Marker

- Current frequencies: GB 217, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 261
- Main GB location 1881: Devon and Carmarthens

1 English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Marker (probably from a Continental Germanic **Marchari*). Apart from Symon filius Markere, any of the early bearers given below could alternatively belong to (2).

Early bearers: given names: Markerus de Torneberga, 1176 in Pipe Rolls (Bucks).

surnames, England: Symon filius Markere, 1168 in Pipe Rolls (Devon); Eborard Marker, 1309 in Subsidy Rolls (Beds); Adam Markere, 1377 in Poll Tax (Dartmouth, Devon); Johannes Marker, 1379 in Poll Tax (Newnham, Northants); Johannes Marker, 1381 in Poll Tax (Southwark, Surrey); John Marker, 1409 in Patent Rolls (Beds); Walter Marker, 1425 in Feet of Fines (Devon); John Marker, 1565 in IGI (Effingham, Surrey); Henrie Marker, 1604 in IGI (Ottery Saint Mary, Devon).

surnames, Wales: Henry Marker, 1813 in IGI (Llanelly, Carmarthens).

2 English: occupational name from Middle English **marker* ‘marker’, though the precise significance of the term is uncertain. It derives from Old English mearcian ‘to mark’, and may be a survival of Old English mearcere ‘notary, writer’. Reaney rejects Thuresson’s suggestion of ‘a marker of game or a stamper or brander’. Compare Johanne Cardemarker, 1381 in Poll Tax (Melton Mowbray, Leics), though this may well be an error for Cardemaker.

Early bearers: William le Marker(e), 1185 in Pipe Rolls (Essex); Agnes le Marker(e), 1260 in Oseney Cartulary (Oxon); Reginald le Merkere, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Norfolk); Walter Marker, 1297 in Subsidy Rolls (Yorks); John le Merkere, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Milford, Hants); Ricardus Merkere, 1379 in Poll Tax (Wroxham with Salhouse, Norfolk); Rogerus Merker, 1379 in Poll Tax (Markington, WR Yorks); John le Marker, 1352 in Patent Rolls (Winchester, Hants); Ralphe Marker, 1555 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk).

References: Thuresson, pp. 77–8.

3 English: locative name in S England the name alternatively derives from Middle English **marker*, **merker*, **mirker* ‘dweller by the boundary or border’ (compare Mark). This type of name, containing a topographical term + the suffix -er, is mainly found in Sussex and adjacent counties.

Further information: Johnne de Mirkare (error for le Mirkare) of Easebourne (Sussex), 1327 in Subsidy Rolls, is called de la Merke in 1296 and atte Mirk in 1332 (Subsidy Rolls). The boundary in question may have been that between W Sussex and a detached part of Hants, near Easebourne.

Early bearers: Stephno Mirker, 1327, Stepho Mirkar, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Slindon, Sussex); Johannes Merker, 1379 in Poll Tax (Easebourne, Sussex); Johanne Merkere, 1379 in Poll Tax (Slindon, Sussex); Mary Marker, 1613 in IGI (Great Mongeham, Kent); Mary Marker, 1640 in IGI (Oving, Sussex).

1 English: nickname from Middle English markis 'marquis, marquess, nobleman' (Old French marchis). As the word is also found as a feminine personal name (e.g. Marchisa, 1202 in Feet of Fines (Yorks)) a relationship name is possible, but the appearance of the definite article in several early examples of the surname points to a nickname origin. Compare also Nicholas Marchisman, 1377 in Patent Rolls, a surname which perhaps indicates employment by a marquis.

Early bearers: England: Ralph le Marchis, 1218 in Assize Rolls (Lincs); Howel le Marchis, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Worcs); Thoma Le Marchys, 1298 in MED; William le Markeys, fitheler, 1324, Roger le Marchis, 1327 in Patent Rolls; Roger Marchis, 1331 in Patent Rolls (Norfolk); Adam Markys, 1381 in Poll Tax (Dagworth, Suffolk); Richard Markys, 1479 in Feet of Fines (Beds); Ann Markis, 1632 in IGI (Bury Saint Edmunds, Suffolk); Elizabeth Markis, 1634 in IGI (Horncastle, Lincs); Wm Markiss, 1739 in IGI (South Molton, Devon); William Marquies, 1785 in IGI (Padiham, Lancs).

Scotland: George Marquis, 1601 in IGI (Argyll); Elspet Marquis, 1613 in Black (Inverness, Inverness); Robert Markis, 1624 in IGI (Haddington, E Lothian); Fergus Marques, 1645 in IGI (Inverness, Inverness); Niell Marques, 1767 in IGI (Edinburgh, Midlothian); John Marques, 1775 in IGI (Greenock, Renfrews).

Maturin

- GB frequency 1881: 20
- Main GB location 1881: Hants

Huguenot: relationship name from the French personal name Maturin, Latin Maturinus, a derivative of maturus 'timely'.

Further information: The Huguenot family of this name is descended from Gabriel Maturin (c. 1638–1718), a Protestant pastor who fled with his family from France to the Netherlands after the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685. He returned to France secretly to continue his mission, was captured, and imprisoned. His release after 26 years' imprisonment was negotiated at the time of the Treaty of Utrecht. In 1714 or 1715 he was able to rejoin his family and settle in Ireland for the last few years of his life. His son Peter became dean of Killaloe (1724) and his grandson Gabriel James dean of Saint Patrick's (1745). This family name has now almost died out in Ireland and Britain, but is still common in the USA.

Early bearers: Elizabeth Maturin, 1694 in IGI (Wandsworth, Surrey); Henry Maturin, 1771 in IGI (Dublin, Ireland).

1 Welsh, English: locative name from Mold (Flints), recorded as (de) Montealto in 1151–81 and Mohaut in 1297. It derives from Anglo-Norman French mont haut 'high hill or mound' (Latin mons altus), which was the Norman name for Bailey Hill, on which the castle stood. In 17th-century Yorks the surname commonly appears either as Mawhood or as Maud(e) (also Mawde), from the reduction of the two syllables of Mohaut to one. See also Mowat, a Scottish development of de Mohaut.

Further information: Roger de Mohaut is recorded as the seneschal or royal administrator of Mohaut or Mold (Flints) in the early 13th century. The first known bearer of the surname was Simon de Mohaut in the early 12th century. He was son of Gospatrick son of Gospatrick, and a member of a pre-Conquest aristocratic Yorks family with a seat at Riddlesden of the fee of Skipton (WR Yorks). The family were also lords of Hawarden (adjacent to Mold), an association which continues in the main branch of the family to the present day. Simon's descendants continued to hold land in Riddlesden until at least the 17th century, when one branch of the family acquired lands in Kilkenny in Ireland, and later also in Connemara. The Maude baronetcy of Dundrum, Tipperary, was created in 1705 for Robert Maude. His son Cornwallis Maude, Baron de Montalt, was created first Viscount Hawarden in 1793.

Early bearers: England: Simon de Munhalt, 1197 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks); Robert de Muhaut, 13th cent. in Rievaulx Cartulary (NR Yorks); Richard de Mohaud, 1208 in Curia Regis Rolls; Roger senescallus de Monte Alto, 1212, identical with Senescallus de Mohaut, 1235, and Roger de Mohaut, 1242 in Book of Fees (Lincs, Derbys, Suffolk); Thomas de Moaud, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); Geoffrey de Monte alto, 1263 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Harewood, WR Yorks); Robert de Monte Alto, 1327 in Feet of Fines (Flints and Cheshire); Edmund Mohaut, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (London); Idonea Mohaud, 1342 in Feet of Fines (Yorks); John Mohaut, 1345 in Patent Rolls (Kent); Thomas Mohaut, 1379 in Poll Tax (Morton, WR Yorks); Johannes Mohand (error for Mohaud) 1379 in Poll Tax (Warley, WR Yorks); Robert de Mohault, steward of Chester, former holder of the castle and manor of Mold (Flints), 1428 in Patent Rolls (Cheshire); John Mawde otherwise Montalt, 1549 in Thoresby Society 24 (Ilkley, WR Yorks); Arthur Mawde alias Mawhaut, 1585 in Early Yorks Families (Riddlesden, WR Yorks); John Maude, 1672 in Hearth Tax (Ecclesall Bierlow, WR Yorks). Ireland: Robert Maude, 1676 in IGI (Bruff, Limerick); Andrew Maude, 1708 in IGI (Dublin); Cornwallis Maude, 1729 in IGI (Hawarden, Tipperary).

Maw

Variants: Mawe, Mowe

- Current frequencies: GB 1599, Ireland 10
  - GB frequency 1881: 1087
  - Main GB location 1881: Yorks and Lincs
- 1 English: relationship name from Middle English Maw(e), a pet form of the Anglo-Norman French and Middle English personal name Maheu (Matthew), as shown by the example of Maw (alias Matthew) Knoll in 1450, cited below. See also Mawson (1) and Mayhew. Some of the following early bearers may alternatively belong under (2) or (3). Further information: Alternative derivation of Middle English Mawe from an Old English personal name **Māwa* is theoretically possible in N England, where Old English ā was retained in Middle English, but there is no evidence to substantiate it. Compare Mew.

Early bearers: given names: Mawe of Waterdene, 1246–62 in Creake Abbey Cartulary (Norfolk); Maw (alias Matthew) Knoll, about 1450 in Fountains Abbey Memorials 3 (Foxup, WR Yorks). surnames: Godefridus filius Mawe, 1199 in Pipe Rolls (Lincs); Johannes filius Mawe, 1256 in Assize Rolls (Northumb); Galfridus filius Mawe, 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts (Yorks); William Mawe, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Norfolk); Robert Mawe, 1305 in Patent Rolls (Worcs); Robert Mawe, 1318 in MED; William Mawe, 1322 in York Freeman's Register (York); Richard Mawe, 1372 in Feet of Fines (Mareham, Lincs); Galfridus Mawe, 1379 in Poll Tax (Norfolk); Mary Maw, 1541 in IGI (Eppworth, Lincs); Margaret Mawe, 1559 in IGI (Wharram Percy, ER Yorks); Agnes Mawe, 1563 in IGI (Reading, Berks); Margaret Mawe, 1566 in IGI (Downham, Cambs); Eliz. Maw, 1577 in IGI (Caddington, Beds); Dorithia Maw, 1665 in IGI (Great Horwood, Bucks); Peter Maw, 1769 in IGI (Holm Cultram, Cumb).

2 English: occasionally a variant of Mowe (1) but the 1381 form below could alternatively be a spelling of the name in (1).

Early bearers: Willelmus Magh', 1381 in Poll Tax (Kirkburn, ER Yorks).

3 English: locative name either '(dweller by) the meadow', from an otherwise unrecorded Middle English word **mawe*, **mowe* 'meadow' (attested in the second element of the Old English place-name Dunmow, Essex), or '(dweller by) the wet hollow', from Middle English mawe 'stomach' (Old English maga) used topographically to denote a depression which collects water. See also Mowe (3).

Early bearers: Sibilla de la Mawe, William de Mawe, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Suffolk); William de la Mawe, 1316, William le Mawe, 1318 in Patent Rolls (Great Yarmouth, Norfolk); William atte Mowe, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk).

Scottish Gaelic, Irish: relationship name from Mac Dhuibhshíthe 'son of Duibhshíth', a Gaelic personal name derived from dubh 'black, dark' + síth 'peace' or 'other-world dwelling'. The surname evidently came to Ulster from Scotland. The anglicization McAfee represents the lenited form of the surname, phonetically close to McGuffie, but with a different stress pattern. The many variants show reduction either by loss of the first syllable of the personal name or loss of mac. In Scotland the spelling McPhee is now most frequent. Compare the unlenited form McDuffie. Duffy, however, with variants Dooley and Dowey, comes from a different personal name.

Further information: the midland Irish surname McFeagh in Fiants must represent Mac Fiacha, no longer current – it is attested too early to be from Mac Dhuibhshíthe.

Early bearers: Scotland: Archibald McKofee, 1506 in Exchequer Rolls of Scotland (Islay, Argyll); Malcolm Makkofee, 1506 in Exchequer Rolls of Scotland (Colonsay, Argyll); Ewin McAphie, 1681 in Black. Ireland: John mcEdmund McFeagh, 1573 in Fiants Elizabeth §2230; Soneck mcThomas McFeagh, 1574 in Fiants Elizabeth §2494; Thomas roo mcEdmund McFeagh, 1574 in Fiants Elizabeth §2499; Thomas roe mcEdmund McFiagha, 1582 in Fiants Elizabeth §4079 (Kildromadrig); Shonag mcThomas McFiagh, 1582 in Fiants Elizabeth §4080 (Balindula); Ferrall McFeagh; kern, 1587 in Fiants Elizabeth §5015 (Westmeath); 1601 in §6660 (Dublin); James McAfee, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Faughanvale, Derry).

Scottish Gaelic: relationship name from Scottish Gaelic Mac Ailpein (Irish Mac Ailpín) ‘son of Ailpean’, an ancient Celtic personal name of uncertain etymology.

Further information: The surname was well established in Perth by the 13th century, but appears not to have functioned as a clan-name. Modern bearers generally claim, without historical evidence, to be descended from Cionaoth mac Ailpein (known in English as Kenneth Mac Alpine), king of the Picts, who died in 858. In recent historical times, there was no coherent clan Mac Alpine analogous to Scottish clans, though in recent years there have been attempts in Canada and elsewhere to revive (or create) one.

Early bearers: John MacAlpyne, about 1260 in Grandtully Book (Perths); Monach filius Alpini, 1271 in Inchaffray Register (Perths); Monache Macalpin, about 1285 in Black; Monach mac Alpy, 1284–90 in Black (Perths); Monaghe fitz Alpyn, 1296 in Scotland Calendar (Perths); Malcolm Macalpyne, 1395 in Black; Janet Mc Alpine, 1719 in IGI (Old Kilpatrick, Dunbartons); Janet Mc Alpine, 1724 in IGI (Old Kilpatrick, Dunbartons); Mary Mc Alpine, 1795 in IGI (Rothesay, Bute); John Mc Alpine, 1813 in IGI (Ardersier, Inverness).

- Irish: from Mac Fhlaitimh, ‘son of Floitheamh’, a personal name meaning ‘prince, sovereign’, compare Flahive. The lenition of floitheamh after mac has sometimes led to the pronunciation as Mag Fhlaitimh, whence names such as McGlave, Glavey, and Glavin. More often, the surname has been ‘translated’ as Hand, since fhlaitimh sounds as if it may be a derivative of Irish lámh ‘hand’.
- Early bearers: Conor Maglawey, piper, 1577 in Fiants Elizabeth §3141 (Mohar, Longford); Melaghlen McGleve, 1583 in Fiants Elizabeth §4153 (Longeford); Tirlagh McLyff, yeoman, 1600 in Fiants Elizabeth §6442; Donnagh McGlavin, 1665 in Hearth Money Rolls, Ireland (Templehouse, Sligo).

Scottish Gaelic, Irish: reduced anglicized form of Mac Gille Fhionndaig ‘son of the servant of (Saint) Fionntóg’, a personal name from a pet form of a name beginning fionn ‘white’. A Scottish family of this name settled in Donegal in the late 16th century. In Scotland the name has sometimes been anglicized as Lindsay.

Further information: Black mentions Saint Finnian of Clonard, see McLennan, but the saint is probably Fintan of Taghmon, whose name appears in the surname McAlinden or McLinden. He was often known by the pet form Munnu (Mo Fhinnu) but sometimes as Moinnoc (Mo Fhionnóg). Fionntóg or Fionndaig seems to be another variant of the name as used in Scotland.

Early bearers: Scotland: Duncan Mcgellentak, 1549 in Highland Papers (Balquhider); John McInlaintaig, 1693 in Argyll Inventories (Kilbride); Cailean MacIlliuntaig, 1795 in Black (Lochaber). - Main Irish location 1847–64: Donegal

Irish, Scottish Gaelic: from Mac Colla (earlier Conla(e)), from a personal name borne by three brothers who were the legendary ancestors of the kings of mid-Ulster. The name has been explained as possibly meaning ‘great chief’. Woulfe says that in Ireland the surname was sometimes pronounced with a final fricative as Mac Collach, one possible origin of McCullough.

Further information: McCull is the name of a Scottish clan associated with Clan Donald and in particular with the lands of Appin in N Argyll. However the personal name Solomon was also used in the family, and there is an alternative interpretation as Mac Sholla, a name once found in Ireland as McSolly. Woulfe notes that in Ireland the personal name

Colla was common among the MacDonnells and MacSweeneys, both families tracing their origin back to Scotland and ultimately to the ‘three Collas’ in Ulster.

Early bearers: Scotland: Ranald M’Choill, 1579 in Privy Council of Scotland Register (Argyll); Matthew M’Koll, 1720 in Edinburgh Guildry (Edinburgh, Midlothian); Donald Maccoll, 1759 in IGI (Kildalton, Argyll); Catharine Maccoll, 1765 in IGI (Ardchattan, Argyll); Mary Maccoll, 1766 in IGI (Inveraray, Argyll). Irish, Scottish Gaelic: from Mac Dhubhóg or Mac Dhubhag, ‘son of Dubhóg’ or ‘son of Dubhag’, a diminutive form of Dubh, from dubh ‘black’; see Dow and Duff. Compare the SW Scottish (Galloway) surname McGuffog, which has the same origin. The current form arose through loss of internal -v- and could therefore be confused with Cook.

Further information: It was anglicized in Ireland as McCavock, possibly confused with McGavock. According to Black, in Scotland the folk etymology ‘son of the cuckoo’ (Gaelic cubhag) suggests that the personal name that is preserved in the surname was pronounced with two syllables, supporting the suggested etymology.

Early bearers: Ireland: William oge McCoke, 1585 in Fiants Elizabeth §4572 (Galway); Archibald McCook, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Errigal, Derry); Daniel McCook, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Culfeightrin, Antrim); John McCook, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Dungiven, Derry).

  - GB frequency 1881: 852
  - Main GB location 1881: Glasgow; Lancs; Cumb; Durham
  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Ulster: esp. Tyrone
- Irish: from Mac Cuairt or Mac Cuarta, from a personal name ostensibly meaning ‘son of journey’, but according to Woulfe probably a reduced form of Mac Mhuirheartaigh. Compare McCurdy and the unlenited forms McMordie and McMurty.
- Early bearers: Donell McCourtie, yeoman, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6467 (Dyrrie, Cork); James McCourt, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Loughgilly, Armagh); John McCourt, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Dundalk, Louth); John McCordey, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Raphoe, Donegal); William McCord, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Desertlyn, Derry); William McCord, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Artrea, Tyrone).

McCourtney

- Current frequencies: GB 66, Ireland 0
  - GB frequency 1881: 27
  - Main GB location 1881: Glasgow; Lancs
- Irish or Scottish Gaelic: this hybrid name is Anglo-Norman Courtney with the Irish patronymic prefix Mc- tacked on. As suggested by Woulfe, it may have been adopted for Irish Mac Cuairt or Mac Cuarta (see McCourt). MacLysaght says English Courtney was used as an equivalent of Mac Cuarta in Monaghan.
- Early bearers: Andrew Courtney, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Magheraclone, Monaghan); Thomas Courtney, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Magherafelt, Derry).

- GB frequency 1881: 474
- Main GB location 1881: Glasgow
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Ulster: esp. Down; Donegal and Derry

Irish: from Mac Riada ‘son of Riada’, an ancient personal name meaning ‘traveller, rider’. The C results from duplication of the final -c of mac, and some of the shortened variants retain it as the initial letter. Black notes that the surname was found in Galloway in 1684, but it seems likely, with the variant McGready, to have originated in Ireland.

Early bearers: Donogh McRedie, chaplain and dean of Derry, 1602 in Fiants Elizabeth §6688 (Ulster).

- Main Irish location 1847–64: Antrim

Irish: from Mac Creacht, reduced and altered form of Mac Neachtain, see McNaughton. The main alteration is the abbreviation to Mac Neacht, the change in pronunciation from [kn] to [kr] being regular wherever cr is felt to begin a syllable in Gaelic. This anglicized spelling is not given in Black and may have been an innovation in Ireland.

Compare McKnight, McNaught, McNutt and McCracken.

Early bearers: Philip mcReyry McCraght, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6575 (Munster); Teig McCreght, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6577 (Dublin).

- GB frequency 1881: 306
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs
- Main Irish location 1847–64: E Ulster

Irish: from Mac Cú Uladh, a patronymic from the personal name Cú Uladh 'hound of Ulster', with unvoicing of the final velar fricative. It is probably later in date than McNally and McNaul, which are from Mac Con Uladh, with the correct original genitive form of the same personal name. See one 1601 reference below. It has sometimes, as for example in Black, been associated with Gaelic cullach 'wild boar', and some families in County Sligo translated it into English as Boar. However, Mac Cú Uladh is the more likely explanation. The final syllable was often anglicized -o or -oe in Ireland. Woulfe says Mac Colla (see McColl), was sometimes pronounced Mac Collach, and there seems to have been some confusion between the two personal names, as well as a possible pun, although 'son of a boar' would be Mac Cullaich. The usual anglicized Scottish spelling of this name is McCulloch.

Early bearers: Rory McColloe, kern, 1571 in Fiants Elizabeth §1770 (Breakelone, Conaghe); Wm. grana McCollo, kern, 1582 in Fiants Elizabeth §3989 (Clonbigyn, Galway); Hugh McCollo, husbandman, 1585 in Fiants Elizabeth §4652 (Clonoran, Galway); Feriaghe, Edm., and Ferris McCollowe, 1585 in Fiants Elizabeth §4689 (Balloghe); Brian McCollo, husbandman, 1585 in Fiants Elizabeth §4697 (the Mouffe, Galway); Phelim oge McCollowe and Owin boy McEnollowe, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6489 (Ulster); Donell McCollagh, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6539 (Knockintuffe); Elise and David McCullogh, Scotts Protestants, 1654 in Civil Survey Ireland (Magherigallen, Donegal).

Scottish Gaelic, Irish, Manx: relationship name from Mac Dhomhnaill 'son of Domhnall'. Donald is an anglicized form of this personal name. It is equivalent to Manx Cannell and Irish McDonell and McConnell.

Further information: This is the name of the largest and most disparate of the Scottish clans (Clan Donald), associated in particular with the Hebrides and claiming descent from Domhnall mac Raghnaill mac Somhairle, who, charter evidence confirms, lived in the late 12th century. From that time until 1493 the head of the clan was known as Lord (or King) of the Isles. The reigns of the Lords of the Isles were always stormy, often in conflict with the kings of Scotland, and peppered with disasters. After a series of defeats in the 1480s, Eoin Mac Dhomhnaill a Ile (John Macdonald of Islay, Earl of Ross and Lord of the Isles) forfeited his lands, his power, and his title as Lord of the Isles in 1493 to King James IV of Scotland.

Early bearers: Scotland: Alexander MacDonald of the Isles, 1274–92 in Paisley Register (Paisley, Renfrews); David Mc Donald, 1652 in IGI (Petty, Inverness); Bessie Mackdonald, 1670 in IGI (Leith, Midlothian); George Mackdonald, 1674 in IGI (Tranent, E Lothian); John Mc Donald, 1686 in IGI (Drainie, Morays); Agnes Mc Donald, 1690 in IGI (Dingwall, Ross and Cromarty); Janet Mc Donald, 1693 in IGI (Auldearn, Nairns).

Ireland: Hewe boy McDonalde, 1585 in Fiants Elizabeth §4579.

Further information: The Scottish Highland clan McGregor claims descent from the Pictish king Kenneth MacAlpin (Cináed mac Ailpín, 810–858). The origins of the clan are unclear. In the 13th century it was established on lands on the shores of Loch Awe and already in conflict with its neighbours of Clan Campbell. By the 16th century the McGregors had retreated deep into Glen Strae and acquired the nickname 'Children of the Mist'. In 1603 the clan was abolished by royal edict and many members of the clan changed their surname. A year later, the chief of Clan McGregor and eleven of his followers were hanged in Edinburgh. Despite the proscription, the clan survived and supported the king in the Scottish Civil War (1644–51). The exploits of the Jacobite leader Rob Roy McGregor (1671–1734) were romanticized in a novel by Sir Walter Scott. The proscription was eventually repealed in 1774. Early bearers: Duncan McGreg(h)ere, 1292 in Johnston, Scottish Macs; James McGregor, 1551 in Taymouth Black Book (Fortingall, Perth); Patrick McGregor, 1584 in Exchequer Rolls of Scotland (Perth); Patrick McGregor, 1628 in Privy Council of Scotland Register (Tulloch, Perth).

Irish, Scottish Gaelic: from Mac Ruaidhrí ‘son of Ruaidhrí’ (Rory), a personal name derived from Irish ruadh ‘red’ plus rí ‘king’. There is possible influence from the Old Scandinavian personal names Hróðrekr (see Roderick) and Hróðgar (see Rogers), forms of which were used as anglicized equivalents. The C or G results from duplication of the final -c of mac, and the voicing that may happen preceding a vowel or r. See also McCreery, McRury and the Scottish translation Rorison.

- Variants: Kinnon, McKinven, Kinning
- Current frequencies: GB 8477, Ireland 77
  - GB frequency 1881: 6296
  - Main GB location 1881: widespread in Scotland
- Scottish Gaelic: (i) relationship name from Mac Fhionghuin, a patronymic from a personal name meaning ‘fair born’ or ‘fair son’. Woulfe heard the final syllable in Argyll pronounced as if Irish -úin, but otherwise this surname, especially when Mac is dropped, is difficult to distinguish from Irish McKenna, Mac Fhionáin, which is regularly reduced to Kennan. (ii) this name has also been ‘translated’ as Love, having been taken as being derived from Mac Ionmhuinn ‘son of the beloved one’.
Further information: This is the name of a Scottish clan associated with the Hebridean islands of Mull and Skye. According to Adam, they are descended from Fingon (Fionghun), great-grandson of the legendary king Coinneach mac Ailpein (Kenneth Mac Alpine; see McAlpine). Up to 1493 they were hereditary standard bearers to the McDonalds, Lords of the Isles.
Early bearers: Ireland: Donogh McKynnyne, galloglass, 1591 in Fiants Elizabeth §5608; Shane McKynnyne, kern, 1591 in Fiants Elizabeth §5608; Teig oge

McKynnyne, kern, 1591 in Fiants Elizabeth §5608; Teige McKynnyne, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6521.

- Main Irish location 1847–64: Fermanagh and Monaghan

Irish: a shortened form of Mac Giolla Mhichil ‘son of the servant (i.e. devotee) of Saint Michael’, a Fermanagh surname, more fully anglicized as McElmeel. Woulfe suggests that McMeel could sometimes be derived simply from Mac Mhichil ‘son of Michael’. Compare McMichael, the usual shortened anglicized form of Mac Gille Mhichil in Scotland, where unlike Ireland the fricative [x] was not weakened. Occasionally McMeel may represent McIlmoyle.

Further information: The surname contains an earlier borrowing of the Biblical personal name Michael, before the modern Irish form Micheál.

Early bearers: Ireland: Hugh McIlmeel, 1663 in Hearth Money Rolls, Ireland (Derry, Monaghan); Phelim McIlmeele, 1663 in Hearth Money Rolls, Ireland (Killyleck Otra, Monaghan); Phelem McIlmichele, 1665 in Hearth Money Rolls, Ireland (Killyleck Otra, Monaghan); Peter McElmeel, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Ardstraw, Tyrone); Patrick McIlmeal, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Bright, Down); James McMeel, 1861 in Griffith’s Valuation (Tullanacrunat, Monaghan); James McMeel, 1862 in Griffith’s Valuation (Carrigan, Fermanagh). Scotland: Malmur Mac Gillemichel, 1211 in Black p. 542 (Angus); David McIlvichall, 1632 in Black p. 542 (Comrie); Mary McGilmichal, 1764 in Black p. 542 (Cowal).

Irish, Scottish Gaelic: from Mac an Aba(dh) 'son of the abbot'.

Further information: In Scotland many monasteries were controlled by hereditary lay abbots. Clan McNab claims descent from a certain Abraruadh, Abbot of Glen Dochart, Perth, in the 9th century. Abraruadh is said to have been a younger son of King Kenneth Mac Alpine (Coinneach mac Ailpein; see McAlpine). According to another tradition, the clan founder was a lay abbot of Glen Dochart at the time of King David I (1124–53). Malcolm de Glendochart is recorded in the Ragman Rolls (1296) and was no doubt a member of this clan.

Early bearers: Scotland: Mathew McNab, 1376 in Morton Register, Scotland (Buittle, Wigtowns); Finlay McNab, 1530 in Treasurer Accounts (Bowane, Perth); Alexander McNab, 1552 in Privy Council of Scotland Register (Ayr).

1 Scottish Gaelic: relationship name perhaps from Mac an Fhuibhir 'son of the smith', Mac an Fhuidhir 'the stranger's son', or Mac an Oighre 'son of the heir', which despite different pronunciation (see Black p. 548) have all been suggested to explain this surname. It was sometimes (Lennox) also anglicized as Weir. Further information: The surname evidently arrived late in Ireland. Many of the earlier Scottish spellings preserve evidence of the middle syllable. However the Scottish EBs cannot be allocated to different etymologies without further research.

Early bearers: Ireland: McNair family, 1835 in OS Memoirs, Ireland xxiv 107 (Ramoan, Antrim); William McNaire, 1858 in Griffith's Valuation (Gortree, Donegal); Thomas McNair, 1863 in Griffith's Valuation (Lisnatrunk, Down).

1 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 孟 (Mang in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘eldest among brothers and sisters born of a concubine’ in ancient Chinese: (i) from the title Meng Sun (孟孙), traced back to Qin Fu (died 660 BC), the eldest son of king Lu Huan Gong (died 694 BC) in the state of Lu (located mainly in present-day Shandong province). Though Qin Fu was the eldest son of the king, he only earned a title called ‘Zhong Sun’ (meaning ‘the second eldest among brothers and sisters’) because he was born of a concubine. He later murdered two kings in the state of Lu, and eventually committed suicide. Because of the notoriety for his vice, his descendants changed his original title ‘Zhong Sun’ to a relatively inferior title ‘Meng Sun’ and later shortened it to Meng (孟). (ii) from Meng Tu (孟塗), the name of an ancient state (located in Mengzhou and Mengjin in Henan province) during the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (iii) from the personal name of Meng Zhi (孟紫), the style name of the elder brother of the king Wei Ling Gong (died 493 BC).

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 蒙 (Mong or Mung in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘to suffer’ in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Meng Shuang (蒙雙), the name of a fief (located in Shangqiu in Henan province). (ii) shortened form of the compound surname Meng Shan (蒙山), name of a hill (located in present-day Shandong province), where an annual sacrifice was held by an official with the title Dong Meng Zhu. (iii) from the place-name Meng (蒙), the name of a fief (located in Hubei province) granted to an official in the state of Chu.

3 Chinese: alternative Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 明, see Ming (2).

Mengham

- Current frequencies: GB 106, Ireland 0

- Main GB location 1881: Hants

English: locative name from Mengham in South Hayling (Hants), which is recorded as Meynham in 1327, Maynham in 1334. The place-name possibly means ‘homestead or enclosure of the people of a man called Mæg(a)’, from the Old English personal name Mæga or Mæg + the group-name suffix -ingas (genitive -inga-) + either hām ‘homestead, village, estate’ or hamm ‘enclosure, hemmed-in land’.

Early bearers: Joan Mengham, 1575 in Parish Registers (Cheriton, Hants); John Mengham, 1596, Brian Mengem, 1628 in IGI (Upton Grey, Hants); Robert Mengem, 1605, John Mengham, 1622 in IGI (Bighton, Hants); Richard Mengham, 1618 in Parish Registers (East Meon, Hants); Ann Mengem, 1697 in IGI (Bedhampton, Hants); Alice Mengham, widow of New Alresford, 1770 in TNA (Hants).

- Main GB location 1881: Cornwall

Cornish: locative name probably from Mellionec farm in Colan (Cornwall), recorded as Melihonec in the early 13th century, Mellyonek in 1503. A surname Melyonek, derived from this place, occurs in the 14th to 16th centuries, and the earliest known bearer of the surname Menhinick, John Menhenek 1522 (Helland), was also called John Melyonek. The surname spread in the Bodmin area in the later 16th and the 17th centuries. The variant Menhinett is first found in 1641 (Bodmin). The parish of Menheniot and the farm of Menheniot in Saint Stephen by Launceston (of different derivation from one another) could theoretically have produced a surname Menhenek, but neither of those seems to have given rise to an inherited surname. Surnames in this group were occasionally confused with ones of the shape Menwenick (from a farm of that name in Trewen), but the two groups usually remained distinct.

  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Derry and Antrim
- 1 English, Welsh, Scottish: relationship name from the Biblical name Michael, meaning 'Who is like the Lord?' in Hebrew. This is the learned form of the name, which became established as a surname in England in the 16th century and in Wales in the 17th century. The usual Middle English vernacular pronunciation survives and flourishes in the surname Mitchell.

Further information: In Middle English Michaelmas is also found written as Mielmasse and Mighelmasse. In Orkney Saint Michael's was pronounced Saint Mitchell's. Saint Michael's, Cornhill, London, was Saint Mihills in 1626 (Bardsley). Miles's Lane (London) was Seint Micheleslane in 1303 and Saynte Mighelles Lane in 1548 (Ekwall).

Mildon

Variants: Milden

- Current frequencies: GB 179, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 196
- Main GB location 1881: Devon

English: (i) locative name apparently from Mildon in Oakford (Devon), which is recorded as Mildedone in 1086, although no medieval evidence connecting the surname with this place has been found. West Anstey and Knowstone, where the surname is earliest recorded, lie within five miles of Oakford. (ii) an alternative source might be Meldon in Okehampton (Devon), which is recorded as Meledon(e) from 1175 onwards, and for which there is evidence of a derived medieval surname: William and Thomas de Meledon, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Okehampton, Devon). The development to Mildon is not found in the place-name but if the surname later migrated to the Oakford area its pronunciation could have been altered by false association with nearby Mildon.

Early bearers: John and Richard Myldon, 1524 in Subsidy Rolls (West Anstey, and Knowstone, Devon); Francis Mildon, 1585 in IGI (Exeter, Devon); Richard Mildon, 1585 in IGI (Mawgan in Meneage, Cornwall); John Mildon, 1594 in IGI (Bishops Nympton, Devon); Elizabeth Mildon, 1611 in IGI (Knowstone, Devon); Charols Mildon, 1633 in IGI (Oakford, Devon); John Mildon, 1642 in Protestation Returns (Devon); Thomas Mildren, 1644 in IGI (South Molton, Devon).

Mildred

- Current frequencies: GB 60, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 117
- Main GB location 1881: scattered: esp. Middx

English: (i) relationship name usually from the Middle English female personal name Mildrith, Mildreth, Mildred (Old English Mildrǫð). In the Middle Ages the name probably owed its popularity to the fame of Saint Mildred, an abbess and the daughter of a Mercian king. (ii) relationship name occasionally perhaps from the Middle English male personal name Mildred (Old English Mildræd, the name borne by an 8th-century bishop of Worcester). Early bearers: given names (female): Mildred Sheperrd, 1381 in Poll Tax (Cold Overton, Leics); Mildrede, wife of Richard Roke, 1504 in Feet of Fines (Kent). given names (male): Meldredum filium Ede, 1231 in Patent Rolls.

surnames: William filius Meldreð, 1175 in Pipe Rolls (Lancs); Richard Mildrith, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); John Myldrede, 1379 in The Church in London; Thomas Milrethe, 1381 in Poll Tax (Halstead, Essex); William Milreth, 1438–9 in Feet of Fines (Middx); Symon Mildred, 1583 in IGI (London).

- 1 Norman, English: relationship name from the Middle English (Old French) personal name Mile + genitival or post-medieval exrescent -s, or from its other Old French form Miles. The French name derives from Continental Germanic Milo and was usually latinized in English documents as Milo. The Old French oblique case form was Milon; see Millen. Compare Millson. Some of the following surname examples may alternatively belong with (2).

Further information: The early vernacular form in English appears to have been Mile, Miles being noted only rarely. Ralph Miles, a fishmonger of Bridge Ward (recorded 1292 in Subsidy Rolls (London)), founded a chantry for his late lord Milo, no doubt the Miles de Oystergate, fishmonger (recorded 1291 in London Husting Wills), Ralph having apparently adopted his master's given name as his surname.

1 English: locative name from one or more of the four places called Milford in Devon, lying in the parishes of Buckland Brewer, Frithelstock, Hartland, and Stowford.

Early bearers: Godwin de Meleford', 1176 in Pipe Rolls (Devon); [ . . . de] Mileford, 1330 in Subsidy Rolls (Buckland Brewer, Devon); Peter de Mileford, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Frithelstock, Devon); Thomas de Mileford, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Stowford, Devon); David de Milford, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Hartland, Devon); William Milford, 1407–56 in Chancery Proceedings (Totnes, Devon); Thomas Milford, 1561 in IGI (Kenn, Devon); Richard Milford, 1629 in PROB 11 (South Tawton, Devon).

References: Place-Names of Devon, pp. 75, 90, 93, 208.

2 English: locative name perhaps sometimes from one of many places called Milford in counties other than Devon, such as South Milford (WR Yorks), North Milford in Kirkby Wharfe (WR Yorks), Milford (Derbys, Hants, Surrey, Wilts), and Milford in Baswich (Staffs), or from Long Melford (Suffolk). There may have been some confusion with Mulford.

Early bearers: Hubert de Meleforda, about 1095 in Bury Saint Edmunds Documents (Suffolk); Hugh de Mileford', 1208 in Feet of Fines (Yorks); Richard de Meleford, 1275 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs); Henry de Mileford, 1292 in Patent Rolls (York); William de Melleford, 1347 in Assize Rolls (London); Johannes de Milford', 1379 in Poll Tax (Pontefract, WR Yorks); Rogerus Milford, 1381 in Poll Tax (Southwark, Surrey); Julian Milford, 1539 in IGI (Sandwich, Kent).

3 Irish: adopted for Ó Maolfhoghmair 'descendant of Maolfhoghmair', a personal name meaning 'chief of harvest'. The Irish name was first anglicized as Mullover, which was later assimilated to Milford. See also Palmer.

 • GB frequency 1881: 84
 • Main GB location 1881: Norfolk
 English: nickname from Middle English milk 'milk' (Old English meole). There are many possible reasons behind the use of such a nickname, including milk-white hair (as in the case of Hugh Milkeheued, 12th century in Danelaw Documents (Lincs)), the collecting or selling of milk (compare Robert le Milker, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks), William le Milkster, 1246 in Assize Rolls (Lancs), John le melkberere (i.e. 'milk-carrier') and Geoffrey le melkmakiere, 1285 in Assize Rolls (Essex)), and of course the drinking of milk – whether or not taken to indicate effeminacy or spiritlessness (compare Millsoopp).
Early bearers: Ailmar Melc, 1086 in Domesday Book (Essex); Henry and Geoffrey Melc, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cambs); William Mylk, 1367 in York Freeman's Register (York); Salomon Melk, 1381 in Poll Tax (Chevington, Suffolk); Richarde Milke or Mylke, 1579 in PROB 11 (Wiggenhall Saint Germans, Norfolk); Susanna Milk, 1710 in IGI (Heydon, Norfolk).

Irish: from Ó Maoileagáin ‘descendant of Maoileagáin’, a personal name from a double diminutive of maol meaning ‘bald’ or ‘tonsured’.

Local variation in the pronunciation of the syllable spelled aoi has caused the surname to be anglicized as Milligan or Mulligan (Ó Maolagáin ‘descendant of Maolagáin’), as well as Melican (Clare). There are also versions where the g is devoiced to k. A surname formed from a similar personal name, Maolachán, has often been similarly anglicized, but also occurs as Mollaghan and variants.

Early bearers: Ireland: Molior Omolegane, 1264 in Dublin Documents; Brian hUa Maelagan, 1439 in AU; Domnall hUa Maeligen, devout pauper, 1446 in AU; Gilla Padraig mac Maghnusa mic Domnaill aird hUí Maeligein, 1485 in AU (Donegal); Thady O’Mullegan, 1597 in Fiants Elizabeth §6190; Wm. mcThomas I Meligan, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6497 (Kerrie); John begg O Mulleghan, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6529 (Munster).

1 English: locative name, a very common development of Mill ('at the mill') with excrescent -s added in post-medieval times. Theoretically it might sometimes be an original plural form, from Middle English **atte Milles* 'at the mills', but this would be rare. Compare Mullins, from a French equivalent of this name. See also Milnes. Some of the following early bearers alternatively belong with (2).

Early bearers: John Mills, 1541 in IGI (Wonersh, Surrey); John Mills, 1544 in IGI (Saint Lawrence Pountney, London); Thomas Mills, 1546 in IGI (Wootton Waven, Warwicks); Joan Mills, 1559 in IGI (South Somercotes, Lincs); Hellen Mills, 1577 in IGI (Aldbrough, WR Yorks); John Mills, 1578 in IGI (Southill, Beds); Robert Mills, 1580 in IGI (Exeter, Devon); Mary Mills, 1613 in IGI (Flixton by Bungay, Suffolk); Robart Mills, 1615 in IGI (Newcastle upon Tyne, Northumb); William Mills, 1608 in IGI (Leigh, Lancs).

2 English: (i) relationship name, variant of Miles. (ii) variant of Mill with genitival or post-medieval excrescent -s. (iii) variant of Myhill (i.e. Michael) with post-medieval excrescent -s.

Early bearers: John Myls, 1336 in London Letter Books F; Rogeri Mills, 1544 in IGI (Highworth, Wilts); Thomas Mills, 1547 in IGI (Hurstbourne Tarrant, Hants).

3 Irish: in Ireland (Ulster especially), this is usually the English name, but elsewhere it was also adopted for the byname an Mhuilinn 'of the mill'.

English: locative name from Milnthorpe in Sandal Magna (WR Yorks). As the place-name is of a recurring type there are numerous other possible sources of the surname, such as Milnthorpe (Westm), Milnethorpe in Norton (Notts), Millthorpe in Aslackby and Millthorpe in Quarrington (both Lincs), and a lost Milnthorpe in Thurnscoe (WR Yorks), and of these at least Millthorpe in Aslackby can be shown to have given rise to a medieval byname. However, the available evidence points firmly to Milnthorpe in Sandal Magna as the origin of the surviving surname and all its variant forms.

Early bearers: Thomas del Milnethorp, 1331, Peter de Milnethorpe, 1333 in Wakefield Court Rolls (Sandal Magna, WR Yorks); John de Milnethorp', 1372 in Feet of Fines (Aslackby, Lincs); Robertus de Milnethorp, Johanna Milnethorp, 1379 in Poll Tax (Dodworth, WR Yorks); John de Milnthorp, 1390 in TNA (NR Yorks); Alice Milthorp, 1585, Joseph Milnthorp, 1738 in IGI (Normanton, WR Yorks); Anthonius Mylthorp, 1588 in IGI (Wragby, WR Yorks); Mally Milnthorpe, 1780 in IGI (Elland, WR Yorks).

1 English, Scottish: relationship name from the usual vernacular pronunciation in Middle English and Older Scots of the personal name conventionally written as Michael. Compare Mitchelson. Some of the surnames mentioned below may equally well belong with (2).

Further information: Written examples of Michel or Mitchell as a given name are rare in Middle English; the clerks regularly wrote Michael. In 1198 one Michael de Middleton held a quarter of a carucate of land in Middleton (Wilts) by service of keeping the king's wolfhounds (Book of Fees); in about 1219 William Michel is recorded as receiving three and a half pence per day for keeping two wolfhounds; and in 1236 a certain Richard Michel held a cotset (a cottage with an attached plot of land) in Middleton for a similar service. The relationship between the three men is not stated but it is a reasonable assumption that they were members of the same family and that Michael de Middleton had two sons who derived their surname Michel from their father's given name.

Early bearers: given names, England: Michel de Wphestede, 1327 in Pinchbeck Register (Suffolk); Michele Michel, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset). given names, Scotland: Mitchell McBrair, 1490 in Black (Galloway).

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 莫 (Mo in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'do not' in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Mo (鄭), the name of a fief (located in Renqiu in present-day Hebei province) in the state of Zhao during the Warring States period (475–221 BC), which may be identical with the city of Mo built by the legendary king Zhuan Xu (2514–2437 BC). When the name of the fiefdom was adopted as a surname, the Chinese character 鄭 was simplified as 莫. (ii) from Mo Ao (莫敖), said to be the name of an official position in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), approximately equivalent to 'vice prime minister'. Descendants of people who were appointed to this position adopted 莫, the shortened form of Mo Ao, as their surname.

However, it is also said that Mo Ao was the name of an official in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), whose descendants inherited 莫, the first element of his name, as their surname. (iii) shortened form of Xing Mo (刑莫), Mo Na Lou (莫那婁), and Mo Duo Lou (莫多婁), surnames from Xianbei ethnic group in ancient N China during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (iv) simplified form of another ancient Chinese surname, 穆 (Mu in Mandarin pinyin), said to be borne by descendants of Yu Mu, ancestor of the legendary Shun Di, the Shun Emperor (reigned 2162–2110 BC). They settled mainly in Julu and Jiangling in Hubei province.

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 穆 (Mu in Mandarin pinyin, also Muk, another Cantonese romanization), meaning 'solemnity, virtue': (i) from Mu (穆), posthumous title of Song Mu Gong (died 720 BC), the 14th king of the state of Song (located in present-day Shangqiu in Henan province). He earned the title Mu, 穆, because of his virtue during his reign. (ii) from the Qiu Mu Ling (丘穆陵) family, members of the Xianbei ethnic group in ancient N China, who changed their original surname to Mu (穆) during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (iii) from Mu (穆), posthumous title of Lu Mu Gong (died 377 BC), a king who ruled in the state of Lu (located in present-day Shandong province).

5 Korean: (문; Chinese character: 文, meaning ‘writing’ or ‘literature’). This name is borne by descendants of Moon Ta-sōng (文多省), who lived during the reign of the Shilla king Chabi (AD 458–479). Legend has it that while the king was visiting the Changjaji lotus pond (located to the east of modern Naju City in Chōlla South Province) he heard the cry of a newborn baby from atop a nearby rock. He climbed to the top of the rock and discovered a large stone chest with the Chinese character 文 engraved on the lid. He opened the box and discovered a little baby, whom he adopted and raised. The child turned out to be very intelligent: by the age of five he could already read and write Chinese, so the king bestowed on him the surname Mun (文), meaning ‘writing’.

- GB frequency 1881: 347
- Main GB location 1881: London; Lancs
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Kerry

Irish: from Ó Muirheartaigh ‘descendant of Muirheartach’, a personal name from muir ‘sea’ + ceardach ‘skilled’, i.e. ‘skilled navigator’. In this spelling the i represents the velar fricative ch which is no longer pronounced, although the personal name retains its three syllables. A Meath and Monaghan surname of the same form in Irish was reduced to two syllables as Murtagh, comparable to Scottish Murdoch. It may also be a reduced form of Mac Muirheartaigh ‘son of Muirheartach’, see McMurtry. See also Murt.

Early bearers: Teige McDonell mcMorris O Moriarty, 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6498; Bryan Moriarty, 1663 in Hearth Money Rolls, Ireland (Kilnacrin, Monaghan); William Murtagh, 1664 in Hearth Money Rolls, Ireland (Derynasmillan, Armagh); Philip O’Murtagh, 1665 in Hearth Money Rolls, Ireland (Bryanhitter, Monaghan).

- Main GB location 1881: Warwicks and Worcs

Of uncertain etymology. It could have arisen from a compound of Norman French mort(i)er 'mud' (attested with this sense only in the place-names (Le) Mortier and (Les) Mortiers, numerous in Normandy) and bois 'wood'. However, no place named with the compound has yet been identified, so the question arises whether **Morterbois*, later becoming Mortiboys, might be a translation of an English name, possibly employed in Anglo-Norman French legal documents to render the place-name Fulwood ('muddy wood'). In Warwicks, where Mortiboys is mainly recorded, Fulwood was formerly the name of Clay Hall in Tanworth in Arden (Warwicks), and had been the surname of its owners since at least the 13th century (see Fullwood). The co-occurrence of the two surnames in the following parishes could be mere coincidence: Margareta Fulwood, 1585, and Joseph Morteboyes, 1707 in IGI (Tanworth in Arden, Warwicks); Thomas Mortyboies, 1540, and Fraunces Fulwoode, 1576 in IGI (Solihull, Warwicks). Or perhaps members of the Fullwood family used Mortiboys as an alias, but this is unproven.

Further information: The Warwicks surname may have been taken to Suffolk, where the first element is recorded as Morde-, but Wilson's derivation from Old French mordre 'bite' + bois 'wood' does not yield a convincing nickname. Tooth (2, p. 79) suggests it is an occupational name for a provider of fuel, from Old French mort bois 'dead wood' (compare modern French mort-bois 'brushwood, undergrowth'), but this does not explain the medial -i-, or why a French expression was employed to denote such a lowly occupation.

Early bearers: Thomas Mortyboies, 1540, John Mortiboys, 1542, Henrie Mortiboies, 1545, Anne Mortiboies, 1548 in IGI (Solihull, Warwicks); Christian Mortiboies, 1582 in IGI (Bickenhill, Warwicks); Alice Morteboey, 1622 in IGI (Yardley, Worcs); Rose Mordeboies, 1639 in IGI (Pakenham, Suffolk); William Mordeboice, 1644 in Bury Saint Edmunds Wills (Suffolk); Isabella Morteboey, 1646 in IGI (Milwich, Staffs).

1 English: locative name from Moddershall in Stone (Staffs), which is recorded as Modredeshale in 1086, Modreshalle in 1305, and Mothersall in 1551.

Pronunciation of -shall as -shaw is a common variation. The name sometimes developed to or was confused with Mottershead (compare the bearers of both names in Audley and Leek, Staffs).

Early bearers: William de Modreshalle, 1305 in Saint Thomas Priory Chartulary (Staffs); Will’mo de Modeshale, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Penkridge, Staffs); [ . . . de] Modershale, 1333, [ . . . de] Modreshale, 1339 in Place-Names of Cheshire (Cheshire); Sarah Mothershal, 1737 in IGI (Leek, Staffs); Mary Mothershaw, 1780 in IGI (Acton Trussall and Bednall, Staffs); David Mathershaw, 1809 in IGI (Walsall, Staffs); Thomas Mothersall, 1818 in IGI (Stoke on Trent, Staffs).

Variants: Mothersdill, Mothersdale, Mothersole

- Current frequencies: GB 79, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 85
- Main GB location 1881: NR Yorks and Durham

English: nickname from an abbreviated form of the Middle English oath, bi min moderes saule (or soule) ‘by my mother’s soul’. Compare James Fadersall (‘by my father’s soul’), 1486 in York Freeman’s Register. In NR Yorks the name was altered to Mothersill, and then to Mothersdill and Mothersdale through false association with the many -dale place-names and surnames in that part of the world.

Further information: There is no evidence to confirm Reaney’s alternative explanations of Mothersole and Mothersill as either locative, from Moddershall (Staffs), or as a nickname ‘proud soul’, attested by Richard Modisaule, Modisoule, 1274, Hugh Modysowel, 1308 in Wakefield Court Rolls (Ossett, WR Yorks).

Early bearers: N England: Ralph Modersoule, 1313 in Close Rolls (Lancs); William Modirsale, 1434 in Yorks Deeds (Sigston, NR Yorks); William Mothersall, 1548 in Yorks Wills (Stainsby, NR Yorks); Johanne Mothersill, 1551 in IGI (Oswaldkirk, NR Yorks); Thomysin Mothersall, 1591 in IGI (Kirklington, NR Yorks); Thomas Mothersell, 1663 in IGI (Sedgefield, Durham); George Mothersall, 1666 in IGI (Crathorne, NR Yorks); Thomas Mothersall, 1702, John Mothersell, 1708, William Mothershall, 1724, John Mothersil, 1743, Richard Mothersdill, 1812 in English: relationship name probably ‘son of Maud’, from the Middle English female personal name Moud, Mout (Maud), reduced to Mod-, Mot-, + -son. See Mould, and compare Maddison, with which Modson and Motson coincide in some Lincs parishes (Hagworthingham, Boston). See also Matson. However, the absence of medieval forms of the surname raises the possibility that the name might be an altered form of some other name.

Early bearers: Elyzabethe Motson, 1572 in IGI (Chillenden, Kent); Elizabeth Modson, 1626, Christopher Modson, 1687 in IGI (Hagworthingham, Lincs); John Motson, 1732 in IGI (Langton by Wragby, Lincs); George Modson, 1807, Sarah Motson, 1829 in IGI (East Keal, Lincs); Hannah Motson, 1817 in IGI (Boston, Lincs).

References: Tooth, I, 174.

2 English: locative name; in Cheshire, especially in Prestbury parish (see (1) above), it may be an altered form of Mottershead, a name which originated in Prestbury, or else the two names may have co-existed and were confused with each other.

Further information: In Tooth and in Place-Names of Cheshire, it is suggested that the Cheshire surname may be derived from Murdishaw Wood in Runcorn (Cheshire), but the wood name is not recorded before 1831 and may be derived from the surname.

- Current frequencies: GB 1763, Ireland 57
- GB frequency 1881: 2024
- Main GB location 1881: Caithness and Orkney

Scottish: locative name from Mold (Flints), see Maude. Robert de Montealto, the first of this surname in Scotland, may be identical with the Robert de Montalt who raised Mold castle in about 1140 and related to Simon de Mohaut, the first of this surname in England. The distinctive Scottish form of the name has arisen from a shift of stress in Mohaut from the second to the first syllable. In Caithness and Orkney, according to Black, the surname is traditionally pronounced ‘Mode’.

Early bearers: Robert de Montealto, 1124–53 in Black; Alexander de Mohaut, de Mouhat, de Mouhaut, de Muhaut, de Muhauth, 1198–1218 in Black (Arbroath and Brechin); William de Monte Alto, sheriff of Crumbathyn (Cromarty), 1263 in Black; John Mowet, 1410 in Black (Guthrie, Angus); Bessie Mowat, 1649 in IGI (Rathen, Aberdeens); Patrick Mowat, 1656 in IGI (Freswick, Canisbay, Caithness); William Mowat, 1719 in IGI (Tingwall, Shetland); John Mowat, 1748 in IGI (Birsay, Orkney); William Mowat, 1750 in IGI (North Hammersland, Tingwall, Shetland).

- Current frequencies: GB 116, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 69
- Main GB location 1881: Warwicks; Lancs; Notts

1 English: nickname, relationship name from Middle English **maugh*, **maw*, **mough*, **mow*, ‘a kinsman by marriage, especially a son-in-law’, from Old Scandinavian mágr brother-, father- or son-in-law’ or Old English māga ‘male relative, son’. Compare Geoffrey Batis Mawe de Hakethorn of Rysum, 1327 in Patent Rolls (Lincs). In Middle English surnames the term was used as an equivalent to Latin gener ‘son-in-law or other male relation by marriage’ as illustrated by John son of John Gibbemogh, 1325 (Liverpool), who is almost certainly the same person as Johannes filius Johannis, generi Gilbert, 1323, both in Surnames of Lancs, p. 353 (West Derby, Lancs). A related word, Middle English mow (from Old English māge), is on record with the sense ‘female relative by marriage, especially sister-in-law’. Compare ‘Mow, husbandys syster, or wyfys systyr, or syster in lawe’, 1440 in Promptorium Parvulorum. But this seems an unlikely source for a surname borne by men. See also Watmough, Hitchmough, and Hudsmith, and compare Mowson. The pronunciation of the final consonant -gh was variable and accounts for the different spellings in Mow, Maufe, Muff, Wattmuff, Watmouth (see under Watmough), and Hudsmith. Early bearers: Richard son of Henry Mow, 1294 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Gedling, Notts); Robert le Mogh of Gedling, 1335–6 in Nottingham Borough Records (Notts); Henry le Mou, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs); John Mowe, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Alicia Mowe, 1377 in Poll Tax (Lincs); Alanus Moghe, 1379 in Poll Tax (Norfolk); Henricus Mow, 1379 in Poll Tax (Hants); Alice Mowe, 1557 in IGI (Chedgrave, Norfolk); Bessie Mow, 1599 in IGI (Edinburgh, Midlothian); Elspeth Mow, 1657 in IGI (Kelso, Roxburghs); Isaac Mow, 1709 in IGI (Newcastle upon Tyne, Northumb).

2 English: relationship name perhaps from a Middle English personal name, either a variant of Maw, a pet form of Maheu (Matthew), or a post-medieval variant of Moll, a pet form of Maud. See further under Maw, Moll, and compare Mowson. Any of the following bearers may alternatively belong under (1) or (3).

Early bearers: Charitye Mowe, 1587 in IGI (Perran Uthnoe, Cornwall); John Mow, 1686 in IGI (Bedford, Beds); Ann Mow, 1744 in IGI (Cockermouth, Cumb); Edward Mow, 1793 in IGI (Bromham, Beds).

3 English: locative name either ‘dweller by the meadow’, for which see Maw (3), or ‘dweller by the heap or stack’, from Middle English moue, mowe, muwe. In the former case the modern pronunciation would regularly rhyme with slow, in the latter case with cow, but in some dialects the first pronunciation sometimes developed into the latter. Compare Dowland and see also Bowser as a dialect pronunciation of Bolsover.

Early bearers: William de la Mowe, 1314–15 in TNA (Great Yarmouth, Norfolk); William atte Mowe, 1343–5 in Feet of Fines (Norfolk); Willelmus Mow, Robertus Mowe, 1379 in Poll Tax (Aldborough, Norfolk); Robert atte Mowe of Stambourne, 1336, Richard atte Mow of Runwell, 1413 in Place-Names of Essex (Essex).

- English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Moke, a reduced form of Mocok, a pet form of Matthew (see Mock), + -son. Steve Moxon has shown that Robert filius Mathei de Over Midehop (1333–6) was identical with Hugh filius Robert Mokeson de Midehop (1336) in the court rolls of Bradfield (WR Yorks). Also compare Willelmus Mokocson', 1379 in Poll Tax (Stansfield, WR Yorks); William Mocok of Bradeford alias William Jonsone Dikounsone Mocoksone of Haukeshawe, 1412 in Patent Rolls (WR Yorks).
- Further information: Siuward Mocesun, 1087–98 in Bury Saint Edmunds Documents (Suffolk) is a compound of the Old English personal name Mocca + son, but there is no evidence that this gave rise to any examples of the modern surname. Nor is there any evidence to support Reaney's explanation of the name as Mogge (a pet form of Margaret or Margery) + son.

  - Main GB location 1881: Cornwall; also NW England and W Midlands; Durham; Hants
- 1 Cornish: nickname, probably from Middle Cornish **mōl* 'bald', though its development to Moyl(e) is irregular.
- Further information: The distribution of this surname in early-modern times and later is easterly within the county (where a derivation from a Cornish-language nickname would normally be unlikely), and its spelling with -oy- rather than -o- or -oo- is at odds with the form expected of a name derived from Cornish **mōl*. However, the three bearers attested in 1327 were all taxed within the western half of the county where Cornish was still current, making a Cornish-language derivation likely for their surnames; and the well-known gentry family Moyle of Bake (in Saint Germans) originated in mid-Cornwall (Lostwithiel and Bodmin area) in the fourteenth century. Thus the family could have originated within the western half of the county and brought a Cornish-language surname eastwards in a fixed spelling, which then gave rise to both the pronunciation and the easterly distribution of the surname in later times. The consistent spelling of the surname with -oi- or -oy- would then be a conservative spelling. The eastern family had a hornless ox on its coat of arms, suggesting that they believed their name to mean 'bald' (so Thomas Richards, British or Welsh-English Dictionary (1753), at moel), but that could have been due to knowledge of the Welsh surname in (2), or of the English dialect word moil 'hornless cow', doubtless borrowed from Welsh moel, but recorded in that sense only from 1847 (OED).

Early bearers: William Moyl, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Saint Ervan, Cornwall); Nicholas le Moyl, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Mullion, Cornwall); John Moyl, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Lelant, Cornwall); Richard Moil, 1359 in Statutes of Labourers (Cornwall); John Moil, 1367 in Feet of Fines (land in the Bodmin and Lostwithiel area, Cornwall); John Moyle, 1498 in Ancient Deeds (Cornwall); Richard Moile, 1499 in Cornish Lands (Saint Columb, Cornwall); Alise Moyle, 1550, Richard Moyle, 1577 in IGI (Saint Columb Major, Cornwall); Thomas Moile, 1574 in IGI (Saint Minver, Cornwall).

References: Cornish Place-Name Elements, p. 167; Morgan and Morgan, p. 168.

2 Welsh: nickname from Welsh moel 'bare, bald', equivalent to Middle Cornish **mōl*. Some of the following bearers in W and NW England may alternatively belong with (3).

Further information: For further evidence see Morgan and Morgan, pp. 167–8, and compare the more usual Welsh form Voyle.

Early bearers: Ieuan Moyll, 1326 in Black Book of Saint David's (Pembrokes); David Moill, 1393 in Chirkland Extent (Denbys); Matthew ap Ieuan Moyll, 1481 in Ancient Deeds (Merioneths); William Moil, 1275 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs); Johanne Moyl, 1379 in Poll Tax (Cradley, Herefs); Ricardo Moyle, 1379, Ricardus Moyll, 1381 in Poll Tax (Westleigh, Lancs); Johanne Moille, 1381 in Poll Tax (Down Ampney, Gloucs); David Moyl, 1381 in Poll Tax (Whixall, Shrops); Dattus Moill, 1381 in Poll Tax (Stockton, Shrops); John Moyle, 1540 in IGI (Nantwich, Cheshire); Francis Moyle, 1562 in IGI (Shawbury, Shrops); Raph Moyle, 1567 in IGI (Chester, Cheshire); James Moyle, 1583 in IGI (Leigh, Lancs).

3 English: variant of Mule or Moule (2).

Early bearers: Thomas Moyl, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Ecclesden, Angmering, Sussex); Johannes Moil, 1379 in Poll Tax (Avon, Hants); Jane Moyle, 1576 in IGI (Boughton Aluph, Kent); John Moyle, 1583 in IGI (Ringwood, Hants).

4 Norman, English: perhaps a reduced form of Moyles (3) or Moles (2), in which case some of the bearers cited in (1), (2) or (3) may alternatively belong here. Some confusion between any of these four names is more than likely in areas where the names overlapped geographically.

Mudd

Variants: Modd

- Current frequencies: GB 1394, Ireland 43
- GB frequency 1881: 1255
- Main GB location 1881: Yorks and Durham; Suffolk

English: (i) relationship name from Middle English Modde, a pet form of the Latin female name Modesta (Old French **Modeste*). Thomas son of Modde de Lynley, 1307, is identical with Thomas son of Modesta de Lynley, 1308 in Wakefield Court Rolls (WR Yorks). This was an exceptionally rare personal name in medieval England, and was hardly less so in medieval France, where the male use of Old French Modeste (from Latin Modestus) is better evidenced but quite uncommon. (ii) relationship name from Middle English Mod(de), Mud(de), pet forms of Old English or Continental Germanic male personal names beginning in Mōd-, though these were also rare. Compare the Old English male name Mōding, attested in Modingus, Modinc, 1066 in Domesday Book (Beds, Essex), and in Hugh Moding', 1275 in Subsidy Rolls (Worcs). The surname of William Modbert, 1274 in Hundred Rolls (Shrops), could be from a reflex of Old English Mōdbeorht or its Continental Germanic (and Old French) equivalent Modbert. This last, like other male Continental Germanic names in Mod- such as Modhard and Modwin, may have had a pet form **Moddo*, appearing in Anglo-Norman and Middle English usage as Mod(de) and Mud(de).

Early bearers: given names: Modde, 14th cent. in Sheffield Jackson Catalogue (WR Yorks).

surnames: Hugo Mud, 1205 in Pipe Rolls (Suffolk); Cristofor Mod, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Thomas Modde, 1379 in Poll Tax (Bodham, Norfolk); Robertus Mud, 1381 in Poll Tax (Barrow, Suffolk); Alice Mudd, 1561, John Mud, 1563 in IGI (Semer, Suffolk); Kyrchin Mudde, 1566 in IGI (Sandringham, Norfolk); Anne Mudd, 1568 in IGI (Pickhill, NR Yorks); Anne Mud, 1578, Mareye Modde, 1582, Susan Mudd, 1589, Elizabeth Mudde, 1592 in IGI (Skidbrooke cum Saltfleet Haven, Lincs); Robert Modd, 1597 in IGI (Billingborough, Lincs); Richard Mud, 1602 in IGI (York); Richard Mudd, 1606 in IGI (Pocklington, ER Yorks); Frances Mudde, 1609 in IGI (Witton Gilbert, Durham); Widow Mud alias Mutt, 1625 in The East Anglian (NS) ii (Suffolk).

Muddle

- Current frequencies: GB 220, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 295
- Main GB location 1881: Sussex

English: unexplained. The early forms cited here suggest that it is unlikely to be a nickname from the English word muddle (originally a verb, first reliably recorded in English at the end of the 16th century, most probably a borrowing from Dutch).

Further information: There is no basis for the suggestion in Surnames of Sussex (p. 401) that Le Model is 'probably a form of "Middle" . . . with the meaning either of someone who was middling in terms of size, or of someone who was the middle one of three siblings'.

Early bearers: Willmo Mudel, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Willmo le Model, 1327, Rogo le Model, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Fletching, Sussex); Thomas Model, 1349 in Patent Rolls (Kent); Nicholas Moodell, 1547 in Lewes Wills (Waldron, Sussex); Robert Moddell, 1548 in IGI (Harrietsham, Kent); Henry Moddell, 1562 in IGI (Ticehurst, Sussex); Henrici Muddle, 1569 in IGI (Wouldham, Kent); Jone Moodell, 1571 in IGI (Rye, Sussex); Alexander Muddle, 1584 in IGI (Buxted, Sussex); Robert Muddel, 1594 in IGI (Lenham, Kent).

- Main Irish location 1847–64: Mayo

Irish: from Ó Maoilchróin 'descendant of Maolchrón', a personal name meaning 'swarthy youth'. This is originally a Mayo surname.

Further information: (The Irish word maol 'bald, shorn, tonsured' seems to have developed from a word meaning 'young man, servant', although it was sometimes later confused, as a prefix, with mal meaning 'chief', and was so translated by Woulfe).

Early bearers: Gilleduff mcDonogh O Mulcreane, 1584 in Fiants Elizabeth §4329 (Kilkenny); Patrick Mulchrone, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Drum, Mayo).

- GB frequency 1881: 0
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Mayo

Irish: from Ó Maoildeirg, ‘descendant of Maoildeirg’, a personal name meaning ‘red youth’. For this reason Reddington, Reid, and Rutledge were sometimes adopted as anglicized forms. However it appears that Mulderrig began as a re-interpreted variant of Ó Maoilgheiric, ‘descendant of the devotee of (Saint) Cyriacus’, a Donegal surname. Saint Cyriacus was the finder of Christ’s cross, according to the Martyrology of Oengus (May 12). Early bearers: Mael Isu H. Mael Ghiric, chief poet of Ireland, 1088 in AU; Connor O’Molgeirge, 1591 in Fiants Elizabeth §5603 (Rusk, Monaghan), Cuconnaght O’Mulgherick, 1602 in Fiants Elizabeth §6655 (Inishowen, Donegal); John Mulderg, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Killaghtee, Donegal); James Mulderig, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Killaspugbrone, Sligo).

English: (i) relationship name from the Middle English personal name Mund(e), in many cases representing Old English **Munda*, a pet form of names like Eadmund (Middle English Edmund, common in East Anglia). In northern and eastern England the equivalent Old Scandinavian Mundi (a pet form of names like Agmundr) would also have given rise to Middle English Mund(e). The name may sometimes have been freshly created in post-Conquest England as a pet form of names like Hamond and Simond, where excrescent -d has been added to Old French Hamon and the Biblical name Simon. See further under Edmond, Mundy, Hammond, and Simmonds. Compare Munson. (ii) sometimes perhaps a variant of Munn with excrescent -d.

1 English: (i) relationship name from the Middle English personal name Mundi, Mundy, which is probably most often a combination of Mund + the diminutive suffix -y, a pet form of male personal names ending in -mund or -mond. Compare Edmond, Hammond, and Simmonds. Post-medieval forms of the surname have probably been confused with Monday, the day of the week, which is another source of the surname. See (2). (ii) as in other parts of northern and eastern England, in Lincs the name might alternatively derive from Old Scandinavian Mundi, a pet form of names like Old Scandinavian Agmundr, Middle English Agemund, which is well recorded in 12th-century Lincs (Fellows Jensen, Scand. Personal Names, pp. 2–3). The final -i in this name is not the diminutive suffix -y but the nominative case ending of the weak declension of Old Scandinavian names, and which is sometimes preserved in Middle English. See also Nundy.

Early bearers: Richard Mundi, 1239 in Ramsey Cartulary (Norfolk); Thomas Mundi, 1291 in Assize Rolls (Cheshire); John Mundy, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Walter Mundy, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Yorks); Johannes Mundy, 1377 in Poll Tax (Horkstow, Lincs); Willelmus Mundy, 1377 in Poll Tax (West Chevington, Northumb); Johanne Mundy, 1379 in Poll Tax (Kilpin, ER Yorks); John Mundy, 1448 in Place-Names of Surrey (Surrey); Agnes Mundy, 1569 in IGI (Barton upon Humber, Lincs). References: Place-Names of Surrey, p. 280.

2 English: nickname from Middle English Mone(n)day 'Monday'. It is possibly a name given to one born on that day or to a holder of Mondayland, land held on condition of working for the lord on Mondays. Compare Friday and Johanne Saturday, 1381 in Poll Tax (Oxford, Oxon). Modern versions of this surname have been much confused with (1) above, and the post-medieval examples below may alternatively belong there.

Early bearers: Symon Moneday, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Hunts); William Monday, 1317 in Assize Rolls (Kent); John Moneday, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); Thom. Moneday, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Lincs); Johannes Monday, 1379 in Poll Tax (Kingston by Sea, Sussex); Appolonia Monday, 1540 in IGI (Exeter, Devon); Johannes Munday, 1570 in IGI (Hughenden, Bucks); Wyllyam Munday, 1620 in IGI (Worlaby by Brigg, Lincs).

  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Down and Antrim
- Scottish Gaelic: anglicized form adopted to represent any of three similar Gaelic personal names and surnames derived from them, in different periods and districts. The names are Muireadhach ‘mariner’, Murchadh ‘sea-warrior’, and Muircheartach ‘sea-ruler’, the first element in each being muir ‘sea’. All three also have typical Gaelic patronymic surnames derived from them: for Mac Mhuireadhaich ‘son of Muireadhach’ see McCurrach, for Mac Murchaidh ‘son of Murchadh’ see McMurchie, for Mac Mhuirheartaich ‘son of Muircheartach’ see McKirdy. Muireadhach, cognate with Old Welsh Mordoc, was early Latinized as Muredachus, but both it and Murchadh are now anglicized Murdo in Scotland, giving rise to the surname McMurdo. Only Muircheartach has an internal stop in the Gaelic pronunciation: compare the Irish anglicized form Murtagh. The final fricative makes Murdoch look like the nominative case. Variants with a final -ie or -y may be reduced forms of McMurdie.
- Further information: This name was introduced into Yorks by Norsemen from Ireland as early as the 10th century.
- Early bearers: Scotland: Geoffrey Murdoch, 1127–28 in David I Charters; John Murthoc, 1296 in Scotland Calendar; Thomas Murdoch, 1535 in Exchequer Rolls of Scotland (Kirkcudbright); James Murdoch, 1584 in Exchequer Rolls of Scotland (Edinburgh, Midlothian). Musk

• Current frequencies: GB 654, Ireland 2
 • GB frequency 1881: 687
 • Main GB location 1881: E Anglia; esp. Suffolk
 English: (i) variant of Must. (ii) nickname, possibly sometimes from Middle English muske ‘musk’ (Old French musc). As well as denoting the fragrant secretion from the oriental musk deer (used as perfume and in medicines), the word was sometimes applied to the sap of tree and other plants.

Further information: A surname Musk is found in the Netherlands. It is known that the Santa Catarina was attacked and plundered by the Dutch admiral Jakob van Heemskerck off the coast of Singapore in 1603; this Portuguese carrack had on board a reputed several hundred ounces of musk. The surname may therefore have arisen in Holland through the East Indies trade and migrated to E Anglia; if so the first instance is remarkably, but not impossibly, early.

Early bearers: Alys Muske, 1561 in IGI (Cherry Hinton, Cambs); Nicholas Musk, 1567 in IGI (Ingham, Suffolk); John Muske Or Must, 1604 in IGI (Fulbourn, Cambs); Robertus Musk, 1707 in IGI (Attleborough, Norfolk).

1 Korean: (남; Chinese character: 南, meaning 'south'.) This name is borne by descendants of the 8th-century Chinese diplomat Nam Min (南敏), whose original name was Kim Ch'ung (金忠). Kim Ch'ung was an emissary from Tang China on his way back to China from Japan in AD 755 when his ship was caught in a typhoon. He drifted at sea for some time before eventually landing on the shores of Korea. The Shilla king Kyōngdōk offered to send a message about Kim's whereabouts to Tang China, but Kim asked to stay in Korea and was granted lands what is now Yōngyang County of Kyōngsang North Province. King Kyōngdōk gave him a new surname, Nam (南), because he was travelling from the south. Seven generations later, Nam Min's descendant General Nam Chin-yong (南鎮勇) had three sons, each of whom started a separate clan. The eldest, Nam Hong-bo (南洪甫) founded the Yōngyang clan, the second, Nam Kun-bo (南君甫), founded the Ūiryōng clan, and the youngest, Nam Kwang-bo (南匡甫), founded the Kosōng clan.

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname Nan (Nan in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'south' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal name Nan Zhong (南仲), an official during the reign of Zhou Xuan Wang (reigned 827–782 BC). (ii) from Nan (南), the name of an ancient Chinese state. The state was split into two as a result of power struggles during the middle Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). One part was located in present-day Nanyang in Henan province and annexed by the state of Xie during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC); the other was located in present-day Jingzhou in Hubei province and annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) from the second element of Zi Nan (子南), the style name of Ying, son of king Wei Ling Gong (died 493 BC) in the state of Wei. (iv) from the second element of Zi Nan (子南), the style name of Zhui Shu, son of the king Chu Zhuang Wang (died 591 BC) in the state of Chu. (v) from the place-name Nan Xiang (南鄉), where Gao Shi, a celebrated hermit in the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), lived. (vi) borne by some descendants of the nobles in the state of Lu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Chinese: Teochew, Hokkien, and Taiwanese form of the Chinese surname 藍, see Lam (1). The dialects in which this form is found are spoken in E Guangdong, Fujian and Taiwan, from where some people migrated to Singapore, Thailand, Malaysia, and elsewhere in SE Asia.

4 Vietnamese: probably representing the Chinese surname 南 (Nan in Mandarin pinyin, Nam in Cantonese), meaning 'south'.

- Current frequencies: GB 275, Ireland 286
  - GB frequency 1881: 76
  - Main GB location 1881: Lancs
  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Sligo
- Irish: locative name from Angle (Pembrokes, Wales), which is recorded as Angulo in 1291, le Angle in 1272–1301, and le Nangle in 1325. The initial N-results from misdivision of the Middle English preposition phrase atten angle 'at the angle'. Compare Angle. The surname has been gaelicized in Ireland as de Nógla. There has also been considerable confusion with Nagle (Mac an Óglaigh).
Further information: This is now established as an Irish rather than a Welsh or English name. It was brought to Ireland by Normans from Pembrokes in the 12th century.
Early bearers: Ireland: Gilbert de Angulo, 1199 in CDI §110; Richard le Nongle, 1292 in CDI §1077; Alan de Nongle, 1299 in CDI §551 (Odonwys); Richard Nangle, 1564 in Fiants Elizabeth §605 (Ballacorky); William Nangle, 1564 in Fiants Elizabeth §605 (Scottiston); George Nangle, 1583 in Fiants Elizabeth §4256 (Cahirdowgan); Peter Nangle, sheriff of Westmeath, 1583 in Fiants Elizabeth §4288 (Bishoppestowne).

  - GB frequency 1881: 2362
  - Main GB location 1881: Lanarks and Midlothian; Angus and Aberdeens
  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Down
- English, Scottish: (i) occupational name from Old French napier, nappier, **nap(p)er(er)* 'one who looks after the napery or table-linen', a derivative of Old French nappe 'tablecloth, napkin'. Compare Walter de la Naperye, 1268 in Patent Rolls. In Middle English, Napier and Nap(p)er might also have denoted a maker of tablecloths, though this sense has not been recorded. (ii) occupational name; alternatively Nap(p)er is from an unrecorded Middle English word for one who makes naps, i.e. drinking cups or chalices (Middle English nap, Old English hnaep). (iii) nickname; Napper could also represent Middle English nappere 'one who sleeps or naps', though this is the least likely of the alternatives.
Further information: The name has been established in Ireland since medieval times, and became prominent with additional settlers from the west of England in the 17th century.
Early bearers: England: Peter Napier, 1148 in Winton Domesday (Hants); Ralph Naper, 1167, Ralph le Napier, 1168, Ralph le Naper, 1171 in Pipe Rolls (Essex); Reginald le Nappere, 1225 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); William le Naper, 1294 in Subsidy Rolls (Herts); Reginald Napper, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Stedham, Sussex); Roger le Nappar', 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Racton, Sussex); Johannes Nappare, 1379 in Poll Tax (Aldingbourne, Sussex); Peter Napper, 1449

- Main GB location 1881: Suffolk

1 English: locative name from Naunton Hall in Rendlesham (Suffolk). Some of the bearers cited here may belong to (2).

Further information: There is no evidence to suggest that the surname derives from Naunton (Gloucs, Worcs) or Naunton Beauchamp (Worcs).

Early bearers: Hugh de Naunton, 1321 in Ipswich Recognizance Rolls (Suffolk); Hugh de Naunton, 1326 in Feet of Fines (Essex); Bartholomew Naunton, knight, 1371 in Feet of Fines (Suffolk); Johanna Naunton, 1381 in Poll Tax (Buxhall, Suffolk); Wyllyam Naunton, 1461, Wyll Naunton, 1465 in Paston Letters (E Anglia); William Naunton, 1613 in IGI (Letheringham, Suffolk); Robert Nanton, 1687 in IGI (Marlesford, Suffolk); Jonas Naunton, 1718 in IGI (Parham, Suffolk); William Nanton, 1739 in IGI (Deal, Kent); Margaret Nanton, 1817 in IGI (Campsea Ash, Suffolk); Michael Nanton, 1834 in IGI (Winche, Cheshire).

2 English: locative name apparently also from Naughton (Suffolk), which is recorded as Nawelton in about 1150. The place-name may derive from the Old Scandinavian personal name Nagli + Old English tūn 'farmstead, settlement'. The 1327 bearer cited below points to assimilation of n-l-n to n-n-n in the surname.

Early bearers: Thomas de Naelton, canon of Saint Peter's, 1252 in Patent Rolls (Ipswich, Suffolk); Hugh de Nawelton, Hugh de Nawenton, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk).

Norman, English: (i) relationship name from the Old French, Anglo-Norman French, and Middle English personal name Neel, Nele, Nihel, Niel (Latin Nigellus), a name very common among Normans at the time of the Conquest and thereafter. There has been considerable confusion with the Irish and Gaelic name Niall (see Neill); the two names are now pronounced identically. (ii) alternatively from the Middle English personal name Nele, a variant of Nell as a pet form of Elias (Ellis). Compare Nelson, Neilson.

Further information: Nigellus is a diminutive form of Latin niger ‘black’, and was originally a nickname for someone with black hair or a dark complexion. It was a common Latin cognomen and is probably the main or only source of Old French N(i)el(e); see Feilützen, Winton, p. 166. It is theoretically possible that in Normandy, where the personal name was exceptionally popular, it was also used for Old Scandinavian Njáll, but this is difficult to prove. Njáll was adopted from the Irish Gaelic personal name Niall (see O’Neill) by Vikings in Ireland, who took it back to Iceland and Norway, but whether, Withycombe and Reaney and Wilson assert, Vikings also took Njáll to Normandy and to NW England, is an open question, which cannot be settled on the available evidence.

Early bearers: given names: Neel, about 1175 in Newark Documents (Newark, Notts); Neel, 1170–82 in Yorks

Norman: unexplained; apparently from Old French negoice, negoce 'affairs, business'. The oldest records do not seem to support this strongly, but note that Anglo-Norman negligence is often recorded with spellings having a c, such as nec(c)ligence, necgligence.

Further information: The change of vowel from short i to long e in Nekous and Ne(a)gus is similar to that in Dick becoming Deek and Deak. Voicing of /k/ to /g/ is not uncommon between vowels but in the modern form of this name it may have been encouraged by false association with the word Negus, a word meaning 'emperor of Ethiopia', which appears first in 1594 and 1613 in East Anglian authors as neguz (OED).

Early bearers: Johanne Nekous, 1379 in Poll Tax (Dean, Beds); Adam Nekeys, 1379 in Poll Tax (Strumpshaw with Braydeston, Norfolk); John Negus, 1522, Thomas Negaus, 1530 in Beds Wills (Probate) (Beds); Wm.   - Main GB location 1881: scattered: esp. WR Yorks
- English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Nelle. This may sometimes have been a variant of Nele (Nigellus, see Neal), but it was probably more often a pet form of the commoner name Elias (see Ellis) with a prosthetic N-.
- Further information: Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames notes in the Wakefield Court Rolls Elias or Nelle the milner (1297–1307 in Sowerby) and Elias or Nelle the walker (1303–7 in Halifax). The names were almost certainly confused, and Nele may also sometimes represent Elias.

Early bearers: given names: Nelle de Wynter, de Soureby, 1274 in Wakefield Court Rolls (WR Yorks); Nell' de Hege, 1379 in Poll Tax (Settle, WR Yorks).
surnames: Henry Nelle, 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts (Rutland); Hugo Nelle, 1377 in Poll Tax (Whiston, WR Yorks); Stephano Nell', 1379 in Poll Tax (Tangmere, Sussex); Petrus Nelle, 1379 in Poll Tax (West Harling, Norfolk); Richard Nell', 1455 in Feet of Fines (Leics); Bennet Nell, 1538 in IGI (Sandwich, Kent); Willm Nell, 1548 in IGI (Thurgarton, Norfolk); Maria Nell, 1641 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks).

  - GB frequency 1881: 143
  - Main GB location 1881: NR Yorks, Northumb, and Durham
  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Ulster
- 1 English: of uncertain origin. Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames, noting John Nellis alias Ellis, 1622 in York Registry Wills (Buttercrambe, NR Yorks), suggests that Nellis has been confused with Ellis rather than that it is a genuine variant. Nevertheless, a derivation from Middle English **Nellis*, an unrecorded rhyming pet form of Ellis, is not impossible. Alternatively it might be variant of Neels, though this name is rarely recorded in NE England; compare Elizabeth Neles, 1580 in IGI (Durham, Durham), and Ralph Neales, 1699 in IGI (Bishopwearmouth, Durham). Redmonds draws attention to the place-name Nealhouse in Thursby (Cumb), which gave rise to a surname Nelehou, recorded in 1391 (Place-Names of Cumb, p. 155), but finds no evidence to relate it to the NR Yorks name. All these potential explanations assume that the final -t in Nellist is excrescent, and not original to the name, but it is regularly in the earliest spellings and may be intrinsic to the true etymology.

Early bearers: Peter Nellest, 1540 in York Registry Wills (Danby, NR Yorks); Petri Nellest, 1598, Mary Nellist, 1654 in IGI (Danby by Egton, NR Yorks); Gulielmus Nellice, 1605, Thomas Nellis, 1708 in IGI (Hinderwell, NR Yorks); Else Nellist, 1655 in IGI (Whitby, NR Yorks); Richard Nellis, 1687 in IGI (Sutton upon Derwent, ER Yorks); Hannah Nelas, 1731 in IGI (Tweedmouth, Northumb); Samuel Nelles, 1780 in IGI (South Shields, Durham).

2 Irish: reduced form of Mac Niallghuis, see McNelis, Nelis. This is not the source of the NR Yorks name.

Early bearers: Bernard Nellis, born in Ireland, in Census 1841, Scotland (Airdrie, Lanarks).

English: relationship name ‘son of Nell or Nele’, either of which might be a pet form of Elias or less commonly of Niel (Nigellus). See Nell, Neal.

Further information: It is possible that the father of Elias Neleson’, 1379 in Poll Tax (Settle, WR Yorks) was also named Elias, of which Nele was a pet form.

Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames notes that Anabilla relicta Nigelli, 1379 in Poll Tax (Ilkley, WR Yorks) may have been the mother of Johannes Neleson’, 1379 in Poll Tax (Ilkley, WR Yorks).

Nembhard

- Current frequencies: GB 414, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 0

German: from the German surname Nembhardt (with variant spellings), analysed by Bahlow as an ancient nickname from Middle High German nemhart ' (person who) likes to take', i.e. 'greedy, grasping'.

Further information: The 19th-century censuses contain a small number of Nembhards or Nembherds stated to have been born in a wide range of places 'outside London', in England, Ireland, France, Jamaica, India (but not Germany). The Hon. Ballard B. Nembhard was an attorney at law in Jamaica in the late 1780s. An English patent of naturalization had been granted in 1745 to his father, Dr John Nembhard of Saint Mary, Jamaica, 'an alien born', and it is locally suspected that he came from the Dutch island of Sint Eustatius. He called his new estate Koningsburgh, but the family historian Mabel Nembhard was unable to find a German connection, stating that '[t]radition points to a Dutch origin'; the estate name presumably commemorates a Dutch 'king's castle' (e.g. that in Rotterdam). The first Nembhard in Britain, according to the pedigree established by Mabel, was John's widow (born Ann Peyton Hamilton), who 'removed to London about 1799 and lived in Beaumont Street, Marylebone'. The modern upsurge in numbers is most likely due to immigration from Jamaica.

Early bearers: Eliza Nembhard, in Census 1841, born 'outside London'.

References: Nembhard, Mabel (undated), Nembhard of Jamaica. Privately published. Reports relating to the West Indies (1826) Vol. 24: Two Reports of the Commissioners of Inquiry into the Administration of Civil and Criminal Justice in the West Indies, preserved in the Bodleian Library, Oxford.

Nendick

- Current frequencies: GB 145, Ireland 5
- GB frequency 1881: 89
- Main GB location 1881: NR Yorks; also ER Yorks

English: locative name from Navendyk, the name of a medieval watercourse and sheep pasture near Hull Bank in Cottingham (ER Yorks). The place-name appears to derive from the Old Scandinavian personal name Nafni + Old Scandinavian dik 'ditch'. The migration of the family name from Cottingham to Kirkby Moorside (NR Yorks) may owe something to the fact that both manors were the property of the same lordship.

Early bearers: Henricus, Johannes, Willelmus Nauendyk, Robertus Nanedyk, Willelmus Nandyk, 1381 in Poll Tax (Cottingham, ER Yorks); William Naundike, 1454, Richard Nendyk jr of Hull Bank, 1506, John Nendyke, 1533 in York Registry Wills (Cottingham, ER Yorks); Thomas Nandyke, 1556 in York Registry Wills (Kirkby Moorside, NR Yorks); Jane Nandicke, 1591 in IGI (Great Edstone, NR Yorks); George Nendick, 1693 in IGI (Old Malton, NR Yorks).

Neophytou

- Current frequencies: GB 319, Ireland 2
- GB frequency 1881: 0

Greek (typically Cypriot): status name, relationship name from the old genitive case of the term neóphytos 'new convert', which was also used as a personal name.

Further information: Neophytos the Recluse was a hermit who lived in a cave near Paphos in the late 12th century and who is the subject of a local cult. Many people from the area of Paphos are called Neophytos.

Nephew

English: relationship name from Middle English neveuw, nefew 'nephew' (Old French neveu). Compare Neave.

Further information: Pronunciation with /v/ was formerly normal; pronunciation with /f/ is usually an innovation dependent on the modern spelling, which is an attempt to restore a connection with Latin nepos 'grandchild, nephew, descendant', which is the source of the French word.

Early bearers: Thomas le Neveu, 1225 in Patent Rolls; Thomas le Neveu, 1268 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); John Neveu, 1274 in Hundred Rolls (Norfolk); Johannes Neveu, 1381 in Poll Tax (Rugeley, Staffs); Henrico Neveue, 1381 in Poll Tax (Lichfield, Staffs); Henry Nevowe, 1430 in Feet of Fines (Warwicks); Robert Neveu, 1636, Judeth Nephew, 1663 in IGI (Dover, Kent).

English, Scottish: locative name from Nesbit, part of Nesbit and Thorpe Bulmer (Durham), Nesbit in Doddington or Nesbitt in Stamfordham (both Northumb), or Nesbit in Edrom (Berwicks). All of these place-names appear to derive from Old English **nēs* or **nesu* 'nose', in the sense 'promontory' or 'a projecting piece of land in the bend of a river', + Old English byht 'bend, curve (in a river)'.

Further information: This surname has been established in Ireland since the early 17th century. According to History of the family of Nisbet or Nesbitt in Scotland and Ireland by Alexander Nesbitt (1898), an Andrew Nesbitt was granted land in Kilmacredon and Dromeany, Donegal, some time prior to 1641.

Early bearers: England: William de Nesebite, about 1250 in Durham Priory Fees (Durham); John de Nesebit, 1333, John de Nesbit, 1340, Nicholas de Nesbyt, 1345 in Patent Rolls (Hartlepool, Durham); Thoma Naisby, 1662 in IGI (Norton, Durham); Eleanor Nezbit, 1666

1 Scottish Gaelic: relationship name from the Gaelic personal name Ness, itself possibly from Old Irish ness ‘weasel’.

Early bearers: given names: Nesse, about 1093–1107 in Black (Abernethy, Perth); Nessius filius Willelmi Lineth, 1153–65 in Black (Perth, Perth); Nesus or Nesyus filius Willelmi, 1178–1200 in Black (Fife); Nes Fraser, 1259 in Black (Peebles).
surnames: Mathew filius Nesse, 1260 in Saint Andrews Charters (Fife); Thomas Ness, 1450 in Brechin Register (Brechin, Angus); Thomas Ness, 1621, Beatrix Nesse, 1657 in IGI (Ceres, Fife); James Ness, 1632 in IGI (Edinburgh, Midlothian).

2 English: locative name probably from East and West Ness near Hovingham (NR Yorks), or perhaps from Ness near Pickhill (NR Yorks), all recorded as Nesse from the 11th–14th centuries. The place-names derive from Old English næss or Old Scandinavian nes ‘promontory, headland’.

Early bearers: Robert de Nesse, 1177 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks); William de Nesse, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Kirkby Moorside, NR Yorks); Richard de Nesse, 1368 in York Freeman’s Register; Johannes de Nesse, 1377 in Poll Tax (Nunnington, NR Yorks); James Nesse, 1573 in IGI (New Malton, NR Yorks).
References: Place-Names of NR Yorks, pp. 51, 225; Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames.

3 English: locative name for someone who lived by a headland, Middle English nes(se), nasse (Old English næss), or who came from a place named with this word, such as Ness (Cheshire) and the places mentioned in (2).

Further information: Walter on Thenesse, 1315 in Patent Rolls, was accused with other men of Norfolk and Kent of stealing shipwrecked goods off the coast of Norfolk. He may be identical with Walter ate Nesse or ate Neysse, 1317 in Assize Rolls (Kent) but the last form of the name points to a misdivision of atten Eyshe or atten Esse ‘at the ash tree’ (see Nash). Similarly other examples of atte Nesse and atte Nass(e) may alternatively belong with Nash.

Early bearers: William de Nes, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Suffolk); Agnes ate Nass, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); John atte Nasse, 1330 in Place-Names of Devon (lived at Noss Point in Brixham, Devon); John Nesse, chaplain, 1369 in Feet of Fines (Northants); Johannes del Nesse, 1379 in Poll Tax (Carlton, WR Yorks); Cecillia Nesse, 1379 in Poll Tax (Harthill, WR Yorks); Willelmus de Nesse, 1381 in Poll Tax (Wyle Cop, Shrops); Alicia de Nesse, 1381 in Poll Tax (Shrops); Jhon Nosse, 1543 in IGI (Bampton, Oxon); An Nesse, 1563, Margery Nosse, 1578 in IGI (Great Yarmouth, Norfolk); Ann Noss, 1627, Nicholas Nosse, 1629 in IGI (Donnington, Sussex); John Ness, 1629, John Noss, 1669 in IGI (Shrewsbury, Shrops).

Nettleingham

Variants: Nettlingham

- Current frequencies: GB 113, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 48
- Main GB location 1881: Kent

English: locative name; no place-name of this form is known, so it is apparently from Nettleham (Lincs), which is recorded as Netelham in 1086. The place-name derives from Old English netel(e) 'nettle' + hām 'homestead'. However, no spellings with -ing- are found in the record of this place-name.

Further information: The surname Nettleham existed formerly, mainly in Lincs and Rutland, but seems to have died out by 1800. Nettleingham, which appears in post-medieval times, may be an aberrant local south-eastern development of it, though a source in a lost place-name in SE England cannot be ruled out.

Early bearers: forms with -ing-: Richard Netlingam, 1546 in IGI (Merstham, Surrey); Sicelie Nettlingham, 1573 in IGI (Bexley, Kent); John Netlingam, 1580, Ann Netlingame, 1615, Margaret Nettlingham, 1621 in IGI (Dartford, Kent); Richard Netlingam, 1591 in IGI (East Grinstead, Sussex); Elizabeth Netlingham, 1604, Nickloes Netlingame, 1624, James Nettleingham, 1769 in IGI (Shorne, Kent); Giles Netlingham, 1608 in IGI (Worth, Sussex); Benjamin Netlingham, 1635 in PROB 11 (Wandsworth, Surrey). forms without -i-: Edward Nettingham, 1665 in IGI (Bletchingley, Surrey); Wm. Nettingham, 1814 in IGI (Gravesend, Kent).

forms without -ing-: Robert de Netelham, 1263 in Patent Rolls (Rutland); William de Nettigham, 1363 in Patent Rolls (Kelby, Lincs); Waltero Nettelham, 1381 in Poll Tax (Oxford, Oxon); John de Nettelham, 1390 in Patent Rolls (Lincs); John Netleham, 1567 in PROB 11 (Ryhall, Rutland); Elizabeth Nettelam, 1585 in PROB 11 (Tinwell, Rutland); Faith Nettleham, 1610, John Netlom, 1617 in IGI (Kingerby, Lincs); Jerome Netlam, 1645 in PROB 11 (Saint George Southwark, Surrey); James Nettlem, 1764 in IGI (Stallingborough, Lincs).

Nettleship

- Current frequencies: GB 563, Ireland 15
- GB frequency 1881: 378
- Main GB location 1881: WR Yorks and Notts

English: of uncertain origin. It looks like an unrecorded Middle English **nedeles-ship* 'extravagance, vanity', from nedeles 'extravagant, unnecessary', influenced early by nettle 'nettle'; compare Middle English cruelship ‘coarseness’, feintship ‘weakness’, and in surnames, Goodship, Holdship. But no early medieval bearers have been found, and an alternative possibility is that it is a re-etymologized form of the now extinct Nettleworth, with -ship substituted for -worth. This would be from the the north Notts place-name Nettleworth, attested in Alanus de Nettelworth, 1287 in Sherwood Forest Eyre; John de Nettleworth, 1370 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Notts); Will'i de Nettelworth, 1375 in Mansfield Rentals (Edwinstowe, Notts); Rogerus Nettelworth of Chesterfield (Derbys), 1395–6 in Nottingham Borough Records.

Early bearers: William, son of John Netilship, 1433–72 in TNA (Newland, Yorks); Mary Nettleship, 1547 in IGI (Canterbury, Kent); Richard Nettleship, 1560 in York Registry Wills (South Leverton, Notts); Roger Nettleship, 1589 in Parish Registers (Rothwell, WR Yorks); John Nettleship, 1627 in IGI (Lea, Lincs); Marye Nettleship, 1633 in IGI (Sturton le Steeple, Notts); John Nettleship, 1662 in IGI (South Carlton, Lincs); Rich. English: (i) locative name from Newburn (Northumb), which is recorded as Nyweburne in about 1175 and Nieweburc in 1281. Early forms suggest variation between Old English burna 'spring, stream' and burh 'fortified place', though burh is perhaps more likely to be behind the original place-name, as it seems more appropriate with the initial element, Old English niwe 'new'. However, see (ii) below. (ii) locative name from Newbourn (Suffolk), which is recorded as Neubrunna in 1086 and Neuburne in 1291. The place-name derives from Old English niwe 'new' + burna 'spring, stream' with influence from the cognate Old Scandinavian brunnr. (iii) locative name perhaps also from an unidentified place with a similar name, given the locations of the 1296 and 1317 early bearers below. Early bearers: Roger atte Neweburn, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Sussex); William de Newburn, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Morpeth, Northumb); Thomas ate Nyburne, 1317 in Assize Rolls (Cranbrook, Kent); Roger de Neuburne, 1339 in Feet of Fines (Morpeth, Northumb); Lewys Newborn, 1603 in IGI (Castle Camps, Cambs); Hen Newborn, 1604 in IGI (Haxey, Lincs); Elizabeth Newborn, 1613, William Neburne, 1618, John Nubune, John Newbune, 1623 in Assize Rolls (Surrey); Richard Newborne, 1641 in Somerset Petition (Somerset); Samuel Newburn, 1663 in IGI (Ely, Cambs).

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 倪 (Ni in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'boundary' or 'infants' in ancient Chinese: adopted in order to escape from a feud in place of the Chinese surname 鄒, which is also pronounced Ni. The original surname was from Ni (郟), the name of an ancient state, also called Little Zhu (located in Shandong province), granted to the son of Zhu Wu Gong (died 796 BC). After it was annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), the name of the state was adopted as a surname.

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 艾 (Ai in Mandarin pinyin), referring to ‘Chinese mugwort’, a type of plant used in traditional Chinese medical treatment: (i) perhaps from the second element of Ru Ai (汝艾), name of an official who lived at the time of the emperor Shao Kang (reigned 1940–1880 BC). (ii) from the first element of the place-name Ai Ling (艾陵), the name of a hill (located in Shandong province), the fief of Ai Kong (艾孔), an official in the state of Qi during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) from the place-name Ai (艾), the name of a fief (located in Jiangxi province) which was granted to an official in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) adopted as a surname by the Qu Jin, Qu Ai (去艾), and Ai Jin (艾斤) families from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (v) from Ai (艾), the name of an ancient state (possibly in present-day Jiangxi province) during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC).

3 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 蟻 (Yi in Mandarin pinyin), literally meaning ‘ants’ in Chinese, whose origin is unexplained. It is possibly from another surname E (蛾, meaning ‘moth’ in Chinese), which may be derived from E Xi (蛾析), the personal name of an official in the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

- GB frequency 1881: 0

Vietnamese (Nguyễn): Nguyễn, a family name of uncertain meaning, used by people of Vietnamese origin like a western surname.

Further information: This name is borne by about 35% of all Vietnamese. It was the name of the dynasty that ruled Vietnam till 1945, and was adopted by other families over the centuries. It is widely considered to be of Chinese origin, Nguyễn being the Vietnamese representation of the Chinese surname 阮, which is anglicized as Ruan in Mandarin, Yuen in Cantonese, and Nyoe in Wu Chinese. However Diệp Đình Hoa has suggested that it may be a locative name, to be associated with Vietnamese nguồn, ngòi ‘spring, canal, small river’.

• Main GB location 1881: Lancs; Glasgow

• Main Irish location 1847–64: Down; Monaghan Scottish, Irish: unexplained; seems to be formally the same as the Scots word niblick, denoting a type of wooden golf-club, itself of unknown origin. The surname spellings suggest a possible origin involving the Gaelic suffix -ach.

Further information: Its similarity of appearance to the modern Scots word niblick, niblock (a golf-club with a small, round, heavy head) is fortuitous. Dictionary of the Scots Language suggests that this word (not recorded before 1857) may be a diminutive of Scots nib ‘beak, nose’.
