- Current frequencies: GB 957, Ireland 3
  - GB frequency 1881: 877
  - Main GB location 1881: Cornwall and Devon
- English: unexplained.

Further information: A nickname from an unrecorded Cornish **kest* 'paunch, receptacle', cognate with Welsh cest 'belly, paunch; basket, pannier' and Breton kest 'beehive', is a formal possibility but a Cornish-language nickname is improbable in east Cornwall after 1200, during the period of surname formation, and the surname's earliest record is in neighbouring Devon, where only English had been spoken for several hundred years. If it is a nickname, it is more likely to be English or Anglo-Norman French in origin but no convincing etymon can be suggested. An alternative possibility is that Keast derives from an unrecorded personal name of obscure origin. Evidence for it, however, is doubtful and only tentatively identified in place-names such as Kersworthy in North Petherwin, Devon (Casteswurth, 1228, Keastesworthi, 1330), and Keason in Saint Ive parish, Cornwall (Kestyngtun, 13th century in a document dated 1348).

English: (i) nickname, apparently from the Middle English reflex of the Old Scandinavian name Keikr (from keikr ‘bent backwards’), or Kekkja. (ii) locative name, if Keek is truly a variant; note Marg’ de Keek, 1381 in Poll Tax (Freiston, Lincs). (iii) nickname, possibly from **keck*, backformed from kex, used through much of S England as the name of a range of umbelliferous plants having a hollow stalk when dried, for instance cow parsley, cow parsnip, and hemlock, as well as teasel (with parallels in Scandinavia).

Early bearers: Walter Kek, 1316 in Assize Rolls (Norfolk); John Keck, 1330 in TNA (Chislet, Kent); John Kek, 1352 in Colchester Court Rolls (Essex); John Keek, 1370 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Gloucs); Hugone Kek, 1379 in Poll Tax (Quorndon, Leics); Johanne Keeck, 1379 in Poll Tax (Wootton Rivers and Easton, Wilts); Thomas Keck, 1583 in IGI (Stratford upon Avon, Warwicks); William Kecke, 1628 in PROB 11 (Newnton, Oxon); Robertus Keck, 1701 in IGI (Winchcombe, Gloucs); John Keck, 1741 in IGI (Moreton in the Marsh, Gloucs); Thomas Keck, 1817 in IGI (Chipping Norton, Oxon).

1 English: nickname from Middle English **kegge*, kigge ‘cheerful, pleasant, agreeable, merry’. Compare ‘Kygge, or ioly: Jocundus, hillaris, vernosus’, about 1440 in Promptorium Parvulorum, an E Anglian English-Latin glossary. Modern East Anglian dialect has kedge ‘brisk, lively’, corresponding to Danish and Norwegian kiæk, Swedish käck ‘bold, brisk’. Some of the following early bearers may alternatively belong under (2) or (3).

Early bearers: Alured Keg’, 1177 in Pipe Rolls (Norfolk); Alexander Kech, 1221 in Cotton Tiberius B ii (Norfolk); William Kigge, 1216–72 in Gilbertine Charters (Lincs); Richard le Keg’, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Wadhurst and Mayfield, Sussex); Elizabeth Ketch, 1551 in IGI (Birtsmorton, Worcs); Robert Ketch, 1564 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); William Kedge, 1576 in IGI (Hedgerley, Bucks); John Ketch, 1594 in IGI (Chesham, Bucks); Francis Ketch, 1623 in IGI (Stepney, Middx); Richard Ketch, 1623 in IGI (Chesterton, Cambs); Nicholas Kedge, 1628 in IGI (West Hatch, Somerset); James Kedge, 1647 in IGI (Kersey, Suffolk); William Ketch, 1648 in IGI (Chippenham, Wilts); John Kedge, 1752 in IGI (South Lynn, Norfolk); Mark Ketch, 1754 in IGI (Stratford upon Avon, Warwicks).

2 English: nickname, perhaps for a pot-bellied person, from an unrecorded Middle English **kegge* ‘belly’. Compare 19th-century dialect kedge ‘stomach’, ‘glutton’.

3 English: see Keech and compare Catch. Early forms of these names are difficult to distinguish from one other.

- Current frequencies: GB 1035, Ireland 2

- GB frequency 1881: 466

- Main GB location 1881: Beds and Northants; Dorset

1 English: nickname for an excessively fat person, from Middle English **cach*, **caiche*, **cage*, **kech*, a word of unknown origin but presumably the antecedent of Modern English dialect keech (variant catch) ‘a lump of congealed fat; the fat of a slaughtered animal rolled up into a lump’ (in preparation for sending to the chandler or tallow maker to make wax). Some of the following early bearers may alternatively belong under Kedge or Cage. Compare Geach.

Further information: The sense is not certainly recorded until the 18th century in OED but is probably implied in Shakespeare’s reference to ‘goodwife Keech the butchers wife’ (Henry IV: 2 ii. i. 96) and to Cardinal Wolsey as ‘a Keech [that] can with his very bulke Take vp the Rayes o’ th’ beneficial Sun, And keepe it from the Earth’ (Henry VIII: i. i. 55). The word is recorded in the 19th-century dialects of Northants, Gloucs, Somerset, and Dorset (English Dialect Dictionary), counties where the Middle English surname also occurs. There is no reason to believe that keech ever denoted a butcher (as Reaney inferred), though it might be a particularly apt nickname for a fat one.

Early bearers: Reginald Keche, 1206 in Curia Regis Rolls (Cambs); Hugo Keche, 1219 in Curia Regis Rolls (Surrey); Godfrey Cacch’, 1225 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Gervase Cage, 1211 in Leicester Freeman Register; Matilda Cage, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cambs); Richard le Kech, 1296 in Subsidy Rolls (Longbridge, Sussex); Margery Cach, 1326 in Subsidy Rolls (Cambs); John Caiche, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Ellington, Hunts); John le Kage, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Great Gransden, Hunts); John Cach, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Lillyngton, Dorset); Robert Kache, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Grimstone, in Stratton, Dorset); Walter Kech, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Alvington, Gloucs); William Kech, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Morton, Gloucs); John Cach, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Rotherfield, Sussex); Stephanus Kech’, 1379 in Poll Tax (Waldon, Somerset); Johannes Kech’, 1381 in Poll Tax (Broadmayne, Dorset); Hugo Keche, 1379 in Poll Tax (Preston Capes, Northants); Johanne Keche, 1381 in Poll Tax (Buckland and Barcote, Berks); John Keech, 1573 in IGI (Calbourne, IoW); George Keach, 1592 in IGI (Burton Latimer, Northants); Roberti Keetch, 1602 in IGI (Saint Albans, Herts); John Keetch, 1615 in IGI (Bishops Cannings, Wilts); Jefferie Catche, 1606, Jeffry Keach, 1615, in IGI (Ely, Cambs); Johis Keech, 1617 in IGI (Beaminster, Dorset); Emanuell Keech, 1637 in IGI (Huntingdon, Hunts); John Keach, 1640 in IGI (Southwark, Surrey); Francis Cache, 1661 in IGI (Yaxley, Hunts); Nicholas Keech, 1674 in IGI (Chard, Somerset); Elizabeth Keach, 1706 in IGI (Sandy, Beds).

English: occupational name, probably from Middle English keler 'keelman, bargeman', an agent derivative of Middle English kele 'flat-bottomed ship, barge, lighter' (from Middle Dutch kiel). The sense would seem to be 'crewman of a keel' rather than 'shipwright'; compare 'seruientes in bargia qui dicuntur kelers', 1332 in MED (Northumb). The surname has not been noted in medieval documents, and the post-medieval bearers show some evidence of confusion with Keller in both Kent and Norfolk. Early bearers: John Keeler, 1564 in IGI (Pampisford, Cambs); Fryset Keeler, 1572, Thomas Keller, 1590 in IGI (Boughton under Bleau, Kent); Richard Keeler, 1592 in IGI (Minster in Sheppey, Kent); Elyzabeth Keeler, 1603 in IGI (Scottow, Norfolk); Johan Keeler, 1620, Martha Keller, 1649 in IGI (North Walsham, Norfolk).

1 English: (i) nickname, relationship name from Middle English keling, kiling (probably of Old Scandinavian origin) ‘young codfish’, perhaps for a fishmonger or for someone with staring eyes. This seems to be borne out by a single example of the surname with the definite article: Richard le Kylynge, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Audley, Staffs), noted in Tooth. Compare Sara Keeling, 1701 in IGI (Audley, Staffs). The surname is found fairly widely across the Midlands and E England, as the examples below illustrate, but as Tooth shows the modern surname is largely Staffs in origin, later migrating into Derbys and WR Yorks (see Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames). Some of the following early bearers in E England may, however, belong with (2). (ii) relationship name from an unrecorded Middle English personal name **Kel(l)ing*, attested only by the place-name Kelleythorpe (ER Yorks), which is recorded as Kelington (1280–90). Smith (Place-Names of ER Yorks, p. 155) suggests it is a derivative (a pet form, perhaps) of Old Scandinavian personal names in Ketil-, such as Ketilbjorn, and presumably Ketill itself (see Kettle), but Ekwall, DEPN, and Fellows Jensen, Yorkshire are probably on firmer ground in supposing it to be a transferred use of the nickname in (i).

Further information: The name has been established in Ireland since the 17th century. It is not to be confused with Irish Keelan.

Early bearers: Ælfrine Celung, about 1095 in Bury Saint Edmunds Documents; Grim Chelyng, 1150–61 in Yorks Charters; Henry Keling, about 1170–80 in Registrum Antiquissimum (Lincs); Morcher Keling, about 1175 in Newark Documents (Notts); Serlo Keling, 1200 in Tooth (Tutbury, Staffs); Rob. ### Kelvin

- Current frequencies: GB 135, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 49
- Main GB location 1881: Glasgow; Northumb

1 Scottish: perhaps a variant of Kelvey (a reduced form of McKelvey), for the two names appear in the same parishes in SW Scotland and IoM; compare Jon Kelvie, 1697 in IGI (Lezayre, IoM); Grisal Kelvie, 1777 in IGI (Greenock, Renfrews). However, the acquisition of additional -n is difficult to explain. It may in fact be a reduced form of McKelvin, for which there is little historical evidence. There is no known connection with the River Kelvin or with the modern settlement of Kelvinside in Glasgow.

Early bearers: Scotland: Margaret Kelvin, 1734 in IGI (Greenock, Renfrews); Janet Kelvin, 1760 in IGI (Glasgow, Lanarks).

IoM: Esther Kelvin, 1743 in IGI (Lezayre, IoM); John Kelvin, 1767 in IGI (Ramsey, IoM).

2 English: unexplained.

- Current frequencies: GB 645, Ireland 16
- GB frequency 1881: 591
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs; also Cheshire

English: (i) of uncertain origin. It looks like a locative name from Carefoot, near Myerscough (Lancs), but there is an absence of historical forms to prove the antiquity of the place-name, which could be a recent transference from the surname. McKinley, noting that Kerfoot first appears in Lancs in the mid-15th century, suggests that it is a variant (with -foot for -ford) of the now extinct surname Keresford, from Keresforth in Silkestone (WR Yorks), though spellings without -s- are rare and occur only in the 12th and 13th centuries. (ii) alternatively, perhaps a variant of Griffith, according to Redmonds, who cites Jane Griffethe alias Griffotte, 1570, Hugh Griffett alias Kirfoot, 1583 in in York Registry Wills (Kingston on Hull, ER Yorks). Compare Walter Kerfoot, 1663, Ann Griffith, 1681 in IGI (Grappenhall, Cheshire), but these could be unrelated family names, and the apparent identity of Griffett and Kirfoot could have been by confusion of the two names.

Early bearers: Thomas Kirfoot, 1541, Ellen Kerfoot, 1579 in IGI (Nantwich, Cheshire); Thomasin Kerfoote, 1549 in IGI (Croston, Lancs); Alicia Kyrfoote, 1566 in IGI (Runcorn, Cheshire); Gowther Kerfoote, 1565, Gualther Kerford, 1620 in IGI (Winwick, Lancs); John Carefoot, 1638 in IGI (Stepney, Middx); English: locative name from Keyworth (Notts).

Further information: It is uncertain whether the 1379 spelling Keyward belongs here. It could alternatively represent an unrecorded Middle English **keyword*, perhaps ‘keeper of the key(s)’ or ‘one who guards the quay or wharf’. However, neither sense has an obvious fit with residence in the Leics village of Burton on the Wolds. Also compare Steven Keward, 1615, Thomas Keyward, 1616 in IGI (Little Plumstead, Norfolk), which seem unlikely to derive from the Notts surname unless by long-distance migration.
Early bearers: Simone de Kewurda, 1154–89 in Danelaw Documents (Keyworth, Notts); Gervasio de Keworth, 1297 in Lenton Priory Accounts (Keyworth, Notts); Joh’e de Keuworth, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Keyworth, Notts); Willelmo Keyward, 1379 in Poll Tax (Burton on the Wolds, Leics); Joseph Keywood, 1581, George Keward, 1591 in IGI (Stamford, Lincs); John Keyworth, 1608 in IGI (South Leverton, Notts); Anne Keworth, 1623, Thomas Keywood, 1680, Mary Keyward, 1772, Richard Keward, 1790 in IGI (Gedling, Notts); Tho Keyward, 1684 in IGI (Pilham, Lincs); Lionell Keyworth, 1727 in IGI (Handsworth, WR Yorks); William Kewarth, 1743 in IGI (Appleby, Lincs); Samuel Keward, 1797 in IGI (Sneinton, Notts).

Kibbler

- Current frequencies: GB 211, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 99
- Main GB location 1881: Warwicks

English: occupational name from an agent derivative of Middle English kib(b)le 'cudgel' or keble 'bucket' (modern dialect kibble), for a maker or seller of such items.

Early bearers: Alce Kibler, 1615 in Parish Registers (Wickham Market, Suffolk); William Kibler, 1631 in IGI (Hambleton, Bucks); Mary Keebler, 1664 in IGI (Stoke by Nayland, Suffolk); Robertus Kebler, 1714 in IGI (Moreton Morrell, Warwicks); Richard Kibler, 1729 in IGI (Wasperton, Warwicks); Wm. ### Kibblewhite

- Current frequencies: GB 241, Ireland 4
- GB frequency 1881: 156
- Main GB location 1881: Wilts; also Gloucs

English: unexplained.

Further information: The name appears to have Middle English keble 'bucket' (modern dialect kibble) or kib(b)le 'cudgel' as the first element (or perhaps a personal name related to Old English **Cybbel*). The second element may be from wight 'living creature, person' (often with a pejorative sense) or the adjective wight 'brave'; but, if so, the sense of the compound remains obscure. Redmonds,

Dictionary of Yorks Surnames suggests that Kebblewhite could be from Hebblethwaite in Sedburgh (WR Yorks), with interchange of K and H as evidenced in Killingbeck and Hillingbeck, but the name Kibblewhite appears to have been rare in Yorks. Given that the surname occurs early in Blewbury (Berks), another possibility might be to associate it with Kibble Ditch in some way (see Place-Names of Berks 1, p. 12).

Early bearers: Thomas Keblewhyte or Keblewhite, 1546 in PROB 11 (Blewbury, Berks); John Kibblewhit, 1566 in IGI (Purton, Wilts); John Kiblewhite, 1579 in PROB 11 (Ablington, Gloucs); William Keblewhit or Kebullwhit, 1580 in PROB 11 (Purton, Wilts); William Kibblewhite, 1586 in PROB 11 (Blewbury, Berks); Johan Keeblewhit, 1597 in IGI (Hannington, Wilts); Francis Kiblewhite, 1628 in IGI (Blewbury, Berks).

- Main GB location 1881: Somerset, Devon, Warwicks, and Gloucs; London

English: locative name from a lost or as yet unidentified place.

Further information: The earliest examples occur in the E Midlands, but examples in SW England predominate from the 15th century onwards. This is probably an instance of early migration.

Early bearers: John de Keby, 1297 in Patent Rolls (Northants); Alicia Kybby', 1379 in Poll Tax (Norton iuxta Twycross, Leics); Henricus Kebby, 1381 in Poll Tax (Bold, Lancs); Robert Keby, 1447 in Patent Rolls (Child Okeford, Dorset); Jennett Kibbye, 1571 in IGI (Flamborough, ER Yorks); William Kibbie, 1585, Alexander Kybbye, 1586 in IGI (Salisbury, Wilts); John Kibbye, 1596 in IGI (Plymouth, Devon); Robert Kebbye or Kebby, 1629 in PROB 11 (North Curry, Somerset); Thomas Kibbie, 1658 in IGI (Saint James Garlickhithe, London); Bartholomew Kibby, 1667 in IGI (Axminster, Devon); Edward Kebby, 1695, William Kibey, 1725 in IGI (Fordingbridge, Hants); Jos. Early bearers: Godwin Kiggel, Siger Kigel, 1221 in Cotton Tiberius B ii (Suffolk, Norfolk); Henry Kiggel, 1305 in Patent Rolls (Kent); William Kegghel, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Roger Kyggel, 1345 in Patent Rolls (Cornwall); Johannes Kyggel, 1379 in Poll Tax (Mileham, Norfolk); Margery Kedgell, John Kegel, 1524 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); George Kidgell, 1589 in IGI (Upper Clatford, Hants); Nicholas Kidgell, 1646 in PROB 11 (Chiddingfold, Surrey).

Kidger

Variants: Kiddier, Kidder

- Current frequencies: GB 424, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 407
- Main GB location 1881: Leics

English: occupational name, probably from an assimilated version of Middle English **kiddier* 'pedlar'.

Further information: Fransson explains this as 'kiddier, hawker, badger', of obscure origin, and compares Middle Dutch keeder 'one who announces or proclaims', first recorded in OED in 1552. However, the first examples are early for a Dutch loanword and we may have a derivative of Middle English kidde (of unknown origin) 'a faggot or bundle of twigs, brushwood, etc.' (about 1350, MED), a woodman, a cutter or seller of faggots. Compare Kidberers, 1477 in MED.

Early bearers: Ailric (le) Chidere, 1190–1 in Pipe Rolls (Warwicks); Roger Kidere, 1233 in Feet of Fines (Lancs); Thomas le Kidere, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Yorks); Richard le Kedere, 1310 in London Letter Books D; Roberto Kiddere, 1379 in Poll Tax (Breedon on the Hill, Leics); Johannes Kyddyer', 1381 in Poll Tax (Collyweston, Northants); Elizabeth Kidear, 1574 in IGI (Melton Mowbray, Leics); John Kyddier, 1584 in PROB 11 (All Hallows Thames Street, City of London); Hamlett Kiddier, 1610 in PROB 11 (Long Whatton, Leics); Elizabeth Kiddier, 1668 in IGI (Breedon on the Hill, Leics); James Kidger, 1713 in IGI (Packington, Leics); John Kidear, 1716 in IGI (Shepshed, Leics); Hannah Kidger, 1799 in IGI (Chesterfield, Derbys).

English: locative name from the lost place-name Kingeswelle in Newchurch (IoW), which is recorded thus in about 1258 (the location being now represented by Duxmore Farm), and probably also from King's Well in Wartling (Sussex), which is recorded as Kyngiswell in 1553. Both place-names mean 'the king's spring', from Middle English king 'king' (genitive kinges) + well 'spring, stream' (Old English cyning, genitive cyninges, + wella).

Further information: The source is unlikely to be Kingswell in Whitestone (Devon); see Kingwell.

Early bearers: William de Kyngeswelle, about 1258 in Quarr Charters (IoW); Robert de Kyngeswell of Hampstede, 1319 in Patent Rolls (Hampstead, Middx); Thomas Kyngeswell, 1379 in Poll Tax (Shanklin, IoW); Johannes Kyngeswell, 1379 in Poll Tax (Rookley, IoW); Richard Kyngeswell, 1463, William Kyngeswelle, 1508 in Quarr Charters (Newport, IoW); Agnes Kingswell, 1566 in IGI (Hastings, Sussex); Richard Kingswell or Kinswell, 1604 in Oxford University Register (Hants); Leonard Kingswell, 1605, Thomas Kingswell, 1631 in IGI (Wartling, Sussex); Henry Kingswell, 1664 in Hearth Tax (Rookley, IoW); John Kingsell, 1664 in Hearth Tax (Godshill, IoW); Henry Kingswell, 1689 in IGI (Godshill, IoW).

Kingwell

- Current frequencies: GB 324, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 266
- Main GB location 1881: Devon

English: locative name, perhaps from a lost or as yet unidentified place, probably in Devon.

Further information: There are three places called Kingswell in Devon, of which the earliest on record is Kingswell in Whitestone, but none of these has recorded early forms without the medial -s- (Place-Names of Devon, pp. 191, 224, 459); furthermore, there is no evidence to suggest that any of these places were a source for the surname Kingswell (except perhaps for the solitary example of John Kingswill in 1642). By contrast, examples of the surname Kingwell (without the medial -s-) are consistently Devonian. The matter requires further investigation.

Early bearers: Johnis Kingwill, 1562, Thomae Kingwell, 1570 in IGI (Bovey Tracey, Devon); Gwyn Kingwyll, 1566 in IGI (Crediton, Devon); John Kingwell, 1567, Jasper Kingwel, 1580 in IGI (Hatherleigh, Devon); John Kingwill, 1590 in IGI (Ilsington, Devon); Gyles Kingwyll, 1603, Giles Kingwill, 1606 in IGI (Crediton, Devon); John Kingswill, William Kingwell, 1642 in Protestation Returns (Devon); Robertt Kingwel, 1659 in IGI (Sandford, Devon); Johannis Kingwall, 1689 in IGI (Ashburton, Devon).

Knatchbull

- Current frequencies: GB 26, Ireland 2
- GB frequency 1881: 40
- Main GB location 1881: Middx; also Somerset; Hants

English: nickname from Middle English knetchen 'to knock (on the head), fell' (a variant of knacken 'to strike') + bole 'bull', hence 'knock bull', probably referring to a butcher or slaughterer (a knacker).

Further information: The solitary reference to de Knecheboll in 1381 is probably an error, with the common confusion of de and the definite article le, and does not imply a lost or unidentified place as the source of the name.

Early bearers: Clement Nechebol, 1272 in Assize Rolls (Aloesbridge hundred, Kent); William Knechebole, 1334 in Subsidy Rolls (Aloesbridge hundred, Kent); John Knechebole, John Knetchebole, 1375 in Colchester Court Rolls (Essex); Robert de Knecheboll, 1381 in Patent Rolls (Great Dunmow, Essex); Thomas Knechboll, 1481, John Knachbull, 1504 in Kent Wills (Lympne, Kent); Richard Knechebull', 1496 in Feet of Fines (Brabourne, Kent); John Knechebull or Knachebull, 1541, Richard Knatchbull, 1582 in PROB 11 (Mersham, Kent).

1 English, also Scottish: status name, occupational name, nickname from Middle English knight, knicht, knyht(h) (Old English cnicht). The Old English word meant 'lad' or 'servant', and the sense 'servant, attendant, or retainer' survived into early Middle English. By the 13th century the sense 'landholding member of the ruling class' had become established. A medieval knight was a man of honourable rank, a feudal tenant of the king or other noble, holding land from his lord on condition of providing military service, fighting on horseback. However, the hereditary surname belonged to non-knightly families and was probably originally given in the sense 'lad, servant' or as a nickname for someone who aped the behaviour of a knight or played the role in a folk play, tableau, or ceremony. Some early bearers may belong under (2).

Early bearers: England: Walter le Knit, 1200 in Oseney Cartulary (Oxon); William Knicht, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Worcs); John Knyght, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Suffolk); Johannes Knyght, 1377 in Poll Tax

1 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 柯 (Ke in Mandarin pinyin, Or or O in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'bough, stalk' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal name Ke Lu (柯廬), the given name of a prince of the state of Wu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) from the first element of the place-name Ke Ze (柯澤), the name of a fief (located in Shandong province) granted to an official in the state of Qi during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) traced back to the Qiang ethnic group in ancient W China and the Xianbei ethnic group in N China. (iv) adopted as a surname by the Ke Ba (柯拔) family from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 葛 (Ge in Mandarin pinyin, Kot in Cantonese romanization), referring to 'a type of herbal plant': (i) said to be from Ge-Tian (葛天), the name of an ancient tribe in China living prior to the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (ii) from Ge (葛), the name of an ancient state (located in Henan province) during the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (iii) borne by descendants of Hong Ge Lu (洪葛廬), also known as Hong Pu Lu, who offered support to the emperor Guang Wu Di (6 BC–AD 57) and made great contributions to the establishment of the Eastern Han dynasty (AD 25–220). He later transferred the title that had been conferred on him by the emperor to his brother, and migrated to Gou Rong (in present-day Jiangsu province). Some of his descendants inherited Ge (葛), part of his given name, as their surname. (iv) adopted as a surname by the He Ge (賀葛) family, members of the Xianbei ethnic group in N China during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

3 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 戈 (Ge in Mandarin pinyin), referring to 'a kind of weapon' in ancient China: from Ge (戈), the name of an ancient state (located in Henan province) during the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC).

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surnames 高 and 郛, see Gao (1) and (2).

5 Chinese: variant Mandarin romanization of the Chinese surnames 郭, 國, and 過, see Guo (1–3).

6 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surnames 古, 顧, and 辜, possibly based on their Teochew, Hokkien, or Taiwanese pronunciation. See Koo (1–3).

7 Korean: (甘; Chinese character 高, meaning 'high') there are ten different Ko clans, but all are descended from the Ko clan of Cheju Island. There is no historical information regarding the founder of this clan, but there is a legend that tells of three men who appeared from a cave on the north side of Cheju Island's Halla Mountain. These three men were the founders of the Yang family, the Pu family, and the Ko family, the latter being named Ko Ū-la (高乙那). Some days after the three men emerged from the cave, a box was washed up on the shore of the island. In the box were three women, horses, cows, and agricultural seed. From these beginnings, the three established Cheju Island's T'amnaguk kingdom and ruled peacefully. Ko is a common surname found throughout the Korean peninsula. Approximately ten per cent of Cheju Island's present-day population consists of members of the Ko family.

Kong

Variants: Khong, Kung, Kang, Kwong, Gong, Jiang, Chiang, Chang, Hung

- Current frequencies: GB 945, Ireland 16
- GB frequency 1881: 6

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 江 (Jiang in Mandarin pinyin, Kang in Teochew romanization), meaning 'river' in Chinese: (i) from Jiang (江), the name of an ancient state (located in present-day Zhengyang in Henan province) in the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC) and Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). After it was annexed by the state of Chu in 623 BC, the name of the state was adopted as a surname. (ii) from the name of Jiang Chugong (江处恭). In the earlier Northern Song Dynasty (AD 960–1127), in Quanzhou in Fujian province, Weng Qianlu had six sons and gave different surnames to each of them. His second son, Weng Chugong, was given the surname Jiang. Thus, he was also called Jiang Chugong. He and his brothers all became celebrated officials, known as 'the Six Laureates'.

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 孔 (Hung or Hong in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'a hole' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal name Kong Fu (孔父), the style name of Kong Fu Jia (孔父嘉), an official in the state of Song who was murdered in 710 BC. His son then fled to the state of Lu and inherited 孔 (Hung or Kung) as his surname. The philosopher Confucius (551–479 BC) was one of his descendants. (ii) from the first element of the personal name Kong Kui (孔悝), the style name of an official in the state of Wei (卫) (located mainly around present-day Hebi and Xinxiang in Henan province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) from the first element of the personal name Kong Ning (孔宁), the style name of an official in the state of Chen (mainly in present-day E Henan province and NW Haozhou in Anhui province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) from the second element of the personal name Zi Kong (子孔), the style name of a prince from the state of Zheng (located in part of present-day Shaanxi and Henan province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Chinese: Cantonese, Hokkien, Taiwanese form of the Chinese surname 龔 (Gong in Mandarin pinyin, Kung in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'showing respect for elders or guests' in ancient Chinese: adopted in place of another Chinese surname 共 (Gong in Mandarin pinyin). For some families, the surname is said to be traceable back to Gong Gong (共工), an official during the reign of the legendary King Huang Di (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC). Other families with this name are from the state of Gong (共), located in present-day Huixian (in Henan province), which was granted to Ji He, known as Gong Bo, an earl who lived some time during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). For other families, the surname is borne by descendants of Shen Sheng, a prince in the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), with Gong as his posthumous title. His descendants inherited this title as their surname. Later, some descendants with the surname 共 changed their surname to 龔 in order to escape persecution by their enemies.

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 鞏 (Gong in Mandarin pinyin, Kung in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'to consolidate' in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Gong (鞏), the name of a fief or state (located in present-day Gongxian in Henan province), which is said to have been granted to Gong Jian Gong (鞏簡公) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), later annexed by the state of Jin. (ii) traced back to a family from the Qiang minority ethnic group in ancient China.

5 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 宮 (Gong in Mandarin pinyin, Kung in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'royal palace' in Chinese: (i) from Gong Men (宮門, literally meaning 'palace gates'), the name of an official post during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC) in charge of repair and cleaning of the gates of the palace. (ii) from the personal name Gong Zhi Qi (宮之奇), an official in the state of Yu (located in present-day Shanxi province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) shortened form of other ancient compound Chinese surnames including Dong-Gong (東宮, literally meaning 'the east of the palace'), Nan-Gong (南宮, literally meaning 'the south of the palace'), Xi-Gong (西宮, literally meaning 'the west of the palace'), and Bei-Gong (北宮, literally meaning 'the north of the palace').

6 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 公 (Gong in Mandarin pinyin, Kung in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'Duke': from Gong (公), the Chinese equivalent of the peerage 'Duke'. Some people inherited the name of the peerage of their ancestors as their surname.

7 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 弓 (Gong in Mandarin pinyin, Kung in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'a bow' in Chinese: (i) borne by descendants of Hui, grandson of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor'

(traditional dates 2697–2599 BC). Hui was given the title Gong Zheng (弓正), denoting an official in charge of making bows. (ii) from the second element of the personal name Shu Gong (叔弓), the style name of an official in the state of Lu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

8 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 貢 (Gong in Mandarin pinyin, Kung in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'paying tribute to the emperor by subjects or vassal states' in ancient Chinese: from the second element of the personal name Zi Gong (子貢), the style name of Duan-Mu Ci, a student of Confucius (551–479 BC).

9 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 鄺, see Kwong (1).

10 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 亢, see Kang (4).

1 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 關 (Guan or Kuan in Mandarin romanization), meaning ‘forts’ in ancient Chinese: (i) borne by descendants of Guan Long Feng (關龍逢), an official who lived during the reign of Xia Jie, the last king of the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (ii) from the first element of the post-name Guan Ling Yin (關令尹) or Guan Yin (關尹), said to have been held by a man called Xi, who was in charge of garrisoning forts at one stage during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC).

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 管 (Guan or Kuan in Mandarin romanization, Kun or Koon in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘manage, administer’ in Chinese: (i) from Guan (管), the name of a state (located in Zhengzhou in Henan province) which was granted to Guan Shu Xian (管叔鮮), the third son of the virtuous Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC; see Zhou (1)). Guan Shu Xian was later killed because he participated in a rebellion against the king. The name of the state was subsequently adopted as a surname. (ii) borne by descendants of Guan Zhong (管仲), also called Guan Yiwu (管夷吾), an official in the state of Qi during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) from the place-name Guan (管), the name of a fief (thought to have been located in Shandong province), granted to an official in the state of Lu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 官 (Guan or Kuan in Mandarin romanization, Kun or Koon in Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘official’ in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the post-name Guan Shi (官師), head of officials, hosted by Liu Ding Gong, an official during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). (ii) borne by the Guan Zu (官族), i.e. descendants of those officials who had made such great contributions to the state that their granted fiefs and titles would be kept forever.

Korean: (권, Kwŏn; Chinese character 權, meaning ‘authority’) there are two Kwŏn clans. The largest of these clans is descended from a Shilla kingdom aristocrat named Kim Haeng (金 幸), who rendered assistance to the founding king of the Koryŏ kingdom, T’aejo (太祖) Wan Kŏn (王建). King T’aejo described Kim as ‘adept at understanding the subtle key points of an issue and applying whatever means are necessary to accomplish a worthy end’, bestowing on him the surname Kwŏn and appointing him as a high official in the Andong area of Kyŏngsang North province, which became the clan seat for his descendants. The printed genealogy of the Andong Kwŏn family is one of the two oldest extant genealogies in Korea. The other clan is descended from the now extinct Hŭn (昕) family, which settled in Yech’eon county of Kyŏngsang North province.

- GB frequency 1881: 1052
- Main GB location 1881: Kent; also Surrey, Middx; Wilts; Pembrokes
- Main Irish location 1847–64: Cork

English: nickname, occupational name, status name from Middle English lad(de) ‘lad’, of obscure origin, used as an occupational name for a young male attendant, servant, a status name for a man of low birth, or a nickname for a rogue or ruffian.

Further information: Compare ‘to make lordes of laddes’ (Piers Plowman) and ‘A ladde . . . Borne he was of pouere lynage’ (Robert of Brunne) in medieval literature.

Early bearers: Godric Ladda, about 1100 in Tengvik (Somerset); Richard Ladde, about 1175 in Stenton, Feudalism (Northants); Walter le Ladd, 1242 in Book of Fees (Kent); Thoma Lad, 1377 in Poll Tax (Canterbury, Kent); Hugo Ladde, 1377 in Poll Tax (Hanging Houghton, Northants); Henricus Lad, 1377 in Poll Tax (West Denton with Newbiggin, Northumb); Johanne Ladde, 1379 in Poll Tax (Knook, Wilts); Jordanus Ladde, 1379 in Poll Tax (Thorne, WR Yorks); Richard Ladde, 1412 in Feet of Fines (Wokingham, Berks); John Ladde, 1434 in Feet of Fines (Elham, Kent); Thomas Ladd, 1577 in Cranbrook Wills (Kent).

Ladds

- Current frequencies: GB 382, Ireland 0

- Main GB location 1881: Hunts, Northants, Cambs, and Lincs; also Kent

English: variant of Ladd with post-medieval excrescent -s.

Early bearers: Catherine Laddes, 1574 in IGI (Horsmonden, Kent); Grace Ladds, 1605 in IGI (Barham, Hunts); Johne Ladds, 1611 in IGI (Hawkinge, Kent); Thomas Laddes, 1614 in IGI (Witham on the Hill, Lincs); Anna Lads, 1638 in IGI (Ely, Cambs); Elizabeth Ladds, 1649 in IGI (Kettering, Northants).

Lade

- Current frequencies: GB 192, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 253
- Main GB location 1881: Sussex

English: (i) possibly a variant of Loade. If so, the form with a is not easy to explain; o is expected. The source word, Middle English lade ‘river crossing; watercourse’ (Old English gelād ‘difficult river crossing’ or lād ‘canal, dyked watercourse’), sometimes turns up as -lade in the unstressed syllable of place-names containing it, such as Cricklade, though such a form has not so far been discovered in Sussex. (ii) possibly a variant of Ladd, but that also poses phonological difficulties.

Ladell

Variants: Ladle

- GB frequency 1881: 381
- Main GB location 1881: N England: esp. Lancs and Westm

English: (i) nickname, apparently from Middle English lang 'long' + horn 'horn', later modified to Standard English Langhorn. Perhaps the nickname alluded to a long fingernail or toenail, one of the senses of horn in Middle English. (ii) locative name, perhaps from Longthorn Hill in Soulby (Westm), although the earliest record of this place (Longhorne-crooke, 1693 in Place-Names of Westm 2, p. 23) is very late; it may have been so called after the surname. John de Langhorn, king's sergeant, 1327 in Patent Rolls, who was killed on the king's service at Barnard Castle (Durham), is the earliest known bearer of the surname, but the preposition is not repeated in a subsequent reference to the killing and may be a scribal error.

Early bearers: John de Langhorn, Langhorn (deceased), 1327 in Patent Rolls (Durham); Nicholas and John Langhorn, 1357 in Patent Rolls (Westm); John Langhorne, citizen and brazier, 1398 in Patent Rolls (London); Richard Langhorne, 1433 in York Registry Wills (Stainton, Cleveland, NR Yorks); John Langehorne, 1546 in York Freeman's Register; Richard Langhorne, 1557 in IGI (Penrith, Cumb); Dorthy Langhorn, 1567 in IGI (Bedford, Beds); Thomas Langhorn, 1572 in IGI (Askham, Westm); Margaret Langhorn, 1584 in IGI (Auckland Saint Andrew, Durham); Richard Longhorne, 1596 in IGI (Broughton by Brigg, Lincs); David Langhorne, 1605 in IGI (Whitgift, WR Yorks); Guliel Longhorn, 1652 in IGI (Dunton, Beds); Edward Longhorn, 1657 in IGI (Caldbeck, Cumb); Rowland Langhorn, 1694 in IGI (Sedbergh, WR Yorks); Henry Longhorn, 1710 in IGI (Morland, Westm); William Longhorn, 1715 in IGI (Little Driffeld, ER Yorks).

Langner

- Current frequencies: GB 105, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 16
- Main GB location 1881: Middx

German: locative name from any of several places called Langen or Langenau in Germany and former German-speaking parts of E Europe (Silesia, Bohemia).

Further information: Reaney connects Langner with the now extinct English locative surname Longnor.

However, the very late appearance of the form Langner, exclusively in Middx, suggests that it is a recent introduction to England rather than a development of an extinct Shrops or Staffs name.

Early bearers: Julius Langner, in Census 1871 (London); Joseph Langner, born in Derbys, in Census 1871 (Derbys); Berthold Langner, born in London, in Census 1871 (London); Joseph Langner, born in Valayne, Poland, in Census 1881 (Spitalfields, Middx); Simeon Langner, born in Leeds, in Census 1881 (Hackney, Middx); Myer Langner, born in Germany, in Census 1891 (London); Louis Langner, born in London, in Census 1891 (London); Nathan Myer Langner, born in Poland, in Census 1901 (London); Carl Langner, born in Germany, in Census 1901 (London).

Langran

- Current frequencies: GB 131, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 60
- Main GB location 1881: Cambs and Middx

English: unexplained; possibly from a Middle English **lange rane* 'frog's tongue', parallel to lange serpent 'snake's tongue', 'a tongue-shaped stone having the property of detecting poison'. In MED, ranula, ranule 'abscess under the tongue' is exemplified in about 1425 thus: 'Ranula..is a maner carnositee oblong vnder þe tonge lettynge þe acte of it to þe fourme of a rane, i. froske.' The surname may therefore be a nickname for someone with such an abscess.

Early bearers: Mathew Langran, 1592 in IGI (Normanton, WR Yorks); Dorithie Langran, 1607 in IGI (Winthorpe, Lincs); Robertus Langram, 1621 in IGI (Burwell, Cambs); John Langran, 1703 in IGI (Cherry Hinton, Cambs).

- GB frequency 1881: 324
- Main GB location 1881: Hants, Sussex, and Surrey

English: locative name from Langrish in East Meon (Hants).

Further information: Reaney's suggestion that the surname may occasionally be a nickname from a derivative of Old French langueuer 'lassitude, inertia' (compare Robert le Langerus, 1200 in Curia Regis Rolls) is unnecessary given the tellingly restricted distribution in 1881 (east Hants, west Sussex and west Surrey) and the consistency of the spellings in forms of -ish.

Early bearers: Robert de Langerisce, 1199 in Pleas (Hants); Ralph de Langris, 1222 in Henry III Building Accounts; Hugone Langrisc'h', 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Sturminster Marshall, Dorset); Elizabeth

- Main Irish location 1847–64: scattered

1 English: locative name from Lathom (Lancs), occasionally perhaps from Laytham (ER Yorks). Further information: Reaney also allows origin from Latham in Hepworth or Latham in Wadsworth, both in WR Yorks but recorded much too late (1771 and 1817); see Place-Names of WR Yorks 2, p. 244, and 3, p. 206.

Early bearers: Robert de Latham, 1204 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); Richard Lathan, 1544 in IGI (Croston, Lancs); John Lathum, 1547 in IGI (Farnworth near Prescott, Lancs); Robert Laytham, 1563 in Patent Rolls (Lincs); Jane Latham, 1565 in IGI (Wybunbury, Cheshire); Mary Lathan, 1636 in IGI (Staindrop, Durham).

2 English: locative name from either Kirkleatham or Upleatham (NR Yorks). This name is probably the main source of Leatham, Leetham, etc. but it is difficult to separate from that in (1). Redmonds notes William Lathom alias Lethom, 1573 in York Registry Wills (Nottingham).

Early bearers: Johannes de Lethom, 1379 in Poll Tax (Thruscross, WR Yorks); Richard Lethom, 1418 in York Freeman's Register; Richard Lethome, 1526 in York Registry Wills (South Milford, WR Yorks); Thomas Lethame, 1546 in Knaresborough Wills (Hampsthwaite, WR Yorks); John Leathome, 1598 in IGI (Bolton by Bowland, WR Yorks).

References: Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames.

3 English: perhaps also from an unidentified place in SW England, although migration of the Lancs and Yorks surname in (1) cannot be ruled out.

Early bearers: Walter Latham, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Bristol, Gloucs); Henry de Latham, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Somerset); Roger Lathum, 1356 in Feet of Fines (Pyrton, Oxon); Agnes Lathan, 1542 in IGI (Cuddesdon, Oxon); Thomas Lathum, 1548 in IGI (Butlers Marston, Warwicks); Henrie Lathum, 1579 in IGI (Minchinhampton, Gloucs).

Lau

Variants: Lo, Loh, Lao, Low, Lowe, Lou, Chin, Law

- Current frequencies: GB 4096, Ireland 149
  - GB frequency 1881: 14
- 1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 婁 (Lou in Mandarin pinyin), a name of one of the 28 constellations in ancient Chinese: (i) from the second element of the place-name Zhu Lou (邾婁), the name of a state (located in Zouxian in Shandong province) during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC), also known as the state of Zou (鄒) or Zhu (邾). (ii) from the place-name Lou (婁), the name of a fief (located in Zhucheng in Shandong province) in the state of Chu. (iii) from the Pi Lou (匹婁), Yi Lou (伊婁), Yi Na Lou (乙那婁) families from Xianbei ethnic group in ancient N China, who changed their original surnames to Lou (婁) during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (iv) said to be from the personal name of Li Lou (离婁), a legendary figure, famous for his good eyesight, during the reign of Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC).
 2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 樓 (Lou in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'tower' or 'storey' in Chinese: (i) from the personal name of Dong Lou Gong (東樓公), who was granted the state of Qi (杞) (originally located in Henan province, later moved to Shandong province) by king Zhou Wu Wang (1087–1043 BC). (ii) from the Gai Lou (蓋樓) and He Lou (賀樓) families from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who adopted the surname 樓 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

 3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 勞 (Lo in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'consoling and rewarding' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the place-name Lao Shan (勞山), the name of a famous hill in present-day Shandong province. It was adopted as a surname during the Western Han dynasty (202 BC–AD 9). (ii) from the official post in ancient China, who took charge of consoling citizens and provided help for them. Since the Chinese character 勞 had the meaning 'consoling and rewarding', they acquired the surname 勞.
 4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 老 (Lo in Cantonese romanization): (i) from the first element of Lao Tong (老童), title of the son of the legendary king Zhuang Xu (traditional dates 2514–2437 BC). (ii) borne by descendants of Lao Dan (老聃), also known as Lao Tzu, founder of Taoism. (iii) from Lao (老), the name of a fief (located in Shandong province), granted to the grandson of the king Song Dai Gong (died 766 BC).
 5 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surnames 劉 and 柳, see Liu (1) and (2).
 6 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 羅, see Lo (1).

2 Jewish, German, Hungarian, Slovenian, Polish: relationship name from a personal name of Aramaic origin, a reduced form of the Hebrew male personal name Elazar, composed of the elements El 'God' + azar 'help'.

Further information: This was well established in central Europe as a Jewish name, but was also popular among Christians, because it is recorded in the New Testament. Lazaros is the New Testament Greek form of the name of the brother of Martha and Mary, who was restored to life by Christ (John 11: 1–44), and this appears as Lazarus in the Latin Vulgate. As a non-Jewish name it was also used in various European languages as a nickname for a beggar or a leper (see (2)); this use arises from the parable of Dives and Lazarus (Luke 16: 19–31).

Leaphard

• Main GB location 1881: E England (esp. ER Yorks, Notts, Middx, and Herts); scattered in Scotland
1 English: occupational name from Middle English lepere 'leaper, dancer, runner, courier' (Old English hlēapere). The conservative spelling indicates that this word must at least be the origin in the case of Robertus Lheapere, cited below, but other examples listed under (2) may also belong here.

Early bearers: Robertus Lheapere, 1377 in Poll Tax (Wilts); Thomas Leaper, 1560 in IGI (Monk Frystone, WR Yorks); Margery Leaper, 1567 in IGI (Lichfield, Staffs); Christopher Leaper, 1585 in IGI (Cardington, Beds); Thoms. Leaper, 1602 in IGI (Howden, ER Yorks); Richardi Leaper, 1603 in IGI (Minchinhampton, Gloucs).

2 English: occupational name from Middle English lepere 'basketmaker' (a derivative of Old English lēap 'basket'); compare John le Lepmaker, 1338 in Fransson (Norfolk), and note that tellingly Ran' le Leper, 1304, cited below, is identifiable with Ran' le Hirdeler (i.e. 'maker of hurdles') in the same document. Any of the other examples below may alternatively belong under (1).

Early bearers: Robert le Lepere, 1185 in Templars Records (Warwicks); Henry Leper, about 1200 in Danelaw Documents (Notts); Geoffrey Lepere, 1221 in Curia Regis Rolls (Essex); William le Leapere, 1295 in Ancient Deeds vi (Kent); Ran' le Leper, 1304 in McClure, Occupational bynames (Notts); Anna Leaper, 1564 in IGI (Whitgift, WR Yorks); Francis Leeper, 1572 in IGI (Beeston, Notts).

1 English: nickname from Middle English ler 'cheek, face, countenance, complexion' (Old English hlēor), used adjectivally to mean 'beautiful of face' (recorded in this sense before 1400 in MED).

Compare Middle English lilie-ler 'having a lily-like complexion'. A fine white skin was much admired in a world where a tanned face was a sign of inferior social status. An alternative sense 'looking sideways or askance; sly, underhand' is not recorded before 1631 in OED (at ler, adj. 2) but it may have been current in spoken Middle English. Compare Leary. There may have been some confusion with Leyer.

Early bearers: Jon. Leir, 1545, Thomas Leer, 1551 in IGI (Bovey Tracey, Devon); Nicholas Leere, 1560 in IGI (Wolborough and Newton Abbot, Devon); Mary Leare, 1589 in IGI (Barnstaple, Devon); Anthony Laire, 1595 in IGI (Bishops Tawton, Devon); Alice Leire, 1630 in IGI (Crewkerne, Somerset); John Lear, Ambrose Leere, 1642 in Protestation Returns (Devon); Jacobus Layer, 1644, Robert Lyer, 1653 in IGI (Wedmore, Somerset); George Leere, 1662–4 in Hearth Tax (Dorset); Giles Leer, 1666 in IGI (Pitney, Somerset); William Leer, 1727 in IGI (Lichfield, Staffs).

Leathwood

- Current frequencies: GB 106, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 92
- Main GB location 1881: Cheshire and Lancs

English: (i) probably a variant of Laithwaite, remodelled as if from a place-name with Middle English wode ‘wood’ (Old English wudu) as the second element. Compare Lathwood. (ii) locative name, possibly from Lythwood in Condover (Shrops), which is recorded as Lythwed’ in 1250, Leathwood in 1597. Lythwood is in the township of Great and Little Lyth, and its name means ‘wood in the place called Lyth’ (Middle English wode ‘wood’). The name Lyth itself derives from Old English hlið ‘concave hillside’. There is, however, no clear evidence that this place gave rise to a surname, nor have any relevant bearers been noted in Shrops.

• Main GB location 1881: widespread: esp. Lancs, Cheshire, and Staffs; also Middx; Suffolk

• Main Irish location 1847–64: Antrim; also Galway

1 English: occupational name from Middle English leche, lache 'physician' (Old English læce 'leech; physician, blood-letter, surgeon'). The surname is recorded in the late 14th-century Poll Tax Returns for men whose occupation is stated as medicus 'physician', or occasionally spicer (spicers acted as apothecaries), but some men named le Leche have unrelated occupations including cultor 'cultivator, planter, farm labourer', which suggests that leche could refer to an amateur 'medicine man' who supplied folk remedies.

Early bearers: Robert Leche, about 1250 in Ramsey Cartulary (Hunts); Edmund le Leche, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); John Leech, 1364 in Feet of Fines (Lincs); Johanne the Leche, 1379 in Poll Tax (Sedgehill, Wilts); Willelmo Leche, medico, 1379 in Poll Tax (Derby, Derbys); Rogerus Leche, medicus, 1381 in Poll Tax (Cound, Shrops); Johannes Leche, spycer, 1381 in Poll Tax (Suffolk); Rogerus le Leche, 1381 in Poll Tax (Golborne, Lancs); Robert Leache, 1543 in IGI (Iddesleigh, Devon); Jeane Leach, 1575 in IGI (Whalley, Lancs); Johes Leache, 1581 in IGI (Elland, WR Yorks).

Ireland: Solomon Leech, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Leck, Donegal); Henry Leech, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Knockbride, Cavan); James Leech, 1796 in Flaxgrowers Ireland (Kilraghts, Antrim).

2 English: variant of Letch.

Leng

Variants: Ling

- Current frequencies: GB 1140, Ireland 7
- GB frequency 1881: 809
- Main GB location 1881: Yorks and Durham

1 English: (i) nickname, apparently from Middle English leng(e) 'ling' (Molva molva), for someone who dealt in or was thought to resemble this fish; compare Pike, Tench, Dace, and other fish names. However, the 1275 Norfolk example might be an irregular spelling of the Norfolk surname Ling. (ii) post-medieval examples in Yorks and NE England are more likely to represent English pronunciation of Scottish Laing.

Early bearers: Symon Lenge, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Norfolk); John Leng, 1517 in York Freeman's Register; Henry Leng, 1585 in IGI (Leeds, WR Yorks); Thomae Leng, 1607 in IGI (Strensall, NR Yorks); John Leng, 1620 in IGI (Pittington, Durham).

Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 梁 (Liang in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'roofbeam' or 'bridge' in Chinese: (i) from Liang (梁), the name of a state (located in present-day Hancheng in Shaanxi province) which was granted to Kang, the youngest son of Qinzong (died 822 BC), because the latter made great contributions to the fight against minority ethnic groups in western China during the reign of Zhou Ping Wang (died 720 BC). After the state was annihilated by the state of Qin (秦) in 641 BC, some people kept the name of the state as their surname. (ii) from the second element of the place-names Jie Liang (解梁), Gao Liang (高粱), and Qu Liang (曲梁), the names of several cities originally within the border of the state of Jin (located mainly in present-day Shanxi province). In 645 BC, Jin Hui Gong (died 637 BC) ceded these cities to the state of Qin (located originally in present-day W Shaanxi province). Later, people from these cities adopted 梁 as their surname. (iii) from Liang (梁), also known as South Liang, the name of another state (located in present-day Longxi in Gansu province) which was granted to Tang, son of king Zhou Ping Wang (died 720 BC). After this state was annihilated by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), some people kept the name of the state as their surname. (iv) from the Ba Lie Lan (拔列蘭) family, members of an ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surname to 梁 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

Levey

1 English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Leviet, Luviet, Levet, Lewet, Livet, Luvet. This can be a male name from Old English Lēofgēat or a female name from Old English Lēofgȝð. Lev(i)et was sometimes altered to Lev(i)ot, perhaps on the mistaken assumption that final -et was the suffix of a pet form, and therefore interchangeable with -ot(e); compare the more recent relation between Woollett and its variant Ullyott. Further information: The name was confused with Levick in post-medieval Sheffield.

Early bearers: given names (male): Leuiet, Leueget, 1086 in Domesday Book; Lefget, about 1095 in Bury Saint Edmunds Documents (Suffolk); Levetus, 1146–53 in Ramsey Cartulary (Hunts); Leuiet, 1166 in Pipe Rolls (Norfolk); Liviet, 1205 in Curia Regis Rolls (Cambs). given names (female): Leued, 1066 in Domesday Book; Liuiitha, Liuete, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks); Leuiith', 1221 in Assize Rolls (Shrops); Leffeda Rugfot, 1230 in Patent Rolls (Suffolk); Livith, Livid, 14th cent. in Ramsey Cartulary (Hunts).

surnames: Manewine Leuiet, 1188 in Bury Saint Edmunds Kalendar (Suffolk); Gilbert Liuet, 1200 in Pipe Rolls (Gloucs); William Liuet (Luuuet), 1205 in Pipe Rolls (Lincs); Adam Leuet, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks); John Lefet, 1285 in Assize Rolls (Essex); Phyllypus Leyvot, 1377 in Poll Tax (Martinsthorpe, Rutland); Stephanus Levet, 1379 in Poll Tax (Barlow, WR Yorks); Rogerus Levyot, 1379 in Poll Tax (Worstead, Norfolk); Johannes Levyot, 1379 in Poll Tax (Donnington, Sussex); Alicia Levyot, 1379 in Poll Tax (Weobley, Herefs); Oliva Levot, 1379 in Poll Tax (East Bradenham, Norfolk); Radulphus Leuote, 1379 in Poll Tax (Burnham Thorpe, Norfolk); Johannes Lewete, 1379 in Poll Tax (Hook, WR Yorks); Margoria Lewote, 1381 in Poll Tax (Horringer, Suffolk); Ricardus Leuot, 1381 in Poll Tax (Langham, Suffolk); John Leuet', 1399 in Feet of Fines (Lincs); William Levot, 1445 in Feet of Fines (WR Yorks); Amye Levett, 1561 in IGI (Pettistree, Suffolk); John Lewet, 1568 in IGI (Pipe Ridware, Staffs); Robert Levett, 1582 in IGI (Westham, Sussex); Persevall Levett, 1582 in IGI (York); Josephus Levitt, 1618 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks); Ed. Lewit, 1641 in IGI (North Wheatley, Notts); Wilhelmus Lewitt, 1652 in IGI (Leicester, Leics).

2 Norman, English: locative name from one of the places in Normandy named Livet (Sarthe, Eure) or Livaie (Orne), but whether this name survived into the modern period is uncertain.

Early bearers: William de Lieuet, 1196 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks).

References: Domesday Descendants, p. 554.

3 Norman: nickname; the Norman surname may sometimes have derived from Old French leuet 'wolf cub', a diminutive of Old French lou, Normanno-Picard leu 'wolf'. Compare Lovett.

- Current frequencies: GB 659, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 410
- Main GB location 1881: WR Yorks, Notts, and Derbys

1 English: unexplained. The name clusters in north Derbys and nearby Sheffield (WR Yorks) and is recorded in 1350 as Lathewek and Lethewayk, according to information from Dr Anne Giller cited in Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames. Johannes Lethewyche, 1379 in Poll Tax (Tinsley, WR Yorks) possibly bears the same name and may be an ancestor of Benjamin Levick, 1732 in IGI (Tinsley, WR Yorks). Tinsley lies between Sheffield and Rotherham. In Eckington (Derbys), Redmonds notes William Leithwick, 1480, and William Levick otherwise Leathwick, 1769. In Sheffield the name was confused with Levett: John Levick, John Levitt, 1614–19, Francis Levick, Francis Levitt, 1615–16 in the Sheffield parish registers; see Sheffield Surnames, p. 42. Lethwood in the 1645 example below is probably a corruption of Lethwick.

Early bearers: Richard Levick, 1599 in Parish Registers (Norton, Derbys); Edmund Lethwood, 1645, Robert Levick, 1705 in IGI (Dronfield, Derbys); John Levick, 1645 in IGI (Norton, Derbys); Anne Levick, 1657, Ann Lethwick, 1750 in IGI (Chesterfield, Derbys); Willm. Levicke, 1659 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks); Ann Levick, 1726 in IGI (Skegby, Notts); Hannah Lethwick, 1734, Geo. Leveck, 1736 in IGI (Holmesfield, Derbys); Willm Levick, 1800 in IGI (Eckington, Derbys).

2 English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Levek, **Lovek*, Old English Lēofeca, a diminutive of Lēofa. This may also have become Luke.

Early bearers: given names: Leweke de Rouington, 1246 in Assize Rolls (Lancs); Lefeke Daffe, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Beds).

surnames: Hardekin filius Leueke, 1175 in Pipe Rolls (Norfolk); William Leuke, 1204 in Pipe Rolls (Oxon); Amicia leueke, 1277 in Cotton Claudius C xi (Suffolk); Thomas Leuk, 1379 in Poll Tax (Shipdham, Norfolk); Richerd Levick, 1578 in IGI (Flixton by Bungay, Suffolk); Katherine Livick, 1599 in IGI (Earsham, Norfolk); Richard Levick, 1614 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); John Levick, 1674 in Hearth Tax (Suffolk).

3 French: nickname from Old French eveske, Anglo-Norman French eveke 'bishop'. Compare Bishop. In Levick the article has coalesced with the noun. This was then redivided as le Vick and usually survives as Veck, Vick.

Early bearers: Osbert le Eveske, 1189 in Monasticon Anglicanum vi; Henry Leveske, 1200 in Pipe Rolls (Hunts); George Levick, 1626 in IGI (Huntingdon, Hunts).

Lewington

Variants: Lewinton, Lewendon

- Current frequencies: GB 1664, Ireland 8
- GB frequency 1881: 793

- Main GB location 1881: Hants, Wilts, Berks, Surrey, and Middx

1 English: locative name, variant of Levington, but this is an E Anglian surname and the name in S and SW England must either reflect migration or have a different origin; see (2).

2 English: locative name, Lewington and Levington are perhaps variant pronunciations of the Wilts surname Lavington. The vowel change is not recorded in the place-name, but there is some evidence for occasional raising of late Middle English [a] to early Modern English [e]. The development of intervocalic [v] to [w] is not uncommon in Middle English dialects, and original -ton is often replaced in surnames with -don and -den. Compare therefore Johannes and Michaelis Lavynton', 1381 in Poll Tax (Reading, Berks) with Mathew Lewington, 1641 in IGI (Reading, Berks), and Johanne Lavynton', 1381 in Poll Tax (Hidden, Berks) with Josias Lewendon, 1611 in IGI (Hungerford, Berks); Hidden is in Hungerford parish. Compare also Mary Lewington, 1640, John Laventon, 1705 in IGI (Cheriton, Hants). However, these may be different surnames.

Further information: There is a Lewingdon Wood in Streatley (Berks), which is possibly recorded in the name Landoune (1309), according to Place-Names of Berks, p. 532, but its earliest definite attestations are Levington Wood in 1750 and Lewington Wood in 1846, and it is more likely named from the surname. Lavendon (Bucks), now pronounced /la:mðn/, is recorded as Lawendon, 1185 in Pipe Rolls, Lavenden, 1201 in Fine Rolls. However, there is no evidence that it gave rise to a surname.

Early bearers: Johis Lewindon, 1572 in IGI (Chieveley, Berks); Johis Lewindon, 1572, John Lewingdon, 1684, Thomas Levington, 1764 in IGI (Aston Tirrold, Berks); William Lewenden, 1622 in IGI (Cholsey, Berks); Edward Lewington, 1624 in IGI (Childrey, Berks); Anne Lewington, 1638 in IGI (Cheriton, Hants); Mathew Lewington, 1641, Francis Lewingdon, 1653, George Levendon, 1895 in IGI (Reading, Berks); John Luington, 1665, Jon. Livington, 1697, John Levington, 1769 in IGI (Ramsbury, Wilts); Richard Leuington, 1691 in IGI (Basingstoke, Hants); John Levington, 1696 in IGI (Thatcham, Berks); John Lewinton, 1711 in IGI (Ashampstead, Berks); Nathaniel Leuinton, 1754 in IGI (Beenham, Berks).

Li

Variants: Lee, Lai, Lei, Lea, Lay, Lye, Ly, Le

- Current frequencies: GB 9076, Ireland 225
- GB frequency 1881: 1

1 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 李 (Lei or Lee in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'plum': (i) said to have been adopted in place of the Chinese surname 理 (also pronounced Li; meaning 'rules' in Chinese) by Li Zhen (利貞), son of an official called Li Zheng (理徵) in the late Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). It is said that Li Zhen's father incurred the displeasure of king Zhou and Li Zhen fled to a wasteland area, where he survived on plums. After his return to civilization, he changed his surname to Li (李), a word with the same pronunciation. The original surname, 理, is said to be from Li Guan (理官), name of a post of officials in charge of legislation in ancient China. Li Er (李耳), also known as Lao Tzu or Lao Zi, traditionally regarded as the founder of Taoism, is said to have been a descendant of Li Zhen. (ii) adopted as a surname by the Chi Li (叱李) family from the Xianbei ethnic group during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (iii) in the early years of the Tang dynasty (AD 618–907), sixteen high officials with different surnames were granted the surname Li (李), the surname of the royal family of the Tang dynasty, by the emperor Tang Tai Zong (died 649 BC), because of their contributions to the establishment of the Tang regime. (iv) the surname can also be traced back to several minority ethnic groups in ancient China.

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 黎 (Lai in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'black' or 'multitude' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Li (黎), the name of an ancient state (located in Changzhi in Shanxi province) during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC), which was annexed in the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC) and later granted to Fengshu, also known as Li Hou (黎侯). (ii) adopted as a surname by the Su Li (素黎) family, members of the Xianbei ethnic group, during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 利 (Lei or Lee in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'sharp', 'fortunate', or 'benefits' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal name Li Zhen (利貞), son of an official called Li Zheng (理徵) in the late Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). (ii) from the place-name Li (利), the name of a fief (located in Hubei province or in Sichuan province) granted to a prince in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iii) adopted as a surname by the Chi Li (叱利) family, members of the Xianbei ethnic group during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 栗 (Lut or Leot in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'chestnut' in Chinese: (i) said to be from Li Lu (栗陸), the title of a legendary emperor in ancient China. (ii) from Li (栗), the name of an ancient state (located in Xiayi in Henan province) during the late Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC), which was annexed in the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC).

5 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 厲 (Lai in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'strict, rigorous' in Chinese: (i) from Li (厲), the posthumous title of king Qi Li Gong (齊厲公) (died 816 BC). (ii) from Li (厲), the name of an ancient state (located in Suixian in Hubei province) during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). (iii) adopted in place of the Chinese surname 孫. The king Sun Hao in the state of Wu during the Three Kingdoms period (AD 220–80) ordered Sun Xiu's family to change their surname to Li (厲) because Sun Xiu had defected to the state of Jin. (iv) adopted in place of the Chinese surname Li (李) by the extended family of an official called Li Jin (李晉) during the Tang dynasty (AD 618–907), who was killed because of his attempt to usurp the throne.

6 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 鄴 (Lai or Lik in Cantonese romanization): from the place-name Li (鄴), the name of an ancient state (located in Henan province) annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

Libby

Variants: Libbey, Lebby

- Current frequencies: GB 506, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 391
- Main GB location 1881: Cornwall

English: relationship name from the Middle English female personal names Libbe, **Libby*, or **Lebby*, probably pet forms of Elizabeth and perhaps also of Isabel (which was an Old French form of Elizabeth). In Devon and Cornwall, final -e is often written -a (as in the 1332 example) and sometimes develops to -y, which may account for Libby as a surname there. Elsewhere, Libby is more likely from Libbe + the hypocoristic suffix -y.

Early bearers: John son of Libbe, 1298 in Wakefield Court Rolls (WR Yorks); Geoffrey Libba, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Harberton, Devon); Thomas Leby, 1379 in Poll Tax (Ecclesfield, WR Yorks); Isabell Libbey, 1559 in IGI (London); Joan Libby, 1564, Mary Lebye, 1567 in IGI (Saint Neot, Cornwall); Nicholas Libye, 1569 in Cornwall Muster (Saint Stephen in Brannel, Cornwall); Bennet Libye, 1569 in Cornwall Muster (Lansallos, Cornwall); John Libby, 1571 in IGI (Golant, Cornwall); Margaret Liby, 1590 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Robert Leby, 1617 in IGI (Probus, Cornwall).

Liberty

- Current frequencies: GB 77, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 109
- Main GB location 1881: Herts, Middx, and Surrey

English: of uncertain origin. It is likely to be an altered form of some other name, by folk etymology. If the -t- is intrusive it could be locative, from the Herts place-name Libery, Libury, now Liberty Hall in Great Munden. Compare Radulphi Liberi, 1547 in IGI (Abbots Langley, Herts), Jacobus Liberi, 1610 in IGI (Saint Albans, Herts). Alternatively, it might be a nickname from Middle English lite(l) 'little' + bodi 'body, person', reduced to (an unrecorded) **Libody*, **Liberdy*. Compare Robert Litlebodi, 1326 in Patent Rolls (Herts), Katerina litlebod', 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Cambs), and Robert Litelbode, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Everton, Hunts). Or perhaps, as Bardsley suggested, it might be an altered form of the occupational name Leadbetter, pronounced Lebetter, **Lebety*, **Leberty*.

Liburd

Compare Richard le Ledbetere, 1307 in Subsidy Rolls (Kimpton, Herts).

Further information: Bardsley's tentative derivation from Liberty, a district in Elie (Fife), is unlikely since the place-name is not recorded before 1855.

Early bearers: Ellen Liberty, 1609 in IGI (Edlesborough, Bucks); Elizabeth Liberty, 1619, Thomas Liberty, 1641, Danell Liberty, 1665 in IGI (Kensworth, Herts); Martha Libertie, 1674 in IGI (Luton, Beds); Thomas Liberty, 1741 in IGI (Enfield, Middx).

Lightdown

Variants: Lightbound, Lightband, Lightburn

- Current frequencies: GB 465, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 364
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs

English: nickname from Middle English liht 'light' (Old English lēoht) + bond(e) 'unfree tenant, serf' (see Bond), the sense of liht here being perhaps 'cheerful' or 'active' (compare Lightbody).

Further information: In the case of William Litebonda, 1195 in Pipe Rolls (Cumb), Reaney suggests that the first element may alternatively represent a Middle English reflex of Old English lȳt 'little' (Reaney and Wilson); however, the remainder of the evidence points consistently to liht 'light'.

Early bearers: William Litebonda, 1195 in Pipe Rolls (Cumb); Willelmus Lyghtboun, 1379 in Poll Tax (Lancs); Johannes Lightbound, 1540 in IGI (Pontesbury, Shrops); John Lyghtbone, 1560 in IGI (Leigh, Lancs); Janett Lyghtbowne, 1562 in IGI (Aycliffe, Durham); Henry Lightboone, 1568 in IGI (Stoke Prior, Worcs); Johes. Leightbone, 1573 in IGI (Worthen, Shrops); Joana Lightbond, 1630 in IGI (Bromsgrove, Worcs); James Lightbowne, 1682 in Preston Guild Rolls (Lancs); Frances Lightband, 1694 in IGI (Powick, Worcs).

Lightburn

Variants: Lightbourne

- Current frequencies: GB 211, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 157
- Main GB location 1881: Lancs; also Durham

English: variant of Lightdown, with intrusive r as if from a place-name containing Old English burna 'stream'.

Further information: Wilson (in Reaney and Wilson) explains this as a locative name from Lightburne in Ulverston (Lancs), but early evidence for this place-name is wanting. It may derive from the surname rather than vice versa.

Early bearers: Margery Lightbourne, 1572 in IGI (Runcorn, Cheshire); Eliza Lightbourne, 1584 in IGI (Eccles, Lancs); Rober Lightborn, 1593 in Bardsley (Lancs).

Further information: This name is rare in Britain but is thriving in the USA.

Early bearers: William Lyghter, 1452 in Patent Rolls (Cornwall or Devon); Pettegreen Lighter, 1654 in IGI (Pinchbeck, Lincs); Francis Lighter, 1655 in IGI (Stepney, Middx); Thomas Liter, 1659 in IGI (Gisburn, WR Yorks).

Lightfoot

- Current frequencies: GB 4633, Ireland 25
- GB frequency 1881: 4072
- Main GB location 1881: N England and NW Midlands: esp. Cheshire

English: nickname from Middle English liht 'light' and fof 'foot' (Old English lēoht + fōt), used of one with a light, springy step, a speedy runner, a messenger. Compare Lyghtefote Nuncius in the Towneley Play of Cæsar Augustus and John Litefot, cacher', 1274 in Hundred Rolls (Norfolk). Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames notes that in the accounts of Bolton Priory, one expense in 1299 was for 'Lyhtfote pagio Celerarii' (the cellarer's page or servant), a man elsewhere referred to as Adam Lyhtfote.

Early bearers: William Lihfot, 1154–89 in Hatton's Book of Seals (Oxon); Hugh Lihtfott, 1206 in Curia Regis Rolls (Lincs); John Lyghtfot, 1296 in Assize Rolls (Cheshire); Adam Lightfot, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Cumb); Thomas Lightefote, 1377 in Poll Tax (Staffs); Johanne Lytefote, 1381 in Poll Tax (Berks); Anne Lyghtfoote, 1541, Richard Lightfote, 1544 in IGI (Nantwich, Cheshire); Katheren Leightfoote, 1585 in IGI (Prestbury, Cheshire).

Lightman

Variants: Likeman

- Current frequencies: GB 69, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 3

English: (i) nickname, perhaps from Middle English liht 'light, active' (Old English lēoht) + man 'man', though no medieval bearers have been noted. (ii) alternatively, perhaps a post-medieval variant of Litman, see Lutman.

Further information: This name is rare in Britain but is thriving in the USA.

Early bearers: England: Thomas Lightman, 1572 in IGI (Wramplingham, Norfolk); John Lightman, 1608 in

Lightning

IGI (Sudbury, Suffolk); John Likeman, 1764, Benjamin Lightman, 1791 in IGI (Brighton, Sussex). Scotland: Issobell Lightman, 1618 in IGI (Leith, Midlothian); Elisabeth Lightman, 1667 in IGI (Abbotshall, Fife).

Lightning

Variants: Lightwing

- Current frequencies: GB 91, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 74
- Main GB location 1881: Norfolk

English: apparently from a Middle English given name **Lightwin*, from an unrecorded Old English personal name **Lēohtwine* 'bright friend', which survives more clearly in the rarer variant. The more usual modern form arises through association with the common word lightning.

Further information: The modern Litwin might appear to be a direct descendant of this name, but it is absent from Census 1881 and is probably rather a variant of Letwin.

Early bearers: given names: Lihtuwinus, 1086 in Domesday Book (Suffolk); Walterus nepos Lituini, Lictwine, 1172, about 1175 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); Lichwinus, 1235 in Cartae Antiquae (Essex); Guthmarus filius Lithwini, about 1250 in Ramsey Cartulary (Norfolk).

surnames: John Lutewin, 1194 in Curia Regis Rolls (Beds); Herveus Lightwyne, 1285 in Assize Rolls (Essex); Hugh Lithwyne, Lightwyne, 1312, 1346 in Colchester Court Rolls; Hugh Lyztwine, 1325 in Patent Rolls (Colchester, Essex); John Lytzwyn (Lytwyne), 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Essex); William Litwyn, 1441 in York Freeman's Register; Roger Lytewyn, 1446–7 in Colchester Oath Book; John Lytwin, 1570 in IGI (Branscombe, Devon); Mary Lightning, 1692, Samuel Lightwing, 1789 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk); Mary Lightening, 1703, Sarah Lightwing, 1710 in IGI (Barford, Norfolk); George Lightning, 1713, Richard Lightwing, 1823 in IGI (Hethersett, Norfolk).

- Main GB location 1881: Kent; Northants

English: (i) locative name from Lymage in Great Staughton (Hunts), which is recorded as Lymmyng in 1241, Lemyng in 1350, Lymenge in 1354, and Lymmyng alias Lymmage in 1544. Some of the bearers cited here may alternatively belong to Leeming. (ii) locative name from Lyminge (Kent), which is recorded as Liminge in the 9th century, Limyng in 1397 (Kent Wills). The place-name means 'district of the River Limen', from a lost Celtic river-name Limen (perhaps meaning 'elm wood' or possibly 'marshy river') + Old English *gē 'district'. There is, however, no evidence to connect the medieval bearers in Kent cited here with the post-medieval bearers elsewhere in England, nor is there any evidence for the development of -ing(e) to -age in the Kent place-name.

Further information: Lymage Farm, which lay to the north-west of West Perry in Great Staughton, is now effectively lost to Grafham Water, a reservoir created in 1965.

1 Chinese: locative name, Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 林 (Lam in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'woods, forest' in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Chang Lin (長林), where Jian, son of Bi Gan, took refuge after his father was killed by Zhou, last king of the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). After the Shang dynasty was overthrown, he was endowed with the surname Lin (林) by Zhou Wu Wang, king of the new dynasty, the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). (ii) from the first element of the personal name Lin Kai (林開), son of the king Zhou Ping Wang (died 720 BC). (iii) from the personal name of Lin Fang (林放), an official in the state of Lu, also a student of Confucius, during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) adopted by the Qiu Lin (丘林) family as the surname during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (v) from the personal name of Lin Fu (林父), the given name of an official in the state of Wei during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), whose original surname was Sun. (vi) from the place-name Lin (林), the name of a fief granted to an official in the state of Ju during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 連 (Lian or Lien in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'link, connect' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the personal name Lian Cheng (連稱), an official in the state of Qi (located in present-day Shandong province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) from the second element of the personal name Hui Lian (惠連), the third son of Lu Zhong, a descendant of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC). (iii) from the first element of Lian Yin (連尹) and Lian Ao (連敖), names of two official posts in the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) traced back to the Lian (連) family, members of the Xianbei ethnic group in N China; possibly a shortened form of the Xianbei surname He Lian (赫連). It was also adopted as a surname during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534) by two other Xianbei families, Shi Lian (是連) and Tai Lian (太連).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 蘭 (Lun or Lon in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'rush (a type of plant)' in ancient Chinese: from the place-name Lin (蘭), the name of a fief (located in Shaanxi province or in Shanxi province) granted to Kang, who lived during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). He was descended from the Han family in the state of Jin but later went to the state of Zhao to seek an official post.

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 練 (Lian or Lien in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'white silk' or 'skilled' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the first element of the place-name Lian Xiang (練鄉), the name of a fief (located in present-day Fujian province) in the state of Min, a small state during the Five Dynasties and Ten Kingdoms (AD 907–60). (ii) from the personal name of Lian Xiang (練何), who was a general with the original surname Dong (東) during the Tang dynasty (AD 618–907) but later endowed with the surname Lian (練) (meaning 'skilful, experienced') because he was highly skilled in military training.

Linning

Variants: Linnen

- Current frequencies: GB 151, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 42
- Main GB location 1881: Lanarks

1 Scottish: of uncertain origin. It might be a variant of Lennon, influenced by association with the word linen (often spelled linnen, with dialect forms linon and linning, see OED). However, spellings with -ynge predate those with -en, and Lennon itself does not seem to be recorded in SW Scotland until later. Compare Leaning.

Early bearers: Scotland: Thomas Linnynge, 1627, Thomas Linnynng, 1631 in IGI (Glasgow, Lanarks); Richard Linnynng, 1667 in IGI (Edinburgh, Midlothian); William Lening, 1705 in IGI (Yester, E Lothian); Jannet Lyning, 1753 in IGI (Dunbar, E Lothian).

Norman, English: locative name from Anglo-Norman French dél isle (Latin de insula), denoting someone who lived on an island or came from a place so named. Ile, Isle, and L'Isle are common French place-names and the surname may in some cases be from Lille (Nord). However, Robert de Insula, Bishop of Durham, 1274, was an Englishman, the son of poor crofters at Lindisfarne, and took his name from Holy Island.

Early bearers: Hunfridus de Insula, 1086 in Domesday Book (Wilts); Peter de Isla, 1166 in Red Book of the Exchequer (Yorks); Baldwin del Ille, 1255 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); John del Ile, 1275 in Hundred Rolls (Suffolk); Jordan del Ylle, 1307 in Wakefield Court Rolls (WR Yorks); Robert del Ile, 1311 in York Freeman's Register; Henry Lyle, 1319 in Crowland Abbey Estates (Cambs); Andrew del Ille, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Cumb); Thomas Lyle, 1566 in IGI (Royston, WR Yorks); Anna Lisle, 1598 in IGI (Norton, Durham); Philipp Lisle, 1604 in IGI (Hartland, Devon); Daniel Lisle, 1628 in IGI (Westminster, Middx); Tho Lisle, 1634 in IGI (Saint Giles Cripplegate, London); Anna Lisle, 1647 in IGI (Bisham, Berks); Maurity Lisle, 1690 in IGI (Fishlake, WR Yorks).

Littleford

- Current frequencies: GB 370, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 218
- Main GB location 1881: Shrops, Staffs, and Warwick

English: locative name, perhaps from a lost place called Littleford End in Sutton Maddock (Shrops), though this place-name (which has not been noted earlier than 1682) may alternatively derive from the surname, in which case the location of any original Littleford remains unidentified. There may well have been some confusion with Littleworth. Interchange of -worth and -ford in an unstressed syllable is a relatively common phenomenon in English place-names. Indeed, given the lack of medieval early bearers, it is even possible that the surname Littleford is in all cases a development of Littleworth. Early bearers: Richard Lytelford, 1524 in Subsidy Rolls (Sutton Maddock, Shrops); Nicolas Lytelford, 1524 in Subsidy Rolls (Boningle, Shrops); Johan Littleforde, 1561 in IGI (Pattingham, Staffs); Alyce Lytleford, 1573 in IGI (Kinver, Staffs); Tho. - Current frequencies: GB 1415, Ireland 14
- GB frequency 1881: 1403
- Main GB location 1881: central and E Scotland: esp. Aberdeens; also London; Devon

English, Scottish: nickname from Middle English litel 'little' (Old English lytel) + the Middle English personal name John. The nickname may have been used ironically for a giant, as with the outlaw character Little John in 17th-century tales and ballads of Robin Hood (though he is no giant in 15th-century texts).

Early bearers: given names: Litel Jon, 1350 in Colchester Court Rolls (Essex).

Littleproud

- Current frequencies: GB 61, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 88
- Main GB location 1881: Norfolk

English: nickname from Middle English litel 'little' (Old English lytel) + prude, prute 'worth, value; pride, splendour' (Old French prod, prud, prut 'advantage, profit, worth, value'). The wife of Henry Lytilprud (1301 in Nottingham Borough Records) was Hawisia 'Crist a pes' whose constant cry 'Christ have peace!' suggests her husband deserved his nickname. Further information: A comparable medieval surname is that of Simonem Smalprut, 1221, Ric' Smalprout, 1278–9 in Feilitzen, Winton (Oxon).

Early bearers: Goderun Litteprot, 1086 in Winton Domesday (Hants); Henry Lytilprud, 1301 in Nottingham Borough Records (Notts); Willelmus Litelprud, 1327, Johannes Litelproud, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Norfolk); Robertus Lytylproud, 1379 in Poll Tax (Pontefract, WR Yorks); Matilda Lytillprowd, 1379 in Poll Tax (Glass Houghton, WR Yorks); Robertus Lytelproud, 1379 in Poll Tax (Shropham hundred, Norfolk); John Littleprowd, 1575, Mary Littleproud, 1605 in IGI (Attleborough, Norfolk).

1 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 劉 (Lau or Lao in Cantonese romanization), referring to 'a type of axe used as a weapon' or meaning 'kill' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Liu (劉), the name of an ancient state (located in Tang county in Hebei province). After this state was annexed during the reign of Zhou Xuan Wang (reigned 827–782 BC; see Zhou (1)), some people from it adopted 劉 as their surname. Liu Bang (劉邦) (256–195 BC), the founder of the Western Han dynasty, is said to have been a descendant of one of these people. (ii) from the names of two other Western Han nobles, Lou Jing and Xiang Bochan, who were given the surname Liu (劉) by Liu Bang (256–195 BC). In addition, one of Liu Bang's daughters was said to be sent to marry Modu Chanyu (died 174 BC), the then chief of the Huns, after the campaign at Baideng in 200 BC, and some of their descendants later inherited Liu (劉) as their surname. (iii) from the place-name Liu (劉), the name of a fief (located in Yanshi in present-day Henan province) granted to the son of Wang Ji, a noble who lived during the reign of Zhou Cheng Wang (reigned 1042–1021 BC). 2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 柳 (Lau or Lao in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'willow' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the place-name Liu Xia (柳下), the name of a fief (located in Shandong province) in the state of Lu, granted to Zhan Qin, also known as Liu Xia Hui (柳下惠) (720–621 BC), a revered judicial official in the state of Lu. (ii) from the place-name Liu (柳), the name of a fief (located in Xihua in Henan province) granted to Xiong Xin (died 205 BC), the grandson of the king Chu Huai Wang (died 296 BC). 3 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 廖 (Liau or Liao in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'spacious, empty' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the personal name of Liao Shu An (廖叔安), an official who lived during the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC), who is said to have been the founder of an ancient state called Liao (廖), located in Henan province. (ii) from the second element of the personal name Bo Liao (伯廖), name of one of the sons of Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC; see Zhou (1)). (iii) from the personal name of another Bo Liao (伯廖), son of an official in the state of Zheng (located in part of present-day Shaanxi and Henan provinces) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) adopted in place of two other Chinese surnames, Miu (繆) and Yan (顏). Some bearers of these two surnames migrated to live on the north bank of the Yellow River, where they changed their surname to Liao (廖) during the reign of Zhou, the last king of the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC).

1 Chinese: Mandarin or Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 羅 (Luo in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'net for catching birds' or 'to collect' in Chinese: (i) from Luo (羅), the name of an ancient state (located in present-day Hubei province). After it was annexed by the state of Chu during the early Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), people from the state migrated southwards and adopted Luo (羅) as their surname. (ii) from the Po Duo Luo (破多羅) and Chi Luo (叱羅) families from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surnames to 羅 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (iii) from the personal name Hu Se Luo (斛瑟羅), leader of an ancient Turkic tribe who are believed to have migrated to China during the Tang dynasty (AD 618–907). His descendants inherited his name Hu Se Luo (斛瑟羅) as their surname and shortened it to 羅 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (iv) from the name of one of the seven families from the Bandun Man, an ethnic group residing in ancient SW China (located mainly in present-day Sichuan province).

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 駱 (Luk or Lok in Cantonese romanization), referring to 'a white horse with a black mane' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the personal name Luo (駱), the style name of a prince in the state of Qi (located mainly in present-day Shandong province). (ii) from the name of Da Luo (大駱), a descendant of an official during the Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). His eldest son, Cheng, established a state named after his father's name Da Luo (大駱) (location unknown). After it was annexed by a minority ethnic group in NW China during the reign of Zhou Li Wang (died 828 BC), people from the state adopted Luo (駱) as their surname. (iii) from the personal name Luo (駱), the given name of a royal member in the state of Zheng (located in part of present-day Shaanxi and Henan provinces) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) from the Tuo Luo Ba family (佗駱拔, also written as 他駱拔, 他駱伏, 地駱拔) from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surname to 駱 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (v) a family name of the Tuyuhun ethnic group, originating in the Five Dynasties and Ten Kingdoms (AD 907–60).

3 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surnames 盧, 蘆, 魯, and 路, see Lu (1–4).

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surnames 勞 and 老, see Lau (3) and (4).

5 Chinese: Hokkien and Taiwanese form of the Chinese surnames 婁 and 樓, see Lau (1) and (2).

6 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 樂, see Lok (1).

7 Vietnamese: unexplained; probably from one of the Chinese names above.

- Current frequencies: GB 2282, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 1662
- Main GB location 1881: S England: esp. Dorset, Hants, and Berks

1 English: occupational name from Middle English loder 'carrier, porter; ship-loader, stevedore' (an agent derivative of Middle English lode 'to load').

Further information: The occupation seems at times to have been hazardous. One William Southam, 'loder', servant of Geoffrey Walderne of London, draper, was robbed of a pack of woollen cloths, 1378 in Patent Rolls (Bucks), and one William Bole of Stanstede by Ware (Stanstead Abbots), 'lodere', was robbed of a black horse on the highway between Cheshunt and Waltham Cross, 1396 in Patent Rolls (Herts).

Early bearers: Richard (le) Lodere, 1234, 1247 in Oseney Cartulary (Oxon); Emma la Lodere, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); Richard le Lodere, 1310 in Patent Rolls (Oxford, Oxon); Robertus Lodere, 1311–12 in Canterbury Freeman's Rolls (Kent); Simon le Loder,

Lobley

- Current frequencies: GB 566, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 597
- Main GB location 1881: WR Yorks, Lincs, and Lancs

English: locative name from an unidentified place, perhaps in NR Yorks. As Redmonds points out, Wilson’s derivation from Lobley Gate in Baildon (WR Yorks) is unlikely, as that place is not on record before the 18th century, whereas the surname was already current in that part of Yorkshire by the 17th century and probably gave its name to the place: John Lobley, 1604 in Parish Registers (Calverley, WR Yorks).

Early bearers: Simon Lobelay, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Bainbridge, NR Yorks); Adam Lobley, 1493 in York Freeman’s Register; James Lobley, 1562 in IGI (Donington in Holland, Lincs); Lobley, 1577 in IGI (Bedale, NR Yorks); William Lobley, 1586 in IGI (Leeds, WR Yorks); Henry Lobley, 1678 in IGI (Clitheroe, Lancs).

Scottish: locative name, perhaps from Lochree in Inch (Wigtowns).

Early bearers: George Locheri, 1601 in IGI (Abercorn, W Lothian); Christian Lochry, 1670 in IGI (Linlithgow, W Lothian); Cornelius Lochry, 1800 in IGI (Old Monkland, Lanarks); Nancy Lochrey, 1829 in IGI (Kirkcowan, Wigtowns); John Lochree, 1843 in IGI (Glasgow, Lanarks); Margaret Johnstone Lochray, 1845 in IGI (Minnigaff, Kirkcudbrights).

Lock

Variants: Locke, Loake, Locks

- Current frequencies: GB 9966, Ireland 49
- GB frequency 1881: 8495
- Main GB location 1881: S England: esp. Devon and Somerset

- Main Irish location 1847–64: E Ulster

1 English: (i) nickname from Middle English lok, locke ‘lock of hair’ (Old English locc), for someone with curly or otherwise noticeable hair. Some bearers may belong with (2). (ii) relationship name from the Old Scandinavian given name Lokki, Lokke (from lokkr ‘lock of hair’), on record in East Anglia.

Early bearers: Leuric Loc, Leovric Locc, 1130 in Pipe Rolls (Warwicks), 1130 in Curia Regis Rolls (Hants); Eustace Loc, 1235 in Cartae Antiquae (Essex); Johannes Lok, 1381 in Poll Tax (Little Fransham, Norfolk); Johannes Lok, 1381 in Poll Tax (Shrops); Beatrix Loke, 1381 in Poll Tax (Whaplode, Lincs); Cristina Lokkes, 1381 in Poll Tax (Long Wittenham, Berks); William Lock, 1541 in IGI (North Molton, Devon); Henry Lock, 1560 in IGI (Saint Mary le Bow, London); Thome Locks, 1589 in IGI (Blo Norton, Norfolk).

2 English: locative name from Middle English loke ‘enclosure’, also ‘barrier in a river which could be opened or closed’. Along the River Lea it was used to denote a bridge, unum pontem alias Lok, 1277 (see Place-Names of Essex, p. 585). The surname may thus have denoted someone who lived near an enclosure or bridge or the keeper of a lock or bridge. A similar word loke exists in modern E Anglian dialect meaning ‘short grassy lane’, and some of the forms in (1) may belong with that.

Further information: Middle English forms of the name with a preposition are not well recorded, so the locative surname is probably rare compared with the nickname in (1).

Early bearers: William de Lok, 1230 in Pipe Rolls (Berks); Robert Atteloke, 1300 in London Court Rolls; Anne Loake, 1574 in IGI (Bircham Newton, Norfolk).

3 Chinese: romanization of the Chinese surname 陸, see Lu (5).

4 Chinese: romanization of the Chinese surname 駱, see Lo (2).

- English: locative name, occupational name from Middle English loge, logge (Old French loge) 'hut, temporary shelter, workshop, occupational cottage (for a gamekeeper, bridge keeper, etc)'. As Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames shows, in Yorks it referred to a herdsman's hut and by extension to the cattle farm that was managed from it. He cites from the Kirkstall Abbey records a William del Loghe, keeper or custos of 'unum loghe pro pastoribus' in Bowland (1366–7). Men named de(l) Loge evidently ran a cattle-rearing station for their lord, whether secular or, in this instance, religious. Redmonds notes that Fountains Abbey (WR Yorks) also possessed cattle farms called 'lodges' from the 1190s to the Dissolution. Early examples of this surname in E Anglia and Wilts may alternatively have alluded to a forester's or gamekeeper's hut. Compare Lodge Copse in Chute Forest, (recorded as le Logge coppys, about 1490) and Lodge Wood in Heywood (recorded as Lodgewoode in 1626) in Place-Names of Wilts, pp. 342, 149. Reaney explains the name in terms of itinerant masons' lodges, citing Salzman, Building, pp. 39–40, but these were probably too transient to have given rise to a hereditary surname.

Early bearers: N England: Nich. de la Loge, 1363 in Feet of Fines (Yorks); Rogero del Loge, 1379 in Poll Tax (Orton, Westm); Emma del Loge, 1379 in Poll Tax (Ravenstonedale, Westm); Johannes del Loge, 1379 in Poll Tax (Kirkby Malzeard with Laverton, Missies, Lumley, Skelding, Dalla, Swetton, Dalehouses and Nidderdale, WR Yorks); Edmundus de Loge, 1379 in Poll Tax (Rimington, WR Yorks); Gilbert Loge, 1522 in Early Tudor Craven (Rimington, WR Yorks); Marmoduco Lodge, 1559 in IGI (Almondbury, WR Yorks); Lucas Lodge, 1560 in IGI (Bedale, NR Yorks); Margaret Lodge, 1577 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks); Thomas Lodge, 1588 in IGI (Chester le Street, Durham); Suttoni Lodge, 1623 in IGI (Prescot, Lancs); William Lodge, 1644 in IGI (Crosthwaite cum Lyth, Westm).

2 Irish: from Ó Longáin, see Langán. As an Irish name, this is often spelled Longe.

Early bearers: Thomas Long, husbandman, 1573 in Fiants Elizabeth §2233 (Knocken); Robert Longe, constable and keeper of Limerick Castle, 1580 in Fiants Elizabeth §3660; Bartholomew Longe, gent., 1582 in Fiants Elizabeth §3883 (Derre, Kildare); Dermod Longe alias (O’Longe), 1601 in Fiants Elizabeth §6467.

3 Chinese: Mandarin or Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 龍, meaning ‘dragon’ in Chinese: (i) from Long (龍), the name of an official during the reign of the legendary emperor Shun Di (reigned 2162–2110 BC), in charge of communications between the ordinary people and the emperor. (ii) from the surname Huan Long (夔龍, meaning ‘feeding dragons’). A certain Dong Fu is said to have been endowed with this surname by the legendary emperor Shun Di (reigned 2162–2110 BC). Liu Lei, who is said to have learned to feed dragons from one of Dong’s descendants, was endowed with the surname Yu Long (御龍, meaning ‘driving dragons’) by one of the kings of the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (iii) the surname is borne by some families from the Zang Ge ethnic group in ancient China, who lived in what are now Yunan and Guizhou provinces. (iv) the surname is also borne by members of the royal families of the states of Qiemi and Yanqi, located in present-day Xinjiang Uygur autonomous region.

4 Chinese: Mandarin or Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 隆, meaning ‘prosperous, thriving’ or ‘grand, magnificent’ in Chinese: (i) from the place-name Long (隆), the name of a fief (located in present-day Shandong province) in the state of Lu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) the surname is borne by some families from the Huns during the early Western Han dynasty (202 BC–AD 9).

5 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 郎 (Lang in Mandarin pinyin), an ancient term to refer to one’s lover or son: (i) from the place-name Lang (郎), the name of a city where Fei Bo, the grandson of Lu Yi Gong (reigned 815–807 BC), lived. Some of his descendants later changed their original surname Fei to Lang (郎). (ii) the surname is also borne by some families from the state of the South Huns (AD 48–216, located in N China).

6 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 農 (Nong or Nung in Mandarin pinyin and Cantonese romanization), meaning ‘agriculture’ in Chinese: (i) said to be from Shen Nong (神農), legendary ruler of China some 5000 years ago. He is credited with introducing the practice of agriculture and the use of herbal drugs to ancient China. (ii) from an official post in ancient China called Nong Zheng (農正) ‘agriculture officer’.

Variants: Longbones

- Current frequencies: GB 139, Ireland 0
  - GB frequency 1881: 46
  - Main GB location 1881: ER Yorks; also Northumb
- English: nickname for a tall man. Some of the earliest forms derive from the Old Scandinavian nickname Langabeinn ‘long bone’ or rather ‘long leg’, occasionally used as a personal name, and occurring in those parts of eastern and northern England that had once been under Viking rule. The equivalent words in Old English were lang and bān, which became long and bone in all Middle English dialects except parts of northern England, especially Yorks, where lang and bane commonly retained the Old English vowel sounds. These northern forms were at first partly and then wholly modified to Standard English Longbone. Compare its antonyms, Smallbone and Johanne Lyllebon (i.e. ‘little bone, little leg’), 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Dorset).
- Early bearers: given names: Langabeinun, 1086 in Domesday Book (Suffolk); Langebeyn, 1101–7 in Saint Benet of Holme Register (Norfolk).

- Current frequencies: GB 631, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 622
- Main GB location 1881: Dorset, Hants, and Somerset

English: nickname, either from Middle English love 'love' + the suffix -les 'free from, without', hence 'loveless', or perhaps occasionally 'love lass', love + Middle English las(se). Compare Alan Luveswain, 1166 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks). The interpretation 'love lace', for a dandy, is less likely, as Old French laz, Middle English las meant 'cord', the sense 'lace' not appearing in English records before 1550 (OED).

Early bearers: Edith Luvelece, 1243 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); William Luuelaz, about 1250 in Saint Gregory Cartulary (Kent); John Loveles, 1251 in Leicester Freeman Register (Leics); Rob.   - Main GB location 1881: widespread in England: esp. Somerset and Gloucs; London and Surrey; Northants
  - Main Irish location 1847–64: Cork
- Norman: (i) nickname from Anglo-Norman French lovel 'wol fcbu', a diminutive of lou, love 'wolf'. Richard Luvel, 1263 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Somerset), was 'of Kari Lowel barony', and was descended from William, Earl of Yvery, who was called Lupellus to distinguish him from his father Robert who had acquired the nickname Lupus because of his violent temper. Here the diminutive is clearly used in the sense 'the younger'. Compare Low. There may have been some confusion with Lovewell. (ii) relationship name; Lovel is also found as an Anglo-Norman French personal name, and is probably another source of the surname. Compare Love, Lovett.

Early bearers: given names: Luuellus, 1145–7 in Colchester Cartulary (Essex); Lovel le Clark, 1274 in Hundred Rolls (Essex).

surnames: Ricardus lupellus, about 1118 in Cartae Antiquae (Sussex); William Luuel, 1130 in Pipe Rolls (Oxon); Willelmus Luvel, Lupellus, 1206 in Curia Regis Rolls (Oxon); William Luvel, Luel, 1212 in Book of Fees (Suffolk); Philip Lowel, 1255 in Hundred Rolls (Oxon); Richard Luvel alias Lowel, Lovel, 1263 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Somerset); Johannes Lovell, 1381 in Poll Tax (Surrey); Margaret Lovell, 1541 in IGI (Westminster, Middx); George Lovell, 1542 in IGI (Weston, Herts); Theobald Or Theddi Lovell, 1544 in IGI (Landulph, Cornwall); Thomas Lovell, 1544 in IGI (Plymtree, Devon); Willm. ### Lower

Variants: Lowers

- Current frequencies: GB 810, Ireland 1
- GB frequency 1881: 566
- Main GB location 1881: Sussex and Kent; Cornwall

1 English: locative name denoting residence by a (man-made) hill or mound, from a derivative of Middle English low + -er, a formation typical of Sussex and Surrey. It is equivalent to Middle English atte Lowe; see Low and compare Lewer.

Early bearers: Amicia Lowere, 1379 in Poll Tax (Sedgewick, Sussex); Johannes Lowere, 1381 in Poll Tax (Bramley, Surrey); Johannes Lowere, 1381 in Poll Tax (Gomshall, Surrey); John Lower, 1539 in IGI (Rudgwick, Sussex); William Lower, 1664 in Hearth Tax (High Halstow, Kent).

References: Surnames of Sussex, p. 194.

2 English: it is sometimes suggested that it is a variant of Ewer, with fused Old French definite article le, but proof is lacking. The Yorks and Cornwall name may have migrated from Sussex or Surrey, or have a different, unidentified origin. It might, for example, be a variant of Lover with vocalization of /v/ to /w/, or a variant of Middle English louerd with loss of final -d (see Lord).

Early bearers: Robert Lower, 1513 in York Freeman's Register; Elizabeth Lower, 1603 in IGI (Saint Tudy, Cornwall).

1 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 盧 (also Lo in Cantonese romanization), meaning both 'black' and 'good god' in ancient Chinese: (i) from the place-name Lu (盧), the name of a fief (located in Changqing in Shandong province) granted to Xi, the great grandson of Qi Tai Gong, also known as Jiang Tai Gong (died 1015 BC). (ii) shortened form of the compound Chinese surname Lu-Pu (盧蒲, also written as 蘆蒲), borne by descendants of Qi Huan Gong (died 643 BC). (iii) from the place name Lu (盧), the name of an ancient state (unknown location) prior to the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). When it was adopted as a surname, the Chinese character 盧 was simplified to 盧. (iv) from the Mo Lu (莫盧) family from Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surnames to 盧 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534), and later some descendants simplified the Chinese character 盧 to 盧. (v) from the Tu Fu Lu (吐伏盧) family from Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surnames to 盧 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

2 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 蘆 (Lo in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'reed' in Chinese: (i) shortened form of the compound Chinese surname Lu Pu (盧蒲, also written as 蘆蒲), which was borne by descendants of Qi Huan Gong (died 643 BC). (ii) from the Mo Lu (莫盧) family from Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surnames to 蘆 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534).

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 魯 (Lo in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'slow, clumsy' in Chinese: from Lu (魯), the name of a state (located mainly in present-day Shandong province) originally granted to Bo Qin, a prince in the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). After the state was annexed by the state of Chu in 256 BC, Lu (魯) was adopted as a surname.

4 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 路 (Lo in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'roads' in Chinese: (i) from Lu (路), the name of an ancient state (unknown location) during the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC), said to be originally granted to Xuan Yuan by the legendary king Yao (2367–2258 BC). (ii) from Lu Zi (潞子), the name of a state (located in Changzhi in Shanxi province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). After it was annexed by the state of Jin, the Chinese character 潞 was simplified to 路 and adopted as a surname. (iii) said to be borne by descendants of Qiu Yan, who was a descendant of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC). (iv) from the Mo Lu Zhen (沒路真) family from the Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surnames to 路 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (v) the surname can be also traced back to some families from the Huns (located in ancient N China) and Shanyue ethnic group (located in ancient SE China).

5 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 陸 (Luk or Lok in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'six' or 'land' in Chinese: (i) from the first element of the place-name Lu Xiang (陸鄉), the name of a fief (located in Pingyuan in Shandong province), said to be originally granted to Lu Zhong, a descendant of the legendary Huang Di, the 'Yellow Emperor' (traditional dates 2697–2599 BC). During the Warring States period (475–221 BC), the fief was also granted to Tian Tong, the youngest son of Qi Xuan Wang (died 301 BC). (ii) from the first element of Lu Hun (陸渾), the name of an ancient state (located in Songxian in Henan province) established by a minority ethnic group in NW China during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). After the state of Lu Hun was annexed by the state of Jin, Lu (陸) was adopted as a surname. (iii) from the Bu Lu Hu (步陸狐) family from Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surname to 陸 during the Northern Wei dynasty (AD 386–534). (iv) for some families, the surname can be traced back to the Li ethnic group in Guizhou province, as well as the Huns during the Western Han dynasty (206 BC–AD 25).

6 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 呂 (Lui or Loi in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'pitch pipe' in ancient Chinese: (i) from Lü (呂), the name of a state (located in Nanyang in Henan province) granted to Lü Hou (呂侯, Marquis Lü) by Xia Yu, first king of the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC), because of his contributions to controlling floods. After the state was annexed by the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), the name of the state was adopted as a surname. (ii) from the Chi Lü (叱呂), Si Lü Ling (侯呂陵) and some other families, members of the Xianbei ethnic group in N China, who changed their original surnames to 呂 during the Southern and Northern dynasties (AD 420–589). (iii) from the place-name Lü (呂), name of a fief (located in present-day Shanxi province) which was granted to Lü Xiang (呂相), son of an official who lived in the state of Jin during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

- Current frequencies: GB 178, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 174
- Main GB location 1881: Hants

English: relationship name from the Middle English personal name Luteman, Liteman, reduced dialectal forms of Lutelman and Litelman, Old English **Lytelmann*, **Litelman*, an original nickname 'little man'. Luteman is mainly limited to parts of S and W England. See Lilliman for an alternative development of the same personal name.

Further information: In Surnames of Sussex, McKinley offers an alternative explanation from a hypothetical Middle English **Loteman*, a compound of Middle English lot (Old English hlōt) 'share of allotted land' + man and synonymous with atte Lote (see Lott). In the Sussex Subsidy Rolls, Walter de Lutemannesparr' (1296) is apparently identical with Walter Lotemansparre (1327), who was taxed in Wisborough and presumably owned the land there now known as Sparr Farm. Walter Loteman (the same man?) was taxed in Wisborough in 1332, and his family name is probably preserved in Lutman's Farm there. The more likely explanation is that the -o- in Loteman represents /u/ as seen in Luteman (compare a similar variation in the early forms of Potwell in Henfield, Place-Names of Sussex, p. 218), or a scribal error for **Leteman* which, alongside Luteman, would be a regular alternative development of Old English **Lytelmann* in Sussex. Early bearers: given names: Lutemannus, 1086 in Winton Domesday (Hants); Liteman de Clunton', 1176 in Pipe Rolls (Devon).

surnames: Rogerus filius Liteman, 1204 in Curia Regis Rolls (Suffolk); Reginaldus filius Luteman, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Gloucs); Richard Liteman, 1275, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Northants, Beds); Gilbert Lyteman, 1305 in Suffolk Archaeology Proceedings iii; William Lyteman, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (East Dean, Sussex); Johes. Lutner

- Current frequencies: GB 32
- GB frequency 1881: 26
- Main GB location, 1881: Shrops, Staffs, and Cheshire

English: of uncertain origin.

Further information: The spelling alternation seen in 1642 suggests that it may be a locative name deriving from the place-name Lewknor (Oxon), in which case compare Luckner. However, a single 17th-century Staffs document (TNA STAC 8/202/9) equates Lutener with Lattner, though it is not clear on what basis. A Chancery document pairs Katherine Lewtener alias Katherine Lattner and William Lewtener alias William Lattner. Lattner is otherwise known only as a rare 19th-century immigrant name, and the confusion (if that is what it is) is with Latner and potentially therefore also with Latimer. A link with lutener 'lute-player' might be thought of, but that is found only once (OED).

Early bearers: William Luttener, 1433 in Norfolk Record Office (Barnham, Norfolk); Anthony Lutener alias Anthony Lukener, 1642 in TNA (Aston, Clun, Shrops); John Lutner, 1643 in IGI (Albourne, Sussex); Sarah Lutner, 1696 in IGI (Liverpool, Lancs); Margt. Lutnar, 1707 in IGI (Liverpool, Lancs); Joseph Lutnor, 1741 in IGI (Dilhorne, Staffs); Phebe Lutener, 1756 in IGI (Birmingham, Warwicks); Thomas Lutner, 1759 in IGI (Swynnerton, Staffs); Mary Lutner, 1789 in IGI (Wybunbury, Cheshire); William Lutiner, 1828 in IGI (Market Drayton, Shrops). References: Norfolk Record Office KIM 2/O/17; TNA C 3/423/8, C 2/JasI/L8/32, STAC 8/202/9.

Norman, English, Irish: nickname from a diminutive of Old French loutre 'otter'. Ralph Lutrel is also called le Lutterer, 1219 in Curia Regis Rolls (Bucks). Compare Lutterer.

Further information: The manor of East Quantoxhead (Somerset) has been held by a family of this name since 1207. The same family bought Dunster Castle (Somerset) from John de Mohun in 1376, and still hold the castle today. This Norman name is now more common in Ireland than in England, where a family of the name held the title Earl of Carhampton from 1785 to 1829. Carhampton is in Somerset, close to Dunster, but the link between the Irish and English families is not clear.

Early bearers: England: Geoffrey Lutrel, 1194 in Pipe Rolls (Notts); Ralph Lutrel, 1219 in Curia Regis Rolls (Bucks); Alexander Lutterel, 1268 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); Rebecca Luttrell, 1569 in IGI (Exeter, Devon); Tho. Luttrell, 1665 in IGI (North Petherton, Somerset).

Ma

Variants: Mah, Mar, Mai, Bay, Bee, Beh

- Current frequencies: GB 1057, Ireland 2
- GB frequency 1881: 7

1 Chinese: Mandarin or Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 馬, which means 'horse': (i) from the place-name Mafu (馬服), the name of a fief (located in Handan in Hebei province) granted to Zhao She, a prince of the state of Zhao during the Warring States period (475–221 BC). When the name of the fiefdom was adopted as a surname, it was shortened to Ma (馬). (ii) from the adopted name of Xi-Li Ji'en (習禮吉恩), an official in the Jin dynasty (AD 1115–1234), who changed his original name to Ma Qingxiang (馬慶祥) when he moved from Central Asia to Lintao (in present-day Gansu province). (iii) from the adopted name of Yue Naihe (月乃和), a commander-in-chief in the late Jin dynasty (AD 1115–1234), who changed his original name to Ma Zu Chang (馬祖常). (iv) this surname is also borne by Muslims of the Hui ethnic group, located mainly in NW China.

2 Chinese: Mandarin or Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 麻, which denotes a herbaceous plant such as hemp or flax: (i) from the place-name Ma (麻), the name of a fief (located in Macheng in Hubei province) granted to an official of the state of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (ii) from the first element of the personal name of Ma Ying (麻嬰), an official in the state of Qi (located mainly in present-day Shandong province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Korean: 馬; Chinese character: 馬, meaning 'horse'. Borne by descendants of Ma Ryō (馬黎), who attended King On Cho when he left Koguryō to found the Paekche Kingdom in 18 BC, and by descendants of Ryō's brother, Ma Shin (馬信), who stayed behind in Koguryō. The Ma family disappears from the historical record after these events, but reappears during the reign of the Koryō king Chōngjo (reigned AD 1776–1800), when a high court official, Ma Sun-hūng (馬順興), was enfeoffed with Mokch'ōn County in Ch'ungch'ōng South Province. Mokch'ōn became the clan seat of the Ma Family. Another clan seat appeared eleven generations later, when Ma Ch'ōn-mok (馬天牧) was enfeoffed with Changhūng County.

Scottish, English, Welsh: (i) relationship name, Scottish, perhaps from the Brittonic personal name Mabon or Maban. As it seems to be evidenced as a personal name in the Yorks section of Domesday Book, it could have been current among the nobility of post-Conquest SE Scotland and N England and hence given rise to a surname. In 18th-century NE England it is probably the Scottish name through migration. (ii) nickname, Norman, a variant of Malbon with loss of -l-. This surname is not known in the Scottish records.

Further information: An Old Welsh form of the Brittonic personal name Mabon is attested also as a patronymic ap Mabon in medieval Welsh records, but there is no evidence of it now as a surname in

Mackereth

- Current frequencies: GB 315, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 279
- Main GB location 1881: Westm, Cumb, and Lancs

English: relationship name apparently from the Scottish Gaelic personal name Macrath ('son of grace or prosperity'). Compare McRae. One might speculate that the family name, which has a long history in N Lancs and Westm, is descended from that of Alexander Macrad, witness to a charter of about 1225 in Lennox Cartulary (Dunbartons), but more evidence is needed.

Further information: Mackereth was sometimes confused with Mackrell. Compare Robert Mackereth, 1593, Robert Mackerell, 1597 in IGI (Cartmel, Lancs), and see Redmonds, Dictionary of Yorks Surnames, at Mackereth, Mackerell. Redmonds notes that Richard Makerell, who was taxed in York in 1524, was almost certainly the corn merchant named elsewhere as Richard Mackereth. An etymological relationship between the two names is unlikely.

Madder

Variants: Mader, Mather, Madders, Maddrell

- Current frequencies: GB 87, Ireland o

- GB frequency 1881: 137

• Main GB location 1881: scattered: esp. Suffolk
English: occupational name from Middle English **mader*, **madour*, **mather*, reduced forms of Middle English maderer, **maderour*, **matherer* 'seller of madder' or 'dyer who used madder'. Compare Rob. Madster, 1332 in Assize Rolls (Lancs), whose name appears to be a similarly reduced form of the variant **maderster*, with the suffix -ster substituted for -er, as in Webster for Webber. Madder or mather (Old English mædere, Old Scandinavian maðra) was the name for the plant Rubia tinctorum, used medicinally and for making red dye. It was also a word for red dye made from other sources. The surname is more commonly found as Mather in post-medieval records.

Further information: The full form of the occupational term is evidenced by Ric. le Madrer, 1333 in Assize Rolls (Lancs), Johannes Maderer', 1381 in Poll Tax (Halstead, Essex), and Robert Matherer or Madderer, 1558–9 in Leeds Wills (Sherburn in Elmet, WR Yorks). ### Mai

Variants: Bi

- Current frequencies: GB 252, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 3

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 米 (Mi in Mandarin pinyin, Bi in Teochew romanization), which means ‘rice’: (i) from one of the ‘Nine Sogdian Surnames’, also known as ‘nine surnames of Zhaowu’, because their ancestors came from Zhaowu, an ancient city in present-day Gansu province in NW China. During the Sui and Tang dynasties (AD 581–987) there were nine Sogdian states in Central Asia, one of which was called Mi (米) in Chinese (located in present-day Uzbekistan). Between AD 649 and 655, these states submitted to the emperor Tang Gao Zong (唐高宗) of the Tang Dynasty. Immigrants from the state of Mi to China acquired the surname 米. (ii) for some families, the surname is borne by descendants of Mi Fu (米芾), an artist in the Northern Song dynasty (AD 960–1127), who claimed he was a descendant of the royal families of the state of Chu in the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC) and changed his original surname 芾 to 米, a different Chinese character with the same pronunciation.

2 Chinese: Mandarin and Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 買, meaning ‘buy’ in Chinese: (i) borne by descendants of king Song Wei Zi, founder of the state of Song. (ii) borne by descendants of the king Xu Dao Gong (546–523 BC), possibly inheriting his given name. (iii) from the first element of the personal name Mai Zhu Chu (買朱鉏), style name of an official who lived during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (iv) it has also been traced back to other ethnic groups in N China.

3 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 麥, see Mak (1).

4 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 馬, see Ma (1).

5 Vietnamese: written with the Chinese character 梅, corresponding to Mandarin Méi.

1 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 麥 (Mai in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'wheat' in Chinese: (i) from Mai Qiu (麥丘), the title of a man in the state of Qi (located mainly in present-day Shandong province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), who, despite being very old, came to celebrate the birthday of Qi Huan Gong (died 643 BC). His descendants inherited 麥, the first part of his title, as their surname. (ii) borne by descendants of Mai Tie Zhang (麥鐵杖), a famous general during the Sui dynasty (AD 581–618). His descendants were scattered around South China.

2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 墨 (Mo in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'ink' in Chinese: (i) from the personal name of Mo Ru (墨如), said to be the teacher of Yu, the first emperor of the Xia dynasty (2070–1600 BC). (ii) shortened form of the compound surname Mo-Tai (墨台 or 墨胎), the surname of the royal family of an ancient state called Gu Zhu (located in present-day Hebei province) during the late Shang dynasty (1600–1046 BC). (iii) it is also said that the surname is borne by descendants of Mo Tai (墨台), a prince of the state of Song (located in present-day Shangqiu in Henan province) during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC).

3 Chinese: non-standard romanization of the Chinese surname 莫, see Mok (1).

1 Norman, English: (i) nickname or locative name from Norman Malbanc, Maubanc, of uncertain origin, often weakened to Malban, Malbon, Maban, or Mabun. Compare the modern Norman and Picard surname Mauban. It may be from Old French mal banc, mal beeng 'bad bench' but the reason for the use of this expression as a surname is unknown. Perhaps it derives from a lost place-name, in which banc might mean 'steep crag'. The second part of the name, -banc, survives in Maybank and Milbank but medieval forms in -ban(e), -bon(e), or -bun are also common and are sometimes later re-interpreted as -born and -bourne, probably leading to confusion with Melbourne. (ii) the early spellings with -ban(e) led Clark to suggest an origin in Old French mal 'bad' + Old French ban 'proclamation' (hence a nickname 'ill news') while Morlet interpreted -ban in the modern Normandy surname Mauban as 'land over which a lord has territory' (hence 'unprofitable manor'), but early spellings with -ban(e) may simply be weakened forms of Malbanc.

Malborn

Further information: The place-name Clifton Maybank (Dorset) takes its affix from the family of William Malbeeng who held the manor in 1086. Similarly, Nantwich (Cheshire) was alternatively known throughout the middle ages as Wich Malbank, -Malban(e), -Malbain, -Mauban, -Mauben, -Maubun, -Maban, -Melbank, and -Milbank, taking that affix from the family of William Malbedeng who held the manor in 1086. Anora Maban, 1218 in Pipe Rolls (Staffs) was the daughter of William Malbanc, grandson of William Malbedeng, 1086 in Domesday Book (Cheshire).

Early bearers: surnames in -bank, etc: William Malbeeng, about 1086 in Geld Roll (Dorset); William Malbedeng, 1086 in Domesday Book (Cheshire); Richard Malbanc, 1177 in Pipe Rolls (Essex); William Maubanc, 1268 in Assize Rolls (Somerset); William Maybank, 1382 in Feet of Fines (Surrey); Philip Mabank, 1384 in Feet of Fines (Devon and WR Yorks); Henry Maybank, 1628 in IGI (Whitechapel, Middx); Rechard Maybank, 1687 in IGI (Ewell, Surrey).

- Main Irish location 1847–64: Longford and Westmeath
- English: relationship name from the Middle English female personal name Malin, a diminutive form of Mall or Mald (Maud). See Mall and compare Mallinson, Malt, Maude (2). Pronunciation of final -in often weakened to /ə/, which could alternatively be spelled -en or -on. The first vowel in Malin may be short (as in pal), hence the variant Mallin, or long (as in pale), giving rise to the variants Maylin and Mealing. Vacillation between -in and -ing is not uncommon and the variant Ma(y)ll(ian) sometimes attracted an excrescent -d, leading to possible confusion with the locative names Malling and Mayland.

Early bearers: given names: Malina, 1212 in Curia Regis Rolls (Notts); Malyn del Wllehou, 1277, Malina de Fekesby, 1297, identical with Maude de Fekesby, 1297, Malina de Sourby, 1307, identical with Maude de Sourby, 1309 in Wakefield Court Rolls (WR Yorks). surnames: John Malin, 1297 in Subsidy Rolls (Stanley in Wakefield, WR Yorks); Richard Malin, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Derbys); Johnes. ### Mall

Variants: Malle, Maul, Maule, Maull, Mawle

- Current frequencies: GB 585, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 82
- Main GB location 1881: scattered in England: esp. London and Kent; Warwicks

English: relationship name from the Middle English female personal name Mall, a common form of Mald or Maud. See also Malt, Maude (2), and Moll, and compare Maulson. It had several pet forms; see Malin, Malkin, and Mallet.

Further information: Medieval aliases prove beyond doubt that Middle English Mall is a form of Maud and not, as Reaney supposed, a pet form of Mary, which is a modern not a medieval usage. This is confirmed by the modern spellings and pronunciation of the surname. Middle English Mall was pronounced with a flat a (like the word pal) until around 1400, when a diphthong /au/ developed, giving rise to alternative spellings like Mawle and Maul(e). By the 16th century this diphthong had been simplified to /ɔ:/, as in the current pronunciation of words like ball and haul. By the end of the 16th century Maud had fallen out of favour as a name for girls, and Mall had been re-invented, pronounced with a flat a, as a pet form of Mary (often pronounced like marry). Pet forms of Middle English Mall with a suffix did not always undergo diphthongization, so the surnames Mallet and Mallin tend to be pronounced with flat a rather than /ɔ:/.

Early bearers: Alured Malle, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks); William Malle, 1279 in Hundred Rolls (Cams); Gerardi Malle, 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts (Bucks); John Malle, 1378 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Gloucs); Agnes Mawle, 1560 in IGI (Cheltenham, Gloucs); Elizabeth Mall, 1563 in IGI (Benington, Kent); Rycharde Maull, 1574 in IGI (Hinton in the Hedges, Northants); Ann Mawl, 1597, Mary Maul, 1697, Rebecca Mawle, 1804 in IGI

1 English: relationship name from the Middle English female personal name Malot, more rarely Malet, a pet form of Mall, Mald (i.e. Maud, Matilda) + the diminutive suffix -ot or -et. See Mall, Malt. In post-medieval forms of the surname final -ot was generally altered to -et(t). Though there are alternative Norman origins (see below), this is the usual source of the English surname. Post-medieval early bearers given for this sense, and all early bearers for other senses, may belong under any other sense.

Early bearers: given names: Maleta, 1219 in Assize Rolls (Yorks); Malota, 1221 in Assize Rolls (Warwicks); Malot, former wife of Hervy, 1315, identical with Matild’, former wife of Hervi, 1316 in Everingham Deeds (Everingham, ER Yorks).

surnames: Isabella Malot, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Suffolk); Mariota Mallot, 1332 in Subsidy Rolls (Cumb); Henricus Malot, 1377 in Poll Tax (Pattigham, Staffs); Johannes Malot, 1379 in Poll Tax (Hilborough, Norfolk); William Malet, 1510–11 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Devon); Joan Mallet, 1563 in IGI (Botus Fleming, Cornwall); Jone Mallette, 1564 in IGI (Icklingham, Suffolk); John Mallett, 1577 in IGI (Iddesleigh, Devon); Edward Mallet, 1585 in IGI (Stoke Holy Cross, Norfolk); Richard Mallett, 1597 in IGI (Saint James Garlickhithe, London); Georg Mallet, 1603 in IGI (Egham, Surrey); Mary Mallott, 1614, Mary Mallett, 1670 in IGI (Norwich, Norfolk).

References: McClure, Hypocoristic forms, p. 104.

2 Norman, English: nickname from Old French maillet ‘hammer’, used as a battle weapon. Robert Malet, lord of the Honour of Eye (Suffolk) in 1086, was the son of William Malet of Gravelle-Sainte-Honorine (Seine-Maritime). The latter is referred to as Gulielmo agnomine Mal(l)eto ‘William, surnamed

Mal(l)et’ in the late 11th-century Gesta Guillelmi of William of Poitiers and the early 12th-century Historia Ecclesia of Orderic Vitalis. According to tradition, this surname arose because of William’s reputation for bludgeoning his enemies in battle (cum) malleo, ‘with the hammer’. The story may be true or it may have been invented to explain the name, in which case see (3) below for an alternative etymology.

Further information: A. Malet (1885), An English Branch of the Malet Family. For the Malet family see Domesday People, pp. 389–90, and Domesday Descendants, pp. 1020–23.

Early bearers: Robert Malet, 1086 in Domesday Book (Suffolk); William Malet, 1166 in Danelaw Documents (Lincs); Gilbert Malet, 1185 in Templars Records (Somerset); Roberto Malet, 1297 in Earldom of Cornwall Accounts (Oxon); Richard Mallett, 1542 in IGI (Iddesleigh, Devon); Franciscus Mallett, 1550 in IGI (Swillington, WR Yorks); Jane Mallett, 1561 in IGI (Minchinhampton, Gloucs); Elizabeth Mallett, 1572 in IGI (Wootton Wawen, Warwicks); William Mallett, 1572 in IGI (Icklingham, Suffolk).

3 Norman, English: relationship name from the Old French personal name Malet, a pet form of Malo, the popular French form of the name of Saint Maclovius, a 6th-century Welsh monk who worked in Brittany. This is a likely source of the name in Jersey. Further information: the saint’s cult is commemorated in the names of places in Brittany (Saint-Malo, in Ille-et-Vilaine) and in Normandy (Saint-Maclou, in Eure and in Seine-Maritime), in the dedication of the church of Saint-Maclou in Rouen (Seine-Maritime), and in the use of Malo, Malet, and Maclou as Old French personal names and surnames. Since Herveu is a Breton personal name, Herveus Malet may have descended from a family named Malet from the Pays de Dol (Ille-et-Vilaine) in Brittany; see Domesday Descendants, p. 1021.

Early bearers: England: Herueus Malet, 1166 in Red Book of the Exchequer (Quainton, Bucks).

Channel Islands: Marie Malet, 1670, Elizabeth Mallet, 1761, Henry Mallett, 1845 in IGI (Saint Helier, Jersey).

4 Norman, English: nickname from Old French maleit ‘cursed’.

Early bearers: William Malait, 1230 in Pipe Rolls (Kent); Irvyus Maleit 1230 in Pipe Rolls (Berks).

5 English: possibly a post-medieval variant of

Mallard, Maylard, or Mallock.

Norman, English: nickname from Old French **maloret*, maloré, maleuré 'ill-fortuned, unlucky'.

Further information: The Dorset Domesday Book man was a tenant of William de Moion, from Moyon (Manche); see Domesday People, pp. 230, 476). But the Mallory family of Leics and other midlands counties very likely came from Tessancourt (Seine-et-Oise, now Yvelines), near Versailles. See Anglo-Norman Families, p. 56, where Loyd alludes to the 'feodum Anquetini Malore de Tessencurt' in the feodyary of Philip Augustus (1204–08) in France. He points out that Tessancourt is the parish next to Meulan, the caput of the French comté of Robert count of Meulan, and that Robert was also the first earl of Leicester. It is probably no coincidence, therefore, that Robert earl of Leicester's seneschall in the mid 1100s was Anschetill Malloré (see Domesday Descendants, p. 1024) and that Anquetin (an alternative form of Anschetill) was a given name in both the French and Leics Mallory families. For this forename see Anketell, Antin.

Early bearers: Geoffrey Maloret, 1086 in Exeter Domesday Book (Dorset); Anschetill Mallore, Richard Mallorei, about 1155 in Danelaw Documents (Notts); Richard Mallore, 1155–9 in Documents in France (Swinford, Leics, and Nun Eaton, Warwicks); William Maleuerei, 1170 in Pipe Rolls (Yorks); Henry Mallore, 1195 in Pipe Rolls (Derbys); Robert Mallory, 1255 in Book of Fees (Northants); Robert Malure, canon of Southwell minster, 1278–9 in Inquisitiones post Mortem (Blidworth, Notts); John Maleure, 1282 in Patent Rolls; William Maulory, 1301 in Subsidy Rolls (Ganthorpe, NR Yorks); Ricardo Maulerey, 1327 in Subsidy Rolls (Holwell, in Radipole, Dorset); Willelmo Mallori, 1379 in Poll Tax (Allextion, Leics); Johannes Malore, 1379 in Poll Tax (Aldfield, WR Yorks); William Mailory, 1438 in Feet of Fines (Hutton Conyers, NR Yorks); John Malory, 1447 in Patent Rolls (Northants); Catherine Mallory, 1566 in IGI (Crosthwaite, Cumb); Tymothy Mallorie, 1590, Willmi. 1 English: relationship name from the Middle English female personal name Mald or Maud, an Anglo-Norman French form of Continental Germanic Mahthild(is). The Germanic name developed two distinct forms in Old French, Matild and Mahild. The first was the basis for its usual Latin forms, Matildis and Matilda. It appears in Middle English as Matild and Matill, giving rise to the surnames Mattle and Mattleson, both of which are now extinct. Matill had several pet forms, which survive in the surnames Till, Tillson, Tillet, Tillotson, Tilcock, and perhaps Tilly. The alternative Old French form Mahild developed to Mahald, Mahalt, Mahaud, and Mahold. These were the most common versions of the name in Anglo-Norman England, appearing in Middle English in the reduced forms Maald, Mald, and Malt (from Mahald), Maud (from Mahaud), and Mold (from Mahold), hence the surnames Malt, Malde, Maude and Mould. From the mid-13th to the early 15th century the personal name was popular with all classes of English families, among whom the name was commonly pronounced and written as Mall or Moll. Pet forms with the diminutive suffixes -et, -ot, -in, -y, and -kin gave rise to Malin, Malkin, Mallet, Mallot, Mally, and Mollet. In N England the typical surname forms are Maudson, Maulson, Moulson, and Malkinson.

Early bearers: given names: Mathildis, 1086 in Domesday Book; Maald, 1100–30, Mald, 12th cent., Mahild, 1115–45 in Durham Liber Vitae; Mahald regina, 1119 in Colchester Cartulary (Essex); Matilda, about 1140 in

Mammatt

- Current frequencies: GB 39, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 40
- Main GB location 1881: scattered

1 Norman, English: (i) nickname perhaps from Middle English maumet, mamet ‘idol, doll, puppet’, also ‘pixie’ (Old French mahomet). (ii) relationship name perhaps from an unrecorded Old French personal name **Mamot* or **Mamet*, pet forms of Old French Mame, the name of a French saint. The possibility is strengthened by the existence of the double diminutive pet forms Maminot and Maminet as the surname of a Norman family with lands in Kent and Lincs: Gilbert Maminot, 1086 in Domesday Book (Kent); Emma Maminet, 1130 in Pipe Rolls (Kent); Wauchelin Maminot, 1157 in Templars Records (Lincs). However, although Maminot may have alternated with **Mamot*, the Maminot family appears to have died out in the male line in about 1190.

Further information: Old French use of mahomet to mean ‘idol’ derived from the medieval Christian belief that the prophet Muhammad was worshipped as a god.

Early bearers: Radulphus Maumet, 1207 in Fine Rolls; Agnis Mammuth, 1603, Rich. Mammut, 1604, Rich. Mammuts, 1612 in IGI (Leeds, WR Yorks); Rowland Mammatt, 1691 in IGI (Uttoxeter, Staffs); Thomas Mamott, 1707 in IGI (Northampton, Northants); Mary Mamotte, 1727, Anne Mamott, 1731, Hannah Mommott, 1791, Frederick Mammatt, 1818 in IGI (Sheffield, WR Yorks); Thomas Mammatt, 1763, Mary Mamit, 1770, Hannah Mamett, 1774 in IGI (Coleshill, Warwicks).

  - Main GB location 1881: widespread
- 1 English: see Mann.
- 2 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 萬 (Wan in Mandarin pinyin), which means 'ten thousand' literally or 'a very great number' figuratively: (i) from the personal name of Bi Wan (畢萬), an official in the state of Jin (located in present-day Shanxi province). He was said to be a descendant of Bi Gong Gao, the 15th son of the virtuous Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC; see Zhou (1)). Bi Wan was later granted the fiefdom of Wei (魏), which in 403 BC became the state of Wei (located in present-day Shanxi, Shaanxi, Henan and Hebei provinces). Some of his descendants adopted Wei (魏) as their surname, while others inherited 萬 (Wan), his given name, as their surname. (ii) from the personal name Wan (萬), the style name of Rui Bo (芮伯), an official of the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC), who was granted the fief Rui (located in Ruicheng in Shaanxi province). Some of his descendants inherited Rui (芮), the name of the fief, as their surname, while others inherited 萬 (Wan), his style name, as their surname. (iii) from the place-name Wan (萬), the name of a fief (located in Juxian in Shandong province) granted during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC) to an official in the ancient state of Chu. (iv) from the first element of the name of the Wan Si (萬俟) family, who lived in the downstream areas of the Yellow River during the Northern Qi dynasty (AD 550–577). (v) from the second element of the name of the Tu Wan (吐萬) family, who are members of the Xianbei ethnic group in N China.
- 3 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 文 (Wen in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'literary', 'writing' or 'culture' in Chinese: (i) from Wen (文), the posthumous title of king Zhou Wen Wang (1152–1056 BC), father of Zhou Wu Wang (c. 1187–1043 BC), who established the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC). (ii) adopted in place of another Chinese surname, Jing (敬, see Ching (4)). The latter was part of the name of two royal personages, Jin Gao Zu (called Shi Jingtang, 石敬瑭, AD 892–942) and Song Yi Zu (called Zhao Jing, 趙敬). The latter was the grandfather of Zhao Kuang Ying, who established the Northern Song dynasty (AD 927–976). Since it was taboo in ancient China to bear the name of a member of the imperial family, people with the surname 敬 (Jing) had to change it to 文 (Wen). (iii) from Wen (文), the given name of Tian Wen, also called Meng Chang Jun (Lord Meng Chang), a famous prince of the state of Qi, known as one of 'the four princes' during the Warring States period (475–221 BC). (iv) from the personal name Wen Zi (文子), a general who lived in the state of Wei during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC). (v) from the personal name Wen Shu (文叔), also known as Xu Wen Shu (韓文叔), founder of the state of Xu (located in present-day Henan province) during the Western Zhou dynasty (1046–771 BC).

4 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 閔 (Min in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'bad luck, pity, or sorrow' in ancient Chinese: from Min (閔), the posthumous title of Lu Min Gong, the 17th king of the state of Lu (located in present-day Shandong province). After only two years on the throne (661–660 BC) he was murdered. His successor gave him the posthumous title 閔 (Min), which became established as a family name for his descendants.

5 Chinese: Cantonese form of the Chinese surname 聞 (Wen in Mandarin pinyin), meaning 'well-known, famous' in written Chinese: shortened form of the compound surname Wen-Ren (聞人), the title of Shao Zheng Mao, a scholar who lived in the state of Lu during the Spring and Autumn period (770–476 BC), who strongly opposed Confucius' ideas and who was murdered when Confucius became prime minister of the state of Lu. The descendants of Shao Zheng Mao inherited his title, 聞人, as their surname. After the Northern Song dynasty (AD 960–1127), some people shortened the surname to 聞.

6 Chinese: Mandarin form of the Chinese surname 滿 (Moon in Cantonese romanization), meaning 'full' in Chinese: from Man (滿), the style name of Hu Gong Man (died 986 BC), also known as Chen Hu Gong, founder of the state of Chen (located in Henan province), who was the shared ancestor of people with the surnames 陳, 胡, 田, and 車.

Mannifield

Variants: Manifield

- Current frequencies: GB 129, Ireland 0
- GB frequency 1881: 44
- Main GB location 1881: WR Yorks

English: (i) locative name from an unidentified place. There may well have been some confusion with Manifold, particularly as -feld and -fold would often be virtually indistinguishable in medieval orthography, but the story seems more complicated than this. It is unclear whether or not the medieval bearers given here, from the south of England, are relevant. (ii) perhaps also a variant of Mansfield.

The medieval record of the place-name shows numerous forms with no medial -s-.

Early bearers: Luke de Manyfeld, 1354 in Patent Rolls (Freefolk, Hants); Robert Manyfeld, 1394 in Patent Rolls (London); Jane Mannifield, 1738 in IGI (Sturton le Steeple, Notts); Jane Mannifield, 1747, Elizabeth Manifield, 1789 in IGI (Clarborough, Notts); William Manifield, 1773, Amelia Mannifield, 1785 in IGI (North Leverton, Notts); Mary Mannyfield, 1783 in IGI (Grove, Notts).

1 Norman, English: (i) locative name, ethnic name from Old French Mancel, Mansel 'inhabitant of Maine, or its capital Le Mans', as illustrated below in early Hants and Kent examples with the French definite article. (ii) relationship name from the Old French personal name Mansel, a transferred use of the ethnic name in (i).

Further information: This surname is also found in France (see Morlet, Dictionnaire, at Manceau, Mancel) and some current bearers of this surname in England could be of Huguenot origin: compare Jeremy Mansel, 1600 in IGI (Threadneedle Street French Huguenot Church, London); Charles Manselle, 1632 in IGI (Threadneedle Street French Huguenot Church, London).

Reaney's claim that in France Mansel also denoted 'a feudal tenant, occupier of a manse, land sufficient to support a family', is unfounded.

Early bearers: given names: Mansell de Patleshull, 1203 in Assize Rolls (Staffs); Mansel de Rokeford, 1254 in Patent Rolls.
