

Will example sentences

Listen to the accompanying MP3 and read these sentences. This will train your brain to master will.

1. It's getting hot. I think I'll turn on the air conditioner to cool the place down.

2. Boss: "Did you remember to send that email to Simon?"

Employee: "Oh, I forgot. I'll do it right now."

3. Wife: "Are you coming into the shop?"

Husband: "No, I'll wait out here for you."

4. I need to go to the shop but it's dark outside. Will you come with me?

5. That was a fantastic meal, Ricky. I promise I'll cook next time.

6. Thanks for lending us the money. We'll pay you back next month.

7. Mother: "Have a wonderful time in India."

Daughter: "Thanks! I'll send you an email as soon as I arrive."

8. Wife: "Oh no, I left the baby's toy at home."

Husband: "It's ok, you keep walking. I'll go back and get it."

9. Hillary: "Did you hear the good news? Laura is pregnant!"

Catherine: "That's amazing! She'll make a fantastic mother."

10. James is feeling really sick. I don't think he'll be better for the performance tomorrow.

11. Jacob: "Are you still coming out for a drink later?"

Matthew: "I don't think I'll go out tonight. I have so much work to finish."

12. Ronald: "It's freezing in here!"

Luke: "I'll turn on the heating."

13. Lisa, will you please swap places with Gary?

14. Will you promise not to tell anyone about this secret?

15. I've asked Anthony to clean his room ten times, but he won't listen to me.

16. Will you kids please be quiet? I'm trying to concentrate here.

17. Daniel and I have got next week off work. I think we'll go somewhere nice for a short break.

18. Waiter: "What would you like, sir?"

Customer: "I'll have the steak and potatoes. Oh, and I'll also have a glass of red wine."

19. It's too late to walk home now. We'll take a taxi.

20. Michelle's friend: "Andy, can you give Michelle this purse?"

Andy: "Certainly. I'll give it to her tomorrow when I see her."

21. Party host: "Welcome to the party, Tom. Will you have beer or wine?"

Tom: "I'll have beer please."

22. I'm feeling really sleepy now. I think I'll have a coffee to wake myself up.

23. Wife: "The baby's crying again. I'll go and give her a bottle."

Husband: "No, you did it last time. I'll feed her."

24. Delivery company: "Hello Miss Smith. We are very sorry to inform you that your delivery won't arrive before 2pm today."

Miss Smith: "OK, thank you for letting me know. When will it arrive?"

25. Boss: "Will you be attending the Christmas party next week?"

Employee: "Yes, I'll definitely be there."

26. Boss: "Please tell Chris about the meeting tomorrow. It's very important that he comes."

Employee: "OK, I'll send him a message right now."

27. Billy has tried to teach that dog so many tricks, but it won't learn anything.

28. Hi Neil, I'm running late. I'll meet you at the office at 10 o'clock instead of 9.30.

29. Sarah says that she has a big surprise for my birthday. She won't tell me anything.

30. I think I'll skip the gym today. I'm feeling a bit tired from yesterday.