dalmereio, de Almereio, 1086 in Domesday Book (Dorset); Richard de Ameri, 1159 in Pipe Rolls (Beds), Dameri, 1166 in Pipe Rolls (Lincs); Roger Damery, Dammery, Daimary, de Ammary, de Aumary, 1280 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Roger de Amory, Damori, 1274 in Hundred Rolls (Bucks, Oxon); Roger Damary, 1317 in Patent Rolls (Gloucester, Gloucs); Richard Damery, 1323 in Patent Rolls (Wallingford, Berks); Richard Damory, 1354 Feet of Fines (Oxon), Richard Dammory, chivaler, 1374 Patent Rolls (Godington, Oxon); Johannes Dammarye, 1381 in Poll Tax (Stour Provost, Dorset); Henry Demry, 1663 in IGI (Hill, Gloucs); Elisabeth Ann Demery, 1789 in IGI (Bishopsgate, London); George Demery, 1824 in IGI (Cadoxton juxta Neath, Glamorgan).

Dambell

- Current frequencies: GB 10, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 0

English: relationship name from Middle English dame ‘lady’ (Old French dame) + the personal name Bele, a short form of Isabel, probably denoting the servant of a woman called (Isa)bel; compare Johannes Dame Alisman’, 1379 in Poll Tax (Aberford, WR Yorks), where the relationship is explicit.

Further information: Surnames of this kind are not uncommon in medieval times, but have rarely survived. Compare Cristine Damolde (‘lady Maud’), 1277–8 in Highworth Hundred Rolls (Wilts); Walter Dame Alis (‘lady Alice’), 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs); Richard Dam Anne, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset); Walter Damablie (‘lady Mabilia’), 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset); Thomas Dameclarice, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Dorset); Johanne Dameanneys, 1381 in Poll Tax (Lechlade, Gloucs).

Danter

Variants: Daunter

- Current frequencies: GB 268, Ireland 4
- GB frequency 1881: 61
- Main GB location 1881: Worcs and Warwicks

English: probably a variant of Daintree. Compare Dainter.

Early bearers: John Danter, 1561 in IGI (Gloucester, Gloucs); Margret Danter, 1604 in IGI (Stratford upon Avon, Warwicks); Christopher Daunter, 1606 in IGI (Tirley, Gloucs); Thomas Daunter, 1674 in IGI (Eldersfield, Worcs).

Danton

Variants: Daunton, Dainton

- Current frequencies: GB 269, Ireland 2
- GB frequency 1881: 233
- Main GB location 1881: Kent

1 English, Huguenot: (i) unexplained. Possibly connected with one of many places called Denton (e.g. near Alciston, Sussex), one of six places called Dunton (Beds, Bucks, Essex, Leics, Norfolk, Warwicks), or Downton (Gloucs, Wilts), or Taunton (Somerset). (ii) the later Kentish surname may be connected with Danton Farm in Cheriton (Kent), this being a late form of the farm-name **Dalmington*.

Further information: Note Elizabeth Taunton or Daunton alias Bayley, 1662, of Leigh, Bradford on Avon (Wilts), though this might be an assimilation of a less familiar place-name to the more familiar Taunton.

Early bearers: Johanne Danton', 1381 in Poll Tax (Cirencester, Gloucs); John Danton, 1591 in IGI (Alciston, Sussex); Margaret Danton, 1592 in IGI (Bonnington, Kent); Stephen Danton, 1614 in IGI (Eastry, Kent); Anne Daunton, 1626 in IGI (Elham, Kent); Samuel Danton, 1675 in IGI (Maperton, Somerset); John Daunton, 1702 in IGI (Maperton, Somerset); Henry Danton, 1724 in IGI (Ringwould, Kent).

- Main GB location 1881: Norfolk

English: unexplained.

Early bearers: Ann Daplyn, 1664 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Robt. Daplyn, 1691 in IGI (Saxlingham, Norfolk); Robt Daplyn, 1701 in IGI (Barney, Norfolk); Nicholas Daplyn, worsted weaver, 1708–9, Nicholas Depplin, worsted weaver, 1746–7 in Lynn Freeman (Kings Lynn); Nich. Daplyn, 1724 in IGI (Horstead, Norfolk); William Dapling, 1759, Jeremiah Dapeling, 1750 in IGI (Bramerton, Norfolk).

Dapp

- Current frequencies: GB 32, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 48
- Main GB location 1881: Sussex

English: of uncertain origin. Place-Names of Sussex, p. 384, connects the name of Dap's Farm in Mayfield with the family of Adam Daepye of the Liberty of Leicester (1296, in Subsidy Rolls (Rushmonden hundred, Sussex, which includes Fletching)), but Adam's surname is obscure.

Dar

- Current frequencies: GB 1325, Ireland 4
- GB frequency 1881: 0

- 1 Indian (Kashmir): Muslim, probably from the Persian suffix dār 'holder, possessor, master'.
- 2 Muslim: perhaps from Arabic dār 'house (of), family (of)', commonly used as a prefix in forming Arabic surnames.
- 3 English: See Darr.

Daramola

- Current frequencies: GB 282, Ireland 0
  - GB frequency 1881: 0
- Nigerian (Yoruba, from Ekiti state in SW Nigeria): from the personal name Dáramólá (Yoruba (a-) dára mó olá 'one who is) good with high estate', i.e. 'well suited to high estate').
References: Oduoyoye, p. 84.

Darbar

- Current frequencies: GB 138, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 0

Indian: (i) from Persian and Urdu darbār 'royal court' or, in an extended sense, a public audience of a kind formerly held by a ruler at such a court. (ii) alternatively, perhaps, a locative name from any of several villages in Iran called Darbar.

Darben

Variants: Darbon

- GB frequency 1881: 13
  - Main GB location 1881: Middx; Northants
- English: nickname from Middle English dere-barne 'dear child'. Compare Alicia Derechild, 1275 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs).
Early bearers: Gilbert Derebarne, 1277 in York Freeman's Register (York); John Derbarn, 1443 in Patent Rolls; Ellen Darben, 1583 in IGI (Queenborough, Kent); Also Darbin, 1595 in IGI (Paignton, Devon); Willm Darben, 1610 in IGI (Halesowen, Worcs); John Darben, 1772 in IGI (Holborn, Middx).

Darbon

- Current frequencies: GB 231, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 48
- Main GB location 1881: Middx

English: (i) possibly a variant of Darben. (ii) alternatively, possibly of French origin, a locative name denoting someone 'from Arbon' in Haute Garonne (d'Arbon).

Early bearers: John Darbon, 1734 in IGI (Westminster, Middx); John Darbon, 1742 in IGI (Kingston upon Thames, Surrey); William Darbonne, in Census 1891 (Derbys); Frank Darbonne, in Census 1891 (Hants).

Darby

Variants: Derby, Darbey, Daby

- Current frequencies: GB 7944, Ireland 640
- GB frequency 1881: 4761
- Main GB location 1881: Staffs and Worcs
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Down, Meath, and Louth

1 English: locative name from Derby (Derbys) or West Derby (Lancs).

Early bearers: Roger de Derby, 1160–82 in Registrum Antiquissimum (Lincs); Edelota Darby, 1278 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); William de Derby, attorney, 1356, William Derby, attorney, 1357 in Feet of Fines (Derbys); Simon Derby, 1377 in Assize Rolls (Essex); Willelmo de Darby, 1379 in Poll Tax (Cotness, ER Yorks); Willelmus de Derby, 1381 in Poll Tax (Hallaton, Leics); Willelmus de Derby, 1381 in Poll Tax (Fishtoft, Lincs); Thomas Derby, 1498 in PROB 11 (Northampton, Northants); Hendry Darby, 1542 in IGI (Rowley Regis, Staffs); Willm Darby, 1570 in IGI (Halesowen, Worcs).

2 Irish: (i) adopted for Ó Diarmada (or Mac Diarmada) 'descendant (or son) of Diarmaid', a personal name meaning 'freeman'. Compare McDermott. (ii) the Irish name Ó Duibhdhormaigh was sometimes reinterpreted as Ó Diarmada, so Darby may also be an anglicization of this name. (iii) the English surname is also established in Ireland, having been taken to Laois in the 16th century.
Early bearers: William Darbie, of the office of the usher of the fort of Denghain in Offayle, 1560 in Fiants Elizabeth §286.

Darch

- Current frequencies: GB 798, Ireland 1
  - GB frequency 1881: 549
  - Main GB location 1881: Devon and Somerset
- English: unexplained.

Further information: The explanation of Reaney and Wilson, that it is of Norman origin, with fused preposition d(e) 'from', denoting someone from Arques-la-Bataille (Pas-de-Calais) or Argues (Eure, Seine-Maritime), is improbable as the family in question did not hold land in SW England, and in any case the name does not match the proposed origin phonologically. The medieval names they cite, Osbern de Arches, de Arcis, William Arcs, 1086 in Domesday Book, and Juolina de Arches, 1201 in Curia Regis Rolls, therefore do not belong here.

D'Arcy

Early bearers: William Darches, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Acton Turville, Gloucs); John Darch, 1339 in Patent Rolls (Aylesbury, Bucks); John Darche, 1569 in PROB 11 (Carhampton, Somerset); Mathew Darch, 1606 in IGI (Landkey, Devon); Walter Darch, William Darche, 1642 in Protestation Returns (Devon); Joseph Darsh, 1824 in IGI (Penzance, Cornwall).

Norman, English: locative name denoting someone from any of several places in France named Aubigny, with the fused preposition d(e) 'of, from'.

Further information: William, founder of the line of Aubigni earls of Arundel, and Nigel, of that of Cainhoe (Beds), came from Saint Martin d'Aubigny in Manche. The family of Aubigny (Brito) of Belvoir came from Saint Aubin d'Aubigny in Ille-et-Vilaine (See Anglo-Norman Families), and appear to be descended from Eystein Glunold of Romsdal, Norway, who accompanied his nephew, Rollo, to France, where the latter became Duke of Normandy. There is also an Aubigny in Calvados, which may have contributed to the surname.

Early bearers: Nigel de Albengi, de Albingi, de Albinie, de Albinio, 1086 in Domesday Book (Beds, Berks, Bucks); William de Albinneio, 1115 in Winton Domesday (Hants); William de Albinni, 1155 in Pipe Rolls (Stoke Albany, Northants); Willelmus Albineius Brito, 1116–20 in Documents in France; Nigel de Albuniaco, 1100–23, Nigel de Albeni, 1114–23 in Ramsey Cartulary (Hunts); William de Aubeneio, 1124–30 in Ramsey Cartulary (Beds); William de Aubini, de Aubeni, 1199 in Memoranda Roll (Hants, Bucks); William Daubenny, 1212 in Book of Fees (Berks); Ralf de Dabeney, 1269 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Willelmus Daubenay, 1379 in Poll Tax (Sharrington, Norfolk); Thomas Dabeney, 1524 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk).

Daud

Variants: Dodd, Dowd

- Current frequencies: GB 461, Ireland 3
- GB frequency 1881: 22
- Main GB location 1881: Surrey; Cumb and Durham

English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Daud(e), which looks at first sight to be a contracted form of David with /v/ vocalized to /u/, but the 1297, 1298 early bearer shows that this is an extended form of Daw, a pet form of Ralph. For the suffix -de compare Hudd, a pet form of Hugh. See also Dowd, Daw, and Dawkins, and for Daudson See Dawson. As a surname Daud may also have merged with Dodd, which is quite common in northern England. Further information: It is often difficult to distinguish between -u- and -n- in medieval handwriting and some of the medieval forms cited above may alternatively belong under Dand.

Early bearers: given names: Radulpho de Siluerwod', 1297, identical with Daude de Siluerwode, 1298 in Lenton Priory Accounts (Lenton, Notts); Daud Jonson', 1379 in Poll Tax (Kirk Deighton, WR Yorks). surnames: Willelmo Daud, 1379 in Poll Tax (Howden, ER Yorks); Johannes Daud', 1379 in Poll Tax (Almondbury, WR Yorks); Willelmus Daud', 1379 in Poll Tax (Denaby, WR Yorks); Johannes Daud', 1379 in Poll Tax (Maltby, WR Yorks); Johannes Daud, 1379 in Poll Tax (Stainton, WR Yorks); Simon Daude, 1381 in Poll Tax (Loddington with Launde, Leics); Margreta Daud, 1560 in IGI (Chesterfield, Derbys); Elizabeth Daud, 1666 in IGI (Mansfield, Notts); John Daud, 1752 in IGI (Longhead, Wigton, Cumb). References: McClure, Hypocoristic forms, p. 126.
